

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, APRIL 10, 1915

SIMMONS CONCERT.

Patronesses for the Simmons concert will be: Mrs. Redfield H. Allen, Mrs. Fred H. Austin, Mrs. Charles Thatcher Baker, Mrs. John Buchanan, Mrs. Edward Burkhardt, Mrs. Chester J. Campbell, Mrs. James H. Churchill, Mrs. Edwin E. Davis, Mrs. Thomas Fenn, Mrs. Stephen A. Gardner, Jr., Mrs. Charles A. Hall, Mrs. Edward R. Hall, Mrs. Eben L. Harrison, Mrs. Walter M. Hatch, Mrs. Curtis Hilliard, Mrs. Arthur P. Homer, Mrs. Charles L. Homer, Mrs. Charles H. Jones, Mrs. J. Brooks Keyes, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. Henry W. Porter, Mrs. James A. Ring, Mrs. Charles R. Safford, Mrs. A. H. Smith, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Mrs. Eugene H. Sprague, Mrs. Frank Sprague, Mrs. DeWitt Taylor, Mrs. James Walker and Mrs. Frank W. White.

The following program will be rendered:

Shadowland	Gilbert
Swing Along	Cook
Yankee Doodle	Glee Club
Serenade	Witt
Instrumental Trio
Mai points	Hawaiian Quintet
Reading by Alexander Martin	The Kavanagh
Second Connecticut March	Reeves
The Boatman on the Volga	Russian Folk Song
Requiem	Mandolin Club
Thy Beaming Eyes	MacDowell
Herbert C. Williamson
Mighty Lak's Rose	Nevin
Pictorial Piano Quartet	Osmond
In Piccadilly	Brahm
Glee Club Semi-Chorus
The Cardinal and the Grail	Woody '97
Combined Clubs

DATES ASSIGNED.

The Park Commissioners met the managers of the baseball teams in the council chamber at city hall Wednesday evening, the meeting being to assign dates for the use of the public parks of the city to the baseball teams during the coming season. Quite a few managers of teams were present with their schedules which they submitted to the Commissioners. While the complete assignment for the season could not be made at this meeting a large number of assignments were made to the different teams represented. They were as follows:

Fore Rivers at Merrymount Park upper field, May 8, 22, 23, June 5, 19, July 2, 5, 17, 31, Aug. 21, Sept. 6, 19, 23, Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. at Ward playground, May 31, both morning and afternoon. Redmen Athletic association, at Ward Three playground, April 19, A. M. and April 24. St. John's Junior, Holy Name society, Ward Three playground, April 19, P. M. Quincy A. C. at Ward Six playground, April 19, May 15, 29, 31, A. M. June 5, 17, 19, July 3, 17, 31, A. M. 28, Sept. 6, A. M. Sept. 11, 25, Oct. 9, 12. Walnut A. C. Ward Six playground April 19, A. M. April 24, May 22, 31, June 12, 17, A. M. 26, July 10, 24, Aug. 7, 21, Sept. 4, 18, Oct. 2, 12, A. M. Quincy Independents, upper field Merrymount park, May 15, 29, June 12, 26, July 10, 24, Aug. 7, 14, 28.

Q. H. S. DEBATE.

The first public debate of the Boys Debating club of the High school was held under school auspices in the assembly hall Wednesday evening with a large number of the student body in the audience.

The question was Resolved: "That the Philippine Islands should be given their immediate independence." The negative side was presented by Weymouth High school boys and they were unanimously declared the winners by the judges. The Weymouth team included Messrs Martin, Diaz and Talbot. The Quincy team were Messrs Fay, McDonald and McMahon. Mr. Talbot appeared for Weymouth in rebuttal and Herbert Smith for Quincy.

The debate hinged on an interpretation of the word "immediate," the visitor's contending it meant within a year.

The judges were Walter E. Andrews, principal of Hingham High school, H. E. Sapsen of the Mechanics Art High school of Boston and G. H. Green, Jr., Esq. of Boston. Headmaster Ernest L. Collins of Quincy presided.

MRS. JOSEPH W. PERRY.

The funeral of Mrs. Martha J. Perry widow of the late Joseph W. Perry took place Wednesday afternoon from her late residence at 110 Willard street, East Milton, near the Quincy line. Rev. H. Boyd Edwards, pastor of the Church of our Saviour (Episcopal) of which Mrs. Perry was a charter member, officiated. Interment was in the Hall place cemetery.

Mrs. Perry was born in Ireland in 1863. She came to this country at the age of nineteen and married Joseph W. Perry in 1885. She lived in West Quincy up to last Wednesday when she moved to East Milton. She is survived by her father, four brothers, one daughter and one son, Joseph W., a member of the Metropolitan police force.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT CLOSING.

The bowling tournament of Maple lodge, K. & L. of H., closed in Prohibition hall Wednesday night and the first prize was awarded to Miss M. Lizzie Funnell who had a total of 117. Harry Tirrell was second with 112. The trophy prizes were given to Mrs. Rose A. Reid who had 42 and J. P. Hedman whose total was 55.

The contest followed a business meeting at which one was reading and two applications for membership were received. It was announced that the entertainment committee is planning other features for the near future.

SEVERAL TAX EXAM.

Several Quincy men took the examination held at the state house Wednesday by the United States Civil Service Commission to fill a vacancy in the office of the superintendent constructor. U. S. Navy at the Fore River shipyard. The requirements of the examination made it necessary for one to have worked at the yard for over one year. The rate of pay will be $280 per month.

BRIEFS

Henry P. Kittredge reached Quincy Wednesday after a trip to Bermuda. Mrs. Charles E. Haskins of Miller Stille road is seriously ill with pneumonia.

John King of Concord who has been visiting friends in this city left for his home Tuesday.

Miss Olive Witter of Hartford, Conn. is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Ryder of Hancock street.

Mrs. Bennett of Muskegon, Okla., and son Leo are the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Daniel R. McKay.

Thomas Connelley and family of Whitwell street have moved to their new home on Hayward street, East Braintree.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Morrison of Middle street, Braintree, nee Gallagher are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter April 2. They have one other child, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Pratt (Fay Hitchcock) formerly of Quincy are at their Marshfield home for the summer after their usual season at Pinehurst, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Mead of Dimmock street announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lillian Mary Mead, to John Joseph Mahoney of West Quincy.

The Men's club of the Swedish Lutheran church on Garfield street are to hold a concert on Patriots' Day in the church. The program will consist of orchestral, organ and vocal selections and readings.

Past Commander Francis P. Lound and Secretary James H. Hildahl of the P. J. Revere post, G. A. R., were the delegates to the Massachusetts encampment of veterans which closed in Boston Wednesday.

Mrs. Angela D. Woodman, widow of William O. Woodman, died Sunday at her home on 14 Royal street. She was 86 years of age.

Charles Hatch died at his home in New York Sunday of pneumonia. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. George P. Hatch who is 88 years old, and two sisters and a brother all of whom live in Irving place.

Helen Allen Hunt, mezzo-soprano, soloist at the First Church of Christ Scientist, Boston, is to give a song recital in Quincy at Alpha hall on Sunday, April 25th. Mrs. Hunt will be assisted by Harris S. Shaw, the Boston pianist, and a violinist.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard of Edgewater road are the parents of a baby boy born April 2 in Elizabeth, N. J., where Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard have been for some weeks. They are staying at the home of Mrs. Sheppard's mother.

Dr. E. S. Taylor of Boston who four years ago purchased one of the show places of South Weymouth has placed part of his estate on the market and already 10 house lots have been sold and some very handsome houses are to be built on them.

Through a misunderstanding in sounding the alarm, there was quite a serious delay at 11 o'clock Wednesday night when the fire department was called to a fire in a seven room cottage on Winthrop street, Houghs Neck, owned and occupied by Leslie Alexander.

The Coddington School Parents Teachers association is to hold its annual meeting in the Assembly hall Wednesday April 14. At this meeting, the officers for the ensuing year will be elected and an informal reception will be given the teachers of the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Howard Morrison nee Minnie Ridout (Hardwick) who were married Friday at the home of the bride on Revere road are enjoying an extended wedding trip. On their return they are to reside at 25 Harvard street Dorchester where they will receive their friends on Wednesday after the first of June.

The George L. Gill Associates entertained at a whist on Odd Fellows hall Thursday afternoon with nine tables in play and several spectators. The winners of souveniers were Mrs. G. W. Sargent, Mrs. Mary O'Neill, Mrs. M. Lizzie Funnell, Mrs. G. Bolster, Mrs. Mary L. Thomas, Mrs. M. Davidson, Mrs. W. R. Thomas, Mrs. W. S. Wilbur.

Mrs. D. J. Seward McCurdy of Dyars street is at home after a successful operation at the Carney hospital. Mrs. McCurdy has been suffering from rheumatism for the past twelve years, rendering her absolutely helpless for over five years of this time. Little hope of her recovery was entertained. Six months ago her physician advised treatment at the Carney hospital and through treatment there she is now enjoying the life she now enjoys walking about with little exertion.

Another of the library's series of story hours in the children's room was given Saturday in her usual charming manner by Miss Ella Packard. The little group made such a winsome picture leaning forward, resting on elbows, eyes intent on the story teller. Fairy stories, insect life and stories about the trees from the books on Weston's deck were the subjects to the listeners from the third and fourth grades from three schools.

Rev. A. E. Hillman for the past two years, pastor of the St. Paul's Swedish M. E. church, preached his farewell sermon on Easter Sunday. Since his settlement on St. Paul's church there has been a renewed interest among parishioners and the church has been steadily growing and the people of the parish much regret that Mr. Hillman is to sever his connection. He will be succeeded by Rev. Newton Lundstrom of Jersey City, N. J., who is expected to assume his charge this week and will preach his first sermon next Sunday.

The teachers of the city have been invited by the Teacher's school of Science of Boston, one of the Lowell courses to accompany their field class on May 8 when they visit Quincy to study some of the local geological phenomena. In the wording of the course, the subject of journaling will be "Batholith, granite, erupted into Cambrian slates, with much local phenomena." On June 5, the same class will go to Atlantic and thence to Squantum where it will study "Stratification folds, cleavage, bedding, sand, stone, shales and shale."

BRIEFS

George W. Wales, formerly of this city but now of Newton is soon to open up an ice cream factory here.

Mrs. George G. Saville of Saville avenue entertained her neighborhood bridge club Monday afternoon.

Many of the churches are to repeat their Easter music on Sunday either at the morning or evening service.

Mrs. Catherine Keefe of Woodward avenue has been spending the past few days in Monson, where she has been the guest of friends.

The drama "Old Ace Folks" is to be given at the Universalist vestry, Wednesday evening by a strong cast of local actors. It depicts old home life in New England.

Miss Etta M. Prescott of Presidents hill has returned from New York where she has been the guest for a week of Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews of Providence, R. I.

Walter C. Rogers of New Rochelle, N. Y., formerly of this city, visited Quincy Monday. Mr. Rogers is superintendent of music in the public schools of New Rochelle.

"The Worlds Workers" will be the subject of the meeting Sunday at 4.15 P. M. of the Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church. Charles Hanson will speak on "Mining." Every one is invited to attend.

Mrs. J. Henry Emery opened her home on Adams street Monday afternoon for a bridge whist party in aid of the Pond House which netted something like $74. Punch was served by the hostess during the afternoon.

At a meeting of the Massachusetts Real Estate exchange held Tuesday Mayor Campbell was elected chairman of the committee on the 1920 Voters Fair which it is proposed to hold in Boston.

The last of four conferences by the Associated Charities, the Quincy Woman's Club and the Wollaston Woman's Club is to be held Monday afternoon at 2.30 in Wollaston school hall. Mr. Bettinger will speak on "Milk and Baby Hygiene." The public is invited to attend.

At the whist party given by the Mt. Wollaston club in L. O. O. F. hall Monday evening fifteen tables were in play and the evening was rendered very enjoyable. The winners of souveniers were Miss Lena Allen, Mrs. E. Newcomb, F. E. Drakes, Mrs. H. W. Tirrell, Miss M. Lizzie Funnell, Mrs. Freethy, Mrs. J. Starr.

Funeral services for Charles Hatch who died in New York Sunday evening were held there Tuesday, the interment being at Barrington, R. I. Wednesday.

The N. Y. and N. H. R. R. showed appreciation of Mr. Hatch's services of more than thirty years by placing a special car at the disposal of the family and friends. Representatives of the railroad were present from Boston, New Haven and Providence.

The members of the Holly club gathered at the home of Mrs. Emma Stoddard on Baxter street Wednesday evening and after a brief session spent a social hour. During the whist party plans for the coming season were rendered very enjoyable. The winners of high scores were awarded to Mrs. M. Perkins and Mrs. M. Gagnan. A dainty collation was served. Mrs. Stoddard was assisted in making the arrangements by Mrs. Mary McNeill, president of the club.

The convention of the National Retail Monumental Dealers Association of America is to be held in Denver, Col., Aug. 17, 18, 19, and 20, and while as yet it is not definitely known that anyone from Quincy will be in attendance at the convention the chances are that there will be. Arrangements are being made for special cars for the New England party which will leave Boston Sunday, Aug. 15, and will connect with the Pullman special at Chicago. The special car will be run through to Denver without change.

MOOSE SMOKER.

Quincy Adams hall, South Quincy, was packed to the doors and scores of people came away at the smoker of the Local order of Moose No. 413 Thursday evening.

Niel McDonald introduced the talent to the audience who were first treated to boxing exhibitions between Gillis and Rand of Quincy, Regan and McDonald of Braintree, Gardner and Rand of Weymouth and Noonan, all well known amateurs.

The vaudeville part of the program was good. Mordella, the one man band who played seven instruments at the same time, was popular. Kitty Hoffman's songs and stories were greeted with enthusiasm. De Tallo, a female impersonator, certainly lived up to his name, completely fooling those present till he removed his wig. Henry Myers, well known in Quincy as a black face comedian, again demonstrated his ability to entertain an audience and kept everyone mirthful from beginning to end.

Valentino and Lenoil performed some amusing acrobatic stunts. Don Romeo, the Gypsy violinist captivated the audience. The Barnard Trio in songs and dances and Loomis Davis in oriental dancing concluded the entertainment.

The committee in charge of the entertainment were Niel A. McDonald, chairman, Walter Carman, secretary, assisted by Wm. B. Norris, Albert Williams, Alex. Grainger, James Ross, Walter Buckley, Martin Anderson, John Heffernan, Charles Williams, Jeremiah Goodell, Albert Bean, Robert Carr, John E. Brown and Joseph Darrov.

PLANNING BOARD.

The Planning Board at a meeting held Tuesday evening placed itself on record as being in favor of 16 rooms in any school buildings that may be erected in the future. This will probably mean the building of a new school and will relieve the crowded condition of the High school and do away with the necessity of enlarging the High school for a number of years.

The Board also considered informally the location for a contagious or tuberculosis hospital which the city is obliged to erect in the immediate future. The Planning Board believes that the proper location for this hospital should be near the present City Hospital. No action however was taken in the matter.

In referring the matter of a contagious hospital to the Mayor Monday evening the finance committee of the City Council requested his honor to forward plans for the hospital and any suggestions that the Planning Board might have to make. It is probable, therefore, when the plans are forwarded to the city council that the Planning Board will officially recommend that the building be located near the City Hospital.

WEST QUINCY

The engagement was announced Saturday of Mary Veronica, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Laurie of Commercial street, Weymouth Landing to William Henry O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. O'Brien of Commercial street, West Quincy. Miss Laurie is well known in this city. Mr. O'Brien is employed at the George E. Keith shoe factory in East Weymouth.

Daniel McKenna of New York is visiting his parents on Crescent street. Albert Willett of Hall place, who has been employed at the Manner quarry the past two years, left Saturday for his home in Keene, N. H.

Edward Flaherty, son of Park Ober Edward Flaherty of Barry street, has returned from the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary where he has been under treatment for the past few weeks as a result of a rifle bullet entering his eye while playing soldier with several other boys.

The Harmony club held its regular meeting Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's hall. The cottage committee reported that it was considering several cottages but had not decided its choice. The entertainment committee reported a large sale of tickets for the clubs and dances, which will be held in St. Mary's hall Wednesday evening, May 5th.

A farewell party was tendered to Miss Eva King on the evening of her return to Kennebunk, Me., at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Boutin of Bunker Hill avenue. A pleasant evening was spent in playing all kinds of games, including rummy, bridge, etc. Miss King presided at the piano and Howard Johnston and John Rizzi rendered several pleasing cornet selections.

David Z. Sullivan of 27 Quarry street was tendered a surprise party at his home Tuesday evening. During a lull in the festivities the host was presented with a handsome mahogany music cabinet the presentation speech being made by Mr. Flaherty.

The evening then was given over to social dancing. The evening was very enjoyable. The winners of high scores were awarded to Mrs. M. Perkins and Mrs. M. Gagnan. A dainty collation was served. Mrs. Stoddard was assisted in making the arrangements by Mrs. Mary McNeill, president of the club.

QUINCY POINT

The proceeds of the pop corn sales at the Washington grammar school and part of the interest on the school deposits at the local banks has been used in purchasing a Victrola by Principal Thomas B. Pollard. The instrument will be used in connection with gymnastics and marching. The children are joyous over the purchase.

There was a lively time for a while early Wednesday when fire was discovered in a house on East Howard street, directly opposite the Fore River works. The building is known as the old Woodbury house, now owned by Joseph Coughlin and occupied as a boarding house. There is a small store on the front part of the street floor. On the second floor a dozen Syrians were asleep when smoke began to pour through the rooms and there was a hurry to get out. The men were greatly excited and although there was no real danger at the time some of them did not even stop to dress but ran into the street in their night clothes with their belongings under their arms.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Miss Lillian Lindberg, who resigned as proof reader of the G. W. Prescott Publishing Co. to start a while ago as yet it is not definitely known that anyone from Quincy will be in attendance at the convention the chances are that there will be. Arrangements are being made for special cars for the New England party which will leave Boston Sunday, Aug. 15, and will connect with the Pullman special at Chicago. The special car will be run through to Denver without change.

Miss Lindberg was connected with the Ledger office for three years. Her resignation became effective Saturday to the regret of the entire force at the plant.

NEW FIRE ALARM CARD.

Chief Engineer Billings is receiving many compliments on the new fire alarm card which he has just issued. The card aside from containing a complete list of the location of all the fire alarm boxes of the city, contains on the reverse side pictures of fire alarm boxes.

One shows the box closed as it is when not in use, and the other a box with the outer door open, showing the hook, which must be pulled down in order to send in an alarm. This side is done in two colors, red and black. It also gives the number and location of the box nearest to the place where the card is shown, and instructions how to give an alarm, also the request to wait if possible until the apparatus arrives to direct them where the fire is.

It also gives some other good advice to keep halls stairways and aisles to exits and fire escapes free from obstruction, to keep the premises clean and free of rubbish, to put ashes and greasy material in metal receptacles with metal covers to close doors and shutters every night. "Safety First" is the slogan at the top of the card.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mrs. Linwood Wright of Muirhead street entertained at Whist Tuesday evening.

Miss Clara Coombs of Bath, Maine who has been the house guest of Mrs. Frederick Ingraham of Elm avenue for three weeks has returned to her home.

Miss Alice W. Manchester came over from New York Thursday for a few days with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Leander C. Manchester of Davis street.

Mrs. Marion Barbara and daughters of Norfolk Downs have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Besse of Hanover.

Mrs. Fred Lovejoy, who has been in New York city the past three months, has returned to her home on Hampden street.

Miss Marion Farwell, 20 Briggs street, Wollaston, gave a talk Tuesday afternoon on "Current magazines in our home" before the Women's Quest and Question club at Winthrop.

Rev. A. E. Hillman, who has resigned as pastor of the Swedish M. E. church, was given a farewell reception Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Selma Johnson, Delford street.

Hjalmar Kjelander, in behalf of all gave a short address and presented Mr. Hillman with a purse and the best wishes of all.

A short program was rendered after which refreshments were served.

SOUTH QUINCY

Sarah, the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kurlinsky of Water street, returned last week from the Homeopathic hospital where she has been ill with scarlet fever the past seven weeks.

At the semi-annual election of the Young Men's Hebrew Association of Quincy in their clubhouse on Water street the following officers were elected: Harry Lubarsky, president; Harry Cohen, vice-president; Israel Schwartz, recording secretary; Sidney Grossman, financial secretary; Isaac Kurtzman, treasurer. Refreshments were served after the election.

Percy Lubarsky gave the talk on "What Constitutes a Good Boy." A birthday party was tendered to Miss Bessie Mattie of Penn's Hill, Thursday evening. A supper was served at 10.30, the table being decorated with a handsome birthday cake, illuminated by lighted candles, representing the years of the birthday boy. The dining room was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and Japanese lanterns. The evening was spent in dancing, games, piano and vocal selections. Relatives and friends were present from Brookline, Cambridge, Dorchester and other places. Many of the guests brought gifts among them being a gold watch bracelet from her parents.

VIOLATE QUARANTINE.

Houghs Neck residents, whose homes are under quarantine as a result of the scarlet fever epidemic, menace to the general health of the community and are either willfully negligent or unaware of the danger of the disease.

These words closed a quick summary of the contagious situation in Quincy by Dr. Harold Diehl of the Board of Health this morning.

Dr. Diehl said that he found a little more than the normal number of cases of measles in the city and that an investigation in all wards showed the most flagrant offenders of the quarantine rules were residents of Houghs Neck. He said a visit to that section Wednesday uncovered children of infected homes at play with others, parents visiting neighbors, inmates of quarantined homes purchasing in the stores at the beach, and all varieties of violation existing, and that he also found what he believed to be a deliberate attempt to hide a measles case.

Dr. Diehl's severe arraignment of the people of Houghs Neck was simply, he said, the views of a man who realized only too well the possibilities of a continued epidemic of the entire community.

Measles, according to Dr. Diehl causes more deaths annually than scarlet fever, one of the most malignant of contagious diseases, and that usually about 20 per cent of the cases close with the death of the patient. At Houghs Neck he said it is a matter of fact that practically no attention has been paid to the rules of the Board of Health.

Many violators told him, he said, that they did not know they were endangering public health and agreed to respond to his request to consider the welfare of others, and that the indications were there would be some co-operation between the home and department in preventing a general spreading of the disease.

FORE RIVER FIRE DRILL.

Chief Billings visited the Fore River shipyard Wednesday to witness a drill of the fire department of the yard, and he speaks in the highest praise of its efficiency. The big auto pumping engine built at the plant, which did such good work at the Manchester, N. H., and Salem, Mass. fires, is now used by the Wollaston Methodist church. The engine has been painted in the standard fire department color and is a very formidable piece of fire apparatus. At the drill Wednesday the call brought the members of the department quickly to their assigned places. The auto pumping engine was manned and run out, and water was running through the lines in a very short time. Ladders were also raised with a quickness that would do credit to the best fire department of the state. In fact, Chief Billings said the drill was one that showed the volunteer department of the yard to be most efficient in every way.

NEW POINT SCHOOL.

No obstacles exist to prevent the early erection of the new school house at Quincy Point and the seeming delay is only the result of the careful deliberations of Mayor Campbell and the school committee over the type of building to be erected.

This information was furnished by Councilman Thomas Griffin, secretary of the Parent-Teachers Association of the Washington school, when he was asked about the progress being made. Councilman Griffin said he understood a type of building altogether different from the Wollaston and Adams schools would be erected and that the building now being considered would be one of 16 rooms and that it would combine all of the latest improvements in schools. He said it would differ radically from these two schools inasmuch as the rooms and hall would be arranged so an addition would not decrease its efficiency.

Councilman Griffin said that Mayor Campbell and members of the school committee had inspected schools recently erected in surrounding cities and towns and that he understood they wanted the latest in design where the design is practical.

Councilman Williams, former councilman Barrows and Principal Thos. B. Pollard also spoke of the progress toward the building.

Mrs. J. B. Mellen was elected president at the election and Councilman Griffin was chosen vice president. Mrs. Ida J. Crane was chosen secretary, Mrs. Mary P. Sampson, treasurer, Mrs. Marion Barrows, clerk, Mrs. Thomas B. Pollard, Daniel Scofield, Jr., Bernard Fritz and Mrs. Arthur B. Foster.

Miss Marion Jackson, the school nurse, told of her experiences since her department was inaugurated by the Women's club and said she had found hearty co-operation on the part of the parents. Miss Jackson said her department was inaugurated by the Women's club and said she had found hearty co-operation on the part of the parents. Miss Jackson said her department was inaugurated by the Women's club and said she had found hearty co-operation on the part of the parents.

INJURED BY FALL.

George Forsyth, 55 years of Rodman street, one of the best known Scottish residents of the city suffered a badly strained back as a result of a fall at the foot of Milne & Chalmers on Penn street, Thursday morning.

Forsyth has been employed there about 20 years and for the past 14 years has operated the derrick hoist. Thursday he was on a roof platform pulling the rope which opens the foot of the hoist when it parted. He lost his balance and fell a distance of 15 feet.

WOLLASTON

Mrs. Ronald MacDonald of Hancock street, Wollaston, entertained at auction bridge Monday evening in honor of Miss Clara Coombs of Bath, Maine. Three tables were in play after a dainty collation was served. Jonquil decorated the table.

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Rice of Standish avenue have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter Blanche Eva to Adolph Restell at St. Johns church, Quincy, April nineteenth at nine o'clock in the morning.

Miss Helen King returned to the Dana Hall school at Wellesley, Friday, after spending the ten days Easter recess with her mother Mrs. Edgar A. King of Clay street.

Mrs. William Frick of Baltimore has come North for an extended visit with her son and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Frick of Hancock street, Wollaston. Later in the season Miss Mary Frick will come up from Charleston, South Carolina when she and her mother will go to their summer cottage at North Haddam.

The annual meeting of the Wollaston Co-operative Bank is to be held Tuesday evening April 20.

The Easter music is to be repeated Sunday morning and evening at the Wollaston Baptist church.

Mrs. Charles M. Bryant proved a very charming hostess Thursday morning when the executive board of the Wollaston Woman's club met at her home for its last regular meeting. Much business was discussed and many plans made after which Mrs. Bryant invited those present to partake of a most delicious luncheon. She was assisted by Mrs. Nathan G. Nickerson and Mrs. Percival A. Thompson.

The dining room had every appearance of spring with Easter lilies and jonquils and refreshing salads and pies. Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, president of the club and Mrs. William E. Rowe served at the beautifully spread table.

The son of John Graham who makes his summer home on Squantum street, Atlantic, was struck and fatally injured by an automobile in Boston. The boy was taken to the hospital but died before his parents could be located.

An alarm was sounded from Box 614 at 7.15 A. M. Thursday for a fire in a small summer house on the premises of James Thomas at 99 Billings road. The building set some distance from the house and the fire was evidently caused by hot ashes. The building was gutted leaving nothing but the shell. The loss will not be heavy. The premises were owned by A. S. Robinson.

ATLANTIC

John LaTour's mother and grandfather who have been with him during the winter have returned to their home in Meriden, Connecticut.

Misses Grace and Ruth Parker are visiting their parents on Russell street.

The Easter sale Wednesday in Memorial church was a great success under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry W. Reed.

A number of the Ladies Benevolent society of Memorial church visited Morgan Memorial in Boston Thursday and were much pleased with their visit.

Frank Damon of Billings street has started work on his cottages at Plymouth, getting ready for the season.

George Brown of Wollaston is to develop the Boy Scout movement in Atlantic and the boys will meet hereafter on Tuesday evenings.

Easter services were interesting at the Atlantic Methodist church. The pastor preached a charming Easter sermon at 10.45. The Sunday school gave an Easter concert at 6.30 P. M. A good audience greeted the children and a beautiful program was given. The pastor took an Easter offering of $12.00 for missions at the morning service and a $60.00 offering in the evening for pastoral support.

The son of John Graham who makes his summer home on Squantum street, Atlantic, was struck and fatally injured by an automobile in Boston. The boy was taken to the hospital but died before his parents could be located.

An alarm was sounded from Box 614

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, APRIL 10, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at

The Patriot Office, Quincy, Mass.
Brown & Co., Quincy, Mass.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square, Quincy, Mass.
J. P. O'Brien, 38 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy Depot, Quincy, Mass.
H. H. I. Smith, Quincy Point, Quincy, Mass.
Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point, Quincy, Mass.
Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston, Quincy, Mass.
Thomas Gurney, Atlantic, Quincy, Mass.
Branchfield & Martens, Atlantic, Quincy, Mass.
Branchfield & Martens, Norfolk Downs, Quincy, Mass.
Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy Adams, Quincy, Mass.
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy, Quincy, Mass.
Edward F. Drohan, West Quincy, Quincy, Mass.
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewster's Corner, Quincy, Mass.
J. J. Hammers, East Milton, Quincy, Mass.
South Terminal Station, Boston, Quincy, Mass.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNER-SHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC.

of the Quincy Patriot, published weekly at Quincy, Massachusetts, required by the Act of August 24, 1912

Editor A. L. Prescott, Quincy, Mass.
Business Managers, Board of Directors, Quincy, Mass.
Publishers, George W. Prescott Publishing Co., Quincy, Mass.
Owners: Eben Prescott, Braintree, Mass.; Elta M. Prescott, Quincy, Mass.; Alice M. Prescott, Quincy, Mass.; George W. Prescott Publishing Co., Quincy, Mass.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 29th day of March 1915

CLARENCE BURGIN, Notary Public.

My commission expires Dec. 8, 1916

TIS APRIL.

Mary A. Mason.

There's a thrush in the thicket, 'tis April I know,
There are signs of her presence wherever I go;
There's gold on the willows and blue in the sky,
And pink where the snowdrifts of arbutus lie;
There's red on the maples, and color to spare—
Each bud is awake and awaiting its share.
The butterflies feel it is time for their wings;
Through the mists there are hints of invisible things,
And on through the meadows and over the hill
Sweet April is calling her followers still;
Her footsteps are violets, her breath is the air,
And her speech is the singing of birds everywhere.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Alonso F. Abbott to William N. Swain, Euclid avenue.
Ethel H. Andrews to Martha E. Watts, Arlington and Brook streets.
Nellie B. Badger to Hilma Johnson, Willard street.
Joseph Bennett to Herbert Frazier, Pratt and Beach roads.
Rupert C. Bishop to Harry D. King, Kemper street.
Catherine L. Boyden et al to Lyman F. Palmer, Willow street.
Christopher F. Brown to John A. Terrell et ux, Atlantic street.
Charles M. Bryant to Susan W. Bryant, Wollaston avenue, Waterston avenue.
Robert Canley to Philip H. Sullivan, City of Quincy et al to Edna E. Sevard.
Charles C. Crockett to Sarah E. Cochran, Beach street.
Louis Diamond to David Diamond, Water street, Penn street.
Wilton A. Dunham to Jennie G. Warren, Adams shore.
William H. Faxon et al to Morris W. Norris et al, Beale street, Greenwood avenue.
William H. Faxon et al to Clayton F. Emerson, Central avenue.
Henry M. Faxon to Clayton F. Emerson, Beale street.
Benjamin L. Fowler to Wilton A. Dunham, Adams shore.
Herbert D. Graham to John P. Granahan, Lunt street.
John P. Granahan to Theresa A. McCarthy, Lunt street.
Mary Kemp to Alexander Falconer, tr. Gilbert street.
Maurice E. Kilpatrick to Karl E. Carlson, Hillside street.
Nellie G. King et al to City of Quincy, Billings road.
Harry D. King to Bangs K. Smith, Kemper street.
Millidge Le Cain to Lottie M. Le Cain, Western road, Rogers street.
Anson M. Lyman et al to Jessie A. French, Brooks street, Charles street.
Lydia A. Mann to Barney D. Mann, Wayland and Berlin streets.
Jeremiah J. McNamery to Susan C. Smyth, Palmer street.
Sylvanus G. Morse to Karl E. Carlson.
Forris W. Norris et al to Marion E. Pike, Beale street, Greenwood avenue.
Marion E. Pike to Ferris W. Norris, Beale street, Greenwood avenue.
John Pynny to John A. Paakkari, Weeden place.
George A. Richards to Francis J. Carney.
Charles R. Sherman to Carrie E. Stone, Belmont street.
Charles R. Sherman Norfolk Norf. Co., Newport avenue, Arlington street.
Claude L. Slayter to Maria A. Brennan, Bolton street.
Chester H. Smith to William N. Swain, Elm avenue.
Sarah B. Smith to Hazen B. Chapman, Beach street.
Isaiah M. Stewart to City of Quincy, Faxon road, Billings road.
John H. Storer et al to Augusta I. Newcomb, Channing street.
Philip H. Sullivan to Quincy Quarries Co.
William N. Swain to Chester H. Smith et ux, Elm avenue.
William N. Swain to Alonso F. Abbott et ux, Euclid avenue.
William Williams to Christopher F. Brown, Conant road.
Fred W. Wood et al to City of Quincy, Billings road.
Fred W. Wood et al to Catherine L. Boyden, Marlboro street.
Fred W. Wood et al to Catherine L. Boyden, Flagg street.
Henry W. Hunt et al to Sadie L. Rivers, Squantum street.
Sadie L. Rivers to Pinckney Holbrook et al, Squantum street.

APPLICATION FOR LICENSES.

An unusually large number of applications for minor licenses were received. The time for filing applications for license to sell and applications for licenses to collect junk expired at this meeting. The total number of applications received was 102. Of this number 25 were for junk collectors, 13 for liquor permits, 19 for gasoline, 25 for Sunday Fruit, 9 for pool, and 8 for job wagons. The others were for common victualers.

All were referred to the license committee except those for gasoline, upon which a public hearing was ordered for the next meeting of the council.

The Mayor called attention to the need of a wall to retain the embankment at Houghs Neck which was referred to the city engineer.

The school committee recommended the purchase of 60,000 feet of land in the rear of the Atherton Hough school for a playground. To Public Building committee.

Petitions for the acceptance of Albertross road, that the quarry hole at Wilson's quarry be protected. That Cherry avenue be accepted. That Cherry street be accepted, and from A. W. Pierce for permission to erect an advertising sign on Hancock street were received and referred, also a petition to old Marlboro street.

A public hearing was held on the petition of Gessner Bros. to keep gasoline at 41 Beacon street. The petition was referred to the committee.

The street committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

CITY COUNCIL.

Although there was a large amount of business transacted at the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening there was no important business of the day. In fact the only semblance of a debate came on the report of the finance committee on the order for sewer extensions. The original order called for an appropriation of $40,000 but the finance committee cut this down to $25,000. The order could have passed on suspension of the rules but Councilman McGrath objected.

He argued that there was no hurry in passing the order and that it should be thoroughly investigated before another dollar was expended. It was time for investigation when it was a fact that the unit cost in Quincy was very much larger than in other cities. It was time to stop and see if a less expensive plan could not be worked out.

Councilman Beaman believed it a good thing to put the sewer in the new streets. The amount was small. A motion to suspend the rules was lost and the order went over until the next meeting.

GUN SQUAD MATTER.

Another matter that created a little stir, was the report on the matter of establishing a gun squad in Quincy. While there was no debate it was evident that the matter will not have an easy time getting by.

There were two matters before the finance committee relative to the gun squad. One was the resolution favoring the establishment of the squad, which was handled by the finance committee jointly with the council on legislative matters. This committee reported a resolution of approval. The report was ordered to a second reading.

The other report was that of the finance committee relative to the appropriation of $2,000. The committee recommended that this be referred to the executive. The acceptance of the report was declared rejected but the vote was doubted and before a verification of the vote could be taken the report was laid on the table.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the city engineer complying with the request of a resolution of Councilman McGrath, to the effect that the city engineer should cross the railroad tracks together with the grades of said streets as proposed by the crossing elimination plan. The document was a lengthy one and was placed on file.

The city engineer also sent a report on the resolution of Councilman Prescott asking for the grade of Beale street under the proposed change in the tracks of the railroad.

The report says: "When additional tracks are laid out it will necessitate certain changes in the grade of the Beale street bridge, but what these changes are can not at present be foretold. The land abutting Beale street between Hancock street and the railroad location has not yet been built upon to any great extent, but plans are in preparation for a business block, and other parcels of land have recently changed ownership. It would therefore seem to be evident that if the grade of Beale street is to be improved at all, the work should be undertaken before any new buildings are erected, thus saving a very large property damage. From an examination it would appear that by raising the grade of Beale street from Old Colony avenue, easterly to a point nearly opposite the new Masonic building, the present grade of Beale street would be very much improved. In conclusion the city engineer stated that the estimated cost of the work is about $9,000, not including land and property damage."

The communication was referred to the street committee as was also an order offered later by Councilman Prescott appropriating $10,000 to change the grade of Beale street.

The Quincy Women's club were granted permission to have children appear on the stage at Music hall April 20 and May 1, and the Y. M. C. A. to have children appear on the stage at Music hall, April 7.

The Mayor announced the appointment of the city assessors, already published and the appointing them as constables.

APPLICATION FOR LICENSES.

An unusually large number of applications for minor licenses were received. The time for filing applications for license to sell and applications for licenses to collect junk expired at this meeting. The total number of applications received was 102. Of this number 25 were for junk collectors, 13 for liquor permits, 19 for gasoline, 25 for Sunday Fruit, 9 for pool, and 8 for job wagons. The others were for common victualers.

All were referred to the license committee except those for gasoline, upon which a public hearing was ordered for the next meeting of the council.

The Mayor called attention to the need of a wall to retain the embankment at Houghs Neck which was referred to the city engineer.

The school committee recommended the purchase of 60,000 feet of land in the rear of the Atherton Hough school for a playground. To Public Building committee.

Petitions for the acceptance of Albertross road, that the quarry hole at Wilson's quarry be protected. That Cherry avenue be accepted. That Cherry street be accepted, and from A. W. Pierce for permission to erect an advertising sign on Hancock street were received and referred, also a petition to old Marlboro street.

A public hearing was held on the petition of Gessner Bros. to keep gasoline at 41 Beacon street. The petition was referred to the committee.

The street committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

MR. WILLMOTT RESIGNS.

The happiness of Easter Sunday was clouded for members of Bethany Congregational church, and indeed for many who had gathered at the portals of the edifice, because of the resignation of the beloved pastor of the church, Rev. Benj. A. Willmott. At the Sunday evening service Mr. Willmott read a letter of resignation, stating that he had accepted the call to the Thelma Memorial Congregational church, Roxbury, and asking that he be relieved of his duties here no later than the first Sunday in May.

Although Mr. Willmott's resignation had been expected ever since the announcement that he had received the call, it is customary in Congregational churches not to extend a call unless assured of acceptance. It was not expected before next Sunday. The pastor of a Congregational church rarely reads his own resignation, the unpleasant task usually devolving upon an exchange pastor. As an exchange had been announced for next Sunday it was expected that the resignation would be read at that time. Indeed, such had been Mr. Willmott's original plan.

The pastor felt, however, that the feeling of suspense was too great for the people to be forced to endure and he admitted Sunday evening, before he read the letter of resignation, that the strain was too great for him, too.

Mr. Willmott goes to one of the largest churches in Greater Boston. The position is one requiring great ability, the pastorate being considered as in the nature of frontier work for the Congregational church in this part of the country, and Mr. Willmott was urged by leading Boston clergymen to take up the work. The call from the church itself was unanimous. The salary is understood to be in excess of $4,000. Mr. Willmott's salary in Quincy was $2,500 and the parsonage.

The pastor of Bethany preached his first sermon in the capacity of pastor of Sunday three years ago. Although his work here has extended only over this brief period it is generally acknowledged that what he has done has been little short of wonderful. Mr. Willmott was never troubled with empty pews on Sunday. The morning service was well attended, and the most brilliant feature of his achievement, however, was the Sunday evening attendance. The late comers rarely found a seat outside of the gallery and not infrequently not even there.

The loss to the city, in whose life he took so sympathetic and intelligent an interest, will be hardly less than the loss to Bethany church. In his pulpit and in private life he dealt with civic questions in absolute fearlessness. As a speaker at banquets, men's meetings and similar gatherings he was greatly in demand.

Mr. Willmott was president last year of the Quincy and West End. He is vice-president of the Board of Managers of Woodward Institute. He belongs to no local societies, always feeling that he should devote all his time and energy to his church work.

He is a director of the Board of Pastoral Supply in Boston.

Following the regular Sunday evening service Mr. Willmott stated that he had a letter to read. He then read the following letter of resignation, addressed to the members of Bethany church.

Dear Friends: After three years of happy fellowship in the service of Christ in Bethany church, the pathway of duty is leading me to another field of service. I wish therefore to resign my pastorate here, that I may accept a call to the Immanuel Walnut Avenue Congregational church of Roxbury, Mass.

In arriving at this decision I have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because at the same time we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake,

The QuinCY Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, APRIL 24, 1915. VOL. 79. NO. 17. FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Quincy 1040.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust

LANDS FOR SALE

MERRYMOUNT

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1840 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
stock and Mutual offices.
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual
Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,931,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1915.

Cash Capital	$5,000,000.00
Surplus	6,000,000.00
Assets for Policyholders	$11,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance	9,000,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses	22,000,000.00
Total Available Assets	$27,000,000.00

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1837
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk	$9,201,723.10
Cash Assets	170,000.00
Total Assets (including re-insurance)	74,004.05
Amount of Cash Surplus	$101,046.08
Unpaid Losses	22,000,000.00
Total Available Assets	$121,046.08

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Theodore T. Marsh, Daniel
H. Field, Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel
Gannett, Milton; Charles W. Faxon, Boston;
James J. Hayes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan,
Quincy; James J. Hayes, Dedham; George W.
Hartford, Dedham; George L. Barnes,
Weymouth.

Incorporated 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk	$28,051,917.57
Cash Assets	144,280.00
Total Assets (including re-insurance)	200,680.61
Amount of Cash Surplus	$438,054.06
Unpaid Losses	22,000,000.00
Total Available Assets	$244,054.06

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton;
Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas H.
Dwyer, Boston; William J. Sullivan,
Quincy; James J. Hayes, Dedham; George W.
Hartford, Dedham; George L. Barnes,
Weymouth.

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855.
HOME OFFICE, 11 CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.

Wm. A. Bradford Co.

5 Maple Street
Quincy
Drain Pipe Siphon for Cleaning Drains
TRY IT. $1.00 per set

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

900 DROPS

ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of Infants and Children.

Promotes Digestion, Cheerful-
ness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.

Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhea,
Worms, Convulsions, Feverish-
ness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Par-Signe Signature of
Wm. A. Bradford Co.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DROPS—35 CENTS

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

A New Floor "Adds A Lot" to The Home

Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Neponset, Boston. Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Get Out OF YOUR HOME

Your office, your store, or your factory, all the antiquated, foul-smelling, disease-breeding Plumbing, and—

Then Get In

modern, sanitary, open Plumbing, that, in the end, will be worth all its cost and more.
Let us furnish you an estimate on the work

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

5 Maple Street
Quincy
Drain Pipe Siphon for Cleaning Drains
TRY IT. $1.00 per set

BACK YARD THOUGHTS

Edgar A. Guest

The snow has gone
And once again
I stand beside
The window pane
And see the spot
Where blossomed the rose.
And where the maid
The twine treads.

Where once a sheet
Of crystal snow
Laid everything
That lay below
Now all is bare
And I may scan
Each empty corn
And sardine can.

And yonder lies
The wreath I missed
Where once I held
It in my fist.
And there's the hammer
That I sought
And vowed that in
The house I'd brought.

How came those papers
From the press
To strewn my yard
With such distress?
I vote that I was Wet and spick and span
The day that first
The snow began.

When from my life
The snow shall pass,
And bare of cover
Is the grass
I wonder will My word appear
So very desolate
And drear?

Will I once Thought clean and neat
Be married with Refuse of the street?
And will the place
Where I have trod
Be with such grim Disorder spoiled?

If so, I faint
Would pass away
When all the flowers
Are bright and gay
And sink into My final rest
When my life-yard
Is at its best.

Another half hour elapsed before
The last person found the "bunch."
Billy Carter was that person, and while the others waited on the lounge, he found a hiding place in the yard chit-chat bedroom. The first logical place to look for anyone is under the bed, so it wasn't long before Eileen, Barrett Lamping and Peggy Carstairs discovered him almost simultaneously.

Very silently, and in turn, they lay on the floor and rolled under the bed.
Peggy Carstairs, however, while waiting for the others to get into the smoking a cigarette and, of course, it wasn't a minute before the whole pack was upon the hiders, the violet-scented smoke of the "Milo" having served as a clue.

When Eileen's turn to be "Sardine" finally came, almost every available hiding place had been used. While the "seekers" repaired to the lounge, she arrived in the living room at about 5 o'clock were met in the living room by the two cousins who made a pretty picture as they stood before the blazing fire, their arms about each other.

Minna had, as the saying goes, "married money." The daughter of moderately well-to-do, intellectual parents, she had always possessed a very clear idea of what she would do if she but had the wherewithal. When her chance, in the guise of Johnstone Schuyler, finally presented itself, she at last gave vent to her desires. In her new position she blossomed forth physically and mentally and was now the perfectly groomed, perfectly poised woman of society. The paintings in "My Fancy" alone represented one of the rarest art collections in the United States. The rugs, purchased at any price, for their exquisite tones and textures, were the talk and envy of every connoisseur in New York.
But, above and beyond all, possibly, were Minna's jewels. They were her passion and her joy, and well might they be, for no lovelier sight could be seen than the Dobinsky pearls, for instance, glistening on her soft, white neck.

Now, as she greeted her guests, a square emerald caught the firelight and sparkled on a thin chain at her throat.

The guests, who arrived just before dinner included six men and six girls of the younger set—and Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Mooney, an altogether fascinating and mysterious young couple. They had come to St. Louis from New York or Paris (no one knew just exactly where) and opened dancing classes at very high rates indeed. As has been the case so often since we've all gone dancing mad, the Peyton Mooneys were immediately
"taken up" by the exclusive members of their ultra-exclusive coterie. No house party was complete without them, for they were not only expert in terpsichorean art, but excelled as conversationalists; were very good to look at, and possessed that which is a most desirable quality in these days of courtship—originality.

During dinner, Peyton, was, as usual, the life of the crowd. At table he kept everyone howling at his clever stories, and between courses the young people desecrated the festive board for a fox trot, he regaled them with excellent imitations of other foolish celebrities. The girls were quite mad about him and the men admired and envied him. He had them all resting snugly in the palm of his very good looking hand. Therefore, when he called a halt on the dancing at about 10 o'clock and informed his admirers that he possessed an idea of much possibility and charm, they gathered about him like satellites and demanded explanation.

"In the first place," he began, running long, well-kept fingers through his crisp hair and smiling at the group about him, "all lights must be turned out."

Exclamations of "This is no place for me!" and "Not a nice game!"
and "How perfectly horrid!" "Go on, Peyton, dear," greeted the announcement.

"Yes," Peyton went on firmly, "not a light on the place! Then the game begins. Someone must go out to hide while the rest of us wait on that lounge in front of the fire."

"Fifteen on that one little lounge?"
Mary Mason demurred feebly, but was reprimanded by Peyton's cold and firm "Certainly!" His blue eyes twinkling, he further explained the plan:

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

900 DROPS

ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.

Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of

Infants and Children.

Promotes Digestion, Cheerful-

ness and Rest. Contains neither

Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.

NOT NARCOTIC.

Perfect Remedy for Constipa-

tion, Sour Stomach, Diarrhea,

Worms, Convulsions, Feverish-

ness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Par-Signe Signature of

Wm. A. Bradford Co.

NEW YORK.

At 6 months old

35 DROPS—35 CENTS

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

900 DROPS

ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.

Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of

Infants and Children.

Promotes Digestion, Cheerful-

ness and Rest. Contains neither

Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.

NOT NARCOTIC.

Perfect Remedy for Constipa-

tion, Sour Stomach, Diarrhea,

Worms, Convulsions, Feverish-

ness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Par-Signe Signature of

Wm. A. Bradford Co.

NEW YORK.

At 6 months old

35 DROPS—35 CENTS

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

MASS PEACE MEETING.

By Q. W. C. T. U.

I hereby promise, God helping me,
to abstain from all distilled, ferment-
ed and malt liquors, including wine,
beer, and cider as a beverage and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic of the same.

PROHIBITION IN NORTH DAKOTA.

North Dakota has had constitutional prohibition since statehood, and
year by year the law has been better
and better enforced all over the state.
There is no question as to its beneficial effect, and neither is there any question, in my mind, that temperance is making a gigantic stride forward
all over the country.

Many factors are contributing to the financial as well as to the moral side
of the question. Railroad companies, insurance companies, bankers, men in business generally, are insisting that their employees and their business associates shall be temperate.

Never expect to see license in North Dakota, but I do believe that as the years go by, prohibition will become stronger and that the majority in favor will increase each and every year.

By far the largest number of our farmers are in favor of prohibition,
as the fact that liquor is kept out of the state has a good moral effect upon
the men employed by our farmers.
May the sentiment for temperance continue to increase in North Dakota
and throughout the land—Governor
L. D. Hanna.

MONTCLAIR SCHOOL ASSO.

About a hundred people from Montclair, Norfolk Downs and Bellevue
Park met in the Montclair school on Tuesday evening and organized a Parent-Teacher's association. Joseph P.
McCauley was the presiding officer. The pupils of the eighth grade under the direction of Miss Leah Henniger sang
several selections, including "Way Down Upon the Swane River" and
"Softly Now the Light of Day fades
upon our Sighs."

Andrew C. Johnson, principal of school, read the secretary's report and also the report of the committee which had been appointed to draw up
the constitution and by-laws.

The following reported in Theodore Parlee being elected president, Fred-
rick H. Harding, secretary, James Ross, treasurer and for directors to serve
two years, Mrs. Baker, Mr. Mossman,
Mr. Parsons, Mr. Ross, Mr. Forrest, Mr. McCauley, Mr. Parsons,
Mr. Horton and Mrs. Kessler.

Mr. Barbour, superintendent of schools, spoke on "Parent-Teacher's Associations of Other Schools and
Their Purposes." He said that this was the eighth association which had been organized in Quincy. "The purpose," he said, "is to promote the welfare of the child, to help the teachers and the superintendent to educate the children. The association puts the parent in touch with the work which the boy or girl is doing in the school. It means a great deal to the child to know that his father and mother are acquainted with his teacher and are taking time to belong to such an organization. It makes the child feel his importance and his responsibility."

"The parent is helped in being told things which only the teacher has the opportunity of knowing and the teacher is helped by seeing the characteristics of the parent in the child.
Therefore there must be co-operation between the two for the best results
Quincy is passing through a transitional period in education as well as in politics. It is going from small city to a large city. Quincy has always been especially desirous for the best educational but the best things
cost money so the Parent-Teacher's association should act as a responsible body to which the school superintendent may go for moral backing and
new expenditures.

It was voted to invite Mayor Campbell to address the next meeting which will be held on the third Tuesday in May.

Mr. Parlee thanked the members of the association for the honor conferred upon him and enlisted the assistance
and encouragement of the people.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

The parsonage of the Wollaston
Baptist church was the scene of a double marriage Saturday evening
when Miss Annie Beatrice McCarthy
of 4 Old Colony avenue became the bride of Joseph C. Guivens of 18
Furnace Brook parkway and her sister, Sarah, Virginia McCarthy became the bride of Norman W. Pemberton
of 1 Old Colony terrace.

Rev. Joseph Walther officiated at the services which were performed
in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Both couples were unattended. A reception took place at the home of the brides and
the bride and groom were now on a honeymoon. They will live in Quincy.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Miss Lillian Anderson of 35 Grant street was surprised Saturday evening
when on answering the door bell she found forty or more friends assembled on the piazza. The occasion was the 18th anniversary of her birth.
The evening was spent in playing cards, singing, etc. Miss Helen Lord in behalf of those present, presented her with a sum of money.

Towards the end of the evening a large birthday cake was decorated with cut and distributed among the guests. Hidden in this cake was a
"cudding ring" and a thimble. Miss Ruth Johnson found the ring and Raymond Melendy the thimble.

Refreshments were served and the party broke up about midnight.

MASS PEACE MEETING.

By Q. W. C. T. U.

I hereby promise, God helping me,
to abstain from all distilled, ferment-
ed and malt liquors, including wine,
beer, and cider as a beverage and to
employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic of the same.

PROHIBITION IN NORTH DAKOTA.

North Dakota has had constitutional prohibition since statehood, and
year by year the law has been better
and better enforced all over the state.
There is no question as to its beneficial effect, and neither is there any question, in my mind, that temperance
is making a gigantic stride forward
all over the country.

Many factors are contributing to the financial as well as to the moral side
of the question. Railroad companies, insurance companies, bankers, men in business generally, are insisting that
their employees and their business
associates shall be temperate.

Never expect to see license in North Dakota, but I do believe that
as the years go by, prohibition will become stronger and that the majority in favor will increase each and every year.

By far the largest number of our farmers are in favor of prohibition,
as the fact that liquor is kept out of the state has a good moral effect upon
the men employed by our farmers.
May the sentiment for temperance
continue to increase in North Dakota
and throughout the land—Governor
L. D. Hanna.

MONTCLAIR SCHOOL ASSO.

About a hundred people from Montclair, Norfolk Downs and Bellevue
Park met in the Montclair school on Tuesday evening and organized a Parent-Teacher's association. Joseph P.
McCauley was the presiding officer. The pupils of the eighth grade under the direction of Miss Leah Henniger sang
several selections, including "Way Down Upon the Swane River" and
"Softly Now the Light of Day fades
upon our Sighs."

Andrew C. Johnson, principal of school, read the secretary's report and
also the report of the committee
which had been appointed to draw up
the constitution and by-laws.

The following reported in Theodore Parlee being elected president, Fred-
rick H. Harding, secretary, James Ross,
treasurer and for directors to serve
two years, Mrs. Baker, Mr. Mossman,
Mr. Parsons, Mr. Ross, Mr. Forrest, Mr. McCauley, Mr. Parsons,
Mr. Horton and Mrs. Kessler.

Mr. Barbour, superintendent of schools, spoke on "Parent-Teacher's Associations of Other Schools and
Their Purposes." He said that this was the eighth association which had been organized in Quincy. "The purpose," he said, "is to promote the welfare of the child, to help the
teachers and the superintendent to educate the children. The association puts the parent in touch with the
work which the boy or girl is doing in the school. It means a great deal to the child to know that his father and mother are acquainted with his teacher and are taking time to belong to such an organization. It makes the child feel his importance and his
responsibility."

"The parent is helped in being told things which only the teacher has the opportunity of knowing and the teacher is helped by seeing the characteristics of the parent in the child.
Therefore there must be co-operation
between the two for the best results
Quincy is passing through a transitional period in education as well as in politics. It is going from small city to a large city. Quincy has always been especially desirous for the
best educational but the best things
cost money so the Parent-Teacher's association should act as a responsible body to which the school superintendent may go for moral backing and
new expenditures.

It was voted to invite Mayor Campbell to address the next meeting which will be held on the third Tuesday in May.

Mr. Parlee thanked the members of the association for the honor conferred upon him and enlisted the assistance
and encouragement of the people.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

The parsonage of the Wollaston
Baptist church was the scene of a double marriage Saturday evening
when Miss Annie Beatrice McCarthy
of 4 Old Colony avenue became the
bride of Joseph C. Guivens of 18
Furnace Brook parkway and her sister, Sarah, Virginia McCarthy became the bride of Norman W. Pemberton
of 1 Old Colony terrace.

Rev. Joseph Walther officiated at the services which were performed
in the presence of a large number of
relatives and friends. Both couples were unattended. A reception took place at the home of the brides and
the bride and groom were now on a honeymoon. They will live in Quincy.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Miss Lillian Anderson of 35 Grant street was surprised Saturday evening
when on answering the door bell she found forty or more friends assembled on the piazza. The occasion
was the 18th anniversary of her birth.
The evening was spent in playing cards, singing, etc. Miss Helen Lord in behalf of those present, presented her with a sum of money.

Towards the end of the evening a
large birthday cake was decorated with cut and distributed among the guests. Hidden in this cake was a
"cudding ring" and a thimble. Miss Ruth Johnson found the ring and Raymond Melendy the thimble.

Refreshments were served and the
party broke up about midnight.

MASS PEACE MEETING.

By Q. W. C. T. U.

I hereby promise, God helping me,
to abstain from all distilled, ferment-
ed and malt liquors, including wine,
beer, and cider as a beverage and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic of the same.

PROHIBITION IN NORTH DAKOTA.

North Dakota has had constitutional prohibition since statehood, and

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MAY 1, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Full	Sea	Moon
AT MANAC	Rises 4.40	12.00	12.45	10.00
Sunday	4.40	12.00	12.45	10.00
Monday	4.37	11.55	12.40	9.55
Tuesday	4.34	11.50	12.35	9.50
Wednesday	4.31	11.45	12.30	9.45
Thursday	4.28	11.40	12.25	9.40
Friday	4.25	11.35	12.20	9.35

Last Quarter, May 6th 10:23 A.M.

The Chicago Herald gets it about right and Mrs. Young of the Boston Federation who spoke in Wollaston last week would heartily concur, when that paper says:

"One beauty about planting peas and beans and things like that is that one can't plant them in the same time sundry indispositions of mind and body."

CHRISTIANITY AND ROADS.

The comments about Quincy's streets by Rev. William B. Ayres, reported in today's Patriot are decidedly refreshing. Some of the streets are too good for the amount of travel they receive, he declares. This is unusual; most people in Quincy protest because the streets in their section are poor and they point out that some other section is being favored more than their section is.

But Mr. Ayres, he says: "Down in West Quincy the streets are neglected, and many of them do not possess the semblance of a sidewalk. This is class selfishness. The man in Wollaston should be interested in giving a decent street to the man in West Quincy and the money of the city should not be spent on my street just because I live on it. Every man ought, if he has any sense of brotherhood or fair play at all, to see that the other fellow gets a fair show of the improvements. Another man's life is just as valuable perhaps as yours and should be beautiful and blest."

This is the true civic spirit. It is applied Christianity. If it were implanted in the breasts of the majority of Quincy's citizens we should not have to worry about ways and means to make a model city.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

We trust that the example set by Mayor Campbell, who observed Arbor Day Saturday, by planting a tree on the lawn of the Thomas Crane Public Library, may be generally followed by citizens throughout the city. There are many places in Quincy which would be greatly improved by a few trees. The newer portion of the Mt. Wollaston cemetery, devoid of trees and the comfort which they bring, is a case in point. There are many private lawns which would be improved by a few shade trees. Trees are not expensive nor are they difficult to set up. The gain in the appearance of a yard should well repay anyone for the slight expenditure. And well kept lawns, dotted with attractive trees, are a distinct asset to any city.

REAL GROWTH.

One of the most significant indications of a city's growth is its building development. This does not mean a feverish, spasmodic development, which results in the erection of more buildings than the population require but a strong, steady growth, demanded by an increasing population and commercial prosperity.

There is a city not far from Quincy which for several years has experienced a feverish building boom. More buildings in proportion to the population have been erected than in Quincy or most any other neighboring city. The boom has been principally in the line of tenements. And yet last year this city had some seven or eight hundred empty tenements. The population has not increased the demand for the newest dwelling. No sooner are they settled in a comfortable tenement than a newer, more pretentious building is erected nearby and they hasten to move there.

This is not prosperity, except for the money men, who are the only ones of them who have a sign which reads "My motto is, Keep Moving," and it must be said that many of the people follow his advice.

Look round Quincy and you won't find many empty dwellings or business blocks and new buildings going up every day. The population is growing. There can be no question of that. It enjoys material prosperity. It is beginning to enjoy better government.

But it is sadly lacking in a proper civic spirit, not even enjoying such a one as does Brockton, the city referred to above. Stop knocking and put your shoulder to the wheel.

M. E. MEN'S CLUB.

Members of the Men's club of the Wollaston Methodist church, the most interesting meeting, Wednesday evening when Charles E. Goodspeed's Book Shop, gave an interesting talk on the collection and preservation of old books, autographs and other antiques.

The speaker had with him many specimens which gave an added interest. Among them was a complete manuscript bible of the 12th century which took about 15 years to finish.

Other curios were a "New England Primer" of 1717, the second edition of "The Vicar of Wakefield" of 1766, "The Embarco" published by William Cullen Bryant in 1809 at the age of 13.

Another interesting relic was a larger book published in 1874 by Peter Schoeffer, one of the earliest printers and a co-worker with Gutenberg. Among interesting autographs shown were a letter written by George Washington at Mt. Vernon, May 29, 1788, and a legal document concerning a shander suit in the handwriting of Abraham Lincoln.

Among other interesting relics, was what was said to be the cover of one of the tea chests emptied at the Boston Tea Party and a book filled with autographs and descriptions of people connected with this event.

The process of extra illustrating and improving old volumes was described and the speaker displayed some fine examples of English binding. He exhibited a copy of "The Poet Gray as a Naturalist," published jointly by himself and Professor Norton.

Refreshments followed. During the meeting an interesting edition of the Wollaston Herald was read by W. E. Keyes and Messrs. Fowles, Taylor, and Roberts were appointed a nominating committee.

SOCIAL AT BETHANY.

A wave of sadness that this was the last social event which their pastor would attend overtook the otherwise happy gathering which enjoyed an excellent supper in the banquet room of Bethany church Wednesday evening. The gathering consisted of members of the two choirs who were the guests for the evening of the music committee of the church, and also Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Willmott and Mr. and Mrs. H. Everett Crane, the guests of honor. About seventy persons sat down to the supper which was prepared and served by the members of the music committee.

The tables were prettily decorated with pink and green candles, pink and white carnations, and maiden hair fern. Other tables, artistically ornamented with potted plants, were set about the room. There was a chaffing dish at each of the eight tables which played an important part in the prandia exercises.

The supper opened with a grapefruit which was followed by cream tuna fish, chicken salad, coffee and rolls, ice cream and cake. The diners enjoyed appetites which speedily disappeared at everything in sight. The large number of these photographs and the winning team generously presented a copy to each of those present, which will be cherished as souvenirs of Rev. Mr. Willmott's pastorate in Quincy.

It was probably the last opportunity which the members of the congregation would have to meet their pastor socially. Rev. Mr. Willmott had a few words to say in parting. He said that he was sorry to go from Quincy and that he would miss all of them. He had grateful words to say for all they had befriended him and to which he should ever remember the pleasant years during which he had been pastor of Bethany church. It had been one of his fondest hopes when he came to Bethany church to see all of the societies of the church come together and he was more than pleased that this desire had been realized.

BETHANY SOCIAL.

The last social of the Bethany Congregational church, which Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Willmott will be present was held Tuesday evening in the vestry of the church and was largely informal, in accordance with the wish of Rev. Mr. Willmott. The evening's entertainment was in charge of the social committee of the Christian endeavor society with Mrs. Agnes Fisher as chairman. During the first part of the evening there was a progressive reception during which the present met the pastor and Mrs. Willmott informally. Then followed a postcard game and a guessing game, which consisted of writing a list of towns and cities whose letters had been changed about, and a passing game.

Refreshments were served by the Philathea class during which music was furnished by an orchestra, and a list of musical selections by the Cecilia quartet.

The prize in the guessing contest was awarded to the side captained by William Ross. The prize consisted of a box of group photographs of Rev. and Mrs. Willmott and Master John Willmott, taken on the piazza of the church parsonage. There were a large number of these photographs and the winning team generously presented a copy to each of those present, which will be cherished as souvenirs of Rev. Mr. Willmott's pastorate in Quincy.

It was probably the last opportunity which the members of the congregation would have to meet their pastor socially. Rev. Mr. Willmott had a few words to say in parting. He said that he was sorry to go from Quincy and that he would miss all of them. He had grateful words to say for all they had befriended him and to which he should ever remember the pleasant years during which he had been pastor of Bethany church. It had been one of his fondest hopes when he came to Bethany church to see all of the societies of the church come together and he was more than pleased that this desire had been realized.

THREE DAYS FAIR.

Circle Daughters Viking, C. F. of A., opened its three day fair in Electa and Protection halls Thursday evening with a large attendance of members and friends. The former hall was prettily decorated with streamers of yellow and blue, the national colors of Sweden, and American flags. Useful and fancy articles were sold from booths. Dancing was carried on in Protection hall.

The fair is the first of its kind to be held by the local organization and is in charge of a large committee. One of the features of the fair is the sale of some neighboring libraries in the group of which is the coffee room, a room in the interior of a Swedish coffee room and in charge of Mrs. Ida Peterson and Mrs. Anna Anderson.

During the evening there were vocal selections by Miss Sigfred Lundquist and instrumental selections by Miss Dagmar Nelson and Carl Bonniwell. The fair was opened with a speech of welcome by Chief Companion Mrs. Ida Erickson. Two popularity prizes were awarded during the evening, the lucky ones being Rep. Charles Erickson and Charles Askland.

General—Mrs. Nils Loddengard, Mrs. Ida Nelson, Mrs. Charles Erickson, Mrs. Sophie Holbe, Mrs. Carl Bonniwell, Mrs. Agnes Olson, Mrs. Sophie Askland, Mrs. E. J. Sandberg, Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Mrs. Selma Lindholm, Mrs. Hilma Johnson.

Candy—Miss Helen Peterson, Miss Alice Lindholm. Miss Askland—Miss Alice Hallquist, Flowers—Mrs. Charles Erickson, Mrs. Selma Lindholm.

Fancy—Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Mrs. Selma Lindholm. Fortune Teller—Mrs. Augusta Gullickson. Wheel of Fortune—Mrs. Ida Erickson, Mrs. Hilma O'Brien.

Coffee room—Mrs. Ida Peterson, Mrs. Anna Anderson, Mrs. Hilma Johnson, Mrs. Lea Moir. Kitchen—Mrs. Sophie Askland, Mrs. Hilda Pierson, Mrs. Annie Ekblom, Mrs. Gunhild Loddengard, Miss E. B. Loddengard.

Tickets—Mrs. Carl Bonniwell, Mrs. Agnes Olson. A movement has been started by members of the Alumni association of the Quincy High school to bring about a change in the basketball football policy of the school so that most of the home games or as many as possible will be played Saturday afternoon.

The movement is the result of an agitation which started two years ago, before the association organized, after several semi-professional organizations played Saturday ball and drew a large gallery. Some of the directors of athletics at High school who have been approached on the proposition have stated that it would be impossible to change the policy because of objections on the part of the school committee.

The school committee members have been interviewed on the subject and several of them declare that the matter is not one to be considered by the board or one that properly comes within their province.

The members, feeling that such an opinion is more or less of an endorsement of their proposition, may introduce a resolution at the next meeting to place the organization on record as favoring Saturday games. Quincy High is this year affiliated with the South Shore interscholastic league and its base ball schedule has been made up. Its game with Dedham High last Saturday, not a league game, was attended by nearly 500. It is understood that the league will extend to basket and football.

CLEAN-UP DAYS.

The Board of Health has given notice that from May 3 to May 29 the ash teams of the city will remove all rubbish placed on the sidewalks during the regular ash collection days. The collection of summer refuse will be during the summer months but the teams will collect ashes on regular days one week in each month as follows: June 21 to June 26; July 23 to July 28; August 23 to August 28.

Collection of rubbish will be made at Houghs Neck on May 19, June 16, July 14, Aug. 18 and Sept. 21. At Squamscott clean-up days are May 18, June 15, July 20, Aug. 17 and Sept. 2.

LIVELY MEETING.

The Board of Managers of Public Buses placed on a state of suspended animation blossomed into real life Thursday night for the second time within a month and the discussion waxed warm and threatened to leave the board but a ghost of its former self. Rumors of resignations were rife because of the personal turn the debate took during the session.

The meeting was for the purpose of receiving communications from Mayor Campbell giving his views on matters referred to him, and the letter which was the starting gun for lively action.

"I have noticed from time to time articles in the local press in reference to matters concerning the Burial Board. Many of them have interested me very much, but I find that the matters have not been officially taken up or acted upon by the board in many cases. May I therefore suggest that before the Board takes up new projects proposed by individuals, John Evans and John Vogel, other members, it is understood took a more conservative stand and contented themselves with expressing their dissatisfaction with the publicity."

Arthur Hultman, president of the board, and by Mr. Campbell, father of the proposed Memorial chapel at Mt. Wollaston cemetery and the move to have a permanent clerk for the board, it is understood was charged with the fact that his activity was for political effect.

It is understood that he was pointed out as he would "keep quiet" but it is further understood that he reserved his rights as a member and as a citizen on the grounds that he was interested in putting the board on an efficient basis, thereby placing himself on a par with the other members, persistent, publicity.

The other communications from the mayor expressed his opinion on the various matters referred to him. He favored the appointment of a permanent clerk to do the work of the fire and police department and of the burial board, instead of a clerk for the latter board.

He took exception to the board's recommending an appropriation of $2000 for a fence on the Valley street side of the cemetery and favored a wire fence which could be built for less. He also recommended the repairing of the fence on the Old Highland cemetery.

Definite steps have not as yet been taken to secure a plan of Mt. Wollaston cemetery, as proposed by Mr. Hultman, to eliminate the necessity of the city being obliged to resort to private plans when a question of location of a lot arises.

WISH TIME EXTENDED.

Representatives Sandberg and Erickson appeared before the rules committee of the legislature Monday and spoke in favor of the amendment of a petition to amend the law relative to the erection of contagious hospitals by cities and towns of over 10,000 population.

The present law makes it compulsory upon such cities or towns to erect a hospital this year or be penalized. The petition seeks to have the time limit put off for two years, which would relieve such cities as Quincy from making an appropriation for a building this year.

Representative Sandberg in conversation with a representative of the Ledger said: "No one wants a tuberculosis hospital located near their home and they can not be blamed. I believe that the proper way is for Quincy, Milton, Weymouth, Braintree and possibly some other neighboring towns to combine and build a large hospital in some one of these towns where there would be no objection to its location the first cost of the building to be borne jointly, and the cost of maintenance afterward to be paid for proportionately according to the number of patients sent to the hospital."

Quincy expects to have to expend at least $35,000 this year to erect a hospital under the present law, but if the operation of the law is set aside for two years, some such arrangement as suggested by Representative Sandberg, might be entered into.

COMPLETE PLANS.

The Hibernians of the city have completed plans for the reception to be tendered National President James McLaughlin at the Hibernian building Franklin street, on Sunday afternoon May 2.

Accompanying the senior officer will be National Vice President Patrick Cannon of Clinton and other national officers who will be able to attend. President McLaughlin comes to Quincy on the invitation of the officers of the Norfolk County association of Hibernians. An entertainment will be given in addition to speeches by the guests.

All of the members of the local divisions and auxiliaries have been invited to attend.

WOMAN FOR PRESIDENT.

A new departure was taken by the Cranch school Parents-Teachers Association at its annual meeting Tuesday evening, when for the first time in its history it elected a woman as president for the coming year. Aside from the election of officers there was a most interesting talk on Children's gardening by Prof. Munroe and during the evening Mrs. George H. Norris sang two solos, "The Rosary" and "May Morning." Light refreshments were served by the teachers of the school. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. Richard Nelson. Vice President, A. F. Abbott. Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. William W. Fenness.

Executive Committee, Mrs. Richard Nelson, A. F. Abbott, Mrs. William W. Fenness, Mrs. Alexander Robertson. Mrs. George H. Norris and Redfield Allen.

LAWRENCE BUTLER.

Lawrence Butler, aged 4 years, died Thursday afternoon at his home, 7 Bedford street, Mr. Butler was well known among the granite trade, being a member of the well known firm of J. J. McLeod & Co. of Vernon street. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Butler, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles Oswald all of Quincy. Mr. Butler was a member of the lodge A. F. & A. M. He was also a member of the Moose and Royal Arcanum.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Collett, West Squantum street, Montclair, Mrs. Charles Bennett will speak on Mothers' Day.

Quincy Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. Burns, 13 Granite street, Friday, May 7 at 2:30 P. M. All interested in National Constitutional Prohibition cordially invited to attend.

St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church is to present the play "Just For Fun" May 13th at Colonial hall under the direction of Erastus Osgood. The play will be followed by dancing.

Christ Church Women's Guild meets Thursday afternoon at two o'clock in the parish house.

Readers' Circle of Christ church meets next Friday evening at quarter of eight at the home of Miss Madeline Pollock, Bigelow street.

Friday club concludes its season this week holding the annual business meeting with Mrs. Frank A. Page of Grand View avenue, Wollaston.

Mrs. Francis F. Brewer and Mrs. Charles Wilson are to be the hostesses Monday afternoon at the birthplace of President John Adams for the May meeting of Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution.

The May meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery Association will be held Tuesday afternoon at the women's clubhouse, Goffe street.

Members of the Kathryn Crane Memorial club are looking forward to their next meeting to be held on Tuesday with Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, one of the directors of the club.

Bethany Women's Union holds its annual meeting and luncheon next Wednesday in Bethany chapel. Mrs. Amy Ford Everett will be the speaker and Mrs. Edith Cary Page will sing.

Wollaston Auxiliary Women's Board of Missions closes its season May 5 with the annual meeting, a speaker and a tea.

Atlantic Shakespeare society is about closing its season. The annual meeting is scheduled for Thursday afternoon May 6. It has been an unusually profitable and pleasant season, three plays having been taken up, Periods, King Henry the Fourth and Midsummer Night's Dream.

Miss Mary B. Woolley, Wheaton '84 and president of Mt. Holyoke college is to be the guest of honor and principal speaker at the annual May breakfast of the New England Wheaton club on Saturday, May 8, at Hotel Vendome, Boston.

Flower Ties of Kings Daughters is to present the "Return of Deborah" under the direction of Ernest Osgood in Bethany chapel next Wednesday evening.

A large quantity of May baskets, placed on sale by the Junior Kings Daughters of the church, were sold during the modern dance lessons. The sale was one of the most successful of its kind in years. The proceeds will be devoted to charity.

A regular meeting of the Hospital Aid association was held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. George H. Wilson, 47 Revere road. The members of the association spent the afternoon in sewing flat roller towels and pillow slips for babies' cribs. The association voted to join the Quincy Federation of Women's clubs as an associate member. During the afternoon the members were entertained with vocal solos by Miss Carrie Follett Spear and Mrs. Laurence H. Sturtevant. The hostess assisted by her sister, Miss Smith and Mrs. Theophilus King, served frappe, sandwiche, cake and coffee. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. J. Henry Emery Adams street, May 27.

More than a dozen members assembled at the Recreation House of the Quincy Young Women's club in Adams Academy Thursday evening to take modern dance lessons from Miss Clara Goodwin, a well known teacher. In the assembly hall those who had taken the lessons were "trammies" to be given in Alpha hall, May 14, held a rehearsal.

Junior Friday club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Laurence H. Sturtevant of Adams street and continued the study of Brazil under the leadership of Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield. The next meeting on May 10 will be with Mrs. Litchfield with Mrs. James H. Slade as the committee.

The members of St. Margaret's Guild were the guests Tuesday evening of Mrs. William Grainger at the Christ church rectory. The evening was passed in a social manner with games and music. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Ladies Benevolent society of the Wollaston Congregational church held an all day session in the vestry of the church Wednesday. Mrs. Richard F. Trumper presided at the short business meeting. Luncheon was served by Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. George Murray and Mrs. William Patterson. The members adjourned to attend the exercises of laying the corner stone of the new parish house.

Quincy Women's Club. There was a good attendance Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Quincy Women's club at the clubhouse. The president Mrs. Chandler W. Smith called the meeting to order and the Secretary, Mrs. Marion Thomas, read a few announcements. She called attention to an exhibition of sewing in the reception room. The high school girls in charge of Miss Whitaker, also asked for contribution of cut out puzzles for the children's room at the Public Library, thinking that many members would have puzzles which they have no further use for, which would be appreciated by the children.

Attention was called to the payment of the annual dues none to retain membership in the club, as members whose dues are not paid by May 1 are dropped. In paying by mail to the treasurer Mrs. H. W. Plafieau, an addressed stamped envelope should be enclosed for return of membership ticket.

A few copies of the anniversary poem written by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurnee remain in the hands of Mrs. E. S. Tenney from whom members may get one if they so desire. Mrs. Mellen, chairman of the Education committee announced that over $50 had been cleared for the School Nurse fund by Miss Randall's lecture in Coddington school hall. She said her committee had been disappointed in the presentation of "F. F. F." for Music hall which was engaged a year ago had been rented for moving pictures. "F. F. F." would however be given in the early fall and in the meantime the usual May festival for children would be given Monday afternoon, May 3. There would be an entertainment, grab bag, candy, ice cream etc. Club members were asked to contribute candy.

Miss Whitaker in charge of the sewing exhibition, told of the high school girls dressing dolls last Christmas to send to children in Belgium, which were the best sent in by any high school contributing. The committee receiving them deeming them so good that they were photographed being the only ones thus honored. She asked a careful inspection of the exhibition and if any club members desired sewing of any kind during the summer to consult her as to prices, work, etc. It would be a great enjoyment to the girls as they did good work.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh president of the Quincy Federation of Women's clubs spoke of a recent meeting which was well attended and interesting. The Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary had joined the Federation. The annual meeting would be held Wednesday May 19 and club members were invited to attend. Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann gave a brief account of expenditures in preparing the Adams academy building for use as recreation rooms for the Young Women's club. She also told of the large attendance of girls at the meetings and increase of interest. She hoped there would eventually be funds enough to have recreation rooms open every evening for the various classes.

The president invited club members to be her guests at the clubhouse Friday afternoon May 7 at an opera talk to be given by Harold W. Hubbard assisted by William Weston at the piano. La Boheme would be the opera presented.

The musical program which preceded the speaker of the afternoon consisted of piano solos by Miss Mary Dyer of Braintree, her selections and rendering giving much pleasure and eliciting appreciative encores.

Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold chairman of the Literature committee introduced Miss Caroline Tichnor of Jamaica Plain who took as her subject "Hawthorne and his Publisher" instead of the one announced in the year book. Hawthorne's publisher was William Tichnor, grandfather of the speaker. Miss Tichnor read from her book telling of the early acquaintance of Hawthorne and Tichnor, with anecdotes of the old corner book-store where well known literary people liked to gather. She read many personal letters received by her grandfather from Hawthorne when stationed in Liverpool, England, having been appointed to the consulate by President Pierce, a college mate and intimate friend. These letters were humorous and their personal flavor gave them an interest that could obtain in no other way. Hawthorne's life was closely interwoven with that of his publisher for Mr. Tichnor was a great publisher, a friend, a friend and advisor; a constant companion.

Miss Tichnor presented her story entertainingly and was heartily enjoyed at the conclusion leaving with her listeners a refreshed memory of Hawthorne, and his writings.

Mrs. E. Granville Pratt was hostess for the Hospitality committee. Mrs. E. Brown and Mrs. Annand D. Hopes served frappe and cake assisted by Mrs. Clarence Burgh, Mrs. Frederick H. Breslyn, Mrs. Frank J. Emery, Mrs. Frank F. Brewer, Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. George Ryder.

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB. The last and annual meeting of the Wollaston Women's club was held at 2:30 P. M. at the Unitarian church. The polls will be open from 2 to 3. Following the election of officers the annual reports will be read by the chairman of the various committees. The club luncheon will be given at Hotel Vendome, Boston, Saturday at 1 P. M. Tickets may be obtained of Mrs. E. Brown and Mrs. Annand D. Hopes. A large number have already made reservations and a very enjoyable afternoon is anticipated. The after-dinner speakers include Mrs. J. Malcolm Forbes of Milton and Mrs. George F. Young of the Boston City Federation. The children's party last Saturday was a great success and much credit is due Mrs. Stafford and her committee for the delightful afternoon.

STATE FEDERATION.

May 7th, 1915. A. M. Conservation class, J. F. Boston. Speaker, Arthur Shurtliff, landscape artist, of Boston. His talk will be illustrated by lantern slides.

CHILDREN'S PARTY.

The annual children's party of the Wollaston Women's club will be held Saturday afternoon in the parish house of the Wollaston Unitarian church from 2 to 5 o'clock. The afternoon was in charge of the program committee with Mrs. Charles R. Sanford as chairman and was attended by nearly 200 children.

During the latter part of the afternoon there was a travel talk by Miss Edith Randall which was illustrated by many radiopaque views, the radiopaque being in charge of Mrs. William M. Chase.

While this was in progress the kindergarten children were being entertained with kindergarten games in charge of Miss Marion Thomas and Miss Catherine Reed.

At the conclusion of the entertainment program ice cream and cake were served after which the party marched to the upper hall where there was dancing until 5 o'clock.

The matrons at the dancing party were Mrs. Arthur D. Rogers, Mrs. E. Howe and Mrs. Nathan G. Nicker. The ushers were Horace Ripley, Joseph Ripley, Bradford Rogers, Wilbur Weeks, Wendell Boyden, George McDonald, Allen Pinkham, William Dodge, Malcolm Kennedy, Arthur Brooks, Frederick Cheever, Robert Bismarck, Malcolm Severy, Arthur Bismarck and Leonard W. Plafieau.

The dancing was under the direction of Miss Corlew and Miss Juliet Corlew with Miss Haynes at the piano.

ST. MARY'S GUILD.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's guild was held April 27th at the home of Mrs. William Calalan, Copeland street.

After the business meeting an enjoyable evening was spent playing whist. Prizes were awarded Miss L. E. Burke, Mrs. Stephen B. Little, Mrs. Mary Burns and Miss Elizabeth Farrell.

Piano solos were rendered by Miss Callahan Bellevue and Miss Gertrude Callahan. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

DELIGHTFUL AFTERNOON.

The announcement that Mrs. Theophilus King was to open her home for a benefit entertainment for Unit Circle of King's Daughters and that it was to be a Margaret Deland afternoon with readings and music attracted a large gathering Saturday afternoon to the King home on Adams street. For those who could not walk so far, autos were in waiting in Quincy square and found very convenient.

Mrs. Deland's favorite flower, the bright yellow daffodil, was used profusely about the rooms.

Mrs. Deland read from her own writings, The Encore from Old Chester Tales, being especially suited to the occasion in its humorous narrative. Appreciation and enjoyment was expressed by frequent applause.

There was also a delightful musical program by the Mary Dyer orchestra composed of three young ladies from Braintree, and singing by the Cecilia quartet.

The announcement of the receipt of a check for $100 from a student in Mrs. King's for Pond Home, to be presented through Unit Circle was received with much enthusiasm.

The afternoon was one of rare pleasure.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S GUILD.

The Woman's Guild met with a good attendance at 10 o'clock Wednesday in the Guild room of St. Chrysostom's parish house for a sewing meeting.

A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Herbert F. Price, Mrs. George J. Pock and Mrs. Eleazar F. Drew.

After the regular musical program the Guild was called to order by the president, Mrs. Daniel C. Miller. The secretary and treasurer, Miss Annie Cleary read the usual reports.

It was voted to hold a sale and supper May 20. It was announced the Christmas barrel this year for the negroes would be sent to Forks, Va. A gift of a runner for the table in the Guild room, was received from Mrs. Howard D. Fowler.

Mrs. David L. Jewell gave an excellent report of the Auxiliary meeting held April 21 in the Cathedral room, Boston.

RIVERSIDE CLUB.

The regular business meeting of the Riverside club was held with Mrs. Samuel Oxford. The members of the club are very enthusiastic over the club house which they propose to build in the very near future and they are now using every endeavor to raise sufficient funds to pay for the land set aside for a site, a deposit for which has already been made. Plans for raising funds were discussed and one of the means toward that end, a whist party will be held next Wednesday evening with Mrs. Matheson.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MAY 1, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at

The Patriot Office, Quincy, Mass.
Brown & Co., Quincy, Mass.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square, Quincy, Mass.
J. P. O'Brien, 38 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy Depot, Quincy, Mass.
L. A. Cook, Quincy Point, Quincy, Mass.
H. H. Smith, Quincy Point, Quincy, Mass.
Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point, Quincy, Mass.
Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston, Quincy, Mass.
Thomas Gurney, Atlantic, Quincy, Mass.
Brasch & Martens, Atlantic, Quincy, Mass.
Brasch & Martens, Norfolk Downs, Quincy, Mass.
Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy, Mass.
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy, Quincy, Mass.
Edward F. Drach, West Quincy, Quincy, Mass.
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner, Quincy, Mass.
J. J. Hamers, East Milton, Quincy, Mass.
South Terminal Station, Boston, Quincy, Mass.

PARISH HOUSE DEDICATED.

Friends and parishioners of the Wollaston Unitarian church gathered in the new parish house, Monday evening, to observe the services of dedication which formally opened the building for use and at which many prominent speakers appeared. Hon. Eugene H. Sprague, president of the parish, presided. The services were large chorus choir of young ladies were enjoyed. Preceding the exercises there was music by an orchestra in charge of Mrs. William M. Burrell.

Mr. Sprague in opening the meeting extended a hearty and cordial welcome, expressing the hope that with the new building there might be many social gatherings and that to night they would become better acquainted.

On account of several other important engagements, Mayor Chester I. Campbell was the first speaker introduced and he received a hearty hand of applause. He bespoke his pleasure at being present, both as a representative of the city and as a neighbor.

He recalled the attempt to build a "Community House" in Wollaston several years ago and gave the credit for the completion of the parish house, and the erection of the several other public buildings in process, to some of the hard working fellows who first started the building agitation by working for the "Community House."

"I am interested as mayor," he said, "in making Quincy a good place to live in. If we do this industrial life will develop as fast as is consistent with good business. We should make every section of this historic city of ours a good place to live in and none can help more than organizations of this nature. I count on your help in bringing to Quincy the right sort of people."

Your new building is an ornament to Ward Five, an ornament to the city. It is a building that every citizen of Ward Five feels proud of."

Rev. Carl G. Horst, pastor of the church, declared this occasion to be one of the happiest of his life when he saw his vision realized and his dream fulfilled. He expressed his deep gratitude for the earnest help, devotion and sacrifice that had made this building possible. He reminded those present that while the parish house was a building by itself it was an auxiliary of the church, which is a power house of the spirit.

Charles T. Decker, chairman of the building committee told of the experiences met with since the parish house was just proposed in 1906. They had been fortunate in the selection of contractors. The work had been well done. "Here it is," he said, "does it meet with your approval?" The hearty applause testified that it did.

On behalf of the building committee, Mr. Baker handed over the keys and custody of the parish house. They were accepted by Mr. Sprague for the parish committee. In accepting he extended sincere thanks to the building committee.

"You shall love the Lord" by the chorus choir, with solo by Miss Ernestine Litchfield, was sung. The next speaker, was Rev. Edward A. Horton, one of the prominent Unitarians of the present day and chaplain of the Massachusetts senate.

He carried out previous introductions as a "verbal volcano" and "eruptive dictionary" and struck as his keynote "The place and power of the church in modern life as it can and ought to be made."

In the altar fires, the worship songs and the consecrating influence of the church lies the core of the prosperity of our nation.

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson of the First Parish church spoke for a correlated moral consciousness. He did not admit that Ward Five was chiefly responsible in securing the present executive for a business administration.

What was needed in the present day was a revival of that strong moral conviction of our forefathers. Only by return to this will we be clear of impending disaster which will affect us morally, socially, politically and financially.

William H. Seward of Dorchester, president of Norfolk Unitarian Conference, was introduced as a good sample of the Unitarian layman. He spoke strongly for the need of warmer feeling and more social life in our congregations.

"The sweet forget-me-not" was rendered by Mrs. A. Elliot, D. D. president of the American Unitarian association, was the last speaker of the evening and gave an uplifting and pregnant address on the symbolic value of the enterprise achieved.

All present were invited to adjourn refreshments were served by a large corps of young women. In the meantime the chairs in the assembly hall had been cleared away and social dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.
One hundred names were added to the Quincy High school Alumni association by the membership campaign held last week. The campaign will be continued this week and it is expected that another hundred will be enrolled. Frederick M. Atwood is chairman of the membership committee in charge of the campaign. Seven hundred letters have been sent out. Graduates of the school or those who attended two years or more are eligible to membership. The captains of the teams engaged in the contest are: Richard Larkin, Miss Marie Bass, Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Margaret Lennon, Carl Prescott and Leslie Arthur.

CITY COUNCIL.

The city council expended a lot of energy Monday night over the granting of permits to transport liquor in or out of the city of Quincy during the coming year from May 1, and after it was all over said things had quieted down the council had acted favorably on the applications of sixteen expressmen, two others had been flatly refused by a yes and no vote, while several other applications were left high and dry on the table where they will automatically die, for under the so-called Tony express law, permits to transport liquor must be granted during the month of April.

Councilman McGrath offered a resolution protesting against the granting of liquor licenses near the Neponset bridge and also a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of three, including the president, to act with the Mayor in attending the hearing to be given by the Licensing Board of Boston. The committee includes President Whitton, Councilman McGrath and Smith.

The license committee reported granting permits to the following expressmen: Harry W. Love, W. F. Love & Co., Bruce & Warner, J. G. Miller, Thomas H. Farrell, Carl Lilla, Adams Express Co., N. DiPanfilio, M. J. Connelly, G. S. Saltaamachie, Andrew Express, N. T. Murphy, F. Giglio & Son, Frank J. Getthro and Peter Giacola.

On motion of Councilman Smith the application of Frank J. Getthro of the Houghs Neck Steamboat Co. was laid on the table.

The permit of Harry W. Love went through on a voice vote but a roll call was held on the others. Two of these received 22 affirmative votes, J. G. Miller and W. F. Love, and 18 negative votes, the others were negative votes and the others went through with 21 yes and one no vote.

The committee reported leave to withdraw on the applications of C. W. Fosdick, Neclario Bros. C. Calabro, J. L. Wentworth, R. S. Gardner, Antonio Petta, J. M. Fallon, J. J. Maloney. These were all laid on the table.

Later the application of Antonio Petta was taken from the table and after some debate was granted on roll call by a vote of 12 yes and 11 no. President Whitton breaking the tie by voting yes.

An order granting a permit to J. J. Maloney was killed by a vote of 29 no and 2 yes. The application of Charles W. Fosdick met the same fate being killed by a vote of 17 no and 5 yes.

Richard S. Gardner of Atlantic was granted a permit the vote being 12 yes and no, 9 President Whitton voting yes in this case to furnish the required vote.

No action was taken on the other applications on the table and as noted they will die automatically.

The license committee also reported a large number of orders granting common victualler, Sunday fruit, pool and junk, and just what was wanted which were adopted with no opposition.

They gave some "junkies" leave to withdraw but two of these applications were laid on the table, Samuel Kertzman and Max Bergstein, who were later granted licenses.

His expressed his deep gratitude for the earnest help, devotion and sacrifice that had made this building possible. He reminded those present that while the parish house was a building by itself it was an auxiliary of the church, which is a power house of the spirit.

Charles T. Decker, chairman of the building committee told of the experiences met with since the parish house was just proposed in 1906. They had been fortunate in the selection of contractors. The work had been well done. "Here it is," he said, "does it meet with your approval?" The hearty applause testified that it did.

On behalf of the building committee, Mr. Baker handed over the keys and custody of the parish house. They were accepted by Mr. Sprague for the parish committee. In accepting he extended sincere thanks to the building committee.

"You shall love the Lord" by the chorus choir, with solo by Miss Ernestine Litchfield, was sung. The next speaker, was Rev. Edward A. Horton, one of the prominent Unitarians of the present day and chaplain of the Massachusetts senate.

He carried out previous introductions as a "verbal volcano" and "eruptive dictionary" and struck as his keynote "The place and power of the church in modern life as it can and ought to be made."

In the altar fires, the worship songs and the consecrating influence of the church lies the core of the prosperity of our nation.

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson of the First Parish church spoke for a correlated moral consciousness. He did not admit that Ward Five was chiefly responsible in securing the present executive for a business administration.

What was needed in the present day was a revival of that strong moral conviction of our forefathers. Only by return to this will we be clear of impending disaster which will affect us morally, socially, politically and financially.

William H. Seward of Dorchester, president of Norfolk Unitarian Conference, was introduced as a good sample of the Unitarian layman. He spoke strongly for the need of warmer feeling and more social life in our congregations.

"The sweet forget-me-not" was rendered by Mrs. A. Elliot, D. D. president of the American Unitarian association, was the last speaker of the evening and gave an uplifting and pregnant address on the symbolic value of the enterprise achieved.

All present were invited to adjourn refreshments were served by a large corps of young women. In the meantime the chairs in the assembly hall had been cleared away and social dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening.

THE WATER COMMITTEE REPORTED AN ORDER APPROPRIATING $10,000 FOR WATER EXTENSIONS. REFERRED TO FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Councilman Ross offered a resolution requesting the Mayor to confer with the railroad officials relative to a path across the railroad tracks between the Quincy Adams station and laundry street.

Councilman Smith offered an order or a sidewalk on Cross street. To street committee.

Other new orders offered were as follows:
Beeman, to extend Linden street.
Beeman, $2,500 for draining Sagamore street.
Barnicoat, light on School street.
Richards, $6,000 for resurfacing Beale street from Newport avenue to Adams street.

Griffin, to extend Newcomb place to Spring street.
Griffin, to widen East Howard street from Howard avenue 740 feet northerly.

Griffin, changing the northerly line of Howard avenue.
Griffin, $5,000 for surface drainage of Sixth avenue.
Yule, gravel sidewalk on Washington street, southerly side near Chubbuck street.

Yule, $75 for a crosswalk at Washington street and Edison park.
O'Dowd, appropriating the sum of $5,000 to be appropriated in a supplementary budget for additional street lighting.

Williams, granolithic sidewalk, East Howard street from Howard avenue 740 feet northerly.
Yule, an ordinance establishing traffic rules in city square and making of the sidewalks and depot streets one way streets. Referred to joint committee on highways and streets.

Adjournd at 10:57.

NEW BLOCK.

Ground was broken Monday for the new business block to be erected on the Webb estate on School street corner of Hancock street, by Dennis Crowley the contractor.

The building will be built for the Webb Realty Co. of Quincy and will be a one story affair for five stores. The building will have a frontage of 200 feet, and it is expected it will be ready for occupancy by July 1. It will extend from the Walsh pharmacy on the driveway on School street.

The plans of the company call for a number of changes on the estate to be made in the future. The dwelling house formerly occupied by former Representative Michael T. Sullivan and now by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tirelli will be moved to front on Hancock street. The wooden block at Hancock street and Hancock court will be remodeled and the spacious barn will be turned into a dwelling house.

NEW STREET LIGHTS.

During the early part of the year a large number of orders and petitions for street lights were referred to the Executive department by the city council. These orders and petitions have received the Mayor's careful consideration and during the past few days he has personally inspected all of the sites at which new street lights were desired as well as those where changes in the location of existing lights were desired. As a result of his inspection the Mayor has ordered the following lights installed:

Ward 1—Northfield avenue & Brockton avenue.
—Cor. Winthrop avenue & Norton street. Gas light.
—Rear of High school.
—Edgemere road. On pole between Greenleaf street & Porter's house.

Ward 2—Washington street—Change position and raise.
—Grafton street.
—Atherton street—4th pole from South Walnut street.
—Watson terrace—Last pole.
—Cleverly court—Last pole from Washington street.

Ward 3—Pleasant street—In front of Mr. Bergers' house.
—Gilbert street at entrance of playground.
—Federal avenue extension—Corner of Verchill street.

Ward 4—Corner Quarry & Dayton streets.
Ward 5—Everett street. Between Beale & Hillside avenue.
—Kemper street, change from southwest corner to north-east corner.
—Fenno street, near Kennard's driveway.

Ward 6—Recreate—the one between Billings road and end of street and add one light between this section.
—Ellington road & Hancock street.
—Ellington road & Oxenbridge road.
—Grove street—4th pole south from Beale street.

Ward 7—Newport avenue in front of last house.
Ward 8—Corner Arnold & Gilbert roads.
—Corner Warwick & Marshall streets.
—Ocean street.
—Corner E. Squantum street & Dundee road.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Quincy Branch Adv. Letters April 24, 1915:
Delphia Lodge, W. F. Atwood, De Carlo Disantis, Eureka Granite Quarries, Harry Holton, Howard & Co., Mrs. Maurice Jenness, Mrs. McGrath, Charles Morton, Rev. Edward Northrop, Miss Laura P. Spofford, Miss Julia Sullivan, Eddie Wax, A. H. Wheeler 411.

The boys were Harry Harding, 34 Payne street; Chester Young, 273 Franklin street; Albert Watson, 155 Quincy street; David Muckle, 40 Payne street; James Richards, 23 Kidder street; William Nightingale, 233 Water street; Russell O'Brien, 38 Garfield street; William Simonon, 27 Granite street.

HIGHLAND TROOP.

Nine South Quincy boys were given the tenderfoot degree Monday night and became members of Highland Troop, Boys Scouts of America. The degree was exemplified by Benjamin Hodgkinson, one of the best scout masters south of Boston. They immediately reported to Scout Master D. MacKellar of the troop for duty.

The boys were Harry Harding, 34 Payne street; Chester Young, 273 Franklin street; Albert Watson, 155 Quincy street; David Muckle, 40 Payne street; James Richards, 23 Kidder street; William Nightingale, 233 Water street; Russell O'Brien, 38 Garfield street; William Simonon, 27 Granite street.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE MEETING.

The anti-suffragists had their innings April 23 at Colonial hall, the cause being expounded in a typical and convincing manner. Mrs. A. J. George of Brookline, field secretary of the Massachusetts Anti-Suffrage association. There was a fair sprinkling of men in the audience and it was also noted that there were a number of well known suffragists, who came to hear what their opponents had to say.

Mrs. Edward B. Marsh presided, and on the platform with her and the speaker of the evening was Mrs. Brooks Adams and Joseph L. Whitton. Miss Mary Forbes, county organizer, Brooks Adams and Joseph L. Whitton.

Only once during the evening was anything in the way of a ripple, that was at the close of the address when Henry R. Holden alluding to the speaker's statement about the Suffragists being allied with the Socialists asked how it was about the Anti-Suffragists being allied with the saloon element.

Mrs. George came back strong with her answer stating that while there was ample proof of the Suffragists being allied with the saloon element, it was not true that the Anti-Suffragists were allied with the saloon element. On the contrary, the speaker said that she had in her possession a letter written by a prominent suffragist to the Boston Herald, asking support for the Suffragist movement.

In opening the meeting Mrs. Marsh briefly welcomed those present and said that the anti-suffragist movement was not a new idea in Quincy for it had been started here 17 or 18 years ago but for lack of necessity had been allowed to die. She would call on a layman to testify and would introduce Brooks Adams.

Mr. Adams said that he was present to make a confession of faith, and that he had no material interest in the issue. "I can not contemplate the social revolution which must follow with the success of the Suffragists," he said. "I am a conservative. I believe in the woman's place has been in the home, without which society must crumble. Woman sacrifices her health for the home. She can no more leave her children than can an officer leave his soldiers for the foundation of all morals is vested in her supervision of the home. Most unhappy I consider the tendency of the part of women to scorn the sacrifices of maternity. Such an attitude is almost inconceivable. Women may renounce their heritage, undermine the church and break down morals but they can never do men's work."

In introducing President Whitton of the city council Mrs. Marsh said that she and Mr. Whitton agreed in everything except on the grade crossing question.

In opening his remarks Mr. Whitton said that he would also make a confession of faith. "I shall not attempt to agree with the arguments heard upon the street. It is always a foolish task to argue with a woman. God made woman for home and children. There is no woman so beautiful as a womanly woman. I should hate to see my mother, wife or children mixing up in some of the political rallies such as I have been in, and I hope the time will never come when they will. There is no doubt that the woman is more intelligent than men and unfortunately the husband and wife will differ, but what would happen if they differed politically. What we need in our government is honest men. I do not believe that women could do any better under our present city charter than do men. If some of the women who called upon me at city hall during the period I was mayor, are the ones who are to decide these questions, the Lord help us. I doubt very much if the better class of women would use the right to vote. It is worth while to tear down what we have built up."

Mrs. A. J. George was then introduced and for nearly an hour she held the closest attention of her hearers. She is a very forcible and convincing speaker and is familiar with the question from the fact that she was formerly a Suffragist. In her talk she said in part:

"The suffragist friends still insist that the question of woman suffrage is a question of democracy. But this argument no longer deceives any one, because the suffragists themselves have furnished the answer to it. The foundation of democratic government is the consent of the governed. That implies majority rule. And so, when the question of woman suffrage is a question of democracy, it is essential to democratic government they are proving our case for us, since it isn't the will of the majority of women that they be given the responsibilities and duties of political life."

"Women react upon government, just in proportion as they are alert, intelligent, well-informed and public spirited, through the creation of an enlightened public opinion. Legislation is merely crystallized public opinion, and in the forming of that public opinion well-informed women with the best interest of the state at heart are the only women who now have any influence."

But give her the ballot and woman's hands are now tied by party considerations, her influence would be lessened by party prejudice and the selfish woman, whose public ideals are not of the highest, would have exactly the same power to impress herself upon the government through the ballot-box as would any other woman."

"One of the reasons advanced for the suffrage is that it is necessary in the interest of the wage-earning woman. But the men of Massachusetts have always been generous toward wage-earning women in the laws they have placed upon our statute books, and they have always given precedence to women in laws respecting property rights and obligations, and in various other ways have shown that chivalry toward and regard for women which woman's different nature demands. And as conditions reveal the necessity, these laws will be made by men still more generous to women. But they will be made for the protection of women as women, and not as wage-earners, because the average wage-earning woman remains in the wage-earning class a short time relatively before she gets out of industry into the ranks of the women who are concerned with particularly—the women who have taken upon themselves, quite enthusiastically in most cases, the obligations of wifehood and motherhood."

"There are just two ways a married woman can vote—either with her husband or against him. If she votes with her husband, she merely adds to the vote without affecting the result. This is well illustrated in Chicago, where in the recent election 60 per cent of the women who voted for mayor voted the Republican ticket and 40 per cent. voted the Democratic ticket, just as in the case of the men. The result would have been exactly the same had the women not voted, except that the cost of the election would have been materially less.

"It is clear, therefore, that unless the wife votes differently from her husband, nothing is accomplished but an increase in election expenses. But if she votes differently, then the family ceases to come in contact with the state as a unit, and we have the individual and not the family as the unit of society, which is one of the cardinal principles of socialism and feminism. The only consistent suffragist, therefore, is the socialist and the feminist, because they believe the result of woman suffrage will be socialism."

Mrs. Hunt's voice was cultivated and appealing and her manner altogether charming. Mr. Pinfield's finished playing gave much pleasure. The execution of his violin was his choice of numbers exceedingly happy. A word should be said for Mr. Shaw; an accompanist is "born and not made," everyone who plays well does not necessarily, as accompanist well, but Mr. Shaw is a sympathetic intelligent accompanist, and added much to the enjoyment of the program.

Mrs. Hunt sang first, the beautiful number from Saint Saens' "Samson and Delilah," "My Heart at the Sweet Voice," in a manner which left no doubt in the mind of her audience as to her ability and power of giving pleasure.

She was followed by two selections on the violin: Kreisler Slavonic Dance Drovack-Kreisler Liebesleid These are of especial interest as Kreisler, who composed the first and arranged the second, has just returned from the field of battle having at one time been reported missing. Then came a fascinating group of Folk Songs, Maria, Italian La Belle Menotte Old Colonial French Mei Schatzler German Laula, Laula Finnish Bohemian Where is Johnny Gone Scotch

Once more Mr. Pinfield played two selections: Pierrot Serenade Randegeer Gypsy Dance Nachez He responded to an encore with a Serenade by Pierrot, which is always a delight. The Ave Maria, with John Schubert, which followed was especially well fitted to Mrs. Hunt's voice and was thoroughly appreciated by everyone. The program ended with a group of four songs, varied in character, but each interesting: Serenity Salter India Bluebell MacDowell Hayfields and Butterflies del Rioغو The audience was enthusiastic in its applause and Mrs. Hunt and Mr. Pinfield most generous in their response to encores.

Mrs. Luce should be congratulated upon arranging so soon after noon on a musical and urged to plan others for the coming season when all music lovers in Quincy should support him in his effort to present talent which is worth while in Quincy and to inaugurate Sunday afternoon concerts.

The contracting firm of John Cashman & Sons Co., demonstrated Monday that Black's creek was a navigable waterway and can be deepened for such purposes when the aid of a 20 horse power motor boat their No. 1, lighter, one of the Atlantic coast, was towed up the winding stream and tied up to the old wharf which has been used for nothing but fishing berths for smelters the past 20 years.

The No. 1 lighter is 100 feet long, 40 feet wide and draws six feet. Its load consisted of two locomotives of the yard type, a heavy hoisting engine, a tractor engine, hundreds of sleepers, several hundred feet of light rail, gy ropes of steel and several thousand feet of rope. All are now unloaded.

The lighter was towed from the Boston yard of the company to the deep water limits by an ocean going tug and the light launch picked her up within sight of shore. Monday was chosen because of the flood tide at eight o'clock and in addition to the extra swell the company had the advantage of several inches of water blown inland by the easterly winds the past few days.

The attempt was a successful experiment because the winding channel of the creek at points becomes almost right angles the danger point which might have blocked the passage was land jutting into the waters a short distance below the wharf where there is a sharp letter "S". The channel there at low tide is very narrow and the banks are four feet high and very steep. The wash covered them by just enough to float the lighter to float over without even scumpling.

The lighter was the third taken up the stream since the company started preparations to complete the missing link of the Furnace Brook Parkway. The first two were smaller and were loaded with light rails and dump cars, sleepers and light lumber. The No. 1 lighter is the one which has been used in the building of the breakwaters in Massachusetts Bay. Its tall derrick looks over the hills banking the creek and can be seen at some distance.

The arrival of the lighter created more activity than has been seen in that section in a decade and 50 of the unemployed were on hand, ready to go to work at a moment's notice. Active operations have not yet commenced, however.

Nearly half a mile of track has been laid along the proposed route, starting at the stone bridge at Metcalf's farm and extending to the Adams farm. Steam shovels will be delivered within a few days and the work will then be underway.

The first section to be completed will be the end which finishes at the Dorothy Q House on Hancock street. The first operation will be to clear the land where an immense hill will be shoveled away and the dirt pushed into a deep declivity a short distance away.

It is estimated that about five months will have passed before the contract is completed. Millions of feet of dirt will be shoveled away and the work will be awarded to the Quincy and Boston firm because its bid of $63,000 was the lowest. The specifications call for only subgrading of the tip variety so that the extensions can be used for pleasure bridges until the final top is put.

Bids this week will be asked for the bridge which will cross the Port Directors and are understood to have been passed by the war department. The local firm is preparing to submit estimates on the bridge.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA
Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria. It is a safe and reliable remedy for children's ailments. It is a safe and reliable remedy for children's ailments.

SONG RECITAL.

Those who attended the Song Recital, arranged by Wendell Luce, at Alpha hall, Sunday afternoon, heard one of the most delightful concert evenings that has ever been given in Quincy. Mrs. Helen Allen Hunt, mezzo-soprano, assisted by Carlos E. Pinfield, violin, of the Boston Symphony orchestra, and Harris S. Shaw, accompanist, gave a program of much interest including both the grave and the gay, so that the audience of everyone present must have been satisfied.

Mrs. Hunt's voice was cultivated and appealing and her manner altogether charming. Mr. Pinfield's finished playing gave much pleasure. The execution of his violin was his choice of numbers exceedingly happy. A word should be said for Mr. Shaw; an accompanist is "born and not made," everyone who plays well does not necessarily, as accompanist well, but Mr. Shaw is a sympathetic intelligent accompanist, and added much to the enjoyment of the program.

Mrs. Hunt sang first, the beautiful number from Saint Saens' "Samson and Delilah," "My Heart at the Sweet Voice," in a manner which left no doubt in the mind of her audience as to her ability and power of giving pleasure.

She was followed by two selections on the violin: Kreisler Slavonic Dance Drovack-Kreisler Liebesleid These are of especial interest as Kreisler, who composed the first and arranged the second, has just returned from the field of battle having at one time been reported missing. Then came a fascinating group of Folk Songs, Maria, Italian La Belle Menotte Old Colonial French Mei Schatzler German Laula, Laula Finnish Bohemian Where is Johnny Gone Scotch

Once more Mr. Pinfield played two selections: Pierrot Serenade Randegeer Gypsy Dance Nachez He responded to an encore with a Serenade by Pierrot, which is always a delight. The Ave Maria, with John Schubert, which followed was especially well fitted to Mrs. Hunt's voice and was thoroughly appreciated by everyone. The program ended with a group of four songs, varied in character, but each interesting: Serenity Salter India Bluebell MacDowell Hayfields and Butterflies del Rioغو The audience was enthusiastic in its applause and Mrs. Hunt and Mr. Pinfield most generous in their response to encores.

Mrs. Luce should be congratulated upon arranging so soon after noon on a musical and urged to plan others for the coming season when all music lovers in Quincy should support him in his effort to present talent which is worth while in Quincy and to inaugurate Sunday afternoon concerts.

The contracting firm of John Cashman & Sons Co., demonstrated Monday that Black's creek was a navigable waterway and can be deepened for such purposes when the aid of a 20 horse power motor boat their No. 1, lighter, one of the Atlantic coast, was towed up the winding stream and tied up to the old wharf which has been used for nothing but fishing berths for smelters the past 20 years.

The No. 1 lighter is 100 feet long, 40 feet wide and draws six feet. Its load consisted of two locomotives of the yard type, a heavy hoisting engine, a tractor engine, hundreds of sleepers, several hundred feet of light rail, gy ropes of steel and several thousand feet of rope. All are now unloaded.

The lighter was towed from the Boston yard of the company to the deep water limits by an ocean going tug and the light launch picked her up within sight of shore. Monday was chosen because of the flood tide at eight o'clock and in addition to the extra swell the company had the advantage of several inches of water blown inland by the easterly winds the past few days.

The attempt was a successful experiment because the winding channel of the creek at points becomes almost right angles the danger point which might have blocked the passage was land jutting into the waters a short distance below the wharf where there is a sharp letter "S". The channel there at low tide is very narrow and the banks are four feet high and very steep. The wash covered them by just enough to float the lighter to float over without even scumpling.

The lighter was the third taken up the stream since the company started preparations to complete the missing link of the Furnace Brook Parkway. The first two were smaller and were loaded with light rails and dump cars, sleepers and light lumber. The No. 1 lighter is the one which has been used in the building of the breakwaters in Massachusetts Bay. Its tall derrick looks over the hills banking the creek and can be seen at some distance.

The arrival of the lighter created more activity than has been seen in that section in a decade and 50 of the unemployed were on hand, ready to go to work at a moment's notice. Active operations have not yet commenced, however.

Nearly half a mile of track has been laid along the proposed route, starting at the stone bridge at Metcalf's farm and extending to the Adams farm. Steam shovels will be delivered within a few days and the work will then be underway.

The first section to be completed will be the end which finishes at the Dorothy Q House on Hancock street. The first operation will be to clear the land where an immense hill will be shoveled away and the dirt pushed into a deep declivity a short distance away.

It is estimated that about five months will have passed before the contract is completed. Millions of feet of dirt will be shoveled away and the work will be awarded to the Quincy and Boston firm because its bid of $63,000 was the lowest. The specifications call for only subgrading of the tip variety so that the extensions can be used for pleasure bridges until the final top is put.

Bids this week will be asked for the bridge which will cross the Port Directors and are understood to have been passed by the war department. The local firm is preparing to submit estimates on the bridge.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA
Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria. It is a safe and reliable remedy for children's ailments. It is a safe and reliable remedy for children's ailments.

GLEE CLUB LADIES' NIGHT.

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 8, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 19.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNINGS BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1248 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter, Feb. 1, 1895.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

—AT—

MERRYMOUNT

Mt. Wollaston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance

QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.

BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.

Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1840 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe

stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.

At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.

Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy.

ETNA Insurance Co.

HAVERFORD, CONN.

Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual.

Losses paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1915.

Cash Capital, $1,000,000.00

Surplus for Policyholders, $1,000,000.00

Reserve for Re-insurance, $1,000,000.00

Reserve for Unpaid Losses, $1,000,000.00

Reserve for Other Claims, $1,000,000.00

Total Assets, $1,000,000.00

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $1,000,000.00

Cash Assets, $1,000,000.00

Total Assets, $1,000,000.00

Amount of Cash Surplus, $1,000,000.00

Contingent Assets, $1,000,000.00

Total Available Assets, $1,000,000.00

Dividends are now being paid on five-year

policy, on one-year policies, 20 per cent.

JAMES Y. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DIRECTORS:—Frederick D. Marsh, Dedham; Samuel

W. Marsh, Dedham; William W. Marsh, Dedham;

James Y. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Noyes, Dedham;

William W. Marsh, Dedham; George W. Marsh, Dedham;

Herbert H. Marsh, Dedham; Clifford F. Marsh, Dedham;

George H. Field, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, — IS CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President

W. D. Curtis, Vice-President

Edward C. Mason, Secretary

W. D. Curtis, Vice-President

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Wm. A. Bradford Co.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

900 DROPS

ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.

Vegetable Preparation for Assuaging the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic.

Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Par-Sole Signature of Wm. A. Bradford Co. NEW YORK.

416 months old 35 Doses—35 CENTS

Guaranteed Under the Food and Drug Act.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset.

Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:

Neponset, Boston

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Frederick D. Marsh, Dedham; Samuel

W. Marsh, Dedham; William W. Marsh, Dedham;

James Y. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Noyes, Dedham;

William W. Marsh, Dedham; George W. Marsh, Dedham;

Herbert H. Marsh, Dedham; Clifford F. Marsh, Dedham;

George H. Field, Agent for Quincy

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $1,000,000.00

Cash Assets, $1,000,000.00

Total Assets, $1,000,000.00

Amount of Cash Surplus, $1,000,000.00

Contingent Assets, $1,000,000.00

Total Available Assets, $1,000,000.00

Dividends are now being paid on five-year

policy, on one-year policies, 20 per cent.

JAMES Y. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Frederick D. Marsh, Dedham; Samuel

W. Marsh, Dedham; William W. Marsh, Dedham;

James Y. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Noyes, Dedham;

William W. Marsh, Dedham; George W. Marsh, Dedham;

Herbert H. Marsh, Dedham; Clifford F. Marsh, Dedham;

George H. Field, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, — IS CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President

W. D. Curtis, Vice-President

Edward C. Mason, Secretary

W. D. Curtis, Vice-President

Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor.

William A. Muller, William A. Muller &

Company

Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests

BACK COUNTRY OPINION.

Frank Walcott Hunt.

I pity the fellow who's wallowed thru

"Thou hearin' a poem or two?"

For how kin he tackle its sorrows an'

Not knowin' what course to pursue?

"Shakespeare an' Scott,

An' John Ruskin an' such a loss.

But any man misses a terrible lot

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Their some ez reads poetry for fun er for style.

An' some ez don't read it at all;

Their some ez can't never with while."

The last hed hed go ter the wall,

But him ez hez wallowin' 'th po'try

for

I ain't never yit ran across;

I s'pose he's a feller wot's one of the few

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

I ain't a bit bigoted; leastways, I giss

Their's po'ts all over the lan'.

But folks fun the farm sez the trouble's jes' this:

"Their's lookin' for sense ez hez boss;

An' I wouldn't gin a red cent for a man,

'F he can't make his mark with a cross.

An' livin' within hearin' of others ez can.

An' never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

The back country farmers is lookin'

out

For smuthin' ez runs inter lines

With mo'vin' an' ac're, er workin' a plow.

For rockin' weather an' signs.

They don't keep a rap about nonsense an' stuff.

"Their's lookin' for sense ez hez boss;

The man must live out'n the worl'.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

Wot never hearn tell of Sam Foss.

WOLLASTON YACHT CLUB.

Wollaston's Yacht Club's "big time," the annual open, took place at the club house Saturday evening, when a fine menu was enjoyed, meeting bachelors and their official board and a theatrical program

by Boston performers given.

During the repast there was music in the air and a cabaret singer added to the jollity of the occasion.

At the head table were: Commodore Frank F. Taylor of the Woll-aston Yacht Club, Senator Louis F.

Langford, H. C. Goody, of Woll-aston, president of the Massachusetts

Yacht Racing Union; Ex Commodore F. E. Daves of Wollaston, vice president of the M. Y. R. U.;

Commodore George H. Bean of Squannet Yacht Club, Commodore John J.

Tobin of South Boston, William L.

Ballou of Cohasset, Commodore

Henry S. Crane of Quincy, Walter E.

Stone of Annisquam and the following from Wollaston Yacht Club:

Vice Commodore Q. A. Lathrop, Ex

Commodore J. A. Penno, Ex Commodore Frank Burgess, Secretary A.

N. Potterton, Treasurer Carroll E.

Bates, E. A. Bean and H. C. Seymour of the executive committee, Fred

J. Schaeffer of the entertainment committee and C. A. Pinkham.

In opening the program Commodore

Taylor stated that this was positively his last appearance and that next year Vice Commodore Lathrop would have the reins.

The first speaker was Senator Langford who touched briefly on the new breeding for the channel. He was followed by Commodore Bean of the Squamet Club, who bespoke a closer affiliation and Commodore Tobin of South Boston.

Mayor Chester I. Campbell who had just arrived was next to speak.

In introducing him Commodore Taylor referred to the bad condition of Bromfield street. In reply the mayor quoted a recent sermon of Rev.

William B. Ayers, in which he said the streets of West Quincy needed attention more than those of Woll-aston. The mayor gave assurance that both sections were receiving equal attention and everything possible was being done to relieve conditions.

Mayor Campbell raised a laugh by inquiring if there was anyone present who did not apply for a pony express license, although a few had been issued. He thought there were still enough to go around to supply the friends of his enemies.

Present Goody of the Y. R. U. had several good stories and told of the improved method of handling race decisions and protests. Vice President Daves followed and declared the new rule in Class A would work hardship on the centre board boats.

Commodore Crane extended the

STEFFAGE OPEN AIR MEETING.

Although the night was raw and threatening a large crowd had already gathered at the entrance to Furnace

Brook Parkway at West Quincy when the automobile with the yellow and green banners arrived with the speakers

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, MAY 8, 1915

PLAY WELL ACTED.

"Sally Lann" the two act comedy presented by the Epworth league of the Hall Place M. E. church, Friday April 20, proved to be a winning car as was evidenced by the large crowd that attended this pleasing entertainment. The play was well acted. Bright and witty, yet with a twinkle of mystery throughout arising from the series of complications, it presents in turn the indignation, the consultation, the consternation and the revelation following the announcement of the marriage of John Randolph, father of three grown children, to a very attractive young actress, Shirley Morgan. Three weeks after his marriage he sends the announcement to his oldest son John, a Junior at Yale, and Marjorie, his daughter, then at Smith College and then leaves for New York.

The cast: John Randolph..... Edward Newcomb
Shirley Morgan..... Robert McCormick
Marjorie Morgan..... Arthur Williams
Miss Bessie Nichols
Mrs. Randolph..... Miss Mary Williams
Mrs. Penelope Winslow, Hilda Francis
Vivian Winslow..... Rita Hunter
Coach..... Mrs. D. H. McNellie
A musical program was presented before the comedy and between the acts; piano solos by Miss Mildred Landerholm and vocal solos by Wesley Williams.

After the entertainment candy and ice cream were served. The evening was in charge of the following committee: A. F. Williams, chairman, Mrs. A. D. Stewart, Arthur Jordan, Miss Hilda Francis, Mrs. D. H. McNellie.

MAY BREAKFAST.

The annual meeting and May breakfast of the Bethany Women's Club was held Wednesday in the lower vestry of the church and was the occasion of an unusually large attendance due in a measure to the fact that this was the last church function which Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Willmott will attend.

At 12:30 a lunch was served by the supper committee which was open to the public on the payment of a small fee and upwards of 150 partook of the very appetizing lunch which had been prepared by the members of the union.

The annual business meeting of the union at which officers were elected for the ensuing year was held immediately following the lunch. The election of officers resulted as follows: President—Mrs. Franklin P. Horton.

Vice Presidents—Mrs. Ernest L. Collins and Mrs. John F. Welch. Secretary—Mrs. George Adams. Treasurer—Mrs. Charles W. Guy.

Committee Chairmen—Sewing—Mrs. George A. Sidelinger. Missionary—Mrs. Charles W. Miller. Membership—Mrs. A. L. Melcher. Welcoming—Mrs. H. Everett Crane. Hospitality—Mrs. E. Livingston. Boys' Work—Mrs. Jonathan S. Beal.

Home Culture—Mrs. Edwin I. Beal. A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring officers.

Immediately following the election Rev. Mr. Willmott was introduced and spoke briefly in farewell. In opening he said that he desired to thank the members individually for the hearty co-operation which they had given him during his pastorate. He also paid a tribute to Mrs. H. Everett Crane who has filled the office of president for the past four years. He said that he felt sorry to break off the close friendships which he had formed during his pastorate at the Bethany church, and although going to a new field of labor he should always remember the happy years spent with Bethany church. Mrs. Willmott was also present at the meeting but did not speak.

Following the remarks of Rev. Mr. Willmott, reports of the retiring officers were read and accepted. These reports showed that the organization had been particularly active during the past year which has been most successful in every way.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Amy Ford Everett, superintendent of the Lancaster school for girls. Mrs. Everett spoke interestingly of the work of the school and what it was trying to do in the way of reforming wayward girls.

During the meeting there were vocal solos by Mrs. Edith Carey Page. The luncheon which was served was in charge of Mrs. Frank F. Prescott. Mrs. Charles W. Guy and Mrs. A. L. Melcher.

MINISTERS' BANQUET.

At a meeting of the Executive board of the Ministers association, held Wednesday at the office of the president, Rev. A. L. Hudson, in the First Parish church, plans were made for the annual banquet of the association to which the wives of the ministers are also invited. At three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, May 11, the ministers and their wives will meet in the assembly room of the Y. M. C. A. and will listen to an address by the new secretary, Mr. Herbert S. Giddell, on the relation between the churches of Quincy and the Y. M. C. A.

The ministers will then go into a short executive session while their wives will have the freedom of the bowling alleys.

Following this the ministers will take part in games on the gymnasium floor under charge of the physical director with the wives occupying seats as spectators in the gallery.

At about five o'clock the entire company will adjourn to the First Parish church for a tour of inspection of the Tablets and other historic features of the old "Stone Temple". At six o'clock they will be seated at tables in the social room of the church, where supper will be served by a committee of the ministers wives.

MEMORIALS—JENKINS.

Miss Martha E. Jones, daughter of Frank Jenkins of Atlantic and Ralph I. Simmons of Wollaston were married at the home of the bride on Billings street at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Atlantic Memorial church, and was witnessed only by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

Miss Esther Jenkins was maid of honor and the double ring service was used. A short procession followed the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Simmons left on a wedding trip to Pennsylvania. On their return they will live at 146 Billings street.

BRIEFS

The Republican City Committee is to hold a dinner at the Quincy house, Boston, Thursday evening, May 29.

A parish meeting is to be held next Wednesday evening in the vestry by the Universalist society.

Archer M. Nickerson of Putnam street has been called to Nova Scotia by the sudden illness of his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Smith of Washington street are receiving congratulations on the birth Wednesday of a daughter, their first child.

St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church is to give the play "Just for Fun," at Colonial hall on Thursday evening.

Mrs. James B. Pollock of White Plains, N. Y., is the guest for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Pennington of Goffe street.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. DeForest, Jr., formerly Miss Stevens of Braintree, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son at the City Hospital Saturday.

Among the Massachusetts corporations chartered last week was The Granite City Ice Company of Quincy, Marshall I. Abbott, Frank S. Patch and George H. Vater, Capital $10,000.

The Quosset Camp Fire Girls gave a party on April 20th in Hancock hall in spite of the rainy weather, about thirty boys and girls attended and had a very enjoyable time.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles E. Hopkins, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, will be pleased to learn that while she is as yet unable to leave her home, she is improving rapidly and expects to be able to get out of doors soon.

The store of C. F. Pettengill, the jeweler, in the Dr. Welch block which was gutted by fire several weeks ago, has been entirely refurnished and Tuesday Mr. Pettengill moved back to the store from his temporary quarters in the Kincaid block.

Mrs. John F. Welch and Miss Marjorie Welch of 1662 Hancock street left Tuesday afternoon for Plymouth where they will visit relatives. Miss Welch has been ill for many months and the visit is taken in the hope that she may be benefited by the change. The trip was made on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Holden who returned to this country when the war broke out and have been staying in Chicago are in Quincy for a brief stay before sailing for Paris where business is to be resumed. Mr. Holden is the Paris representative of the Spaulding Company of Chicago.

The Holy club, an organization of women of this city, met at the home of Mrs. Margaret Brown, 189 Whitwell street, Wednesday evening. A social hour followed the meeting, during which there was music and games. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lucy Brooks and Mrs. Mary McNeil. Refreshments were served.

Frederick M. Atwood Harvard '18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Atwood of this city, has been appointed manager of the Freshman Debating Team. Mr. Atwood is a graduate Quincy High school. Recently he contributed an article to this paper advocating a change in the city charter.

Mrs. Edward B. Marsh left Monday night for her former home in Onawa City, Iowa, from where she goes to Rochester, Minn., to visit her son, Dr. Harold Marsh, who has recently received a three year appointment to the Mayo Surgical Hospital at Rochester. There were five hundred applicants for the three positions at the Mayo hospital.

A committee of five was selected at the adjourned church meeting of the Bethany Congregational church Wednesday evening to select a pastor to succeed Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott. The committee is Mrs. Charles W. Miller, Mrs. John F. Welch, Ernest L. Collins, Dr. C. T. Sherman and F. W. Crane. Albert L. Hayden served as moderator of the meeting.

Plans are maturing for an entertainment and dance to be given in the Bethany church on Wednesday evening, May 19, under the direction of Daughters of John Adams L. O. L. A feature will be fancy dancing by pupils of James Kennedy, Annie Kennedy, Thelma Key, Adelaide Lynch, Eleanor Phillips, Gladys Barclay, Margaret Phillips, Mary Lukman, Ruth Wilcox, Louise Vozila and John Vozila.

The meeting of Quincy Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Monday evening was one of unusual interest. It was the eleventh anniversary of the institution of the chapter and the work of the evening was performed by Mrs. Susie Fernald, the worthy matron at the time of the institution, the other chairs also being filled by the officers who served with Mrs. Fernald.

Nathan Weston formerly of Quincy died at the Pond Home April 20, when Quincy he resided on Grand street. He was engaged in the retail business for many years. A. about ten years ago through friends in the Bethany church he and his wife went to the Pond Home. Mrs. Weston died about seven years ago. Funeral services will be held Tuesday.

Miss Madeline McCrory of Edgerme road was hostess for the Saturday Auction Bridge club Saturday evening, the occasion being gentlemen's night. Eight tables were in play the winners being Miss Stella Barker and F. Ambler Welch. Attractive prizes were presented by the hostess. Refreshments were served and dancing concluded the evening.

The Quincy members of the Political Equality Suffragists held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. N. S. Hunting Tuesday afternoon to elect officers and discuss methods of working. Mrs. H. Everett Crane was elected chairman pro tem and Mrs. Townsend secretary pro tem. Mrs. Edith Randall, Vice President, Mrs. Albert Parker, Secretary, and Treasurer, Miss Miriam Marsh. The selection of an executive committee was left in the hands of the three officers.

Extra chairs were brought in but even then the large congregation which assembled at Bethany church Sunday evening to hear Rev. Benj. A. Willmott closing address could not be accommodated and a large number stood at the rear of the church during the service. The pastor spoke on "To Build Up," taking his text from Acts 20-32. And now, brethren, I commend you to God and to the word of His Grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are justified.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Catherine Walsh and son Richard, of 34 Panama street are in New York on a short visit.

Charles W. Towne of Caruth street who recently underwent an operation at the City Hospital for appendicitis is convalescent.

Miss Ruth V. Brice of South Central avenue, is at the Quincy City Hospital where she is recovering from a surgical operation.

Charles H. Marsh, of Irving place who received an offer to go to Serbia as a sanitary engineer to establish typhus camps in the principal cities of that country during the next few months has decided not to accept the position.

Miss Hazel Estey of Washington street, a pupil at the Quincy Manual school, is on her way to the Panama Exposition. Her mother Mrs. Ida Estey left Friday for an extended visit with relatives at Burlington, Vt.

Judge E. C. Bumpus of Quincy has been selected to give the Memorial address for the Holbrook Memorial association at its annual observance in that town on the evening of May 30.

At the conclusion of the business session of Rural lodge of Masons Thursday evening a brief service was held in memory of Brother Lawrence Butler who died Thursday, April 29. This service consisted of the reading of the scriptures and prayer by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, chaplain of Rural lodge, and a selection by the Beethoven male quartette.

Twelve members of St. John's church were initiated at the 25th anniversary exercises of the Ladies Catholic Benevolent society in Synphony hall, Boston, Tuesday evening. The marriage for the local branch was Mrs. Katherine C. Manning and the ushers were Mrs. Sarah MacDonald and Miss Bessie Mahoney. The officers of St. John's church are Fr. Walter A. Quinlan, chaplain and Mrs. Catherine Walsh, president.

Mayor Campbell is to be one of the party and the joint auspices of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange and the Boston Real Estate Exchange and Auction Board which will leave by a special train Thursday June 10, to attend the exhibitions at San Diego and San Francisco and the National Real Estate Convention at Los Angeles.

The attendance at the Fourth annual dance of the Harmony club Wednesday evening in St. Mary's hall eclipsed all previous affairs in that section of the city. There were over 200 couples dancing in the small hall. Guests were present from Nantasket, Brockton, Hallowell, Weymouth, Dorchester and Mattapan.

The club met every year to help defray the expenses of their summer cottage at Nantasket where they hold open house all season to their friends.

At a meeting of the contributors to the New Year's gift of $700 to Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Willmott, held in the chapel of the Bethany church it was the unanimous expression that the gift which had been returned should again be given.

Mrs. Willmott as an expression of appreciation for faithful and efficient services rendered the church. The gift was originally designed to go toward the purchase of an automobile for the pastor. It was returned by Mr. Willmott when he resigned his pastorate.

IN WAR ZONE.

Mrs. Jesse F. Curtis of Upland road has received a recent letter from her son Dr. Harold Curtis, a dentist in Alexandria, Egypt, in which he writes of the city in war time. He says in part:

"After day passed quietly except with the troops. The Australians started to embark on that day. Ever since, there have been large numbers of transports leaving for some war zone, supposedly the Dardanelles. I have taken a few pictures of the French and English contingents in the last week, also a few of some of the Tennessee boys.

"Last week we must have had 100,000 troops in Alexandria alone. Their encampments along the sea-shore stretch over a territory of about 25 miles. Believe me, it is some sight. Alexandria has been made the base for operations around the Dardanelles. The harbor is a glorious sight with nearly a hundred transports in the Fatherland of the Red Star Line. The Cunarders, Alaunia and Anadina, several Allan Line boats and the large trans-Atlantic French steamers are among them.

"Soldiers everywhere you look. Parades passing the house two or three times daily and best of all a parade of people flocking to our office for work. We were never so busy before. The war has not hurt us at any rate."

ADDRESSING KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Miss Mildred Gray Huston, the overseer of the poor, gave an interesting talk on the work of this most important department of the city hall at its meeting Tuesday evening. Mrs. George Taylor presided at the meeting and the devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Charles W. Miller.

A short business session was held during the first of the evening at which reports were given on the several tiers of the circle. Mrs. Sawtell of the Norfolk County Kings' Daughters gave a short talk on the Pond home at Plainville and the work it was doing, after which Miss Huston was introduced.

Miss Huston's talk was an informal one during which she enlightened the members of the circle on some of the multitude of matters that are continually before the poor department. Miss Huston then spoke of the work of the Young Women's club and the Associated Charities and brought the support of the members of the circle in these associations.

During the evening there were musical selections by members of the junior circle.

PARK AND DOWNS.

The opening hop of the Squantum yacht club was held Saturday evening at the club house, Quincy Shore Boulevard. There was a good attendance and an enjoyable evening.

Mr. Tuck, assistant station agent at the Norfolk Downs station, is confined to his home by illness.

SOUTH QUINCY

Mrs. Mary Cotter widow of John Cotter, formerly of Summer street, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Welch, 133 Liberty street, aged 70 years. Mrs. Cotter came to Quincy in 1872 and has made her home in this city since that time. She was one of those present at the laying of the corner stone of the present St. John's church. She was the mother of six children all of whom have passed away with the exception of her daughter, Mrs. Welch.

Mrs. William H. Deacon of 197 Franklin street gave an English tea at her home Tuesday afternoon for the benefit of the Christ church Women's Club. The guests were: Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin of Philadelphia, national president of the A. O. H. W., was greeted with deafening cheers and hand clapping at the Norfolk County reception given in his honor at Hibernian building, Sunday afternoon. The reception was well attended.

Joseph McLaughlin of Philadelphia, national president of the A. O. H. W., was greeted with deafening cheers and hand clapping at the Norfolk County reception given in his honor at Hibernian building, Sunday afternoon. The reception was well attended.

At the conclusion of the business session of Rural lodge of Masons Thursday evening a brief service was held in memory of Brother Lawrence Butler who died Thursday, April 29. This service consisted of the reading of the scriptures and prayer by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, chaplain of Rural lodge, and a selection by the Beethoven male quartette.

Twelve members of St. John's church were initiated at the 25th anniversary exercises of the Ladies Catholic Benevolent society in Synphony hall, Boston, Tuesday evening. The marriage for the local branch was Mrs. Katherine C. Manning and the ushers were Mrs. Sarah MacDonald and Miss Bessie Mahoney. The officers of St. John's church are Fr. Walter A. Quinlan, chaplain and Mrs. Catherine Walsh, president.

Mayor Campbell is to be one of the party and the joint auspices of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange and the Boston Real Estate Exchange and Auction Board which will leave by a special train Thursday June 10, to attend the exhibitions at San Diego and San Francisco and the National Real Estate Convention at Los Angeles.

The attendance at the Fourth annual dance of the Harmony club Wednesday evening in St. Mary's hall eclipsed all previous affairs in that section of the city. There were over 200 couples dancing in the small hall. Guests were present from Nantasket, Brockton, Hallowell, Weymouth, Dorchester and Mattapan.

The club met every year to help defray the expenses of their summer cottage at Nantasket where they hold open house all season to their friends.

At a meeting of the contributors to the New Year's gift of $700 to Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Willmott, held in the chapel of the Bethany church it was the unanimous expression that the gift which had been returned should again be given.

Mrs. Willmott as an expression of appreciation for faithful and efficient services rendered the church. The gift was originally designed to go toward the purchase of an automobile for the pastor. It was returned by Mr. Willmott when he resigned his pastorate.

WEST QUINCY

The regular monthly meeting of the Sunday school board of the Hall Place M. E. church will be held Tuesday evening.

Sunday, May 16, will be observed as Anniversary day by Epworth League of Hall Place M. E. church. A special program is being prepared.

The Misses Margaret and Annie Burns of Cross street are spending their spring vacation at Lynchburg, Va., as guests of Mrs. John Powers, formerly of Quincy.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey of Common street, West Quincy, tendered them a surprise party Saturday evening. In the course of the evening Mr. Ramsey was presented a gold piece and Mr. Ramsey a handsome ring. The presentations were made by Mr. Farquhar in behalf of those present. Those who attended included: Mr. and Mrs. Robb, Mr. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers of Needham. Mr. and Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Taylor of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Skinner of Quincy, Mr. Farquhar of West Quincy, Mrs. Connelly and family of Milton, Mrs. McGilvery of Dorchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson of West Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnston, nee Bruner, have returned from their honeymoon in Maine and are at home to their friends at 22 Willard street.

Patrolman and Mrs. John J. Duane of Larry street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter April 30. Jack is passing out the perfect for the sixth time, this being the first girl.

On May 12 the Fowler Chapter of the Methodist Brotherhood of the Hall Place M. E. church will hold a supper in the vestry, to be followed by a reception to Rev. and Mrs. Willis H. Germany, at which time the challenge of the Ladies Aid to the Methodist Brotherhood will be answered by the presentation of "The Great Chicken Case."

An enjoyable evening was spent by the members of St. Mary's Choir and the collectors of the St. Mary's Building Fund at the banquet held in St. Joseph hall, Monday evening. The affair was opened with a banquet which was served by Mrs. J. J. Martin. After the banquet Rev. Father McCoy thanked those present for their services during the past year. The balance of the evening was spent in singing.

The regular meeting of the St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. E. Society was held Tuesday evening. The entertainment committee Mrs. Perry, Miss Barnes, Evelyn Hicks, Doris Simmons, Dorothy Briggs, Florence Fawcett, Bernadine Barker, Elton Pennington, Dorothy Ricker, Bessie Thurber.

A gavotte followed in which twelve girls took part: Doris Turner, Julia Briggs, Margaret Eleanor Birse, Judith Page, Helen Thoburn, Edith Carr, Mildred Goddess, Sylvia Little, Dorothy Holmes, Elsie Thurber, Marjorie Cole.

Next came the entrance of the queen in stately procession, followed by her crowning with proper ceremony. In the east were the Queen of May, Bernadine Barker, Crown Bearer, Bessie Thurber, Sceptre Bearer, Nina Barnes, Arch Bearer—Marion Ripley, Doris Briggs, Geraldine Olive, Doris Simmons.

Patrolman Baker, Ashley Tabor, Madeline Chubb, Eleanor Nourse, a gay May pole dance was next in order and its pretty interwavings and accompanying gestures received much applause. Those taking part were: Edith Carr, Sidney Simmons, Elsie Little, Truimpe, Priscilla Elzeier, Ellen Massey, Sylvia Little, Edith Thurber, Bessie Thurber, Margaret Burke, Edna Snow, Madeline Chubb, Margaret Campbell, Elsie Little, Florence Weeks, Celeste Ripley, Barbara Wells, Edna Brown.

In the festive dance, the next number, Mrs. Sylvia Little, Edith Thurber, Frances Bishop, Florence Weeks, Virginia Bidson, Sidney Simmons, Vera Carr, Sylvia Little, Elsie Little, Emily Boshan, Arline Holmes, Elizabeth Truimpe, Edna Snow, Frances Brown, Edith Kraus, Madeline Chubb, Eleanor Nourse, Grace Seymour, Eleanor Nourse, Eleanor Birse, Ellen Massey.

One of the most significant of the dances was the song of the robin. Accompanied by appropriate music it was perhaps one of the best interpretations of the evening. In this number Mrs. Sylvia Little, Edith Thurber, Marian Ripley, Celeste Ripley, Irene Shaw, Emily Boshan, Agnes Rice, Elsie Hey.

Next came three butterflies, Sylvia Little, Vera Carr and Florence Weeks in a light airy dance, attired in costumes of yellow.

An act that appealed to the juvenile element were the jumping jacks which came next. In this twelve youngsters in clown costume, went through all sorts of eccentric antics and were applauded again and again. Those participating were: Lewis Merrill, Richard Perry, Ned Sweetzer, Stanwood Sweetzer, Bradford Thompson, Annie, Robert, George Simmons, Horace Ripley, George Ripley, Herbert Baker, John Tribon, Albert Brett.

A scarf dance by Dorothy Stevens and Rebecca Bird was next enjoyed. The lighting effects in this were very pretty and brought some realization of the faculties of the new stage.

A solo dance "the rose" was prettily done by Florence Fawcett and was loudly cheered. Next a snappy Spanish dance, "the trancile" in appropriate costumes, with tambourines. The dancers included: Doris Turner, Marjorie Cole, Julia Polk, Judith Page, Edna Campbell, Vera Carr, Mildred Goddess, Sylvia Little.

An intricate solo dance by Miss McCrory, the director of the evening, was next performed. The dance was entitled "Psyche."

The last dance was named "Summer" and pantomimed the gathering of flowers and other effects of this outdoor season.

The final number was a tableau which showed all of the performers grouped artistically around the throne of the Little May Queen.

Ice cream was served in the supper room below while the seats were being cleared away and then general dancing was enjoyed to the music of the Arionello, in charge of Horace Cath.

The committee in charge included the following officers and teachers of the Sunday school: Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. Oscar Baker, Mrs. H. C. Needham, Mrs. Howard Pennington, Mrs. Albert Briggs, Mrs. Harry Thomasson, Mrs. Carl G. Horst, Miss Edna Sargent, Miss Catherine Reed, S. J. Right, Alan Miller and Horton Page. The electrical effects were in charge of Roy C. Baker.

CHILDREN PRESENT PAGEANT.

The most successful entertainment held thus far in the new parish house of the Wollaston Unitarian church was the May Pageant given Thursday evening by the children of the Sunday school under direction of Miss M. V. McGilvery.

The pageant was one of fourteen intervals and the different numbers brought into play a large number of the younger children in a variety of folk and fancy dancing.

An audience of 400, the largest yet accommodated, applauded the variety of acts and several scenes were allowed. Mrs. A. W. P. Barber and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith were the accompanists.

The first number showed some of the little tots in a folk dance and choosing of the May queen. Those participating were: Louise Thoburn, Nina Barnes, Evelyn Hicks, Doris Simmons, Dorothy Briggs, Florence Fawcett, Bernadine Barker, Elton Pennington, Dorothy Ricker, Bessie Thurber.

A gavotte followed in which twelve girls took part: Doris Turner, Julia Briggs, Margaret Eleanor Birse, Judith Page, Helen Thoburn, Edith Carr, Mildred Goddess, Sylvia Little, Dorothy Holmes, Elsie Thurber, Marjorie Cole.

Next came the entrance of the queen in stately procession, followed by her crowning with proper ceremony. In the east were the Queen of May, Bernadine Barker, Crown Bearer, Bessie Thurber, Sceptre Bearer, Nina Barnes, Arch Bearer—Marion Ripley, Doris Briggs, Geraldine Olive, Doris Simmons.

Patrolman Baker, Ashley Tabor, Madeline Chubb, Eleanor Nourse, a gay May pole dance was next in order and its pretty interwavings and accompanying gestures received much applause. Those taking part were: Edith Carr, Sidney Simmons, Elsie Little, Truimpe, Priscilla Elzeier, Ellen Massey, Sylvia Little, Edith Thurber, Bessie Thurber, Margaret Burke, Edna Snow, Madeline Chubb, Margaret Campbell, Elsie Little, Florence Weeks, Celeste Ripley, Barbara Wells, Edna Brown.

In the festive dance, the next number, Mrs. Sylvia Little, Edith Thurber, Frances Bishop, Florence Weeks, Virginia Bidson, Sidney Simmons, Vera Carr, Sylvia Little, Elsie Little, Emily Boshan, Arline Holmes, Elizabeth Truimpe, Edna Snow, Frances Brown, Edith Kraus, Madeline Chubb, Eleanor Nourse, Grace Seymour, Eleanor Nourse, Eleanor Birse, Ellen Massey.

One of the most significant of the dances was the song of the robin. Accompanied by appropriate music it was perhaps one of the best interpretations of the evening. In this number Mrs. Sylvia Little, Edith Thurber, Marian Ripley, Celeste Ripley, Irene Shaw, Emily Boshan, Agnes Rice, Elsie Hey.

Next came three butterflies, Sylvia Little, Vera Carr and Florence Weeks in a light airy dance, attired in costumes of yellow.

An act that appealed to the juvenile element were the jumping jacks which came next. In this twelve youngsters in clown costume, went through all sorts of eccentric antics and were applauded again and again. Those participating were: Lewis Merrill, Richard Perry, Ned Sweetzer, Stanwood Sweetzer, Bradford Thompson, Annie, Robert, George Simmons, Horace Ripley, George Ripley, Herbert Baker, John Tribon, Albert Brett.

A scarf dance by Dorothy Stevens and Rebecca Bird was next enjoyed. The lighting effects in this were very pretty and brought some realization of the faculties of the new stage.

A solo dance "the rose" was prettily done by Florence Fawcett and was loudly cheered. Next a snappy Spanish dance, "the trancile" in appropriate costumes, with tambourines. The dancers included: Doris Turner, Marjorie Cole, Julia Polk, Judith Page, Edna Campbell, Vera Carr, Mildred Goddess, Sylvia Little.

An intricate solo dance by Miss McCrory, the director of the evening, was next performed. The dance was entitled "Psyche."

The last dance was named "Summer" and pantomimed the gathering of flowers and other effects of this outdoor season.

The final number was a tableau which showed all of the performers grouped artistically around the throne of the Little May Queen.

Ice cream was served in the supper room below while the seats were being cleared away and then general dancing was enjoyed to the music of the Arionello, in charge of Horace Cath.

The committee in charge included the following officers and teachers of the Sunday school: Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. Oscar Baker, Mrs. H. C. Needham, Mrs. Howard Pennington, Mrs. Albert Briggs, Mrs. Harry Thomasson, Mrs. Carl G. Horst, Miss Edna Sargent, Miss Catherine Reed, S. J. Right, Alan Miller and Horton Page. The electrical effects were in charge of Roy C. Baker.

The most successful entertainment held thus far in the new parish house of the Wollaston Unitarian church was the May Pageant given Thursday evening by the children of the Sunday school under direction of Miss M. V. McGilvery.

The pageant was one of fourteen intervals and the different numbers brought into play a large number of the younger children in a variety of folk and fancy dancing.

An audience of 400, the largest yet accommodated, applauded the variety of acts and several scenes were allowed. Mrs. A. W. P. Barber and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith were the accompanists.

The first number showed some of the little tots in a folk dance and choosing of the May queen. Those participating were: Louise Thoburn, Nina Barnes, Evelyn Hicks, Doris Simmons, Dorothy Briggs, Florence Fawcett, Bernadine Barker, Elton Pennington, Dorothy Ricker, Bessie Thurber.

A gavotte followed in which twelve girls took part: Doris Turner, Julia Briggs, Margaret Eleanor Birse, Judith Page, Helen Thoburn, Edith Carr, Mildred Goddess, Sylvia Little, Dorothy Holmes, Elsie Thurber, Marjorie Cole.

Next came the entrance of the queen in stately procession, followed by her crowning with proper ceremony. In the east were the Queen of May, Bernadine Barker, Crown Bearer, Bessie Thurber, Sceptre Bearer, Nina Barnes, Arch Bearer—Marion Ripley, Doris Briggs, Geraldine Olive, Doris Simmons.

Patrolman Baker, Ashley Tabor, Madeline Chubb, Eleanor Nourse, a gay May pole dance was next in order and its pretty interwavings and accompanying gestures received much applause. Those taking part were: Edith Carr, Sidney Simmons, Elsie Little, Truimpe, Priscilla Elzeier, Ellen Massey, Sylvia Little, Edith Thurber, Bessie Thurber, Margaret Burke, Edna Snow, Madeline Chubb, Margaret Campbell, Elsie Little, Florence Weeks, Celeste Ripley, Barbara Wells, Edna Brown.

In the festive dance, the next number, Mrs. Sylvia Little, Edith Thurber, Frances Bishop, Florence Weeks, Virginia Bidson, Sidney Simmons, Vera Carr, Sylvia Little, Elsie Little, Emily Boshan, Arline Holmes, Elizabeth Truimpe, Edna Snow, Frances Brown, Edith Kraus, Madeline Chubb, Eleanor Nourse, Grace Seymour, Eleanor Nourse, Eleanor Birse, Ellen Massey.

One of the most significant of the dances was the song of the robin. Accompanied by appropriate music it was perhaps one of the best interpretations of the evening. In this number Mrs. Sylvia Little, Edith Thurber, Marian Ripley, Celeste Ripley, Irene Shaw, Emily Boshan, Agnes Rice, Elsie Hey.

Next came three butterflies, Sylvia Little, Vera Carr and Florence Weeks in a light airy dance, attired in costumes of yellow.

An act that appealed to the juvenile element were the jumping jacks which came next. In this twelve youngsters in clown costume, went through all sorts of eccentric antics and were applauded again and again. Those participating were: Lewis Merrill, Richard Perry, Ned Sweetzer, Stanwood Sweetzer, Bradford Thompson, Annie, Robert, George Simmons, Horace Ripley, George Ripley, Herbert Baker, John Tribon, Albert Brett.

A scarf dance by Dorothy Stevens and Rebecca Bird was next enjoyed. The lighting effects in this were very pretty and brought some realization of the faculties of the new stage.

A solo dance "the rose" was prettily done by Florence Fawcett and was loudly cheered. Next a snappy Spanish dance, "the trancile" in appropriate costumes, with tambourines. The dancers included: Doris Turner, Marjorie Cole, Julia Polk, Judith Page, Edna Campbell, Vera Carr, Mildred Goddess, Sylvia Little.

QUINCY PATRIOT ESTABLISHED, 1837.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

We reduce your Insurance Rate One-Fifth.

JUST FOR FUN.

"Just for Fun, a three act farce, presented in Colonial hall Thursday evening to a crowded house by the members of St. Margaret's Guild. The play was a success. The amusing situations developed early in the first act, continued throughout the second and closed in an uproar of laughter and applause in the third act, with two couples who had loved each other gaining permission from a dignified but designing aunt to marry. The cast:

Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mandeville De Smythe, a would-be society leader, Mrs. Charles M. Chase; Miss Edith Morton, her niece, a Western heiress, Miss Annie A. McLean; Miss Mabel West, a friend of Miss Morton's; Miss Edith M. Schooly, Jane McCarthy, an Irish maid-servant, Miss Violet Sparrow; Lord Chelsea, an English nobleman, James E. Smith; Jack Earl, his friend, a happy-go-lucky fellow, Stanley Ross.

Time—The present—New York City. All of the characters, excepting the men were given handsome bouquets of roses.

Dancing followed the performance, music being furnished by the Wollaston Cadet orchestra. The members of the guild sold candy, ushered and were the aids during the dancing. Those who assisted were the Misses Emily Moyle, Violet Malcolm, Cora Barncoat, Helen Schemm, Mildred Smith, Mary Hogan, Ethel Ball, Bertha Wallace, Florence Ford, Lena Allen, Olive Smith.

ACKNOWLEDGE CONTRIBUTIONS.

The Finnish Temperance society wants to thank the following people and concerns for their contributions to the society:

B. S. Wallin, Joyce Bros & Co., Nathan Ames, S. G. Emanuel Co., E. Sherman Co., W. G. Shaw, Sandberg Bros, Winery Variety Store, W. Woolworth & Co., Wm. H. Henderson, George W. Nightingale, Quincy Dept. Store, H. B. Renny, Berman Furniture Co., Walsh Drug Co., Sanborn & Damon, Orion, Payson Co., P. Pettengill, E. Brunstrom, Mrs. Pierce, C. Lombard, Quincy Supply Co., E. Foy & Co., Geo. Bellows, S. S. Greifeld Art Studio, F. A. Pier, Louis Werner Barber, Harry Lark, J. Cummings, A. Baldwin, A. Carlson, J. W. Fletcher, S. F. Nutt, Mrs. E. King, B. G. Donaher, A. Berry, E. Hanrahan, Ambrose M. Joyce, City Flower Store, Pined Variety Store, Wm. Westland, W. J. McLeod, Lawrence Butler, Clara C. Hunting, W. L. Sargent, James H. Maloney, A. Friend, Thos. J. Dion, John Reynolds, Polish Bros., J. A. Keating Co.

We trust the public will trade with these concerns and people, because of their kind heartiness and generosity. Thankfully, we remain,

Yours very truly,
Finnish Temperance Society

JUNIOR AUXILIARY.

Thursday evening the Junior auxiliary of St. Chrysostom church gave a bright and pleasing playlet entitled "The Mysterious Guest." Many of the grown-ups were there as well as the children. There was an entertainment and candy was on sale.

In the playlet were Gladys Horte, Rachel McTeer, Dorothy Mayberry and Marion Hallett, who acted their parts cleverly.

The program was opened by the Juniors singing the "Junior Hymn," followed by a "Welcome" by seven of the youngest members. There was a piano solo by Elsie Thompson; recitations by Marion Hoodley, Dorothy Harte, Florence Cortez, Inez Agnes, Dorothy Hallett, Ethel Bent, Agnes Martin and Ruth Falroth; vocal duet by Bernice Hobson and Marion Orr; piano solos by Ethel Poch, Lois Parlee, and Rachel McTeer, and recitation, "Mrs. Harriman at the Shoe Shop" by Marion Orr.

The leader, Mrs. George J. Poch, was assisted by Mrs. Albert J. Fox, Mrs. Theodore Parlee and Mrs. George Horte at the candy table.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange, week ending May 12, 1915:

- 1216 R—M. F. Robbins, Jr., 292 Beal street.
- 1882 W—Arthur F. Brewer, W. Elm avenue.
- 665—John Cashman & Sons, Boulevard.
- 897 W—William C. Hale, 289 Highland avenue.
- 1301 M—Mrs. Bessie Flaherty, 15 Bates avenue.
- 1518 W—L. C. Jones, 458 Beal street.
- 1803 W—D. W. Baxter, 15 Phillips st.
- 1318 M—E. Fayette Powers, Hilda st.
- 1812 W—E. L. Duran, 12 South Central avenue.
- 547 M—J. C. Cole, 12 Penno street.
- 574 W—John J. Joyce, 19 Bates ave.
- 854 M—Norfolk Downs Conservatory, Ames, Hancock street.
- 1349 M—F. Morrison, 98 Goddard st.
- 1447 M—E. A. Alger, 28 Anthony st.
- 1716 W—Herbert W. Robbins, 123 Sea avenue.
- 326 J—R. H. Oliver, 37 Vassall street.
- 328 W—W. W. Swares, 28 Summer street.
- 591 W—L. C. Atkinson, Herbert road.
- 623 J—Mrs. Isabella Cameron, 91 Quincy street.
- 1248 M—Barton B. Vergey, 62 Quincy avenue.
- 384 W—William J. Mahoney, 98 Whitwell street.
- 2018 W—Charles H. Lawrence, 90 Brook street.
- 352 J—A. A. Bakins, 42 Channing st.

CENSUS NOTICE.

The state census bureau asks that any family or individual who has reason to believe that their or his names have been omitted from the recent census will communicate with the director of the census at the state house Boston.

LOSES SIGHT OF ONE EYE.

The throwing of a percussion cap into a fire by boys at play will cost Edward Taylor, 8 years, of Turner street, Hough Neck, the sight of one eye. Taylor was one of a group of boys who found caps near a contractor's shed on Sunday. He was near the fire when the explosion took place and parts of the jacket entered his eye. He was taken to the Eye and Ear Infirmary at Boston, but it was found impossible to save the sight.

BRIEFS.

J. B. Sutherland, leaves this week for the summer for Barney's River, N. S.

Mrs. Francis F. Brewer and Mrs. Charles Wilson of Bigelow street are at Milford, N. H. for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sidelinger of Presidents hill are on a trip to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Ames of Whitely road are enjoying a two weeks trip to Old Point Comfort, Virginia and Atlantic City.

Miss Julia E. Underwood of Coddingdon street is enjoying the spring season at Taconic hall, North Adams where she is the guest of her niece.

Next Sunday morning at 10:45 a memorial service will be held at Christ church by Rev. William Grainger for the men, women and children lost on the Lusitania.

The friends of Mrs. M. A. Jones, the nurse, will be pleased to hear that she and her daughter Annie have arrived at their home on Ritchie road after a stay of several months in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Smith of Ashington street have named their baby girl Dorothy Alberta. The little one was born May fifth and is their first child.

A falling derrick struck and probably fatally injured Cornelius Crowley, 42 years of 23 Kimball street, Dorchester, while he was engaged in building a cellar on Mechanic street, just before noon Monday.

Congratulations were showered on Probation Officer Fahy when it became known Monday that Mrs. Fahy had given birth to another girl, that morning. Mr. and Mrs. Fahy are now the parents of three girls.

Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard of Greenleaf street who has been ill for several weeks is reported as gaining in strength each day. She has been missed by many friends who hope for her speedy recovery.

The final meeting of the season for the Quincy Teachers Association will take place in the Coddingdon hall, Wednesday, May 19. Fraulein Marie Magier will give "The Message of Oberammergau."

Many seem to think that the order for $11,000 for two pieces of fire apparatus will have a hard time getting by the city council next Monday. The general impression seems to be that the piece of apparatus is all the city can afford at the present time.

Miss Catherine Saville of Saville avenue will hostess May seventh to a number of friends who enjoyed auction bridge. Attractive souvenirs were awarded to Miss Eleanor Whittemore and F. Ambler Welch for the high scores. Refreshments were served.

The efficiency of the police department was decidedly improved Saturday by the delivery of the new automobile for the use of the superior officers. Provisions for the purchase of the machine were made by the city council which passed a special appropriation for that purpose.

The girls of the Ledger composing room and their friends tendered Miss Lillian Keddy a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening at her home, 27 Brooks avenue. Miss Keddy within a few weeks will become the bride of Edwin J. Lenihan of the Walsh pharmacy.

It is very welcome news to hear that Warren W. Adams of Greenleaf street who underwent an operation at a private hospital in Boston two weeks ago is now convalescing comfortably. His friends are many and there has been constant enquiry as to his progress.

Many of the shorthand pupils of the Quincy High school and the annual Chandler Shorthand Convention at the St. James Theatre Saturday, Miss Pearl Perry of the High school staff is in charge of the delegation. A number of the local representatives attended the theatre in the afternoon.

Quincy's new adjunct to the nation's first line of defense, known by War Department orders as the Machine Gun Co. 6th Regt. M. V. M., will be made of many plans are maturing to complete a campaign of efficiency designed to put the new command at the head of the five companies of the state so equipped.

Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott assumed the pastorate of the Immanuel Walnut Avenue Congregational church at Roxbury, Sunday, being greeted by large congregations at each of the services. During the prayer Rev. Mr. Willmott urged the congregation to sustain President Wilson on the situation arising out of the torpedoing of the Lusitania.

Mrs. James H. Slade was one of a trio of vocalists who sang at a meeting of the Jamaica Plain Unitarian club at Jamaica Plain Tuesday. The trio included Mrs. Slade, Mrs. J. Pulsom of Canton and Miss Trask of Boston.

Mrs. J. S. Capron entertained a neighborhood whist party Tuesday evening at her home on Allyn terrace in honor of her mother, Mrs. Shaw and her sister, Mrs. Buck of Bangor, Me., who returns to Bangor this week. The pretty and useful souvenir for the best score was awarded to Mrs. Osborne Rogers. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Useful souvenirs were presented to each guest.

The Young Ladies sewing society of the Swedish Congregational church met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Nilson, 54 Garfield street. During the first part of the evening there was a business session at which it was voted to call the society the Young Women's Naoml Sewing society. One new member was admitted, Miss Nora Forsberg. During the sewing session there was piano and Victrola music. Light refreshments were served later in the evening.

Chester D. Brown, a prominent member of Quincy Chapter, N. E. O. P., and district deputy to Tuckawanda lodge of Brockton has announced that will comprise his suite for the official year. Mrs. Isabel V. Savin, deputy of Brockton lodge is acting grand judge for the past year. Mrs. Bertha S. Thompson, acting grand chaplain; Edward Savin, grand guide; Archie Lightbody, acting grand vice warden; W. S. Thompson, acting grand secretary. Deputy Brown on Thursday night made his first official visit to his chapter, accompanied by his suite.

BRIEFS.

The annual May party of the Quincy Catholic club will be held in Music hall, Tuesday evening, May 18.

The sixth annual dance of the Hough's Neck Associates will be held on the evening of Saturday, May 22.

A special meeting of the Granite Manufacturers' association will be held at 7:30 Monday evening.

At a meeting of the directors of the Quincy Cooperative bank Saturday night Frank A. Reed was re-elected clerk and treasurer of the bank.

Mrs. E. A. Glover who had the misfortune to fall coming out of City hall Tuesday received a severe shaking up and many bruises.

Mrs. William T. Buckley of Lancaster, N. H., is the guest of her brother George E. Drew, 33 South Central avenue, Wollaston.

A telephone call was received at the central fire station at 9 o'clock Thursday night for a slight fire in the upper part of the cottage of William Andrews at 74 Palmer street.

Abigail Adams lodge, No. 11, F. C. of A., will hold a memorial service Sunday, May 23, in Quincy Adams hall. Companions and friends are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Hardwick of Revere road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son in the Rogers Hospital, Dorchester last Saturday. The child has been named Charles Henry Hardwick, 2nd.

Fraulein Marie Magier will deliver an illustrated lecture on "The Message of Oberammergau" at the meeting of the Quincy Teachers' association in the Coddingdon school hall Wednesday evening, May 19.

Mayor Campbell and family left by automobile at 5 o'clock Friday morning for Melvin Village, N. H., where the Mayor has a summer camp. He will be absent probably until Monday. In the mean time it will be Acting Mayor Crane.

At a regular meeting of the Granite Club held Saturday evening Mr. W. H. Blanchard was elected a member of the entertainment committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of R. F. Chase. A committee was appointed to draw resolutions on the death of Eugene W. O'Connor.

A well attended whist party in Electa hall Thursday evening under the auspices of the degree team of Quincy lodge, N. E. O. P., returned high scores. The souvenirs were awarded to Jerome Gates, Albert Williams, Mrs. Edith Nelson, Miss May O'Neill, Mrs. George Spooner and J. M. Ellison.

Annie J. Leighton, widow of Frank W. Leighton, died at the Quincy City Hospital Tuesday night after a short illness. She is survived by four daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Georgiana Clark and three sons, Levi, Ellis and Richard Leighton. Her funeral will take place from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elrick at 202 School street, where she was visiting when she became ill. Burial will be in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Quincy's newest business enterprise is a Chinese restaurant, which opened its doors to the public for the first time Thursday evening. It is located in the Midland hotel property at Houghs Neck, and its proprietor is Flat Wong, a diminutive smiling faced little Chinaman, who on this evening was the host at a dinner given to Mayor Campbell and a number of city officials and members of the city council.

Miss Margaret Adams of Grant street was very pleasantly surprised Monday evening by a number of her many friends. Miss Adams had been out during the early part of the evening and on her return was very much surprised to find that in her absence her friends had taken possession. After greetings the evening was passed with music by an orchestra, games and refreshments. During the evening Miss Adams was presented with a gold bracelet, the presentation being made by Rayburn Melendy.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

The members of the Davis class of the Calvary Baptist church of South Quincy were royally entertained Friday evening by the Woodsom class of the First Baptist church of East Milton in the vestry of the church. Both classes have been engaging in a membership contest the past three months and since the Quincy class was up to the East Milton class to furnish a banquet. The latter was prepared by the Ladies' Aid society and was certainly relished by the 75 men present.

Principal Winifred Godes of the hosts acted as toastmaster and a brief welcome to the guests he introduced President Smith of the Davis class. Mr. Smith emphasized the fact that the class won by sticking together and even though the class was as large as each member came practically every Sunday and thus carried away the honors.

Music was furnished by the "Bates Trio" of Dorchester and house solos were rendered by Mrs. Ashland. Rev. C. C. Tilley of the Calvary Baptist church and leader of the Davis class and Rev. J. Hamilton Woodsom leader of the Woodsom class and founder of the same spoke briefly.

The principal speaker of the evening was ex-Governor Eugene N. Foss. His subject was "National Prohibition from the Economic Standpoint."

RESOLUTIONS.

To Ye Citizens of Quincy.

Whereas, Mayor Campbell, chief executive of the city, and Daniel E. McKay, acting chief of police, have obtained a change in the style of head covering worn by the police of the city, and Whereas—Same have been delivered to the police for wear on Sunday.

Therefore, be it Resolved—That the citizens of our honorable city will not resist arrest when so made because a patrolman wears a cap in place of a helmet, and be it further Resolved—That that the than the citizens be spread upon the records of the city for the welcome change in appearance and also in the comfort of the men.

Signed:

Charles L. H. Wagner of Wollaston who is classed as a German-American artist, writer and poet has been aroused by the sinking of the liner Titanic and inspired to write a poem entitled "Look to the End" in which he condemns the Kaiser as the "Emperor of Hate."

QUINCY POINT.

"Little Miss Dorothy Smith of Mill street has been very ill the past four weeks is slowly improving. Mrs. Smith is also improving.

A whist party in aid of the Quincy Point church will be held Tuesday evening, May 18th, in Waseca hall, Washington street.

Roland Estey, the youngest tree surgeon of the city, has gone to Duxbury, where he will doctor the trees on the farm of Eugene Hultman of Washington street.

Mrs. James Gallagher and daughter Laura of Edison street, left Saturday on a pleasure trip, during which they will visit New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Newport News.

The congregation of the Westminster Congregational church, Kansas City, has called Rev. Morris H. Turk formerly of Quincy Point associate pastor of the First Congregational church at Los Angeles, California.

Lars Brath assistant chief draftsman of the Hull drafting room of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation has resigned to accept a position as assistant to the president of a shipyard in Christiania, Norway. Mr. Brath has been with the company for the past eight years and will assume his new duties within a short time.

The alarm from Box 73 at 2:53 A. M. Wednesday was for a slight fire in the business block near the corner of Washington street and Germain avenue owned by ex-Mayor Eugene R. Stone and occupied on the street floor by stores and on the upper floor by the Waseca club. The fire started in the rear of the Waseca club, evidently by a lighted cigar or candle, etc. that had been thrown into a wastebasket. The fire burnt through the bottom of the box and a small hole in the floor. The damage will not exceed $5.

The Members' Ten of King's Daughters met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Mavor and Mrs. G. A. Thomson at the home of the former on Howard street, Quincy Point.

William E. Lee of 29 Thompson street announces the engagement of his daughter, Maria Helen, to William Robert Staples of Waltham.

PROBATE COURT.

Judge Flint held probate court for Norfolk county at Quincy Wednesday and transacted the following business:

WILLS ALLOWED.

Of Eliza J. Picknell, late of Weymouth, Arthur C. Picknell, executor. Bond $2,000.

Of Asa R. Pratt late of Weymouth, Sarah J. Pratt, executrix. Bond $20,000.

Of George C. Torrey late of Weymouth, Mary L. Torrey, executrix. Bond $42,000.

Of Andrew Alden late of Weymouth, Wm. Alden, executrix. Bond $30,000.

Of Lavina H. Hayden late of Quincy, William A. Hayden, executor. Bond $40,000.

Of Almira E. Simmons late of Quincy, Walter E. Simmons, executor. Bond $2,000.

Of Martin Coyne late of Norwood, Coleman Coyne, executor. Bond $500.

William A. Hayden was appointed executor de bonis non of will of Joseph W. Hayden late of Quincy, Bond $4,000.

Of Budget Walsh late of Quincy, Michael Walsh, executor. Bond $25,000.

Of Mary O. H. Stoneman late of Brookline, Katherine C. Stoneman, executrix. Bond $15,000.

ADMINISTRATIONS.

On estate of Margaret B. Knowles late of Hallowell, Arthur H. Knowles, administrator. Bond $10,000.

On estate of Eltie L. Nolte late of Plainfield, Eugene T. Nolte, administrator. Bond $10,000.

On estate of Charles H. Trask late of Stoughton, Nettie L. O'Connor, executrix. Bond $10,000.

On estate of Lillian O. Vogler late of Quincy, Marion O. Vogler, executrix. Bond $4,500.

On estate of Mary E. Ware late of Medway, Florence A. Ware, executrix. Bond $1,000.

On estate of Grace Hammond late of Brookline, Albert B. Hammond, executor. Bond $500.

On estate of Henry E. Sheldon late of Milton, Percy E. Sheldon, executor. Bond $16,000.

On estate of Jeremiah Kirby late of Foxborough, Mary A. Kirby, executrix. Bond $1,000.

On estate of William A. Dyer late of Weymouth, Bond $17,000.

On estate of Henderson O. Livermore late of Weymouth, Homer F. Livermore, executor. Bond $800.

On estate of Chester A. Bissell late of Wellesey, Emma E. H. Bigelow, administratrix. Bond $4,000.

ACCOUNTS ALLOWED.

First of Hattie M. Spear, guardian of Helen C. Spear and Ray G. Spear minors of Quincy for $32 each.

First of Fred S. Sawyer, William A. Richardson, Annie E. Thing and Grace Moore, trustees under will of S. B. Thing late of Brookline for the benefit of Annie E. Thing and others for $10,594.88.

Sixth and final of Fred S. Sawyer and William A. Richardson, executors of will of S. B. Thing late of Brookline, $531,428.48.

First and final of Frederick Jenks, administrator of estate of James B. Kempton late of Brookline for $12,229.44.

Second and final of Charles F. Perkins executor of will of Elsie B. Smith late of Brookline for $145,717.77.

First and final of Mary J. Marden executrix of will of Kossila Marden late of Weymouth for $571.30.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Margaret C. Smith was appointed guardian of John E. Smith a minor of Quincy. Bond $300.

George H. Field was appointed guardian ad litem of Helen C. Spear and Ray G. Spear minors of Quincy.

Christine O. Johansson was appointed guardian of Hilmar M. Johanson a minor of Quincy. Bond $3,500.

RE-ELECT BARNES.

"The Quincy branch of the American society of Marine Draftsmen re-elected B. G. Barnes president at its meeting Tuesday evening, acted upon several applications for membership and received a report of J. E. Buckley, delegate to the annual convention recently held in New York. A social followed the meeting.

The officers elected were: President—B. G. Barnes. Vice President—W. C. Sieverts. Corresponding Secretary—H. A. Holmes. Recording Secretary—J. Bergvall. Treasurer—A. R. Kennedy. Assistant Treasurer—O. M. McDonald.

Gen. Publicke.

Charles L. H. Wagner of Wollaston who is classed as a German-American artist, writer and poet has been aroused by the sinking of the liner Titanic and inspired to write a poem entitled "Look to the End" in which he condemns the Kaiser as the "Emperor of Hate."

WEST QUINCY.

Epworth league of the Hall Place M. E. church is to celebrate the 26th anniversary of the league Sunday with a special program at seven o'clock.

West Quincy have announced the engagement of their daughter Alicia Beatrice to Mr. Joseph William Fix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Fix of Dorchester.

Miss Lillian Welsh of Brooklyn, N. Y., is spending a few days as the guest of her cousin, Miss Marion Plinio of Cross street.

Miss Mabel Phillips of West Quincy has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Herrick of East Bridgewater.

Matthew Bryan of West street, an 80 year old teaming contractor, suffered a shock on Adams street Tuesday morning and is at the Quincy City Hospital in a critical condition.

A birthday surprise party was tendered to Mrs. C. J. Shea of 116 Copeland street Monday evening. It was the occasion of her 66th birthday and the evening will be long remembered by her. About twenty-five couples attended and Mrs. Shea was presented with a gold watch and chain by her son, William J. Shea.

The Q. B. W. club and friends were very pleasantly entertained Tuesday evening at the home of their president, Miss Julia Duffy of Garfield street. During the evening vocal selections were rendered by Miss Annie Walsh and Ralph Jones, piano solos by Miss Elizabeth Walsh, piano duet by Miss Walsh and Mr. Smith, violin selections by Mr. Emery, and readings by Miss Duffy and Miss Isabelle Laing. Refreshments were served and a beautiful bouquet presented to the hostess.

The additional car to West Quincy on the 4:20 afternoon trip from City square went into effect Tuesday and was much appreciated. Both the regular and the trailer were well filled.

Mrs. Fred L. Badger of Crescent street is confined to her home by illness.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Trask of West Quincy will be pleased to know that their son Stanley who has been seriously ill with pneumonia is improving.

The playground at the Willard school has been put into excellent condition during the past vacation; projecting sharp pieces of granite have been raked and smoothed and a coating of tarvia has been applied.

Those who participated in the recent musical given under the auspices of Ave Maria council, K. of C., met in the rooms of the council Thursday evening and voted to accept the complimentary banquet to their work. There was a large attendance and the evening was passed with singing, music and dancing.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.

Dr. Dillon E. Bronson held the first quarterly conference at the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church on Friday evening, the usual business of the quarterly conference was transacted.

Frank Dunham of Wollaston was granted a local preacher's license. The official board of the church held a meeting at which the officers of the church were elected for the coming year as follows:—Secretary, S. E. Belcher; Treasurer, George Crothers; Collector, T. Newell Lane; Treasurer of the Benevolence Monies, E. H. Rounet. George Crothers and B. E. Wright were appointed ushers. The finance committee remains as last year with the addition of W. E. Robinson, therefore this committee comprises, George Taylor, Eric Ewertz, L. C. Merrill T. Newell Lane, Albert N. Murray, Arthur B. Cassidy and W. E. Robinson. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Sedgewick and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Merrill were the usual church committee. The board decided to follow the plan of last year for the vacation period, namely that there should be union services with the Congregational and Baptist churches. The union meetings are to begin in church and also three prayer meetings in each church.

Upon the adjournment of the Official Board the pastor and his wife, Rev. George Mervin Bailey tendered a reception in the vestry. In the evening the Rev. Dr. Dillon Bronson, Mr. H. H. Merrill and Rev. Mr. George M. Bailey, Dr. Bronson gave a travel talk which he called "Some of the Greatest Wonders in the World." He began with some of the things that the hand of man has wrought, closing with some of the wonders of the world, such as the Grand Canyon, Yellowstone Park, and the great mountain peaks. Mervin Bailey sang two. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by Miss Marjorie Bailey, Miss Hilda Bailey, and Miss Erlene Waitt.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Inspector of Buildings Thomas issued the following building permits last week:

Matti Leppanen, dwelling, West street.

Eric Johnson, motor cycle house, Dyars street.

Mrs. Honora Forest, garage, Hancock street.

W. H. Collins, hen house, Grant street.

Commiss. addition, Crosby street.

Mrs. Verna Fowler, dwelling, Sachem street.

A. G. Ahlstrom, remodel dwelling, Putnam street.

W. B. Grant, dwelling, Freeman street.

Mike Der Bagdasairan, removal, Fenmore avenue.

Louis H. Mahoney, move dwelling, Conant street.

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 22, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 21.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 144 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Quincy 1915.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LAND FOR SALE

—AT—MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building. Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street. Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY
Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
stock and mutual offices.
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.
HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual
Losses paid in 94 years, $132,991,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.
Cash Capital, $5,000,000.00
Net Surplus, 6,909,289.89
Surplus for Policyholders, $11,909,289.89
Reserve for Re-insurance, $1,000,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, $22,508.94
Reserve for Other Claims, $98,533.74
Total Assets, $22,481,239.34

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.
AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1837
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $9,251,222.10
Cash Assets, 179,041.45
Total Assets, $9,430,263.55
Amount of Cash Surplus, $101,946.98
Contingent Assets, 141,931.33
Total Available Assets, $1,263,878.29

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies 50 per cent; on three-year policies,
30 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DIRECTORS:—Preston R. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Faxon, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Higgins, Franklin; Asa F. French, Brookline; Herbert M. Plimpton, Norwood; Clifford J. Baker, Dedham.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy.

INCORPORATED 1825
Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $5,000,000.00
Cash Assets, 644,729.97
Total Assets, $5,644,729.97
Amount of Cash Surplus, $438,046.98
Contingent Assets, 1,000,000.00
Total Available Assets, $1,438,046.98

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies 50 per cent; on three-year policies,
30 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary.

DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas A. Draper, Canton; William E. Lincoln, Brookline; J. D. Curtis, Quincy; George W. Higgins, Franklin; Asa F. French, Brookline; Herbert M. Plimpton, Norwood; Clifford J. Baker, Dedham.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy.

INCORPORATED 1855
Boston Mutual Fire Insurance Company
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
HOME OFFICE, 118 CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.

DIRECTORS:
William A. Muller, President
D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

Paul R. Blackmer, Attorney
Clarence Burghin, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. Curtis, Vice-President
J. F. Palmer, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis K. Jaggert, Pres. United Drug
Company

Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and So-
licitor.
William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company

Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Daniel F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wild Cattle Co.

Sarrell J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-
Fifth.

900 DROPS
CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of
Dr. J. C. Williams
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
Vegetable Preparation for Infants
Simulating the Food and Regulating
the Stomach and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine, nor Narcotics.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Beware of cheap imitations.
Perfect Remedy for Constipation,
Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea,
Worms, Convulsions, Feverish-
ness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Pac-Safe. Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old—
35 DROPS—35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food and Drug Laws of the United States.
Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of
Dr. J. C. Williams
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.
488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500
Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

A New Floor "Adds A Lot" to The Home

Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company
Offices:
Neponset, Boston
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

NEW CHORAL SOCIETY.
The newly organized Choral society of Skandia lodge, Vasa Order, appeared in a public concert for the first time Saturday night in Electric hall.

The concert followed a whist party, conducted by Skandia lodge at which the winners were Miss Helen Peterson, Miss Almira Carlstrom, John Johnson and Carl Carlson.

A score of members participated in rendering the program which consisted of folk and national songs of Sweden. The society sang without its director. It was well received by those present.

The committee in charge of the evening included members, for the first time, of the Choral Society, John Johnson, chairman; Fritz Olson, secretary and Charles Backman, treasurer.

QUINCY YOGROWING.
Three pairs of twins have been born in Quincy since May 13. The first were girls, born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy at the Quincy City Hospital.

On Saturday the stork left husky twin boys at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bongarzone of Crescent street. The boys will be named Luigi and Rinaldo.

On Sunday one twin was left at the home of Jacob and Esther Constantine of 7 Linden place and Monday morning the second arrived. Both are little girls.

ENTERTAIN FRIENDS.
On Saturday evening Councilman John R. Nelson and Mrs. Nelson entertained about thirty of their friends at their home on Orchard street.

The spacious living room, reception room and dining room were attractively decorated with cut flowers. Dancing was enjoyed to music furnished by a gramophone.

A delicious collation consisting of salads, cold meats, coffee, chocolate and fancy cakes was served at ten thirty.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

THE OLD CELLAR STAIRS.

H. S. K.
A sweet-voiced bird in the lilacs of Jehoram used to hum when he'd light the dip in the same old way.

And say: "It's time, I vum!"
The magic touch of a rapturous thrill would rustle his grizzly hair. When he'd wend his way through the door that led

To the dark old cellar fair.
The steps would squeak and the hinges yell—
The hinges of that old door. But Jehoram minded it not a bit. As he went to the place galore;

The place galore where the turnips rest. And the rutabagas, too. In the beds of sand at the farther end where the cabbage looms in view:

The place galore where the apple bin and the shelves of canned fruit are; On the eastern wall on the way down is The doughnuts' earthen jar.

In the darkest nook of the cellar ways A leg slid up on beams: "In its contents swim, you bet, you bet! The soul of the old man's dreams."

The back stairs squeak in the same old way. The hinges yell once more; And Jehoram comes with a pitcher filled With cider, the same as before.

RUTH'S LEGACY.
When Rodney Dare came home from the war without his strong right arm Ruth Trevor's friends wondered if she would marry him.

"Of course she will," said the friend who knew her best. "Why shouldn't she? He's the same Rodney Dare now that he was when she promised to marry him, isn't he?"

"Yes, but there's a difference," was the reply. "Then he had another arm to fight the battle of life with. Now, well, I suppose it won't make any difference with Ruth. She always was peculiar."

"Thank God for such peculiarity," said her friend. "She wouldn't be the woman I have always believed her to be if she refused to marry him because he lost an arm. She will take his place to him. I know Ruth Trevor too well to believe that the idea has ever occurred to her that this loss need make the slightest difference in their plans."

And her friend was right. When, one day, Rodney Dare said to Ruth: "I have come to tell you that, of course, I do not expect to hold you to your promise to me, under existing circumstances, if you care to withdraw it," she rose up before him with something akin to anger in her face and looked him squarely in the eyes.

"Have I ever given you any reason to think I cared to withdraw it?" she asked.

"No," was the reply. "But when you gave it I was a man. Now I am but part of one."

"I'll take that part of the man that's left," she said. "It is the part that the Rodney Dare I love lives in. Never speak of this to me again," she added. And he never did.

But he would not talk of marriage until he had obtained employment of some sort, and for this he began to fit himself. It was almost like beginning life over in learning to make one arm do the work of two, but he had a brave heart and a strong will, and love stood ready to help him in the times when he felt inclined to become discouraged.

One day Ruth said to him: "I'm going away for a month or two. I've had a letter from Aunt Martha, who lives in the prettiest little country village you ever saw and she wants me to visit her. I shall enjoy a breath of pure air so much. Only I wish you were going with me, Rodney. I shall think of you back here, in the city and feel half ashamed of myself for having such a good time that you cannot share."

"I shall share it in thinking how much good it is doing you," he said. "One does not always have to take part in the pleasure of others to be benefited by them. There's a sort of reflex influence, you know."

"That sounds quite metaphysical," laughed Ruth. "But I think I understand what you mean, and I promise to enjoy myself to the utmost in order that you may feel this 'reflex influence' to the fullest extent."

Before Ruth had been at Aunt Martha's two days she found that she had been invited there for a purpose.

"Your cousin Hugh is coming next week," said Aunt Martha. "I wanted you to meet him. I know you'll like him—at least, I hope you will, and the better you like him the better suited I'll be."

Ruth looked at her questioning. "You wonder what sort of a plan I have in my head, I suppose," said her aunt. "I'm not going to say anything more about it now, but Hugh knows."

"I infer that it is a sort of matrimonial plan," said Ruth. "If it is, put it aside at once! I may like my cousin very much—I hope I shall—but I could not marry him."

"Why?" asked Aunt Martha. "Because I am to marry Rodney Dare," answered Ruth.

"And who is Rodney Dare?" cried Aunt Martha. "Then Ruth told her about her lover."

"A man with one arm!" cried Aunt Martha. "And a poor man, too! You're foolish, Ruth!"

"Perhaps so," said Ruth, quietly, but with a brave steadfastness in her voice. "But, foolish or not, I love him. I have promised to marry him, and I shall keep my word."

"You've got the obstinacy of the Trevors in you," said Aunt Martha, grimly. "But this stubbornness of yours may make a great difference with your future prospects, as well as my plans. I have considerable prop-

THE OLD CELLAR STAIRS.

H. S. K.
A sweet-voiced bird in the lilacs of Jehoram used to hum when he'd light the dip in the same old way.

And say: "It's time, I vum!"
The magic touch of a rapturous thrill would rustle his grizzly hair. When he'd wend his way through the door that led

To the dark old cellar fair.
The steps would squeak and the hinges yell—
The hinges of that old door. But Jehoram minded it not a bit. As he went to the place galore;

The place galore where the turnips rest. And the rutabagas, too. In the beds of sand at the farther end where the cabbage looms in view:

The place galore where the apple bin and the shelves of canned fruit are; On the eastern wall on the way down is The doughnuts' earthen jar.

In the darkest nook of the cellar ways A leg slid up on beams: "In its contents swim, you bet, you bet! The soul of the old man's dreams."

The back stairs squeak in the same old way. The hinges yell once more; And Jehoram comes with a pitcher filled With cider, the same as before.

RUTH'S LEGACY.
When Rodney Dare came home from the war without his strong right arm Ruth Trevor's friends wondered if she would marry him.

"Of course she will," said the friend who knew her best. "Why shouldn't she? He's the same Rodney Dare now that he was when she promised to marry him, isn't he?"

"Yes, but there's a difference," was the reply. "Then he had another arm to fight the battle of life with. Now, well, I suppose it won't make any difference with Ruth. She always was peculiar."

"Thank God for such peculiarity," said her friend. "She wouldn't be the woman I have always believed her to be if she refused to marry him because he lost an arm. She will take his place to him. I know Ruth Trevor too well to believe that the idea has ever occurred to her that this loss need make the slightest difference in their plans."

And her friend was right. When, one day, Rodney Dare said to Ruth: "I have come to tell you that, of course, I do not expect to hold you to your promise to me, under existing circumstances, if you care to withdraw it," she rose up before him with something akin to anger in her face and looked him squarely in the eyes.

"Have I ever given you any reason to think I cared to withdraw it?" she asked.

"No," was the reply. "But when you gave it I was a man. Now I am but part of one."

"I'll take that part of the man that's left," she said. "It is the part that the Rodney Dare I love lives in. Never speak of this to me again," she added. And he never did.

But he would not talk of marriage until he had obtained employment of some sort, and for this he began to fit himself. It was almost like beginning life over in learning to make one arm do the work of two, but he had a brave heart and a strong will, and love stood ready to help him in the times when he felt inclined to become discouraged.

One day Ruth said to him: "I'm going away for a month or two. I've had a letter from Aunt Martha, who lives in the prettiest little country village you ever saw and she wants me to visit her. I shall enjoy a breath of pure air so much. Only I wish you were going with me, Rodney. I shall think of you back here, in the city and feel half ashamed of myself for having such a good time that you cannot share."

"I shall share it in thinking how much good it is doing you," he said. "One does not always have to take part in the pleasure of others to be benefited by them. There's a sort of reflex influence, you know."

"That sounds quite metaphysical," laughed Ruth. "But I think I understand what you mean, and I promise to enjoy myself to the utmost in order that you may feel this 'reflex influence' to the fullest extent."

Before Ruth had been at Aunt Martha's two days she found that she had been invited there for a purpose.

"Your cousin Hugh is coming next week," said Aunt Martha. "I wanted you to meet him. I know you'll like him—at least, I hope you will, and the better you like him the better suited I'll be."

Ruth looked at her questioning. "You wonder what sort of a plan I have in my head, I suppose," said her aunt. "I'm not going to say anything more about it now, but Hugh knows."

"I infer that it is a sort of matrimonial plan," said Ruth. "If it is, put it aside at once! I may like my cousin very much—I hope I shall—but I could not marry him."

"Why?" asked Aunt Martha. "Because I am to marry Rodney Dare," answered Ruth.

"And who is Rodney Dare?" cried Aunt Martha. "Then Ruth told her about her lover."

"A man with one arm!" cried Aunt Martha. "And a poor man, too! You're foolish, Ruth!"

"Perhaps so," said Ruth, quietly, but with a brave steadfastness in her voice. "But, foolish or not, I love him. I have promised to marry him, and I shall keep my word."

"You've got the obstinacy of the Trevors in you," said Aunt Martha, grimly. "But this stubbornness of yours may make a great difference with your future prospects, as well as my plans. I have considerable prop-

THE OLD CELLAR STAIRS.

H. S. K.
A sweet-voiced bird in the lilacs of Jehoram used to hum when he'd light the dip in the same old way.

And say: "It's time, I vum!"
The magic touch of a rapturous thrill would rustle his grizzly hair. When he'd wend his way through the door that led

To the dark old cellar fair.
The steps would squeak and the hinges yell—
The hinges of that old door. But Jehoram minded it not a bit. As he went to the place galore;

The place galore where the turnips rest. And the rutabagas, too. In the beds of sand at the farther end where the cabbage looms in view:

The place galore where the apple bin and the shelves of canned fruit are; On the eastern wall on the way down is The doughnuts' earthen jar.

In the darkest nook of the cellar ways A leg slid up on beams: "In its contents swim, you bet, you bet! The soul of the old man's dreams."

The back stairs squeak in the same old way. The hinges yell once more; And Jehoram comes with a pitcher filled With cider, the same as before.

RUTH'S LEGACY.
When Rodney Dare came home from the war without his strong right arm Ruth Trevor's friends wondered if she would marry him.

"Of course she will," said the friend who knew her best. "Why shouldn't she? He's the same Rodney Dare now that he was when she promised to marry him, isn't he?"

"Yes, but there's a difference," was the reply. "Then he had another arm to fight the battle of life with. Now, well, I suppose it won't make any difference with Ruth. She always was peculiar."

"Thank God for such peculiarity," said her friend. "She wouldn't be the woman I have always believed her to be if she refused to marry him because he lost an arm. She will take his place to him. I know Ruth Trevor too well to believe that the idea has ever occurred to her that this loss need make the slightest difference in their plans."

And her friend was right. When, one day, Rodney Dare said to Ruth: "I have come to tell you that, of course, I do not expect to hold you to your promise to me, under existing circumstances, if you care to withdraw it," she rose up before him with something akin to anger in her face and looked him squarely in the eyes.

"Have I ever given you any reason to think I cared to withdraw it?" she asked.

"No," was the reply. "But when you gave it I was a man. Now I am but part of one."

"I'll take that part of the man that's left," she said. "It is the part that the Rodney Dare I love lives in. Never speak of this to me again," she added. And he never did.

But he would not talk of marriage until he had obtained employment of some sort, and for this he began to fit himself. It was almost like beginning life over in learning to make one arm do the work of two, but he had a brave heart and a strong will, and love stood ready to help him in the times when he felt inclined to become discouraged.

One day Ruth said to him: "I'm going away for a month or two. I've had a letter from Aunt Martha, who lives in the prettiest little country village you ever saw and she wants me to visit her. I shall enjoy a breath of pure air so much. Only I wish you were going with me, Rodney. I shall think of you back here, in the city and feel half ashamed of myself for having such a good time that you cannot share."

"I shall share it in thinking how much good it is doing you," he said. "One does not always have to take part in the pleasure of others to be benefited by them. There's a sort of reflex influence, you know."

"That sounds quite metaphysical," laughed Ruth. "But I think I understand what you mean, and I promise to enjoy myself to the utmost in order that you may feel this 'reflex influence' to the fullest extent."

Before Ruth had been at Aunt Martha's two days she found that she had been invited there for a purpose.

"Your cousin Hugh is coming next week," said Aunt Martha. "I wanted you to meet him. I know you'll like him—at least, I hope you will, and the better you like him the better suited I'll be."

Ruth looked at her questioning. "You wonder what sort of a plan I have in my head, I suppose," said her aunt. "I'm not going to say anything more about it now, but Hugh knows."

"I infer that it is a sort of matrimonial plan," said Ruth. "If it is, put it aside at once! I may like my cousin very much—I hope I shall—but I could not marry him."

"Why?" asked Aunt Martha. "Because I am to marry Rodney Dare," answered Ruth.

"And who is Rodney Dare?" cried Aunt Martha. "Then Ruth told her about her lover."

"A man with one arm!" cried Aunt Martha. "And a poor man, too! You're foolish, Ruth!"

"Perhaps so," said Ruth, quietly, but with a brave steadfastness in her voice. "But, foolish or not, I love him. I have promised to marry him, and I shall keep my word."

"You've got the obstinacy of the Trevors in you," said Aunt Martha, grimly. "But this stubbornness of yours may make a great difference with your future prospects, as well as my plans. I have considerable prop-

ADAMS SCHOOL 1880.

"The facts relating to the European war should be taught in the schools and this would not be a violation of neutrality. The policy of silence being pursued in the interests of neutrality make for ignorance on an important question in history."

So declared City Clerk Emory L. Crane, acting mayor during the absence of Mayor Campbell, at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers association of the Adams school May 17th.

At the close of the meeting, Alfred J. P. Pined retired from the presidency and John E. Higgins took office as his successor.

John D. MacKay, chairman of the school committee and a well known attorney, took occasion to speak on the location of the school building and Supt. A. L. Harbour spoke of the openings for ambitious boys.

Acting Mayor Crane said statistics show that more lumber is being delivered in Quincy for building purposes than in any of the other cities of the state and with the increase in population will come larger problems for the school committee to solve.

Among the many laughs he created was his compliment to the present school committee when he said he believed the personnel to be high and the best yet with the exception of the one of which he was chairman some years ago. He paid a high compliment to Supt. Harbour for his energetic work.

Mr. Crane urged that the facts relating to the war be taught in the schools and said that it would not be a violation of neutrality. He said the policy of silence being pursued by the schools in the interests of neutrality made for ignorance on an important question in history.

Chairman MacKay after complimenting the association and ward on having a building which expressed the last word in school architecture said that if the location was all right could be desired the board disclaims credit for it because it had nothing to do with choosing the lot. If on the other hand it is not well placed and is unsatisfactory then the board can say as Macbeth did the ghost of Banquo, "You cannot say we did it," for the board favored another location, less expensive, in another locality and more accessible. He pleaded for more authority for teachers in the matter of discipline because of the growing disregard of authority on the part of the youth of today and because the school was the place to stop it.

Supt. Harbour said it was one of the pleasing diversions of a hard job to be permitted to talk face to face with parents on such occasions and he said he appreciated the privilege. Boys, he said, are now congesting a few of the well known occupations and there is a great deal of mediocrity. There are many openings for boys today and many of them are not generally known and it is the policy of the school department to direct attention to the new channels of employment. He mentioned a few of the openings and also advanced the practical idea that the boys be impressed with the case with which they can pursue studies after leaving grammar school, even without money. It is the easiest thing in the world he said to get an education if one has the proper amount of energy.

A collation was served at the close of the meeting and an entertainment was rendered by Miss Fanny Weinhouse of the Washington school, Miss Julia Weinhouse of the Washington school, and David Weinhouse of Quincy High school. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Celina Bellevue. She was accompanied by Miss Hartney, one of her pupils.

NEW POLICE CAPS.
The entire police force of Quincy appeared Sunday for the first time in the new bell shaped military caps which take the place of the old-style helmet, the new buttons and new cap devices.

The caps and buttons were ordered a short time ago following a conference between Mayor Campbell and Acting Chief McKay and the change was a welcome one to the men. In all, 41 sets of buttons were issued, 31 for the regular patrolmen and ten to the reserve officers. The cap devices and buttons are the property of the city. No provision has as yet been made for special officers.

The numbers consist of two divisions the first signifying Station 1 and the next the order of appointment. All numbers are in the order of appointment. The numbers given the reserve officers commence with 151. In case of a vacancy there will be a swapping of numbers, each man moving up one.

John Halloran, house officer at headquarters night, tops the list of regular men with 101. Daniel Shea is at the head of the reserve officers with 151.

101—John Halloran, 102—James W. Murray, 103—George A. Cahill, 104—Jeremiah J. Hinchon, 105—Patrick A. Milford, 106—Michael Donovan, 107—Charles T. Crocker, 108—Charles A. Broberg, 109—Edward J. Curtin, 110—Charles Olson, 111—Daniel H. Doran, 112—Henry F. Riley, 113—Jeremiah Dinneen, 114—Daniel J. Ford, 115—John C. Duffy, 116—George F. Phillips, 117—Henry W. Thorne, 118—John T. Duane, 119—David L. Farrell, 120—James H. Whelan, 121—Henry F. Corbett, 122—John J. Avery, 123—Jeremiah J. Dhoogue, 124—Thomas A. Malone, 125—Alex T. Black, 126—James McNamara, 127—M. Francis Canavan, 128—Nils Dahlberg, 129—Joseph Sweeney, 130—William J. Herbert, 131—Walter Ferguson.

RESERVE OFFICERS.
151—Daniel Shea, 152—George Fallon, 153—Joseph Delorey, 154—Jeremiah Connelley, 155—William Taylor, 1

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MAY 22, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Friday
ALMANAC	4.17	4.18	4.19	4.20	4.21	4.22
Sunday	22	23	24	25	26	27
Monday	28	29	30	31	1	2
Tuesday	3	4	5	6	7	8
Wednesday	9	10	11	12	13	14
Thursday	15	16	17	18	19	20
Friday	21	22	23	24	25	26

See America on your vacation this year—it is worth seeing.

Early autumn are doing a poor job of warming up the lake.

American neutrality is in danger of being torpedoed.

Do not criticize the weather. Give Still Bill a chance to improve it.

Finger prints now being taken of money men serve to link up tight fingered gentry significantly with the Derwinton theory.

There is also the pneumatic drill. If it could be ground round it would make a fine golf ball.

A citizen who knows offhand all the different kinds of taxes he pays is something of an expert on Government as well as a mathematician.

It is suggested by the "F. H. C." that Booker Washington be made Governor of Haiti. We are willing, but how about Haiti and Hayti?

Prof. Taft argues that the United States should adopt the budget system of spending his money, thus introducing a little business efficiency. This is a good idea even if it is not new.

The Liberty Bell is in such demand that we might adopt a European plan and provide duplicates. How many papers contain the bones of Columbus?

CITY IS OVERPAID

It is claimed that the inspectors who have been looking over Quincy trying to find money tax dodgers, have cost the city more than they have saved.

With the city overpaid from one half to one third it is not to be wondered at that the inspectors expected to dig up more money returns here but people with incomes could not pay an income tax are not living in a city overpaid to Quincy. Is any one else overpaid?

To be sure Quincy is growing but it is a natural growth not from any encouragement. It just cannot help growing, and each year the population is more than doubled. The city is a natural character of years ago.

The houses are less substantial, many being cheaply built to sell. Substantial homes and substantial people are not wanted. Money is diverted from Quincy by exorbitant costs.

Money is being poured into the great mill at the city and the tax payer pays. The Assessors have to dig up the money and each year the tax bill grows larger. The trouble cannot be shouldered onto the assessors if they do not spend the money, there is the unpleasant duty of assessing property for enough to pay the city's bills. To be sure of enough they assess full value and a little more for full measure.

In this way Quincy is overpaid and burdened with increased taxes, and the income tax payers are here looking for money that only exists on paper or in the hands of a few.

What is the remedy? Business houses sometimes consider an efficient way to inspect their plant. Perhaps Quincy needs professionals to assess its valuations. One can talk "boom Quincy" but there will be no great boom as long as present conditions prevail, and it is well to realize it.

Perhaps as John B. Graham, a former resident, when interviewed on a recent visit to the city said, "Our present assessors may be equal to the task. If the tax rate must go to $30, let's have it, but let us also have a fair value in the city."

Live and let live. Encourage home industries, and investments. Money invested in real estate is entitled to reasonable dividends, the same as in stocks or bonds, more so for the city benefits by the real estate investment.

QUINCY YACHT CLUB

The season of 1915 of the Quincy Yacht Club, which by the way, is its 41st opening as the club was organized by back in 1874, was officially opened Wednesday evening at the club house with a smoker. As usual the event which opens the season was very largely attended and a grand good time was enjoyed by all. A special electric car leaving Quincy at 7:40 took many of the Quincy members and friends to the clubhouse, and it was but a little after 6 o'clock when they were called to order in the assembly hall by Commodore Harry S. Crane.

Commodore Crane extended a most cordial welcome to the members and their friends and predicted a most successful season. He stated that some improvements had been made and that the members would find when they came to the club that a new era had been built on the south side and that the boats had been lengthened. There were also other improvements which he hoped they would enjoy.

He also called attention to a circular issued by the Harbor Department relative to moorings on boats. This law the notice stated, would be strictly enforced the coming season and said that any motor boat whose exhaust could be heard 1,000 feet away would be considered violating the law. He also called attention to the cabaret show to be held at the club house by the Associated Charities May 28.

Harry Winslow was then introduced as chief announcer of the entertainment, which was by some of his personal friends.

At the conclusion of the entertainment an adjournment was made to the lower floor where hot clam chowder, oysters, cheese and coffee were served.

To those interested in lightning fixtures for their homes and summer cottages, the display of fixtures shown by McKenney & Waterbury, Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston is worthy of consideration.

MONTCLAIR SCHOOL.

The Parent-Teachers' Association of the Montclair school held their May meeting in the school building on Tuesday evening, Theodore F. Parlee, the president, called the meeting to order and after the reading of the secretary's report by Mr. Harding, Mr. Parlee announced that Mrs. Baker had been made chairman of the committee on reciprocity. Mr. Slay, chairman of the hospitality committee, Mr. McCabe, chairman of the entertainment committee and Mrs. Olson, chairman of the committee on benevolence.

Mayor Chester I. Campbell was then introduced and gave a clear, concise and straight forward address. The mayor said that a delegation from the Montclair Improvement Association had waited upon him Monday evening and had presented requests and that rarely before had a committee of such a sort been so pleasing and convincing as this one. One of the needs brought forward by this delegation was that of a police officer for the Montclair section.

The police budget had been gone in it seemed impossible to grant the request unless the need was very urgent. The committee, however, convinced the mayor of the need and a police officer was immediately placed on duty and will report from Montclair each week.

Mr. Campbell said he was sure he had made one round at least because he had not him when he was coming to the school. The Montclair delegation also requested that something be done about the tide gate which had been closed for some time. The mayor also agreed to that and have the gate rebuilt. The mayor suggested that the city be requested to place a permanent police officer in Montclair another year.

There may be a slight increase in the water rate this year. Each year the water department has been running behind at the rate of about thirty thousand dollars. In past years this deficiency has been included in the tax rate. Past administrations have allowed this to go on, possibly because they have not known what the cost of the water had been. About forty per cent of the water used is wasted on account of old or faulty construction. Another great waste of water has been because the water used by particular departments has been charged up to these departments. For instance, the fire department used millions of gallons a year. The fire department and school department also use large amounts. Hereafter the water department will be credited with the water used by these departments. If after a little while the water rate is found to be this is the right thing to do. It will eliminate thirty thousand dollars from the taxes and increase the water rate.

"The city debt has been reduced thirty-two thousand dollars so far and if the next administration follows on the policy of practical economy, not only the city debt but the water rate, the debt can be reduced seventy-five thousand more next year and a hundred and fifty thousand dollars the year after that."

Mayor Campbell congratulated the association on the work already done in this section and said that he should have deemed it wise to make any recommendations to the school committee or any other department he could help them in any way he considered right.

Mrs. Louise Holbrook, who presented a "Mourning Veil" by Beano, and "The Swallows" by Coven and her well received, especially her two Irish dances. She was accompanied by her pupil, Francis McCabe, who also played two piano solos with remarkable brilliancy and execution.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Olson, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Dineen.

Joseph McCabe auctioned off the cakes which were left over from the refreshments. Among other kinds of refreshments were sold in small cake with cream and a pound cake with all sorts of fruit. The sum of $157 was realized from the sale.

The next meeting of the association will be held on the third Tuesday in October.

Perfect weather conditions Thursday evening helped to make the supper given by the Woman's Guild in St. Christopher's church a success. The members also held a small sale during the afternoon.

The decorations were most beautiful, potatoes, peas, all kinds of relishes, hot rolls, coffee, ice cream and delicious home made cake. The supper tickets were limited to the seating capacity. The excellence of the supper and the serving was up to the standard. The committee was headed by Mrs. Herbert H. Allen and Mrs. Daniel C. Miller, assisted by Mrs. George H. Bean, Mrs. Alice J. Bainbridge, Mrs. Frederick I. Bent, Mrs. Edwin J. Coleman, Mrs. William J. Croucher, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Drew, Mrs. Benjamin A. Hobson, Mrs. George Horie, Mrs. Frederick A. Kelley, Mrs. Ellis M. McFar, Mrs. George J. Poch, Mrs. George F. S. Pearce, Mrs. H. James Pusley, Mrs. Herbert F. Price, Mrs. Roland A. Thayer, Mrs. Frederick W. Shultz, Mrs. Frank J. Aulbach, and the Misses Dorothy Bean, Gladys E. Parlee and Marion E. Orr.

Mrs. J. Willard Hallett sold ice cream; at the candy table was Miss Christine Fowler, Miss Bernice A. Hobson and Mrs. Herbert L. Packard; Mrs. Herbert C. Love presided over a pure pot table which was closed at 10:30; at the children's table were Mrs. H. Kneeland Ellis and Mrs. L. Allen; Mrs. Theodore Parker was in charge of the linen table; Mrs. Percy L. Davidson and Mrs. Frank E. Cleveland household table; the Misses Helen and Mrs. Arthur Stanley sold aprons; at the baby table were Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra, Mrs. Horace W. Richmond and Mrs. John Ramsey, Mrs. John E. Walter sold picture post cards of the church and parish house; also took orders for the coming year for the church. Mrs. William Klingenbagen was kept busy sharpening scissors, her gown was a vivid representation of many circumstances and attracted much attention.

At nine o'clock the floor was cleared for dancing.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

QUINCY SCHOOL ASSO.

The annual meeting of the Quincy school Parents' Teachers' association was held Tuesday evening in the assembly hall which was filled to its capacity.

The meeting was called to order by the president, William F. Cummings, who made a few introductory remarks. The secretary-treasurer's report was read and accepted after which the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Herbert B. Beaman. 1st Vice—Mrs. John R. Nelson. 2nd Vice—Charles A. Stearns. Secretary-Treasurer—Miss Mabel E. Lovejoy.

Board of Directors—Henry B. Barnham, Mrs. Eugene J. Hayford, William Coulson, Robert E. O'Doherty, William F. Cummings.

The newly elected president made a few remarks after which the following program was rendered:

Play—Little Boy Blue, by pupils from Grade 1B. Play-Songs representing auto, train and Sandman, by pupils from Grade 1A.

What Mrs. White Had Found in her Nest and How the Bear Lost his Tail by pupils from Grades 2 and 3. Song—Telephone, Grade 2.

Play—Goats in the Turnip Field, pupils Grade 3. Play—Dances—Annie Kennedy. Play—The Court of Spring, by Grade 4.

Song—Gently Rest by double trio from Grade 6. Violin Solo—Robert Grant. Play—Meg and the Gypsies, Grades 6 and 7.

Violin Solo—Mildred Newman, accompanied by Alice Dixon at piano. Folk dances were given by pupils from grades 4, 5, 6 and 7 under the direction of Miss Mabel E. Lovejoy. The remarkable degree of excellence which these dances were rendered was proof of splendid training the pupils had received.

FOUR DANCES. German Club Dance. Today's First of May. Shoe-maker's Dance. The Polka. Mountain Maid. Ribbon Dance. Highland Schottische. Swedish Club Dance. Irish Jig. Hot Mother Annie. Swiss Jumps—(Clowns).

Miss Helen H. Allen, Miss Ethel Humphrey, accompanied at the piano.

ANNIVERSARY DAY. Rev. Willis H. Gorman preached on "The Law of the Higher Life," at the Sunday morning service of the Hall Place M. E. church.

It being Epworth League Anniversary Day, the Epworth League meeting at 7 P. M. was omitted. At the evening service the Epworth League presented a special anniversary program entitled "The Call of Pentecost," which included readings and stories by various members of the Epworth League, responsive readings and special music.

The program was divided into five parts covering the work of the four departments and the Junior League; Pentecost as a Preparation for Christian Character and Service; "Pentecost as a Preparation for World Conquest"; "Pentecost as a Preparation for Social Service"; "Pentecost as a Preparation for Recreational Service"; and "Pentecost for the Children."

This was the twenty-sixth anniversary of the Epworth League and the eighteenth and eighty-sixth anniversary of Pentecost. At the conclusion of the program the following officers were installed by the pastor: President—Arthur Jordan.

1st Vice President—Ernest Briggs. 2nd Vice President—Rita Hunter. 3rd Vice President—Miss Newcomb. 4th Vice President—Robert McCormick.

Secretary—Edna Miller. Treasurer—Bessie Nichols. Junior League Supt.—Mrs. McNeill.

PERFECT WEATHER. Thursday evening helped to make the supper given by the Woman's Guild in St. Christopher's church a success. The members also held a small sale during the afternoon.

The decorations were most beautiful, potatoes, peas, all kinds of relishes, hot rolls, coffee, ice cream and delicious home made cake. The supper tickets were limited to the seating capacity. The excellence of the supper and the serving was up to the standard. The committee was headed by Mrs. Herbert H. Allen and Mrs. Daniel C. Miller, assisted by Mrs. George H. Bean, Mrs. Alice J. Bainbridge, Mrs. Frederick I. Bent, Mrs. Edwin J. Coleman, Mrs. William J. Croucher, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Drew, Mrs. Benjamin A. Hobson, Mrs. George Horie, Mrs. Frederick A. Kelley, Mrs. Ellis M. McFar, Mrs. George J. Poch, Mrs. George F. S. Pearce, Mrs. H. James Pusley, Mrs. Herbert F. Price, Mrs. Roland A. Thayer, Mrs. Frederick W. Shultz, Mrs. Frank J. Aulbach, and the Misses Dorothy Bean, Gladys E. Parlee and Marion E. Orr.

Mrs. J. Willard Hallett sold ice cream; at the candy table was Miss Christine Fowler, Miss Bernice A. Hobson and Mrs. Herbert L. Packard; Mrs. Herbert C. Love presided over a pure pot table which was closed at 10:30; at the children's table were Mrs. H. Kneeland Ellis and Mrs. L. Allen; Mrs. Theodore Parker was in charge of the linen table; Mrs. Percy L. Davidson and Mrs. Frank E. Cleveland household table; the Misses Helen and Mrs. Arthur Stanley sold aprons; at the baby table were Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra, Mrs. Horace W. Richmond and Mrs. John Ramsey, Mrs. John E. Walter sold picture post cards of the church and parish house; also took orders for the coming year for the church. Mrs. William Klingenbagen was kept busy sharpening scissors, her gown was a vivid representation of many circumstances and attracted much attention.

At nine o'clock the floor was cleared for dancing.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcia A. Damon wife of Amos E. Damon, was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home, 39 Edwards street. The services were conducted by Rev. Adolph Lathrop, Hudson of the First Parish church and in accordance with a wish of the family were private. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

WOMEN'S CLUBS FEDERATION.

Thursday saw the completion of one year of existence of the Quincy Federation of Women's clubs and in observance of the anniversary open house was kept at the new recreation rooms in the Adams Academy building from half past two until five o'clock. The rooms were attractive with bunches of lilacs, wisteria and pink rose peonies and each guest was marshaled by the hostess, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, with a boutonniere of lilacs of the valley.

The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Quincy; Mrs. H. M. Hinton, Quincy; Mrs. George P. Spooner, Riverside club. The third group was made up of representatives of clubs associated with the Federation, the representatives being Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Unity Circle King's Daughters; Mrs. S. L. Beal and Mrs. W. F. Houghton, Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. M. A. C. Mrs. P. R. Blackman and Miss Hill the Hospital Aid association; Mrs. Thomas Fenn, the Associated Charities and Miss Mildred Hinton the young Women's club. The ushers were chairmen of committees, waiting for the retiring president, Mrs. Edwin L. Beale, five years of faithful services. An engraved testimonial was presented her by Mrs. W. F. Cummings of Atlantic, who spoke of Mrs. Beale's untiring efforts to promote the success of the Auxiliary.

The May meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the Adams Academy building. The program was used for the informal reception which preceded the exercises of the afternoon, there being three groups to receive. In the first were the officers of the Federation, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. R. F. Trumper, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. George W. Sweet, and Mrs. Francis Able, Jr. The second group was made up of present and retired presidents of clubs in the Federation, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Wollaston, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith,

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MAY 22, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at:
The Patriot Office,
Brown & Co.,
H. P. Kittredge,
J. P. O'Brien,
C. F. Carlson,
L. A. Cook,
H. H. I. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Shank's Periodical Store,
Thomas Garney, Branches & Martens,
Peter L. Littlefield,
H. H. Doble & Co.,
Edward F. Drohan,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. S. Hamers,
South Terminal Station,
Quincy,
City Square,
23 Hancock St.,
Quincy Depot,
Quincy Point,
Quincy Point,
Atlantic,
Atlantic,
Quincy Adams,
West Quincy,
East Quincy,
Boston.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Jacob Ames to Minnie Kuperman, Massachusetts avenue.
Catherine L. Boyden et al to Ella G.
Amsden, Speakeman street.
Aaron P. Brest to George E. Kimball, Larrow street.
Adella L. Brown to Axel G. Ahlstrom,
Putnam street.
Henry B. Brown to Axel G. Ahlstrom,
Putnam street.
Mary Carey to Honoria E. Parker, et al, Upland road.
Forbes Craig to Maggie H. Smith,
Trafford street.
Joseph B. Dimock to Frances A.
Crocker, Willow street.
Wilton A. Dunham to Frank H. Col-
Adams shore.
Wilton A. Dunham to Thomas A.
Faulds, Houghs Neck.
Wilton A. Dunham to Florence B.
Hales, Houghs Neck.
Wilton A. Dunham to Frank H. Col-
by, Houghs Neck.
Ella M. Freeman to William G. Olson, Beach street.
George Gauthier to James H. Cook,
Franklin street.
William J. Gilfeather et al to Andrew Stepin et al, Madison street.
Gustaf B. Gustafson to Anna J. Spof-ford, Adams shore.
Florence B. Hales to Charles A.
MacDermid, Houghs Neck.
Edith L. Haynes to Warren E.
Smith, Houghs Neck.
Leroy M. Hill to Arthur M. Claffee,
W. Elm avenue.
Ida M. Howard to Edward H. Howard, Flynt street.
Marguerite M. Lord to William N.
Swain, North Central avenue.
James H. McDermott to Frank Nyroos, Vine avenue.
Albert Nelson to Andrew J. Johnson, Cherry avenue.
James E. Newsum to Margaret A.
Saunders, Vassall street.
John A. Paakkari to Archibald Parsons et al, Weedon place and a way.
Luigi Quintiliani to Teresa B. Pagani, West street, Trask avenue.
Arthur F. Raymond to Marion S.
Rums, Prospect avenue.
William E. Robinson et al to Carrie A. Rogers, Suffolk road.
Harlow H. Emery to East Weymouth
Savings Bank, off Sea street.
Harlow H. Rogers to East Weymouth Savings Bank, off Sea street.
Hyman Samson to Bessie Samson, Quincy street.
Alice A. Sanford to Raymond F.
Hopper et al, Billings road.
Charles R. Sherman to John M.
Hall, Ridgeway street.
Charles R. Sherman to Clifford B.
Wright.
Maggie H. Smith to William A.
Smith, Trafford street.
Caro W. Story to Henry E. Dodge, 2nd, Cottage street.
William N. Swain to George W.
Lord et al, North Central avenue.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETS

The regular business meeting of the Epworth league was held in the vestry of the Hall place M. E. church Monday evening with a large attendance of the young people. Reports were received and accepted from the third and fourth vice presidents and the treasurer.

The entertainment committee reported on the entertainment recently held, showing splendid work done and a good sum of money netted.

A rising vote of thanks was given those who helped make the entertainment a success. The chairman, of the committee, Arthur Williams, reported that the cast had invitations to give the play "Sally Lunn" at the Wollaston M. E. church and at the Atlantic M. E. church and asked that permission be given that the cast go in the name of the league, which was granted.

After the business session a social hour was enjoyed and games were played. Ice cream and cake were served by the fourth vice president.

TO STAMP OUT ARSON.

Chief Billings, in common with all the fire chiefs of the Metropolitan district, has received the following letter from Fire Commissioner O'Keefe: Friday, February 12, 1915, a fire occurred at 41 Charles street, in which the building was burned in four distinct places. Complaint was made against S. Horowitz and he was arrested on the charge of arson. Last Saturday in Salem, Horowitz was found guilty and sentenced to not less than three years and not more than four years in prison.

Arson is rampant in the metropolitan district. I am commencing a campaign to stamp it out. Will you make a special effort to bring to light and into the courts suspicious cases in your city or town? Let us all equal the splendid work done by Chief Chase in the Horowitz case. When the cause of a fire is "Unknown" we should make keen search for a probable culprit.

TENDER SHOWER.

Miss Bessie Brooks was tendered a miscellaneous shower by the Delta Sigma club, of which she is a member, at the home of her mother, Mrs.
Harry Brooks on Glendale road, Saturday afternoon. The afternoon was passed in playing cards, after which a dainty luncheon was served.
Included in the articles showered on the prospective bride were pieces of cut glass, silverware, linen and other useful and handsome pieces.

Miss Brooks in June will become the bride of Malcolm Hinkley of Atlantic.

CITY COUNCIL.

Monday night's meeting of the city council was called to order at 8 o'clock and the president was called to the chair. The meeting was held in the council chamber and was attended by the council members and a number of citizens. The council members were presented by the president and the meeting was called to order.

This started a lively debate in which the council members in general were presented by the president and the meeting was called to order.

In offering his order Councilman Smith said there had been more or less of the fire department.

If the stories were true the citizens should be told. If not the department should be informed. "There is a department costing the city $40,000 a year and if it is entitled to credit,
it should receive it," he declared.

This brought Chief Engineer Billings to his feet. He said that in regard to the offer of the auto chemical to take the place of the damaged by accident he was told by the company that it would be a sale. He had no money to buy new apparatus and therefore the offer had to be turned down. Speaking of the accident to the auto chemical he said that both men on the apparatus were experts and held licenses as chauffeurs. They were teaching one man the use of the levers when the steering gear went wrong. This was something that was likely to happen to any apparatus.

The men on the machine were good men, who did not drink a drop and were faithful. The breaking of the steering gear could not be helped. All of the men of the department were faithful, willing if necessary to sacrifice their lives to duty. In conclusion he said he would welcome any investigation.

Mayor Campbell said that he was present when the matter of the offer of the La France Company was made and that he was told that the city would buy the car and delivered in Quincy it would mean a purchase. He had no objection to an investigation.

Councilman Beeman opposed the appointment of a special committee. "It looks like a lack of confidence in the fire department committee," he declared. "Unless there is some good reason which I have not heard there is no need of an investigation."

Councilman McDonald "It is hardly fair to take this out of the hands of the fire committee."

Councilman Ross: "I have investigated the accident and it could not be helped. I am only glad that the apparatus was not responding to a fire at the time I have heard some talk of Saturday's fire. The fire committee have handled all matters referred to it. If the council wants the fire committee to go into the matter it will be only too glad to do so."

In reply to a question Chief Billings said: "At the West Quincy fire there were five lines of hose in use and plenty of pressure to throw over the derrick."

Councilman Craig asked the chief if he thought it would not be better to have the Atlantic chemical at the central station during the time the other was being repaired.

In reply Chief Billings said: "No that piece of apparatus has to cover the city and it is not at the end of the city, and should get there quickly."

Councilman Smith: "This is not a muckraking proposition. It is to get results. Such an investigation as was proposed could not help but do good."
He then called attention to the provisions of the revised laws about investigations which permit special committees appointed to investigate to summon witnesses and administer the oath.

The motion was then put on adoption of the order and it was declared not a vote. Councilman Smith doubted the vote but it was put to a verification there were tons of talk.
Councilman McGrath spoke of the condition of the fire alarm and hoses.
He favored an investigation in order that details might be gone into. "Until we get a survey of the department we can never work intelligently," he said. "In view of the financial condition of the city we should find out what is the most needed, an apparatus or a new alarm system. I favor the appointment of the committee proposed as the citizens have a right to know conditions. The reports of city officials are not entirely satisfactory to me. I should be told the exact condition of matters. Why not go into the matter thoroughly and put the department on a proper plan."

Councilman Bolster: "The fire department committee is composed of five men all interested but it has not had the power to investigate. This matter should not be taken from their hands."

Councilman Barnicot could not see the need of taking this matter from the hands of the regular committee.
"Give them the same power you would give a special committee," he urged.
Councilman Ross felt that the fire committee would go into the matter thoroughly. The matter of repair of engine houses was in the hands of the Commissioner. The fire committee has had but a few orders this year and it has given them proper attention. No special committee can do any better than this committee can do. This committee went into the matter of fire alarm and apparatus and reported for two pieces. "We are fortunate in having a member of the council, Councilman Griffin, an expert electrician, who is investigating the fire alarm, and he will soon make his report on the system," he pointed out.

Councilman McGrath: "We should not close to the press strings. I do not think it matters who makes the survey. If the department equipment is not in condition it should be replaced."

Councilman Craig moved that the order be amended so as to make the investigating committee the regular fire committee with the president of the council.

Councilman Smith: "If any investigating is to be done it should be done right. The act, Chapter 175, provides that special committees may summons witnesses and administer the oath. I do not want to criticize. Here we have a department in which $150,000 is invested. If there is a lack of efficiency we should know it. Continuing.
Councilman Smith said that people had come to him with stories and whether they were right or wrong they should be looked into and if the department is all right it should be given credit.

A question arose at this point if the appointment of a special committee would be the meaning of the law and City Solicitor Pinkham was called upon. City Solicitor Pinkham said that appointing the president to a committee established by the rules of the council made it a special committee, but he declined to give a ruling of hand as to the statute read as he had not consulted it.

This caused more debate, after which the order was laid on the table and a recess taken while the city solicitor went down stairs to consult the law. Upon his return he gave it as his opinion that it did comply with the law.

The amendment was then adopted.
The fire department question again came up for considerable discussion a few minutes later when the order appropriating $11,000 for an auto hook & ladder truck and an auto chemical came up for its final passage.

During this debate President Whiton called Councilman O'Dowd to the chair and taking the floor argued in favor of the purchase of two pieces of apparatus. Councilman McGrath favored the purchase of one piece and order on the table until later.

Councilman Smith also began to question Chief Billings about the West Quincy fire of Saturday night but was called to order by the president who said that he was conducting an investigation delegated to the special committee.

During this debate Chief Billings said: "It would save the city money.
The tractor purchased last year made a saving of $1,000 a year. The horses at the central station are in bad shape and unless the apparatus was motorized six new horses must be purchased. The horses are not safe for a man to mount. They have been in use for 16 years and are worn out.
If a new auto chemical is purchased
I intend to locate it at the central station and send the hose 1 combination truck to West Quincy."

President Whiton from the floor argued at length in favor of the purchase of two pieces of apparatus. Councilman Beeman also favored two pieces while Councilman Bolster favored one piece.

During this debate it was brought out that one of the horses at the central station was blind, another spayed and in fact all of them were worn out.

Councilman Richards hoped the order would pass. It had been gone into thoroughly by the finance committee.

Councilman Gallagher said that he had been familiar with fire department matters since boyhood as his father was a former Boston fireman. "Any man with half an eye should see the need of two pieces of apparatus. Much of our apparatus today is a joke. This city is building up fast and it is absolutely necessary that the department should be kept up."

The motion to lay on the table was then lost by a rising vote of 7 yes to 11 no and after a little more debate the order was passed to be resolved by a roll call vote of 14 yes and 8 no.

The money for the apparatus will be provided for in a supplementary budget.

Under communications the Mayor forwarded a letter from the owners of the estate of William J. Williams bequeathing the city the sum of $400 for perpetual care of his cemetery lot and for flowers for the lot. Later Councilman Richards offered an order accepting the legacy which was referred to the finance committee.

An invitation was received from the Grand Army inviting the Aid society and members of the council to meet at
G. A. R. headquarters tonight.

Petitions from the pole companies for locations and attachments were received.

The Mayor also sent a communication recommending the sum of $500 to equip the Ward Six playground and later an order was offered which was referred to a joint committee. This will be provided for in the supplementary budget.

Public hearings were held at 8 and 8.15 on petitions for pole locations on Squam street and for the granting of the Citizens Gas Light Co. a location for mains. Later orders for these matters were offered by Councilman O'Dowd.

A communication was received from the Republican city committee thanking the council for its favorable action in passing the Machine Gun Company order.

A large number of applications for gasoline permits were received and a hearing ordered for June 7. Also a large number of applications for minor licenses which were referred to the committee.

The street committee recommended that the sidewalk order for $8,500
be recommitted to the street committee. Later the street committee asked for a recess of five minutes after which it reported a new sidewalk order for $9,200. The new order eliminates the gravel sidewalks in the original order making some of them
granolithic and cutting out others.
Notably Pleasant street and that part
of Copeland street in front of the property of E. H. Doble. It also added East Squantum street to the schedule. The order was referred to the finance committee.

The sewers and drains committee
reported an amendment to the order
for surface drainage adding Sixth avenue and Sagamore street, adding $3,000 Referred to finance committee.

The street committee reported order that the sidewalk order for $8,500
be recommitted to the street commit-
tee. Later the street committee asked
for a recess of five minutes after
which it reported a new sidewalk order for $9,200. The new order elimi-
nates the gravel sidewalks in the original order making some of them
granolithic and cutting out others.
Notably Pleasant street and that part
of Copeland street in front of the property of E. H. Doble. It also added East Squantum street to the schedule. The order was referred to
the finance committee.

The sewers and drains committee
reported an amendment to the order
for surface drainage adding Sixth
avenue and Sagamore street, adding $3,000 Referred to finance committee.

The street committee reported order that the sidewalk order for $8,500
be recommitted to the street commit-
tee. Later the street committee asked
for a recess of five minutes after
which it reported a new sidewalk order for $9,200. The new order elimi-
nates the gravel sidewalks in the original order making some of them
granolithic and cutting out others.
Notably Pleasant street and that part
of Copeland street in front of the property of E. H. Doble. It also added East Squantum street to the schedule. The order was referred to
the finance committee.

The sewers and drains committee
reported an amendment to the order
for surface drainage adding Sixth
avenue and Sagamore street, adding $3,000 Referred to finance committee.

The street committee reported order that the sidewalk order for $8,500
be recommitted to the street commit-
tee. Later the street committee asked
for a recess of five minutes after
which it reported a new sidewalk order for $9,200. The new order elimi-
nates the gravel sidewalks in the original order making some of them
granolithic and cutting out others.
Notably Pleasant street and that part
of Copeland street in front of the property of E. H. Doble. It also added East Squantum street to the schedule. The order was referred to
the finance committee.

The sewers and drains committee
reported an amendment to the order
for surface drainage adding Sixth
avenue and Sagamore street, adding $3,000 Referred to finance committee.

The street committee reported order that the sidewalk order for $8,500
be recommitted to the street commit-
tee. Later the street committee asked
for a recess of five minutes after
which it reported a new sidewalk order for $9,200. The new order elimi-
nates the gravel sidewalks in the original order making some of them
granolithic and cutting out others.
Notably Pleasant street and that part
of Copeland street in front of the property of E. H. Doble. It also added East Squantum street to the schedule. The order was referred to
the finance committee.

The sewers and drains committee
reported an amendment to the order
for surface drainage adding Sixth
avenue and Sagamore street, adding $3,000 Referred to finance committee.

The street committee reported order that the sidewalk order for $8,500
be recommitted to the street commit-
tee. Later the street committee asked
for a recess of five minutes after
which it reported a new sidewalk order for $9,200. The new order elimi-
nates the gravel sidewalks in the original order making some of them
granolithic and cutting out others.
Notably Pleasant street and that part
of Copeland street in front of the property of E. H. Doble. It also added East Squantum street to the schedule. The order was referred to
the finance committee.

$2,000 for rebuilding part of Lowry street.

$200 for culvert on East Squantum street.

$4,000 for rebuilding part of Independence avenue.

$4,000 for rebuilding Hall place.

$3,000 for rebuilding a part of Atlantic street.

$5,000 for rebuilding Beale street near the Milton end.

$5,000 for rebuilding Rock Island road.

All referred to finance committee.

Councilman Craig offered an order for $500 to provide a covering for Sachem brook. To sewer committee.

Councilman Bolster offered an order for a light on Presidents avenue.

Councilman Prescott offered an order for $1,700 for the establishment of a dispensary for incipient tuberculosis patients. To committee on health.

Adjourned at 11 o'clock.

DON'T WANT THE BABY.

"Here you come back and get your baby," was the cry of a young man in City square Saturday afternoon that caused pedestrians to stop and look about to see a curly hair-headed young man trying to get a woman from a street car. The young man was Chester Francis, a clerk in the store of Henry P. Kittredge. The woman hesitated a minute and then as the motorman, who had become interested, was looking back, and a crowd of young people gathered, he carried her off and took her to the car and taking hold of the baby carriage started along Hancock street toward Wollaston.

It was evidently an attempt of the young woman to abandon the child, baby carriage and all, but the quickness of young Francis prevented the plan from being carried out. It was shortly after 3 o'clock when a young woman, apparently an American about 25 years of age, entered Kittredge's store wheeling a baby carriage. Standing in the middle of the street she began to look about, evidently admiring the goods on exhibition.

Suddenly turning she ran out of the store and jumped aboard a street car which was just leaving for Wollaston. Young Francis was in the store alone at the time and for a minute was at a loss as to what to do. Then realizing that Mr. Kittredge would not, not relish having a strange infant fostered onto him, Francis ran out to the car which had then stopped near the corner of Saville street.

Artificial respiration and the pul-matory brought Thomas Welch of Bainbridge back to life Saturday night after he had apparently succeeded in his attempt to hang himself in the cell room at the police station. A timely inspection by House Officer Halloran and his prompt action thwarted Welch in carrying out his intention, probably planned during a spell of mental aberration.

Welch was sent to headquarters after he had been found hanging from the Thompson Cafe, suffering a long gash. He had been leaning against the window when his feet slipped and the window struck was of thick glass and on a level with the sidewalk.

On receiving medical treatment he was put in cell four and before Officer Halloran reported for duty at ten o'clock he freely talked about his self and said that the sight in his eyes was poor and that he suffered from heart trouble and Bright's disease. After a short stay in the cell
Halloran reported for duty.

Ten minutes later, during an inspection, Halloran found Welch hanging from the top bar of the cell door.
He had made a noose of a handkerchief. When taken down he was carried to the hospital receiving room.
There was no evidence of any head action and it was thought that he was dead.

Halloran knelt to his chest, worked his arms and struck the sides of his chest repeatedly with the club. His efforts were rewarded by the man taking a short, gasping breath.

Dr. George M. Sheahan who had been summoned arrived at that moment and promptly adjusted the pul-matory. Welch was finally revived and was taken to bed in the women's cell, where he slept. On awakening he was given starch, soured cream and Sunday morning had recovered and was released.

No one heretofore has accused cows of being inquisitive. Some animals are well known for their inquisitiveness, but a cow never. Yet it is said there are exceptions to all rules and the actions of one cow Monday proved this.

Her cowship was being driven peacefully down Granite street, when suddenly she turned and the next instant walked through the open door into the hardware store of Nathan Adams. Whether the cow was looking for a milk strainer or a hay cutter, is not known. However, the cow walked along the counters on the west side of the store and was gazing at the hardware goods displayed in the glass cases when Ephraim Porter put in an appearance.

Porter is one of those salesmen who always jump when a customer enters the store, and so it was in his case. At first he was unable to discern whether it was man, woman or child who had entered. Soon he saw his mistake and it was all over.

Now Ephraim has a little farm of his own down in Braintree and is an expert at shooting hens, which stood him in good stead for he showed that cow right out. With a look of contempt the cow continued her journey down Granite street.

The Unity Club Elects.
The Unity Dramatic club held a business meeting Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Mary Williams on Ashland street. The report on the play held by the club May 6th in Music hall was very favorable and a large sum was realized. The election of officers for the coming season resulted as follows:

President—Charles Ross.
Vice president—Mary Williams.
Treasurer—James Williams.
Social Committee—George Orr, Maude Ellis, Rita Gurney, and Hugh Williams.
Director—Andrew J. Dinegan.

SQUANTUM YACHT CLUB.

At its "opener" Saturday evening the Quantum Yacht club served out that brand of good time that the folly traits of Wollaston Beach have learned to look forward to from year to year. This year the eventful program was one of the liveliest and best in the history of the club.

From the time Sprague's orchestra first tuned up, a little after seven, until the last song was sung there was something doing every minute. Many visiting yachtsmen and officials graced the head tables at the banquet which was served. Among them were:

Thomas F. Bruen, secretary South
Boston Y. C., Vice Commodore G.
Wesley Sargent, Ex-Commodore
Eliaser F. Drew, J. J. Harland, ex-president of the Inter club, Commodore
H. A. Vose of the Savin Hill
Yacht club, Commodore Frank P. Taylor of the Wollaston Yacht club, Commodore George H. Bean, Commodore
Henry S. Crane of the Quincy Yacht club, Dr. F. E. Dawes, vice president Massachusetts Y. R. U., Ralph Gould, president Massachusetts Y. R. U., Commodore Fred K. Wells of the Winthrop Yacht club, Commodore
John J. Tobin of the South Boston
Yacht club, Senator Louis B. R.
Langelier, Representative Edward J.
Shannon, Nathan Shumlin.

During the banquet several cabaret singers wended their way among the dinners. There was lively music by the orchestra and choruses of the popular songs were sung with a will.
A flashlight photograph of those present was among the events of the evening.

In greeting the guests Commodore Bean read a great deal of levity and asked that all work for the larger membership. Much was said for reciprocities between the Wollaston and Squantum clubs.

Senator Langelier brought the greetings of the good old Commonwealth of Massachusetts for a pro-positional season. He stated that work would be begun immediately on the channel to make life easy for those coming to the shore and to get them out of the water and back to the shore.

Speaking on good roads he referred to the revenue received from automobile owners. Out of the two million expended nearly a million is received from the sale of the little blue number plates. He urged that the spirit of getting together or the two clubs be agitated.

Speaking of the sentiment on Beacon hill regarding the war he said that the United States was facing the worst crisis since Sumter and that unanimous support should be given to the government. He urged that the club should stand by our president and our flag until this crisis is over. "Three cheers for President Wilson," shouted someone, and they were given with a will.

Commodore Taylor of the Wollaston club spoke strongly for amalgamation. He drew a vivid picture of the two clubs and their work. He urged that the two clubs should be combined and that the two clubs united efforts of the two clubs united.

He urged that Commodore Bean appoint a committee to meet his club and talk the matter over.

Commodore Bean read a letter from Lombard Williams, a Boston Port Director, regarding the channel and then introduced President Gould of the Y. R. U. Gould was in excellent humor and as usual, had a story to tell.

Ex-Commodore Drew told how his boat won the Bermuda cup race and Commodore Crane of the Quincy club made personal reference to Commodore Bean in the remarks. Commodore Wells of Wollaston followed.

Dr. F. E. Dawes, ex-commodore of the Wollaston club and vice president of the Y. R. U. acknowledged it was his first appearance at a Squantum club. He declared this club to be indispensable to him as a large number of his racing crew was recruited from it.

Commodore Tobin of South Boston, Commodore Vose of Savin Hill and
"Jack" Harland of South Boston followed. Representative Edward J.
Sandberg in a witty speech said nothing other than the truth.

"Commodore Bean and common sailors. My duty is to get more water. If Quincy boats get more water they will beat the world. What we need in Quincy is more water." "Beer" yelled a joker in the audience.

"Tommy" Bruen of South Boston spoke of the race at South Boston on May 31. This closed the speaking of the club and the clearing for the vaudeville that followed.

The show was a fine one and was given by a troupe of professionals from Boston. The numbers included singing and dancing acts characterized by comedy sketches and costume changes. The program was a varied and lively one and the audience enjoyed it the best.

The "opener" was in charge of the house committee consisting of: J. M.
Ellison, H. J. Welsh, H. A. Ward, G.
L. Bean and G. H. Broadbent.

Eugene F. Burke of Quincy, at one time heavyweight champion

SATURDAY, MAY 29, 1915

COLONIAL DAMES MEETING.

A handsomely framed oil painting of Tutors Henry, of the latter Harvard college in the first half of the 18th century and New England's earliest humorist was presented to the Massachusetts society of Colonial Dames at its spring meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Dorothy Q. Mansion on Butler road. There was a large attendance at the meeting, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, members and guests being present from all over the state as well as from Rhode Island, Augusta and other Maine cities and St. John, N. B.

Mrs. Barrett Wendell presided after the informal reception which opened the meeting and the speakers were Brooks Adams, Esq. of Quincy and Prof. Barrett Wendell of Harvard. Mr. Adams spoke very briefly conveying the historical society for the work of preservation of the Dorothy Q. house. Prof. Wendell spoke of the house from 1636 to 1775 and at the conclusion of his informal but interesting talk, he presented the portrait of Tutor Flynn. The portrait is a copy of the portrait at Harvard and will later adorn the walls in the Tutor Flynn room at the Dorothy Q. house. Henry Flynn was a tutor at Harvard for fifty-five years and in a second story I, which had been provided for him at the mansion, he found rest from his labors at college and here he did much of his writing.

Following this there was an informal social hour during which tea was served. Mrs. Dwight Prosser and Miss Madeline Lawrence presiding at the table. The Dorothy Q. house is a very interesting place. Another interesting event at Wednesday's meeting was the placing of a bronze inscription plate on the sun dial presented to the society by Mrs. Caroline L. Daniels. The sun dial rests on a granite pedestal in the yard near the side entrance to the mansion.

The bronze inscription plate which was attached to the dial by Dr. Daniels, reads as follows:

Presented to
The Massachusetts Society of Colonial Dames

By Caroline LeFavre Daniels.

May 29, 1912.

It was intended that the speaking should have been held on the spacious grounds surrounding the mansion but the inclement weather prevented this. Never have the grounds looked more attractive than at this meeting and today it is one of the beauty spots of the city.

TO PREVENT VANDALISM.

The granite manufacturers of the city are making an organized attempt to prevent further vandalism to their property and several of the industrial centers of South Quincy are now patrolled by a night watchman in addition to the regular police protection. The action was taken because monuments have been destroyed, guy wires cut, fires set and lives and workmen and property endangered under conditions resulting from the operations of the vandals.

Hardly a year passes that there is not more or less destruction during the several weeks before Memorial day.

The usual amount of vandalism has been committed this year and the damages have amounted to thousands of dollars.

The biggest loss was caused by the $10,000 fire which swept through the sheds of McDonald and Tinkham a few weeks ago. The fire broke out Monday morning the guys supporting the derrick in the yard of Guido Sorafield on Quarry street were found awry and all that prevented their snapping was a small strand of wire of which the guys are made. Many monuments have also been damaged.

One of the watchmen covers the property in the vicinity of the sheds of Peter Zola, where an incendiary fire was discovered at midnight two weeks ago. The other watchmen covers around the Brookline section.

The patrolling of the watchmen has been justified in at least one instance for at about 4:30 Wednesday morning a fire was discovered in a shed between the Marnock granite plant and the polishing shops of Shyne and Plin, and was extinguished before it made much headway and without the aid of the fire department.

The fire was in some sawdust and is thought to have smoldered eight or ten hours before its discovery. The shed was used as a shelter for lumber used in building monuments and was shipped. The lumber was sawed there and the sawdust swept into a corner. A spark from a pipe or a lighted cigar or cigarette but carelessly thrown into the sawdust Tuesday probably caused the fire.

The origin of the fire has opened an investigation by manufacturers and there is a general impression that fires the past year in various sheds have been due to similar causes. It is probable that rules preventing men from smoking in lumber sheds will be instituted in conspicuous places in the granite district.

JOHN ADAMS ARIE.

John Adams arie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, initiated six members and received several applications in Eloc hall, Wednesday evening. Pres. John Faircloth presided and among those present were Frank J. Duffy, who was head of the organization last year.

The aerie's communications included a letter of thanks from Abigail Adams lodge, I. C. A. for the appearance of its degree team at the recent dance in Algonquin. Sec. Dackers announced that Edward Welch, treasurer who is in Canada, has recovered from his recent illness and that James J. Mellen, chairman of the entertainment committee, is at his home where he is convalescing from illness contracted in Canada.

The following were reported ill: Daniel Gray, Washington street, and Allen Miller of Quincy avenue, confined to their homes with rheumatism. Frank Lawler, Glover avenue, Atlantic, at his home under treatment for eye trouble; Charles Towne Caruth street, recovering from a recent operation for appendicitis performed at the Quincy City Hospital; Adams Slavin, 50 Broadway, thought to have led poisoning.

Frank Dunham of Wollaston, who has recently been granted a local preacher's license, supplied the pulpit for Storer Wiggins at Dorset Memorial, Saugus, last Sunday.

BRIEFS

H. Everett Crane has purchased a remount for use in his business.

Mrs. Edward B. Marsh, who has been on a visit to her former home in Iowa returned this week.

Miss Helen Strange of Marshfield will graduate in June from the Bridgewater Normal school. She has accepted a position to teach in Quincy.

Quincy lodge of Elks accepted an invitation of Capt. George A. Ward to be his guests at Kineade's theatre Friday evening.

Miss Mary Devos of New York city is visiting her grandfather, Deputy Sheriff George H. Field of South Quincy.

Mrs. D. M. McFall of Mattoon, Ill., is in Quincy, having come because of the illness of her brother, Robert T. Johnson of Maple street.

The annual inspection of Quincy chapter, Order of Eastern Star, by the board of grand officers will take place on the regular meeting Monday evening, June 7.

The funeral of Henry W. Eaton was held at Forest Hill Cemetery Chapel, Tuesday. The services were conducted by Rev. Daniel M. Wilson of Kenebunk, Maine, formerly of Quincy.

Master Charles White entertained a number of his small friends, Saturday afternoon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward White of South Quincy, the occasion being his seventh birthday.

Mrs. Theodore Andrews and son Bryce of Euclid avenue left Saturday for Montreal where they will join Mr. Andrews who is employed by the Fore River Corporation.

The Granite City Ice Company is erecting a new office building near the Eaton ice houses on Adams street to take care of the increased business of the new company.

George H. Field closed a large real estate deal Monday whereby 22,000 square feet of land on Independence avenue passed to L. Bradford Hollis of Braintree. Mr. Hollis is understood busy for investment.

Mayor Campbell has appointed ex-Councilman Alexander W. Russell as a member of the Managers of Public Burial Places to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Arthur R. Hultman.

The sheet metal department at the industrial school is to be equipped for the new class which enters in September. The amount of equipment has been decided on and will probably be in place before the close of the present term.

James Moyle was chosen captain of the base ball team of the Galahad club of Christ church, Quincy, which is meeting in the parish house Monday evening. The team was organized to meet the representation of St. Chrysostom church and the game will probably be played at the joint picnic contemplated by the parishes.

Fire Commissioner O'Keefe of the Metropolitan District has requested the school department of the city to close and close the district to appoint committees to advise with him in the matter of fire prevention and fire drills in school houses. The local committee has already complied with the request.

Mr. Baker, manager of the Eastern Dredging Co., has bought a large tract of land at Germantown Point and is to build a breakwater and a large home for permanent residence. The lot purchased by Mr. Baker is one of the most sightly spots at Germantown, commanding a fine view of Quincy Bay.

Miss Gertrude Florence Hughes, who has taken over the public stenographer business formerly conducted by Miss Mildred Gray Trust, has as well as the duties of stenographer at the office of the Board of Trade, begun her new duties Monday. She will also do the stenography work at the district court.

The finance committee of the city council went to Houghs Neck Saturday afternoon to take a look at the water front for which an appropriation of $2,000 is pending to build a new pier and a large home for permanent residence. The lot purchased by Mr. Baker is one of the most sightly spots at Germantown, commanding a fine view of Quincy Bay.

There is to be no afternoon service Sunday at the Universalist church, a service being held in its place at 7:30 P. M. with the G. A. R., W. C. T. U., Y. M. C. A., L. O. O. F., and L. A. S. in attendance. Rev. Mr. Merrill will preach on "The soldier's pillar in the temple of God." Miss Ruth Packard and L. Edward Greene will be the soloists. The public is invited to the service.

Miss Rachel Hardwick of Spear street has been appointed director of symphonies for women at the College of Liberal Arts, Boston. Miss Hardwick has distinguished herself in athletics and holds the world's high jump record for women which she made while a student at the Woodward Institute in Quincy, her junior year. She is now beating by being the world's record which was established at Nassau the week before.

High scores held at the weekly whist of the Mt. Wollaston club in Odd Fellows hall Monday evening. The winner had 66 points and the lowest was 25. The last party of the series will be on June 7. There is a strong competition for the season's prizes.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club met Saturday with Mrs. Carl Shepard of Edgemoor road. In spite of the warm weather a pleasant afternoon was spent, four tables being in play. Miss Madeline McCrory was high scorer. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Lyman Morrison at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. E. Hardwick of Revere road. Miss Eleanor Whittemore also announced that she would be the hostess for a gentlemen's night on the 11 at the Quincy Y. C. club house.

Sarah F. Cator, who some months ago petitioned the Director of the Port of Boston for permission to fence in the flats in front of her property at Germantown, to prevent trespassing and which petition met with so much opposition on the part of the City Council and citizens that it was refused, has presented a new petition to the Directors of the Port of Boston. This time she seeks permission to fence in the flats for the purpose of cultivating shell fish. A hearing will be held June 9 at the office of the Port Directors.

BRIEFS

Rev. E. R. Beckman, a missionary on furlough from China, will speak at the Swedish Congregational church Sunday morning.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parks of Hancock street Sunday at the Quincy City Hospital.

Edward J. McDonald of the Quincy Y. C. is using crutches as the result of a fall and injury to his ankle.

Mrs. Robert Hardwick and baby Charles H. Hardwick, 24, came home this week from Dorchester and are at the family home on Revere road.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Flynn are the parents of a baby girl. Mrs. Flynn is well known in this city and is a prominent member of Rebecca Wiswell tent, Daughters of Veterans.

John O. Hall, secretary of the Board of Trade attended the outing of the Associated Board of Trades at Beverly Wednesday, where he was guest of the United Shoe Machinery Company.

The Quincy Political Equality Union will hold its next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Everett C. Bunnings, 175 Goffe street on Tuesday, June 1, at three o'clock. Mrs. Frank Scanlon of Milton will be the speaker. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

Mrs. Marion Sheeter and daughter Lillian formerly of Quincy have returned to New York, after taking in the Pacific exposition and spending the winter with her mother, Mrs. Flowers, of Vallejo, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Howard Morison, nee Minnie Ridout Hardwick, who were married early in April at the Hardwick home on Revere road, will be at home to their friends Wednesday after June first at 22 Harvard street, Dorchester.

The Sister society of the Swedish Congregational church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Charles O. Cranch street. The meeting opened with devotional exercises after which there was singing and a social hour. Refreshments were served.

Hon. Louis A. Cook of South Weymouth was the speaker before the Quincy Historical society at the First Parish church Tuesday evening. Brooks Adams, Esq., presided. Mr. Cook read a paper, or rather gave an informal talk on his visit to Weymouth England, about a year ago in connection with the unveiling of the tablet to Gov. Endicott.

A meeting of the July Fourth celebration association was held Wednesday evening in the rooms of the Board of Trade. The meeting was devoted to a general discussion of the matter of celebrating the Fourth this year. The association is favorable to a celebration of some kind but not on an elaborate scale as during the past few years.

The base ball team of R. E. Fog's stores will play at Forest Hills Wednesday with the Ferguson Bakery combination of Boston as its opponents. The team is well equipped and the members will wear their new uniform of gray and white. The team is managed by L. Tenney and captained by George Gustin. The Fog's store is celebrating its fourth birthday. He is to be joined by his sister Miss Emma C. Low who left New York earlier in the week with her cousins the Lyman Whites on a motor trip and short stay at their country place in Northampton.

Miss Low plans to return to Quincy in time for Master Seth's birthday on Monday. Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Katherine Louise Stegmair of Plymouth, formerly desk librarian at the Thomas Crane Public Library in this city, and Edmund Hamilton Sears of East Dennis. The ceremony will be performed at eight o'clock on the evening of Wednesday June 2, at the church in the Plymouth. Miss Stegmair is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Stegmair of Plymouth. She was desk librarian in this city for five years, leaving in 1912 to enter the service of the State Library Commission. After a short wedding trip the couple will live in East Dennis.

A parish supper and adjourned parish meeting of the Trinity church was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in the early part of the evening. The menu included cold meats, salads, etc. Following this the parish meeting was held. The parish meeting was held at the church Thursday evening. The parish supper, which was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Addison, was served in

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JUNE 5, 1915

QUINCY FINANCES.

The financial statement for the month of May issued today by city auditor, Henry O. Fairbanks, shows the receipts to have been as follows up to June 1.

WATER.
1913	$51,189.77
1914	$52,292.77
1915	61,884.38

TAXES.
1913	$215,819.82
1914	189,117.66
1915	234,728.32

SEWER ASSESSMENTS.
1913	$6,741.92
1914	7,669.94
1915	7,669.92

SEWER HOUSE CONNECTIONS.
1913	$2,807.15
1914	3,572.87
1915	4,246.26

DEBT STATEMENT.
1912 net valuation	$24,825.50
1913 net valuation	26,596.94
1914 net valuation	40,668.240

Average for three years.
2 1/2 per cent	$54,056.90
Debt Jan. 1, 1915	538,755.94

Bonds matured.
June 1,	$1,500.00
	$401,821.16
Bonds issued to date	10,150.00

Borrowing margin.
June 1	$291,671.16

TOTAL DEBT.
Municipal, $592,735.64; playground, $18,000; street improvement, $62,800; sewer, $628,500; water, $686,500; refunding, $120,000; total $2,110,535.64.

Debt paid since Jan. 1, municipal.
$61,500; street improvement, $4,800; sewer, $25,500; water, $34,500; total paid $126,300.

Forecast since Jan. 1, municipal.
$10,150; sewer, $25,000; water, $15,000; total issued $50,150.

Net debt June 1, Municipal.
$542,385.64; playground, $18,000; street improvement, $62,800; sewer, $628,500; water, $686,500; refunding, $120,000; total net debt June 1, $2,066,285.64.

Decrease in net debt thus far this year.
$74,150.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Lumber is on the ground for the new bungalow on Ashbury street being built for the Louis Betteville which they hope to occupy by the middle of July.

Mr. and Mrs. George Voss of Concord, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. George Locke and children of Somerville, Mrs. F. Deyette of Worcester and Mrs. William F. Hall of Quincy, have been recent guests of Mrs. William Voss of Marshall street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Willard Hall and Misses Marion and Dorothy Hall have returned from a trip to Lake Winnepesaukee being accompanied on the return trip by Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Merrill of Manchester, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Elden Cole and Misses Alida and Ella Cole of Plymouth were holiday guests of Mrs. H. K. Ellis of Warwick street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeWitt of Free-man street spent the week end and holiday in Brockton and Easton.

Mrs. Frank Burgess of Highland avenue entertained her Sunday school class on a motor ride and dinner Thursday night which was greatly enjoyed by the little girls.

Mrs. James C. Stevens and Mrs. Samuel M. Lubers of Macon, Georgia, are guests of their daughter and grand-daughter Mrs. Roland A. Thayer of Mulheide street.

The ideal weather of Sunday and the holiday attracted the largest crowd of the season to Wollaston beach. The day presents an attractive sight with the large number of boats that are anchored off the clubhouse. Every owner was anxious to give his boat a try-out and the sight of many white sails and the trailing-foam of power boats furnished attraction to the crowds who promenade along the boulevard and enjoyed lounging on the sand.

Mrs. Antoinette Paige of Davis street is receiving congratulations from her friends, upon her convalescence from a recent operation which was performed at the Boston Homeopathic Hospital.

A very delightful automobile trip was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Frost and Mr. and Mrs. William M. Chase of Wollaston Boulevard to the White Mountains for the holiday. The party which went up by the way of Concord returned home by the way of the Franconia and Crawford Notch, enjoying all the splendor and beauty of the scenery on route.

Dr. and Mrs. Ross Miller of Philadelphia have been spending the week end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Otis of Rawson road.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sanford of Rawson road have been enjoying a few days at their camp at Silver Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Madden of Jamaica Plain are occupying one of Mr. Lincoln's cottages at the beach for the season.

Mrs. M. J. Jack of Portland has been visiting for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Storey of Beach street.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reinhardt of Newton have taken up residence on Sachem street this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Croncher of Beach street spent the week end with friends in Provincetown.

Mrs. Emma C. North of Franklin and J. Frank Anderson of Greenwood were the holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Parlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Dew of Cambridge opened their cottage at Wollaston beach this week, where, as usual, they will spend a long season.

Companions among the yachting parties cruising on the Wollaston clubhouses on the holiday was the yacht "Therana" owned by Dr. David of Boston. Dr. David is to be identified with the summer colony at the beach this season.

Rev. Leander Hokenson of the Swedish Lutheran church left Wednesday for an extended trip of eight weeks, during which he will attend the Lutheran synod at Minneapolis. He will visit New York, Washington and Chicago during his trip.

BRIEFS

Miss Mary Whitecher Holden of the Prescott apartments spent the week end and holiday at Brant Rock.

Mrs. H. W. Sprague of Auburndale is spending two weeks with Mrs. Robert T. Johnson of Maple street.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club meets this week with Mrs. Lyman Morrison at the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry E. Hardwick of Revere road.

The family of Councilman James O'Dowd went to their summer home at North Weymouth this week for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick of Chestnut street is to be a matron at the Senior dance to be given Monday evening by Class 1915 of Harvard college.

Ernest R. McConnell, for many years employed as a clerk in his father's fruit store City square, has accepted a position with the Elm Farm Milk Co.

For the first time in the city the Swedish flag was flown below Old Glory. This order was carried out at the boarding house of Mrs. Anderson on School street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Morton of Ashland, N. H., formerly of Quincy have been staying with their daughter, Mrs. Robert T. Johnson of Maple street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Carleton Rogers, Ruth Pennington, of Lynn, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, born last week. Mrs. Rogers lived in Quincy until her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keirnan of 136 South Walnut street announce the engagement of their daughter Dorothy M. to John J. Manning.

The wedding will take place in the fall. Junior Auxiliary of Christ church is to present the play "Revelations" on Thursday evening in the parish house. The book is by Mrs. N. E. Chaplin and the play by Mrs. William H. Haslett.

The engagement of Miss Annie E. Jones, daughter of Mrs. Margaret A. Jones, Elsie road, Quincy and John Forester of Highland road, has been announced. Both young people are well known in Bethany church.

Rev. Albert Thompson of Goff street, Quincy, who has been the pastor of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church for the past few years has tendered his resignation to take effect the last Sunday in June.

Lawrence W. Lyons and John J. O'Hara have given up their law office in the Greenleaf block. Mr. Lyons is busy with his work as clerk of the district court and Mr. O'Hara is busy as chairman of the board of assessors.

Next Sunday will be observed as children's Sunday at the First Parish church and the church and Sunday school will join in the morning service at 10:30. There will also be the christening of children during the exercises.

Quincy's new military organization, the Machine Gun Squad, made its first public appearance at the afternoon parade and made a very favorable impression. The members wore the regular service uniforms and carried the side arms of automatic revolvers and bolos.

The large American flag, purchased by the members of the Quincy police department, was thrown to the breeze Sunday for the first time and flew continuously during the observance of Memorial Day. The flag hung over School street, one end of the ropes being held by police quarters and the other on a large tree, on the opposite side of the street.

Memorial Day exercises were held at the High School Friday May 28. They opened with the singing of several patriotic airs by the school after which there were brief remarks by Past Commanders C. M. Marston and George L. Phillips of the Grand Army.

Mrs. James C. Stevens and Mrs. Samuel M. Lubers of Macon, Georgia, are guests of their daughter and grand-daughter Mrs. Roland A. Thayer of Mulheide street.

The Young Ladies Sewing society Naomi of the Swedish Congregational church met May 28th with Miss Elizabeth Johnson, 301 Granite street. The meeting opened with devotional exercises led by the pastor, Rev. Mr. H. H. Hokenson.

A short business session after which the young women seated to the accompaniment of readings and piano solos by Rev. Mr. Sporrang. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

There was a large attendance May 28th at the regular meeting of Manet Encampment, I. O. O. F. The evening was spent in a social manner with a roast beef supper being served. This was followed by the business session at which time the Royal Purple degree was exemplified on four candidates. There was a large number of visitors and remarks from many of these were in order, following the work of the evening.

All of the visitors were loud in their praise of the exceptionally fine manner in which the degree work was rendered.

An electric car and a large auto van loaded with furniture met almost head-on on Sea street near Littlefield's barn at 8:30 Saturday. The car was going toward Houghs Neck and the auto van was coming up. The car was on the car tracks but did not attempt to turn off the track until the car was upon it. It did not succeed in getting clear for the car struck the side. The only damage was to tear off a part of the side of the auto van and to jam the front of the electric car and smash one of the running boards.

Rev. E. R. Beckman, for twenty years a missionary in China but now connected with the Scandinavian Alliance Mission, spoke at the Swedish Congregational church Sunday at the morning service and also to the Sunday school. He told some of his experiences while stationed in China, several of which were very pathetic. During a rebellion three years ago his wife and two children were murdered and he barely escaped with his life. At the close of his interesting talk an offering was taken for the Chinese mission.

The annual memorial mass for deceased members of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, at St. John's church on Monday morning was well attended. Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor of the church, and chaplain of the council, was celebrant. After the mass delegations decorated the graves of members in the cemeteries of Quincy and other places with floral wreaths. Grand Knight Peter M. Sullivan headed the delegation which went to St. Mary's cemetery, West Quincy.

BRIEFS

Miss Mary Perkins of Coddington street has returned from a visit to Charlestown, New Hampshire.

William A. Bradford is building a double garage in the rear of his office on Maple street.

Miss Grace Jones of River street Quincy Point, has gone to Portsmouth, N. H., where she will spend the rest of the summer.

Mrs. A. Laing and little grandson "Jackie" Knowles of Bedford street have returned from Bennington, N. H., where they were visiting over the holiday.

Mrs. James Ring of Greenleaf street left Wednesday to visit her son, Morton Ring, who is in the graduating class of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Mrs. Lucy Lou Brandau of New York arrived in Quincy Thursday for a two months' visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Lou of Washington street.

Lafayette chapter, Daughters of Revolution, will be the guests of Adams chapter at its regular meeting Monday afternoon at the President John Adams birthplace.

The Central Station Auto Chemical went out on a still alarm shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday for a grass fire near the post house on Sea street. There was no damage.

Miss Mary Gavin entertained a few friends at her home on Irving place Wednesday evening at which the proceeds will be given to the annual lawn party and field day of St. John's parish.

Thomas J. Gunning, of 61 Gay street a well known painter, and Miss Anne Donovan of Brookline were married June 1 at Brookline by Fr. M. T. McManus, according to a return made to City Clerk Crane this morning.

A delegation of eight members of Reliance Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., of Wollaston, headed by Noble Grand Mrs. Emma E. Laing visited Lodge of Charlesworth Tuesday evening and witnessed the working of the degree.

Rev. H. H. French, D. D. of Malden, a widely known Congregational minister will be the preacher at the Sunday services at the Bethany church. Rev. Mr. French has just closed a 20 years pastorate in Malden.

At the session of the Norfolk County probate court at Dedham Wednesday, Judge Flint, an administration was granted on the estate of Robert T. Johnson, late of Quincy, and Edna L. Johnson was appointed as guardian of Edna P. Dorset M. Barbara M. Robert T. Martha and Richard S. Johnson, minors, of Quincy.

John R. Arnold, son of Mrs. Zenas W. Arnold of Coddington street, this city, who left Quincy six years ago this month to enter the employ of the United States Government in the Philippine Islands, making a tour around the world and arriving in Quincy Friday.

The new chapel of the Swedish Lutheran church which is practically completed will be put in use for the first time this evening when the Flower Carnival is presented under the auspices of the Dorcas society. The program will consist mostly of songs dedicated to flowers. Assistance will be many well known singers of the city.

Mrs. Hannah Davis, formerly district deputy of Circle Daughters, V. M., was the special guest of that organization in Protection hall Tuesday evening and was presented with a $10 gold piece and a handsome bouquet of flowers by Chief Companion Mrs. Ida Erickson, Grand Trustee Mrs. Hilma O'Brien and one of the speakers. Five candidates were initiated to membership.

At a meeting of St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church Tuesday evening, the following officers for the ensuing year were elected. President, Miss Olive M. Smith; vice president, Miss Ethel M. Smith; secretary, Miss Ethel M. Smith; treasurer, Miss Flora Deacon. The Guild also made a donation to the parish of $25 for the purpose of beautifying the interior of the parish house.

The young women clerks at City Hall who left Saturday by automobile for Mayor Campbell's camp on Lake Winnepesaukee returned to Quincy safe and sound Tuesday. Leaving Quincy Saturday noon they arrived in camp about 8 o'clock that evening. Sunday was spent on Osipee mountain and Monday on the lake. Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock saw them on their way to Quincy where they arrived at noon.

The industrial school is now in a position to take custom work in electro-plating with nickel and to do thoroughly first class work. The wood working shop has all the work that it can attend to and will not be able to undertake any further outside jobs for some time. The sheet metal shop which opens in the fall will take custom jobs in the manufacture of ash cans and possibly of sheet metal garages. All work will be done with the most painstaking care.

Christopher T. Daley of Smith street Quincy and Miss Alice Josephine Coyle of Weymouth were married at Weymouth Wednesday evening by Father J. B. Holland. The bride is a member of the graduating class of Weymouth high school and left last week to be married. A reception followed at the home of the parents of the groom. Ambrose Daley was best man and Helen Coyle, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Daley will live on Copeland street.

A report on the probable outcome of the hearing by the arbitration board of the demand for an increase in wages of the street railway employees by Organizer Fred Fay of Boston was read at a special meeting of the Quincy branch in Electa hall Wednesday evening. The report was read, pending the finding of the board, after it was generally discussed. New members were initiated under the direction of Pres. William Gould and several applications for membership were received.

Among the 307 to receive diplomas and degrees at the 46th commencement exercises at the Boston University Wednesday were several from Quincy and Wollaston. O. N. Lindberg of Quincy was given the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Among the 92 to receive the degree of the College of Liberal Arts, (A. B.) were Ethel B. Armstrong, Merwyn J. Bailey, Helen M. Faunce and Aurin E. Payson of Wollaston and Katherine M. Payson of Quincy. The degrees were conferred by President Lawrence H. Munroe.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Samuel T. MacQuarrie entertained a party of women friends Thursday evening at auction bridge Thursday evening.

The regular monthly meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery association will be held Monday at 2:30 P. M. at the Quincy Women's clubhouse.

Rev. John E. Lillback, former pastor of the Finnish Congregational church on Buckley street, was in town Thursday renewing old acquaintances.

Mrs. Dorothy Edwards of Greenleaf street is giving an auction bridge party Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Mary M. Faxon, whose engagement was recently announced.

Mrs. Alice M. Carr and daughter Miss Janet F. Carr of Thayer street returned the first of the week from Honolulu where they spent several months absence from this country thoroughly enjoyed the visit from his mother and sister.

Officer J. J. O'Neill was taken suddenly ill while on duty in City square Thursday and was obliged to give up duty and go to the City Hospital, where he will probably undergo an operation for appendicitis. Officer O'Neill has not been feeling well for several days but has kept at work.

The Twentieth Century Bridge club of Boston of which Mrs. Joseph A. Dashiell of Adams street is a member is to have a dinner dance on Wednesday evening at Pantonette Park in a picture and all of the 215 seats held the constant attention of the audience. Preceding the feature film, war pictures and other current events were displayed. Between the parts vocal solos by Mr. Murphy accompanied by Mr. Bullock were enjoyed.

A number of other well known class photo days are booked for the near future and it is expected that a respectable amount will be realized by the society.

Miss J. E. Wilde, assistant matron at Dr. Wiswell's sanatorium at Wellesley has been the recent guest of her sister Mrs. Barlow of Rawson road.

WEST QUINCY

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Rogers announce the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth Mary to William Charles Bigley of Providence, R. I. The wedding will take place in the best known young women of the section and a popular member of St. Mary's choir. Mr. Bigley is employed as cashier by the Western Union and was recently transferred to Providence.

The wedding will take place June 14th at St. Mary's church.

Miss Frances Burdette, teacher in the Plymouth schools spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burke of Willard street.

Herbert DeCoste of 114 Willard street was struck by an auto in Boston Monday and suffered slight injuries to his leg. He was taken to the Boston City Hospital. During the evening he left that institution and went to his home.

The Harmony club of West Quincy held open house Sunday and Memorial Day at their summer cottage. "The Harvard Lawn" at Nantasket. Several hundred people visited the boys during the two days.

The Thelma Girls of this city, Delco Girls, Claremonts and several other clubs which have cottages at the beach during the summer also were at the opening. Monday evening an elaborate supper was served the guests under the direction of James McDonald.

James Fontani, of Totman street, a 16 year old South Quincy boy, was instantly killed at the granite plant of J. H. Jenkins on Vernon street morning when his apron caught in the belt and he was drawn into the shafting.

Miss Edith Corkum of West Fitchburg, Mass., spent the holiday here visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Porter of Brooks avenue.

Nicholas T. Murphy, the well known West Quincy expressman, is nursing a crushed foot received when the bar with which he was lifting a stone slipped and let the stone down on his foot. The accident occurred at a shipping wharf in Boston.

Thomas Sheehan, one of the best known residents of West Quincy, passed away at his home on Crescent street at 5:30 this morning after a long illness. He is survived by his wife and son William, a student at Boston College high school.

A horse attached to a delivery team, owned by Clemente Patriarch of Larry street ran away on Douglas street Tuesday afternoon endangering the lives of several small children who were playing on the street. The horse was frightened by the sound of the fire alarm and ran the length of the street and stopped only when the team turned over, pinning him to the ground and scattering groceries all over the street. The horse was cut severely about the head and the team was badly damaged. A fireman, the son of the owner.

The assessors have completed their field work in Wards One, Two and Three and are now at work in Ward Four.

Several improvements have been made in the past few weeks at St. Mary's hall. A new platform and steps have been placed at the entrance and the letters have been gilded. A fine lawn has been made at the front and when the grass comes it will present a very pretty building.

Ten tables were in play at the whist party held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Catherine Martin on the Parkway. The proceeds were for the benefit of the Crescent street table.

The special prize was won by Mrs. Catherine Martin, first prize by Mrs. John Watson, second prize by Mrs. John Watson, and first for men Edward McDonald. The trophy prize was awarded to Miss Helen Elcock. Another whist party in aid of the same table will be held at the home of Mrs. John Watson on cross street, Wednesday evening, June 9th.

QUINCY POINT

Charles Willmott, 41 years, collapsed while at work last week on the battleship "Nevada," under construction at the Fore River shipyard and died within two hours after his admission to the Quincy City Hospital. Death was probably due to heart trouble. Willmott was carried off 19 Cherry street, Quincy Point, where he collapsed. He was carried off the ship and given first aid at the Red Cross Hospital in the yard. He was then taken to the City Hospital in the police ambulance.

Mrs. Martha Walker, for some years a resident of Quincy Point, died at the home of James Bartlett, a government inspector at the Fore River shipyard, Friday May 28. She was in her 80th year and the mother of Mrs. James Bartlett, who survives her.

The funeral of Miss Alice Murphy, whose death on Saturday at Quincy City Hospital took place a few days after her folks took possession of the Whitten homestead on Washington street, Quincy Point, was held Monday morning. Services were held in St. John's church by Fr. Walter A. Quinlan, at ten o'clock. Burial was at Waltham. This morning Father Quinlan celebrated a high mass of requiem. The deceased formerly lived at Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. Francesco Mezzetti of 123 Summer street are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the birth of a daughter, Priscilla, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Mezzetti have ten other children.

Joseph Piel, chairman of the bond committee of the Ward Two Fourth celebration, and a large corps of assistants commenced collection of material today. Several hundred dollars have been secured from the Bay State St. Ry. Co. and old boxes and barrels will be added to the pile. The fire will be on Pin Cushion Island in Town River and will be lighted at midnight. It will be visible for miles.

NEUTRALITY.

Neutrality is pretty well preserved in the United States so far as naming postoffices is concerned. We have 25 Berlins, 18 Paris, 16 Viennas, 10 Londons, three Tokyos, two Brussels and two St. Petersburgs. There is a single Constantinople—Pathfinder.

WOLLASTON

At the Quincy City Home Thursday afternoon ten members of the C. H. society of Wollaston were guests by invitation of Miss Huston, overseer of the poor. They spent an interesting afternoon, during which they sang songs for the old ladies, whose pleasure and appreciation was frequently manifested.

William T. Raymond of Greenwood street, a Wollaston milk dealer, was found unconscious on the tracks on Farrington street shortly after 11 o'clock Thursday evening. A bicycle was near him on the street. While he was being treated he was asked if he had fallen from the wheel and he nodded his head.

The first of a series of moving picture shows with the new church machine was given in the Wollaston Unitarian parish house, Wednesday evening, when George Barr McCutcheon's "Brewster's Millions" was shown in five reels. The novel told none of its present day history into a moving picture and all of the 215 seats held the constant attention of the audience. Preceding the feature film, war pictures and other current events were displayed. Between the parts vocal solos by Mr. Murphy accompanied by Mr. Bullock were enjoyed.

A number of other well known class photo days are booked for the near future and it is expected that a respectable amount will be realized by the society.

Miss J. E. Wilde, assistant matron at Dr. Wiswell's sanatorium at Wellesley has been the recent guest of her sister Mrs. Barlow of Rawson road.

ATLANTIC

St. Chrysostom's church is planning a great event for June 17th, a spring festival to be known as "Paragatation Home," with a baby show in the afternoon and a doll carriage and peddle's parades. The children of the Sunday school are to dress in fancy costumes and represent different kinds of peddlers. Mayor Campbell is expected to be present and add to the interest of the event by being a Judge and awarding prizes. After the parades there is to be auto races for young boys, three-legged races, potato races, fast and thin men's races and other amusements. Following a patriotic supper the greatest minstrel troupe this side of the Mason-Dixon line will give a show. Hasting Osgood, the monologist has been secured, as well as other well known talent.

Mr. Robert Reed of South Central avenue entertained the Ladies Circle of the Universalist church Tuesday afternoon at a sewing meeting. Those present thoroughly enjoyed the social hour following an attack of crystal. Mrs. Reed assisted by her daughter Miss Katherine Reed served tea.

Friends of William H. Hurlbert are pleased to see him back at the Park Pharmacy again after his recent illness.

Mrs. Henry H. Downs and daughter Miss Mabel Downs of Medford have been recent guests of Mrs. John P. Hyland of Grand View avenue.

Mrs. Joseph S. Thomas of Warren avenue is entertaining her sister-in-law Mrs. Clarence Towel and daughter Miss Anna Marie Troxel of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Leland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings over the holiday and took a trip to Canton calling on Brother L. V. Frost of John Hancock lodge who is recovering from an attack of crystal. The trip was made in Mr. Cummings' new touring car. They also called on Mrs. Cummings' parents in Tarrington. The day's trip was a most delightful one.

Mr. and Mrs. William Chapman of South Central avenue, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of an automobile trip to the White Mountains.

George Taylor and family of Winthrop avenue, Wollaston were at their bungalow in South Hanson over Decoration Day.

George Grothers and family of Beal street are moving to their farm in Middleboro for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett of Beal street, Wollaston, are visiting in Pittsburgh.

Elmer Atwood of Taylor street, Wollaston went to the Cape over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Curtis moved from Hatfield to spend the week end with her mother Mrs. James Porter of Hancock street, Wollaston.

Miss Edna L. Gray of Newton street spent the holiday with her aunt Mrs. Alice G. Bennett of Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bianchi were pleasantly surprised at their home, 41 Brooks avenue Saturday evening, the occasion being the tenth anniversary of their marriage. The visit of their friends was a great surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Bianchi, who have never given them a most cordial welcome. During the evening the hosts were presented with a number of gifts in the tin line as well as some of silver, the presentation speech being made by Miss Della DeLaurier and responded to

QUINCY PATRIOT ESTABLISHED, 1837.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY: $2.50 PER YEAR.

SOPRIN
PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1915

KENNEDY—SAYWARD.

A brilliant home wedding took place at 110 Winthrop avenue, Wollaston, Wednesday afternoon when Miss Dorothy Sayward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sayward, and Mr. Arthur Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kennedy, were united in marriage by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath D. D., of the Wollaston Congregational church.

At four o'clock to the strains of Lohegrin's wedding march by the Marion Moorhouse string quartet, the bridal procession entered the room through an aisle of ribbons placed by Mary A. Bates of Haverhill and Eleanor Penniman of Wollaston, nieces of the bride, and Evelyn and Marion Nell of Springfield, cousins of the groom.

Dr. Sneath and the ring bearer, Master Albert Frost of Springfield, nephew of the groom were followed by the four little ribboners all in white, two with blue sashes and blue rosebud trimming and two with pink sashes and pink rosebuds, each wearing heart shaped brooches, gifts of the bride. The bride and groom were unattended.

The bride party stood in front of a bank of palms for the ceremony. The bride wore white satin, the short draped sleeves being of silver lace with which the low cut bodice was also trimmed and she wore a diamond and pearl pendant set in platinum with a chain of the same metal. The gift of the groom, the skirt was short in Colonial effect finished with scalloped under which was a skirt of ruffled chiffon. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and the tulle veil in cap effect was fastened with a head of pearls.

A largely attended reception followed, the ushers being brothers of the bride and groom, William Sewall Sayward, Jr., of Wollaston and Otto Kennedy of Springfield. The house was effectively decorated with greenery and white flowers. The reception also partly outdoors, the large piazza being screened with blue boughs, where the refreshments were served. There were many beautiful gifts in silver, cut glass and china.

The bride as she went down the steps threw her bouquet among the group of friends who covered the young couple with white confetti to speed them on their way as they left in an automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will be in Amherst next week attending the commencement exercises of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, the bride being a member of this year's class and will be in Putnam, Connecticut, for the summer.

CHILDREN'S OUTING.

The annual outing Wednesday of the poor children of Greater Boston, which was held under the auspices of the Automobile Dealers' association, under the personal direction of Mayor Chester I. Campbell, was one of the most successful as well as the largest attended outing that has yet been held. Wednesday's party was made up into sixteen divisions and the number of children provided with an outing totaled 1725. In addition to these there were 515 operators of cars and attendants. In this number was included 250 children from Quincy. This division was made up entirely of colored children of which there were over 200.

Mayor Campbell says that it had taken the entire time of two of the clerks in his Boston office for a month to make the arrangements. In addition to all of this work there was considerable expense attached to the outing. This is borne by the Automobile Dealers' association and by popular subscription. In this connection it might be added that the expense of Wednesday's outing amounted to about $1,500. There was no parade through Boston or any of the places where the divisions were formed. The first division reached the beach at 10 o'clock and all had arrived by 11 o'clock. Each child wore a ribbon tag of different colors upon which was the number of the division to which he or she belonged. This came in handy in case any of the children became lost, as several did during the day, for those in charge by looking at the number of the division could readily place the lost child.

At noon they were served a nice fish dinner in the Hotel Nantasket, which was all over before 12 o'clock and there were three hours more for play. The breeze from the water was comfortably cool. At 4 o'clock the autos were filled again for the return home. The ride down the Boston University parkway and skirting the Blue Hills was a treat to the children, many of whom had never been in an automobile and had never been at Nantasket. The owners themselves drove many of the cars lent. Many cars were lent by members of the Boston Automobile Dealers' association. Everything went admirably per schedule and at the dinner to the attendants Mayor Campbell was given three hearty cheers.

Children were taken from the following places: Sunnyside Day Nursery, Ruggles Street Baptist church, Morgan Memorial Home, N. E. Peabody Home for Crippled Children, Cambridge Neighborhood House, Margaret Fuller Home, St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, South End Day Nursery, Salvation Army Palace, St. Mark's church, East End Christian Union, Bowdoin Square Mission, Martin Luther Orphan Home and the Jewish Girls' Club.

JAMES DUNCAN RE-ELECTED.

As a result of the vote recently taken by the granite cutters of the United States and Canada for president of the Granite Cutters' International association, James Duncan of this city has been reelected by a majority of more than 600. The vote was taken the first of May and the different branches throughout the United States and Canada had until June 3, in which to make their returns. They were then tabulated with the result that Mr. Duncan was reelected. Mr. Duncan is also secretary treasurer of the Granite Cutters' association and second vice president of the American Federation of Labor and one of the best known labor men in the United States.

BRIEFS

The date for the senior reception has been changed from June 25th to 18th on account of the graduation at Woodward Institute.

The annual Memorial service of Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F., will be held in Christ church Sunday.

Next Monday is flag day and all patriotic citizens are expected to show their colors.

The Saturday Afternoon Bridge club met Saturday with Mrs. Lyman Morrison at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. E. Hardwick, Revere road.

Mrs. Ida M. Estey has returned home from an extended visit with relatives in Essex Junction and Burlington, Vermont.

N. Phillips Hardy, son of Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Noah Hardy, formerly of Quincy, graduated this week from Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois.

Miss Elizabeth H. Camp, formerly desk attendant at the Thomas Crane Public Library was visiting friends in Quincy, Wednesday. Miss Camp is now librarian of the Wellesley Public Library.

The Women's auxiliary of Col. Abner B. Packard, Camp Sons of Veterans, held a lemonade, cake and donut party Wednesday evening, which was attended by a number of the Sons of Veterans.

The annual meeting of the School Masters' club will be held today at Squantum. A large number have signified their intentions of being present in Quincy, Wednesday.

The final basketball game for the perpetual cup at the Woodward Institute was played Wednesday between the Sophomore and Senior teams and was won by the former by a score of 12 to 7.

Miss Sybil Marsh, who graduates from Radcliffe college this month, has received a magna cum laude in philosophy and psychology. Miss Marsh is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Marsh of Irving place.

Mrs. Amelia L. Balde, widow of Eugene Balde, died suddenly Monday at 41 Bird street, in her 64th year. Mrs. Balde has made her home at Houghs Neck for some time.

Next Wednesday night at the High school hall, the debating society will hold its final meeting which will be open to the public. The meeting will be devoted to a debating contest to determine the champion debaters of the year.

Miss Helen MacLeod, 27 years, of 51 Holmes street, died Saturday at the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital. She leaves a brother, Daniel R. Holmes with whom she lived. Her body was taken to Brook Village, Cape Breton, Monday for burial.

Among the New England men who are in the graduating class at Annapolis Naval Academy this year and will attend on graduation be commissioned as ensigns in the navy is Morton L. Ring of Quincy. Ensign Ring is a son of Commodore James A. Ring, U. S. N. retired, of Greenleaf street.

Mrs. Rosandra Drake, 91 years old on Sunday, observed her birthday by entertaining other guests at the home of Mrs. Lydia Beaulieu, Buckley street. She was entertained with flowers, cards and other gifts. A birthday cake in honor of the occasion was made by Mrs. Beaulieu who also served ice cream to the happy party.

Charles H. Johnson of Quincy will on Sunday complete his third year as superintendent of the Unitarian Sunday school at Wellesley Hills Unitarian church, one of the wealthiest churches in greater Boston. The school is in a flourishing condition and Mr. Johnson has received a unanimous call to return next year and has accepted.

An analysis of the entering class for next September at the High School shows a very decided preference among the pupils for manual arts and household arts courses and a marked decrease in the commercial course. A small number of boys electing the normal preparatory course is also a very encouraging sign.

Ensign Fritz Ahrling, said to be the youngest ensign in the Swedish branch of the Salvation Army in this country, who has been stationed in Boston, has been assigned to work in the Quincy Army. Ensign Ahrling came to Brockton a year ago from Cleveland. He is but 27 years of age. The Quincy branch of the Army is located on Granite street.

Ten tables were in play at the Monday evening whist of the Mt. Wollaston club in Odd Fellows hall. Purses were served during the evening. The winners were Mrs. W. Wentland, Miss Sadie Thomas, Elmer Sprague, H. Yeager, Mrs. Starr, Mrs. H. Williams. The party was the last of the season and the series prizes were awarded to Mrs. Annie L. Smith and W. F. Carman.

The Industrial school is endeavoring to assist the full time pupils to secure positions for the summer months. Several letters have been sent to carpenters and builders, and various manufacturing plants. The school would be pleased to be informed of positions of any kind where good faithful boys may secure employment for the months of July and August.

A meeting of the Boys' club of the Swedish Congregational church was held Tuesday evening at the home of Russell Sandblom of Station street. It was a fellowship meeting. Arthur Johnson read a paper on "Fellowship" and C. Oman read a poem. Herbert Johnson and Edward Barsell rendered a duet. New by-laws were adopted. The next meeting will be held at the home of Arthur Johnson.

Mrs. Annie J. wife of John J. Arbuckle, died suddenly at her home, 75 South street, Sunday morning, June 7th, when she was 75 years of age. Mrs. Arbuckle was taken suddenly ill during the day and died in about twenty minutes. She is survived by a husband, a machinist employed at the Fore River shipyard, and three children, Robena, Sarah and Annie. Joseph, Edith and John, the latter having been born a few weeks ago. Funeral services were held from her late home Wednesday at 2:30.

The picnic of the Quincy High school Alumni association is to be held this afternoon at Glen Echo park. Special cars will leave City square at two o'clock. There will be a baseball game and sports. If the weather is favorable, the picnic will be held at nine o'clock. Members will carry box lunches. The committee in charge includes: Brookes Keyes, Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Eleanor Whittemore, Miss Marie Bass, William J. Nolan, Russell Bates, Harold Hill and Richard Larkin.

BRIEFS

The weekly whist parties at the Quincy Yacht club began Thursday evening.

Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell of 35 Edgewater road entertained a few friends at an informal auction bridge party Tuesday evening.

Miss Marion Morris of Grant street was one of the graduates who completed her course at the Long Island Training school for Nurses.

Councilman William P. Thompson was the host at a small, informal dance Tuesday evening at his home on Whitney road.

The family of Hazen E. Ricker have moved from their house on Whitney road to the house recently purchased by them on Goffe street.

The street railway will put on its through line of cars between Newport bridge and Nantasket June 17. After that date through cars will run every half hour.

A. F. Schenkelberger of 45 Goffe street Wednesday raised the American flag on his premises in honor of the designation of Secretary of State Bryan.

Friends of Mrs. Albert M. Webb (Clare Jones) of Durham, N. C., will be interested to know that she has a little son, John Maricre Webb 2nd, born May 21.

On Tuesday evening, the Wampunack Camp Fire Girls gave a surprise party to welcome their guardian, Miss Ruth Bass, who has just returned from New Milford, Conn.

The next Y. M. C. A. senior outing will be held on Saturday, June 19, at Germantown. The outing last Saturday at Houghs' pond was a great success.

Miss Maud McFarlane, one of the bridesmaids at the Gay-Smith wedding entertained the bride party on Tuesday evening at her home on Myerbrook road. There was an informal dancing.

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus is to have classes in open air painting during the summer at Wollaston beach; something new for Quincy which is interesting several art students.

Mrs. Sadie M. Wood, of G. L. Gill (Berkley) lodge, U. C. P., accompanied by G. M. Mrs. Alice Rand of Boston paid an official visit to Stoddard Rebock lodge of East Weymouth Monday evening.

Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. an enjoyable time was had by about twenty-five Boy Scouts under the leadership of Scout Master D. J. MacKellar, of South Quincy.

The Central Station Auto chemical responded on a still alarm at 7:30 A. M. Thursday to a chimney fire in the back house on Washington street, situated next to the post office. The firemen found the chimney badly filled with soot.

Miss Julia M. Little who has resided on Spear street for many years is planning to give up housekeeping this month and dispose of most of her furniture. In July she expects to go to Maine to visit Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Little, formerly of Quincy and in the fall may go to California.

The Sunday school of Christ church will hold its final meeting of the season next Sunday, the occasion being graduation day. Rev. William Grainger, the rector, will catechize the members of the entire school and there will be promotion of all classes. The exercises will be held at 9:30 A. M.

The quarterly meeting of the North-Central Association of the W. R. C. will be held in the Unitarian church, Washington street, Wednesday, June 16th at 10 A. M. sharp. Dinner will be served at noon, by Paul J. Revere Corps No. 103. Entertainment at 2 o'clock to which the public is invited.

An analysis of the entering class for next September at the High School shows a very decided preference among the pupils for manual arts and household arts courses and a marked decrease in the commercial course. A small number of boys electing the normal preparatory course is also a very encouraging sign.

Ensign Fritz Ahrling, said to be the youngest ensign in the Swedish branch of the Salvation Army in this country, who has been stationed in Boston, has been assigned to work in the Quincy Army. Ensign Ahrling came to Brockton a year ago from Cleveland. He is but 27 years of age. The Quincy branch of the Army is located on Granite street.

Ten tables were in play at the Monday evening whist of the Mt. Wollaston club in Odd Fellows hall. Purses were served during the evening. The winners were Mrs. W. Wentland, Miss Sadie Thomas, Elmer Sprague, H. Yeager, Mrs. Starr, Mrs. H. Williams. The party was the last of the season and the series prizes were awarded to Mrs. Annie L. Smith and W. F. Carman.

The Industrial school is endeavoring to assist the full time pupils to secure positions for the summer months. Several letters have been sent to carpenters and builders, and various manufacturing plants. The school would be pleased to be informed of positions of any kind where good faithful boys may secure employment for the months of July and August.

A meeting of the Boys' club of the Swedish Congregational church was held Tuesday evening at the home of Russell Sandblom of Station street. It was a fellowship meeting. Arthur Johnson read a paper on "Fellowship" and C. Oman read a poem. Herbert Johnson and Edward Barsell rendered a duet. New by-laws were adopted. The next meeting will be held at the home of Arthur Johnson.

Mrs. Annie J. wife of John J. Arbuckle, died suddenly at her home, 75 South street, Sunday morning, June 7th, when she was 75 years of age. Mrs. Arbuckle was taken suddenly ill during the day and died in about twenty minutes. She is survived by a husband, a machinist employed at the Fore River shipyard, and three children, Robena, Sarah and Annie. Joseph, Edith and John, the latter having been born a few weeks ago. Funeral services were held from her late home Wednesday at 2:30.

The picnic of the Quincy High school Alumni association is to be held this afternoon at Glen Echo park. Special cars will leave City square at two o'clock. There will be a baseball game and sports. If the weather is favorable, the picnic will be held at nine o'clock. Members will carry box lunches. The committee in charge includes: Brookes Keyes, Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Eleanor Whittemore, Miss Marie Bass, William J. Nolan, Russell Bates, Harold Hill and Richard Larkin.

BRIEFS

Miss Evelyn Jones of Maple street leaves on Monday for Brunswick, Maine for a few weeks visit.

Miss Ellen S. Barrie of Whitwell street leaves today for a three weeks vacation at the Mount Pleasant house, Jefferson, Mass.

Miss Ruth Packard of Hancock street, is appearing this week as an Indian maiden in a sketch at one of Boston's vaudeville houses.

The exercises for Flag Day will be held by the Women's Relief Corps at the home of Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdel, patriotic instructor, Hancock street, Atlantic, Monday at 2 P. M.

Lieut. Albert C. Jones, 10th U. S. Infantry, stationed in the Panama Zone, brother of Dr. Frederick E. Jones is in Quincy on a short visit. Lieut. Jones will return within a short time.

Miss Edith Doyle, formerly of Atlantic, and a graduate of Quincy High school, is in the district of Jack Joyce and Barty Flaherty. The sketch consisted of a hotel scene and songs and dances by the trio. Mortimer Murphy as the waiter took the house by storm owing to his all interesting readings and sang several songs. Grady gave the recital of the popular songs of the day. Thomas McDonald also contributed several songs and readings. George A. McDonald concluded the evening's fun by dancing an Irish reel. At the business meeting Fr. Doyle, the former curate at St. Mary's church, was extended an honorary membership by a unanimous vote.

About fifty couples were in attendance Monday evening in St. Joseph's hall at a novelty dance given by the Parkway district in aid of the St. Mary's fund. The music was furnished by Mazza's three piece orchestra. All of the latest popular dances including all of the novelty dances of the day were enjoyed. The affair was in charge of Miss Annie Burns, chairman of the Parkway district, who was assisted by Miss Mary Doyle, Frances Dalry, Elizabeth Schatzel, Christina McDonald and Helen Shea.

Rev. William H. Germany of the Hall Place M. E. church officiated at the services held at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Carr, one of the oldest residents of West Quincy, which took place at the home of his daughter, Mrs. David Thomas, 41 Bunker Hill street. Burial was in the Hall cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey DeCoste of Wollaston and now of Friendship, Maine, are having their daughter, Miss Mary Gillis, who since their marriage in April have been living with Mrs. Doyle's parents in Braintree moved into the new home on South street, Friday.

Mrs. May W. Hatch, formerly of Quincy and now of Friendship, Maine, who has been visiting here for some weeks is at present the guest of friends in Somerville. She expects to return for a short while to Quincy before going back to Maine.

Miss Dorothy Edwards of Greenleaf street gave a small auction bridge party, Tuesday afternoon, the guest of honor being Miss Mary Faxon, who is now in London on the leave of Lemuel Bannister of New York.

Miss Florence Howe, of Bigelow street, a teacher at the Quincy school, and her cousin Miss Claudia Wilson, a student at the conservatory, leave the last of the month for an extended trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition. They expect to be away until September.

Miss Annie Guerin is to become the wife next Wednesday of Frank Coldwell formerly of Baltimore, and now employed at the Fore River. They are to live on Arnold street, Quincy Point.

Joseph Moriarty of Summer street, Quincy Point, has been appointed a member of the police force at Brooklyn, N. Y., where he has been a resident several months. Shortly after he went on the first duty assigned him he made his first arrest when he took into custody two men who renewed fighting on the sidewalk after a hasty exit from a saloon. He charged them with carrying a dangerous weapon.

Frank J. Duffy, former councilman from Ward Two, has severed his connection with the Fore River shipyard after a service of some years and has accepted a position at the Charleston and is in charge of the piece work system.

Progress all along the line was reported at the meeting of general committee having in charge the July Fourth celebration in Ward Two. The committee will have a total of $290 toward the celebration and would like $200 or $300 more in order fully to carry out the program outlined. The committee feel that as this ward is the only one which will have any detailed celebration this year that the people of this ward should have an opportunity to participate in the celebration can readily contribute to the fund.

The Board of Licensing Commission of the City of Boston has notified Mayor Campbell that the hearing on granting liquor licenses to parties who have been refused in the past to locate in North Quincy is to be held at the rooms of the board, 1 Beacon street, Boston, Tuesday, June 15, at 2:30 o'clock.

Chairman Bailey of the Planning Board appeared before the committee on streets of the City Council at its meeting Wednesday evening and conveyed the feeling of the Board in favor of establishing a new street on the streets, later the committee went to executive session to consider the acceptance of streets upon which public hearings were held last Monday evening.

At the regular convocation of St. Stephen's Royal Arch Chapter Wednesday evening the subject of celebrating the fifth anniversary of the constitution of the chapter next March was brought up and after some discussion the high priest was authorized to appoint a committee to take the matter under consideration, the committee to report at a later convocation.

The executive committee of the July Fourth celebration association met in the rooms of the Board of Trade Wednesday evening and after expressing its regrets at the action of the City Council in refusing to appropriate $600 for entertainment for the children on the National holiday the committee voted to omit any celebration this year.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club finishes its season this month with two gentlemen's nights. Friday night Miss Eleanor Whittemore, Miss Stella Barker and Miss Catherine Saville were hostesses and the meeting was held at the Quincy Yacht club. A week from Friday night Miss Ethel Roache, Miss Beatrice Morrison and Mrs. Gerna Saville will be the hostesses at the Miller Stile Inn.

Turning swords into plowshares will seem a comparatively small matter when the time comes for turning fighting ships into merchant vessels.

WEST QUINCY

Pearl J. Reynolds, of Bangor, Me., is in town renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Reynolds was employed by G. A. Mayo until he left for Bangor about four years ago.

Arthur J. Toombs of Copeland street formerly employed as a foreman for J. S. Swingle, left Tuesday for Maine. Mr. Toombs has purchased a large farm and will take charge of it the latter part of the week.

William J. Cashman and son Edward and Councilman Joseph F. Barry of West Quincy left Monday on a three days trip to the Pennsylvania Coal mines. They will be among the 600 coal men of New England who are to be the guests of the Lehigh Valley mine owners.

A very pleasant evening was spent by the members of St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. society at their regular monthly meeting Monday evening. The regular business meeting was followed by a short sketch given by the quartet consisting of the director, Jack Joyce and Barty Flaherty. The sketch consisted of a hotel scene and songs and dances by the trio. Mortimer Murphy as the waiter took the house by storm owing to his all interesting readings and sang several songs. Grady gave the recital of the popular songs of the day. Thomas McDonald also contributed several songs and readings. George A. McDonald concluded the evening's fun by dancing an Irish reel. At the business meeting Fr. Doyle, the former curate at St. Mary's church, was extended an honorary membership by a unanimous vote.

About fifty couples were in attendance Monday evening in St. Joseph's hall at a novelty dance given by the Parkway district in aid of the St. Mary's fund. The music was furnished by Mazza's three piece orchestra. All of the latest popular dances including all of the novelty dances of the day were enjoyed. The affair was in charge of Miss Annie Burns, chairman of the Parkway district, who was assisted by Miss Mary Doyle, Frances Dalry, Elizabeth Schatzel, Christina McDonald and Helen Shea.

Rev. William H. Germany of the Hall Place M. E. church officiated at the services held at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Carr, one of the oldest residents of West Quincy, which took place at the home of his daughter, Mrs. David Thomas, 41 Bunker Hill street. Burial was in the Hall cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey DeCoste of Wollaston and now of Friendship, Maine, are having their daughter, Miss Mary Gillis, who since their marriage in April have been living with Mrs. Doyle's parents in Braintree moved into the new home on South street, Friday.

Mrs. May W. Hatch, formerly of Quincy and now of Friendship, Maine, who has been visiting here for some weeks is at present the guest of friends in Somerville. She expects to return for a short while to Quincy before going back to Maine.

Miss Dorothy Edwards of Greenleaf street gave a small auction bridge party, Tuesday afternoon, the guest of honor being Miss Mary Faxon, who is now in London on the leave of Lemuel Bannister of New York.

Miss Florence Howe, of Bigelow street, a teacher at the Quincy school, and her cousin Miss Claudia Wilson, a student at the conservatory, leave the last of the month for an extended trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition. They expect to be away until September.

Miss Annie Guerin is to become the wife next Wednesday of Frank Coldwell formerly of Baltimore, and now employed at the Fore River. They are to live on Arnold street, Quincy Point.

Joseph Moriarty of Summer street, Quincy Point, has been appointed a member of the police force at Brooklyn, N. Y., where he has been a resident several months. Shortly after he went on the first duty assigned him he made his first arrest when he took into custody two men who renewed fighting on the sidewalk after a hasty exit from a saloon. He charged them with carrying a dangerous weapon.

Frank J. Duffy, former councilman from Ward Two, has severed his connection with the Fore River shipyard after a service of some years and has accepted a position at the Charleston and is in charge of the piece work system.

Progress all along the line was reported at the meeting of general committee having in charge the July Fourth celebration in Ward Two. The committee will have a total of $290 toward the celebration and would like $200 or $300 more in order fully to carry out the program outlined. The committee feel that as this ward is the only one which will have any detailed celebration this year that the people of this ward should have an opportunity to participate in the celebration can readily contribute to the fund.

The Board of Licensing Commission of the City of Boston has notified Mayor Campbell that the hearing on granting liquor licenses to parties who have been refused in the past to locate in North Quincy is to be held at the rooms of the board, 1 Beacon street, Boston, Tuesday, June 15, at 2:30 o'clock.

Chairman Bailey of the Planning Board appeared before the committee on streets of the City Council at its meeting Wednesday evening and conveyed the feeling of the Board in favor of establishing a new street on the streets, later the committee went to executive session to consider the acceptance of streets upon which public hearings were held last Monday evening.

At the regular convocation of St. Stephen's Royal Arch Chapter Wednesday evening the subject of celebrating the fifth anniversary of the constitution of the chapter next March was brought up and after some discussion the high priest was authorized to appoint a committee to take the matter under consideration, the committee to report at a later convocation.

The executive committee of the July Fourth celebration association met in the rooms of the Board of Trade Wednesday evening and after expressing its regrets at the action of the City Council in refusing to appropriate $600 for entertainment for the children on the National holiday the committee voted to omit any celebration this year.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club finishes its season this month with two gentlemen's nights. Friday night Miss Eleanor Whittemore, Miss Stella Barker and Miss Catherine Saville were hostesses and the meeting was held at the Quincy Yacht club. A week from Friday night Miss Ethel Roache, Miss Beatrice Morrison and Mrs. Gerna Saville will be the hostesses at the Miller Stile Inn.

Turning swords into plowshares will seem a comparatively small matter when the time comes for turning fighting ships into merchant vessels.

QUINCY POINT

Friends of Miss Mary Costello, one of the teachers of the Codding school, are tendering a surprise party for her on Saturday night, June 12th, at the home of her father, Mr. J. J. Costello, 41 Bunker Hill street. The affair will be held at the home of her father, Mr. J. J. Costello, 41 Bunker Hill street. The affair will be held at the home of her father, Mr. J. J. Costello, 41 Bunker Hill street.

Miss Margaret Goodspeed of 115 Grand View avenue will return this week from Wellesley College for the summer.

Among the graduates of the Northfield seminary this week was Miss Alta Grant of Brook street. Miss Grant will spend the next few weeks at a house party with friends.

The Northfield seminary will hold its annual picnic at Glen Echo park, Stoughton, June 17th. As this is a holiday for the majority, an unusually large crowd is expected.

Among the graduates from Boston University last week, Wollaston is very popular. Miss Mary Ellen Armstrong and Mr. Arthur Paxon were among the highest in the class, while Mr. Mervyn Bailey and Miss Helen Farwell were of Phi Beta Kappa.

Mayor Campbell has charge of the annual outing of the Textile Machinery Manufacturers' association, of which Frederick H. Bishop, of Wollaston is president, which will be held next Monday. The outing will take the form of a trip down the harbor in a steamer after which the party will make a landing for dinner.

A word of great interest among the younger set of Wollaston will be that of William E. Bullock and Miss Eleanor E. Dunn, which will take place Saturday evening, June twenty-sixth. Mr. Bullock has become well known among the younger members of the Textile Machinery Manufacturers' association. Both ceremony and reception will be held at the home of the bride, 252 Newport avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Galbraith of Boston, formerly of Quincy, are the parents of a daughter, born Tuesday at the Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton. Their marriage took place while Mrs. Galbraith then Beatrice Phelan of Wollaston, was connected with the Thompson case and while the doctor was on the staff of Dr. H. Almon.

William O. Phelps is seriously ill at his home on Prospect avenue Wollaston.

SQUANTUM

A large audience witnessed "Hibber of Harvard" Saturday night in Richards Memorial hall given by the members of the Atlantic Memorial church for the benefit of the Squantum church fund.

The piece was recently presented in Atlantic Music hall. The parts were cleverly taken by members of the same cast as the Atlantic production.

Parts were taken by Frank Spicer, Percival Hall, David Moffat, Arthur Hall, John Burke, Miss Eleanor Nelson, Miss Jean Arthur, Frank Spicer, and Mrs. Arthur Hall.

RECEIVED DEGREE.

The University of Maine this week graduated the largest class in the State and the largest class in its own history, 160 receiving diplomas. Samuel W. McCall was made an LL. D. and delivered an address to the new graduates.

Those who graduated from the law department was Frank A. Tirrell, Jr. of this city. He received the degree of LL. B. He led his class in scholarship and on a popular vote of the law students was awarded the position of student of the law encyclopedia known to the legal profession as CYC.

Mr. Tirrell, who is expected home Saturday night, is the only son of Frank A. Tirrell, a well known attorney.

WOLLASTON

The wedding of Bessie Mae Brooks and Thomas Malcolm Hinkley of New York City is to take place Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Alfred James Brooks of Hancock street, Wollaston.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson of 4902 Huntington avenue, Newport News, Virginia are receiving congratulations on the birth of their second daughter on Wednesday who has been named Louise. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson formerly lived on Standish avenue, Wollaston going south last fall when Mr. Nelson accepted a position with the shipbuilding company there. Mrs. Carl C. Ellis of Beale street is a sister of Mrs. Nelson.

Mrs. Herbert N. Wood of Farringham, Mass. returned Monday from North Hanson where she has been spending a week at Gordon Rest. Her mother Mrs. Graves of Beverly was with her.

Harold Thomas of Newton street left Thursday for Labrador where he will be house officer at Indian Hospital, St. John's, Newfoundland, when he goes to the Battle Harbor hospital for a month and from there to St. Anthony's hospital to stay until the sailing of the last boat before winter sets in. All these hospitals are under the direction of Dr. Winifred Thayer. Dr. Thayer will be graduated from Harvard Medical school the last of this month.

Rev. George M. Bailey gave a stereopticon lecture entitled the "Challenge of the Mountains" in the Wollaston Methodist church Friday night. The lecture was given by the Canadian Rockies were of unusual beauty, many of them being very finely colored. The proceeds of the lecture over and above expenses are to be devoted to the needs of the base ball team of the Sunday school of the Wollaston Methodist church.

Rev. Paul Edmund of Farringham street, Wollaston, left Wednesday to fill the pastorate of the Methodist churches of the Dismouth Circuit, Maine. The circuit includes Dismouth, Concord and North and East Dismouth. Dismouth is about eight miles outside Bangor. Mr. Edmund purposes to enter the Bangor Theological school in the fall. Mr. Dunham was in the employ of the Samuel Ward Company of Boston until his determination to enter the ministry.

Miss Gertrude Predane of Athol, Mass. spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. E. H. Predane of 24 Grand View ave.

Mrs. H. H. Pezz and daughter Muriel, of Tamaqua, Pa., are visiting her mother, Mrs. A. English 275 Newport avenue, Wollaston.

The Ladies Aid of the Wollaston Methodist church held the final meeting of the season in the church parlour on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. William E. Rowe president of the Wollaston Woman's club returned Sunday from a trip to Cape Cod. The Queen Esther circle of the Wollaston Methodist church held an outing at Norumbega park Saturday afternoon and evening.

The photoplay "Shores Across" was given in the Wollaston Unitarian church parish house Wednesday evening before a large audience. The vocalist at the evening was T. Murphy of the Wollaston Baptist church. The affair was under the auspices of the social department of the church and Clifford Baker was chairman of the committee.

A word of great interest among the younger set of Wollaston will be that of William E. Bullock and Miss Eleanor E. Dunn, which will take place Saturday evening, June twenty-sixth. Mr. Bullock has become well known among the younger members of the Textile Machinery Manufacturers' association. Both ceremony and reception will be held at the home of the bride, 252 Newport avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Galbraith of Boston, formerly of Quincy, are the parents of a daughter, born Tuesday at the Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton. Their marriage took place while Mrs. Galbraith then Beatrice Phelan of Wollaston, was connected with the Thompson case and while the doctor was on the staff of Dr. H. Almon.

William O. Phelps is seriously ill at his home on Prospect avenue Wollaston.

ATLANTIC

Memorial Sunday school is to observe Children's day Sunday evening when a fine concert will be given by the children of the school.

Leslie Arthur of Hollis avenue, left this week for Pomona, Cal. on business for the Stone & Webster Co. of Boston. Mr. Arthur was graduated from the Quincy High in 1911 and was among the leaders in organizing the High School Alumni Association, being captain of one of the teams in the recent campaign for members.

Edwin French of Brooks street is on a business trip to Bristol, N. H. Miss Blanche Coleman of Fall River is spending a few days with Miss Esther Jenkins of Billings street.

Miss Caroline Hubbard has returned to her home on Billings street after spending the winter in the south.

At the box social of the Y. P. S. C. E. of Memorial Congregational church Monday night there was an unusual number of young men present, so that the boxes were not unoccupied, as it had been suggested that some young woman ask two young men so as to have one more man than girls but so many came that with the few who asked unaccompanied there were just twice the number of young men present as girls. The young women enjoyed the joke so well that they set the tables and all had lunch together.

Miss Bertha Grass of Montclair is seriously ill with pneumonia.

MILTON

The Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church will hold its annual lawn party on the church grounds the afternoon and evening of June 22.

During the months of July and August the East church and the First Baptist will hold union morning services. In July the services will be held in the East church with Rev. J. H. Woodson occupying the pulpit and in August in the First Baptist, with Rev. J. M. Trout, occupying the pulpit.

The annual luncheon of the Ladies Aid society

The Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 25.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 142 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Quincy 190.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

MERRYMOUNT

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
Quincy, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Sack and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.

At No. 20 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1851 Charter Perpetual

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.

Capital, $2,000,000.00
Surplus, $2,000,000.00
Assets, $2,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-Insurance, $2,000,000.00
Reserve for Capital Losses, $2,000,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims, $2,000,000.00
Total Assets, $2,000,000.00

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, $2,000,000.00
Total Assets, $2,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-Insurance, $2,000,000.00
Reserve for Capital Losses, $2,000,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims, $2,000,000.00
Total Assets, $2,000,000.00

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 6 per cent., on three-year policies,
4 per cent., on one-year policies, 3 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DIRECTORS: Samuel Gamett, Milton
Stephens, W. D. Curtis, William E. Lincoln,
James V. Noyes, Dedham, Joseph H. Sedgwick,
Dedham, Samuel H. Capen, Dedham, Andrew
H. Boddie, Dedham, George L. Bates,
Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Incorporated 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, $2,000,000.00
Total Assets, $2,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-Insurance, $2,000,000.00
Reserve for Capital Losses, $2,000,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims, $2,000,000.00
Total Assets, $2,000,000.00

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 6 per cent., on three-year policies,
4 per cent., on one-year policies, 3 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DIRECTORS: Samuel Gamett, Milton
Stephens, W. D. Curtis, William E. Lincoln,
James V. Noyes, Dedham, Joseph H. Sedgwick,
Dedham, Samuel H. Capen, Dedham, Andrew
H. Boddie, Dedham, George L. Bates,
Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, 15 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President
W. D. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS:
Paul R. Blackman, Attorney
Clarence Burdick, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and So-
licitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Edmund F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wild Coat Co.
Samuel J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank

We reduce your Insurance Rate One-
Fifth.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Wm. A. Bradford Co.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
Vegetable Preparation for Simulating the Food and Regulating
the Stomach and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN.

Promotes Digestion, Cheerful-
ness and Rest, Contains neither
Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.

Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Flatulency, Worms, Convulsions, Feverish-
ness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Particulars of Use and Directions on Wrapper.

Guaranteed under the Food and Drug Act of 1906.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

A New Floor

"Adds A Lot" to The Home

Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:
Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

HESS SANITARY LOCKER

The Best Yet!

Enameled Steel Medicine Cabinets With Beveled Plate Glass or Enameled Steel Shelves

A Real Necessity Can Be Attached By Anyone

To Recess into Wall With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50
With Enameled Shelves $8.00

To Screw onto Wall With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50
With Enameled Shelves $8.00

A NECESSARY LUXURY

Built To Fit the Poor Man's Pocketbook

These Cabinets are made in the most substantial manner, the corners of the doors and frames being solidly welded. They are perfectly sanitary, easy to keep clean, and will last a lifetime.

We will gladly deliver one of these cabinets at your residence for inspection. If not entirely satisfactory we will cheerfully call and collect same without any expense to you.

FOR SALE BY
The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK

No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

THE MODERN CHILD.

James F. Morton, Jr.

Born scientifically. Studied thoroughly. Clothed very carefully. Dressed systematically. Aired systematically. Bathed most emphatically. Played with little dexterity. Punished systematically. Sweet infancy. Stopped in infancy. Santa Claus banished. Mother Goose vanished. Where are the babies. The real human babies. The olden time knew.

Harnessed scholastically. Drilled superlatively. Cultured prodigiously. Lectured religiously. Classified rigidly. Reasoned with frigidity. Loved analytically. Distended to critically. Doctored with the "ologies." Rashed through the colleges. Crimined pedagogically. "Finished" most logically. Where is the childhood. The fresh, happy childhood. The olden time knew.

THE TWINS.

"And so they split," said Mrs. Meekin. "One-half of the managers wanted to do one thing and the other half wanted to do something else. They couldn't come to an agreement, so the dissection of the twins was made. The original institution and founded a nursery of their own. They call it the Rest. While home. And where do you stand?" asked Caleb. "Are you a regular or a dissembler?"

"Neither. I am still on the fence. You see, I have a judicial mind. I have to weigh matters carefully before I can come to a conclusion. For years the Rockaway Nursery has been my favorite charity. I had intended to contribute a neat little sum to its support this fall, but the present trouble has put me all at sea. I don't know which faction to give the money to. However, I promised yesterday to let the managers of the rival institutions know definitely by the first of October where my sympathies lie. I told them you would make up my mind for me."

"Not on your life I won't!" protested Caleb stoutly. "You don't get me mixed up in any such mess as that." "Now, Caleb dear," she said. "Remember you won't see me again for six whole months. You can do just as you please all that time. The only promise I shall exact from you before going away is in regard to the nursery. I want you to study the situation conscientiously, make up your mind which branch you think most deserving, and then give them a nice little check, say $1,000."

"What?" cried Caleb. "I thought you said $500 if you think $1,000 too much. I had promised $1,000." "Very well," said Caleb. "I will think about it." "He called at Mrs. Pembroke's and found Mrs. Meekin and several adherents of both leaders already there engaged in a free-for-all discussion of nursery ways and means. "Mrs. Meekin told me last night something about this nursery scrape," he began. "She made me promise to give one party or the other some money to help pay expenses while she is away. She said I was to use my own judgment in making the donation. That looks like a fair proposition, but I think I have found a way out. It strikes me that the easiest and at the same time the fairest way to settle the business is to give the money to the nursery that can produce the best-looking baby. How does that sound? Isn't it a fair proposition?"

"Mrs. Pembroke coughed uneasily. "I hardly know," she replied. "It seems to me that even so the case is still beset with difficulties. Who is going to decide on the beauty of the babies?" "Oh, we will fix that up all right," was Caleb's airy reply. "We'll have a baby show in addition to the $500 which I intend to give to the successful nursery."

"Five hundred?" interposed Mrs. Pembroke. "Mrs. Meekin promised us a thousand." "I know that she did," returned Caleb coolly. "But that's too much. My wife was always generous in her charities to the point of criminality. I intend to run things with a more prudent hand. As I said, in addition to the $25 to the managers of the lucky baby, that's fair, isn't it? I have but one restriction to impose. That relates to twins. I am about on twins. I know all about them. They're a bad lot. I've been mixed up in a lot of deals with twins, and very time I got the worst of it. I say, twins can't be admitted, but the combination as a whole is ruled out."

"Mrs. Pembroke smiled faintly. "We have no twins," she said. "Nor we," echoed Mrs. Meekin. "There was a further exchange of civilities that covered the space of five minutes, then Caleb got away. From the Pembroke house he went directly home. As he turned the key in his own door he was reminded again of the nursery episode by the sound of childish wailing issuing from somewhere in the region of the basement. "There it goes again," he said.

THE MODERN CHILD.

James F. Morton, Jr.

Born scientifically. Studied thoroughly. Clothed very carefully. Dressed systematically. Aired systematically. Bathed most emphatically. Played with little dexterity. Punished systematically. Sweet infancy. Stopped in infancy. Santa Claus banished. Mother Goose vanished. Where are the babies. The real human babies. The olden time knew.

Harnessed scholastically. Drilled superlatively. Cultured prodigiously. Lectured religiously. Classified rigidly. Reasoned with frigidity. Loved analytically. Distended to critically. Doctored with the "ologies." Rashed through the colleges. Crimined pedagogically. "Finished" most logically. Where is the childhood. The fresh, happy childhood. The olden time knew.

THE TWINS.

"And so they split," said Mrs. Meekin. "One-half of the managers wanted to do one thing and the other half wanted to do something else. They couldn't come to an agreement, so the dissection of the twins was made. The original institution and founded a nursery of their own. They call it the Rest. While home. And where do you stand?" asked Caleb. "Are you a regular or a dissembler?"

"Neither. I am still on the fence. You see, I have a judicial mind. I have to weigh matters carefully before I can come to a conclusion. For years the Rockaway Nursery has been my favorite charity. I had intended to contribute a neat little sum to its support this fall, but the present trouble has put me all at sea. I don't know which faction to give the money to. However, I promised yesterday to let the managers of the rival institutions know definitely by the first of October where my sympathies lie. I told them you would make up my mind for me."

"Not on your life I won't!" protested Caleb stoutly. "You don't get me mixed up in any such mess as that." "Now, Caleb dear," she said. "Remember you won't see me again for six whole months. You can do just as you please all that time. The only promise I shall exact from you before going away is in regard to the nursery. I want you to study the situation conscientiously, make up your mind which branch you think most deserving, and then give them a nice little check, say $1,000."

"What?" cried Caleb. "I thought you said $500 if you think $1,000 too much. I had promised $1,000." "Very well," said Caleb. "I will think about it." "He called at Mrs. Pembroke's and found Mrs. Meekin and several adherents of both leaders already there engaged in a free-for-all discussion of nursery ways and means. "Mrs. Meekin told me last night something about this nursery scrape," he began. "She made me promise to give one party or the other some money to help pay expenses while she is away. She said I was to use my own judgment in making the donation. That looks like a fair proposition, but I think I have found a way out. It strikes me that the easiest and at the same time the fairest way to settle the business is to give the money to the nursery that can produce the best-looking baby. How does that sound? Isn't it a fair proposition?"

"Mrs. Pembroke coughed uneasily. "I hardly know," she replied. "It seems to me that even so the case is still beset with difficulties. Who is going to decide on the beauty of the babies?" "Oh, we will fix that up all right," was Caleb's airy reply. "We'll have a baby show in addition to the $500 which I intend to give to the successful nursery."

"Five hundred?" interposed Mrs. Pembroke. "Mrs. Meekin promised us a thousand." "I know that she did," returned Caleb coolly. "But that's too much. My wife was always generous in her charities to the point of criminality. I intend to run things with a more prudent hand. As I said, in addition to the $25 to the managers of the lucky baby, that's fair, isn't it? I have but one restriction to impose. That relates to twins. I am about on twins. I know all about them. They're a bad lot. I've been mixed up in a lot of deals with twins, and very time I got the worst of it. I say, twins can't be admitted, but the combination as a whole is ruled out."

"Mrs. Pembroke smiled faintly. "We have no twins," she said. "Nor we," echoed Mrs. Meekin. "There was a further exchange of civilities that covered the space of five minutes, then Caleb got away. From the Pembroke house he went directly home. As he turned the key in his own door he was reminded again of the nursery episode by the sound of childish wailing issuing from somewhere in the region of the basement. "There it goes again," he said.

THE MODERN CHILD.

James F. Morton, Jr.

Born scientifically. Studied thoroughly. Clothed very carefully. Dressed systematically. Aired systematically. Bathed most emphatically. Played with little dexterity. Punished systematically. Sweet infancy. Stopped in infancy. Santa Claus banished. Mother Goose vanished. Where are the babies. The real human babies. The olden time knew.

Harnessed scholastically. Drilled superlatively. Cultured prodigiously. Lectured religiously. Classified rigidly. Reasoned with frigidity. Loved analytically. Distended to critically. Doctored with the "ologies." Rashed through the colleges. Crimined pedagogically. "Finished" most logically. Where is the childhood. The fresh, happy childhood. The olden time knew.

THE TWINS.

"And so they split," said Mrs. Meekin. "One-half of the managers wanted to do one thing and the other half wanted to do something else. They couldn't come to an agreement, so the dissection of the twins was made. The original institution and founded a nursery of their own. They call it the Rest. While home. And where do you stand?" asked Caleb. "Are you a regular or a dissembler?"

"Neither. I am still on the fence. You see, I have a judicial mind. I have to weigh matters carefully before I can come to a conclusion. For years the Rockaway Nursery has been my favorite charity. I had intended to contribute a neat little sum to its support this fall, but the present trouble has put me all at sea. I don't know which faction to give the money to. However, I promised yesterday to let the managers of the rival institutions know definitely by the first of October where my sympathies lie. I told them you would make up my mind for me."

"Not on your life I won't!" protested Caleb stoutly. "You don't get me mixed up in any such mess as that." "Now, Caleb dear," she said. "Remember you won't see me again for six whole months. You can do just as you please all that time. The only promise I shall exact from you before going away is in regard to the nursery. I want you to study the situation conscientiously, make up your mind which branch you think most deserving, and then give them a nice little check, say $1,000."

"What?" cried Caleb. "I thought you said $500 if you think $1,000 too much. I had promised $1,000." "Very well," said Caleb. "I will think about it." "He called at Mrs. Pembroke's and found Mrs. Meekin and several adherents of both leaders already there engaged in a free-for-all discussion of nursery ways and means. "Mrs. Meekin told me last night something about this nursery scrape," he began. "She made me promise to give one party or the other some money to help pay expenses while she is away. She said I was to use my own judgment in making the donation. That looks like a fair proposition, but I think I have found a way out. It strikes me that the easiest and at the same time the fairest way to settle the business is to give the money to the nursery that can produce the best-looking baby. How does that sound? Isn't it a fair proposition?"

"Mrs. Pembroke coughed uneasily. "I hardly know," she replied. "It seems to me that even so the case is still beset with difficulties. Who is going to decide on the beauty of the babies?" "Oh, we will fix that up all right," was Caleb's airy reply. "We'll have a baby show in addition to the $500 which I intend to give to the successful nursery."

"Five hundred?" interposed Mrs. Pembroke. "Mrs. Meekin promised us a thousand." "I know that she did," returned Caleb coolly. "But that's too much. My wife was always generous in her charities to the point of criminality. I intend to run things with a more prudent hand. As I said, in addition to the $25 to the managers of the lucky baby, that's fair, isn't it? I have but one restriction to impose. That relates to twins. I am about on twins. I know all about them. They're a bad lot. I've been mixed up in a lot of deals with twins, and very time I got the worst of it. I say, twins can't be admitted, but the combination as a whole is ruled out."

"Mrs. Pembroke smiled faintly. "We have no twins," she said. "Nor we," echoed Mrs. Meekin. "There was a further exchange of civilities that covered the space of five minutes, then Caleb got away. From the Pembroke house he went directly home. As he turned the key in his own door he was reminded again of the nursery episode by the sound of childish wailing issuing from somewhere in the region of the basement. "There it goes again," he said.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

The annual service in memory of the members of Manet Encampment, Mt. Wollaston Lodge and George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., who have passed away during the past year was held Sunday afternoon at Christ church. The three lodges with members of John Hancock lodge, Puritan lodge and Reia and Amara Rebekah lodges as guests assembled at Old Fellows hall in the Adams building, and with Manet Encampment acting as escort, marched to the church where services were held at 2 o'clock. Preceding the starting of the church a short service was held at the hall, where the Memorial Day proclamation was read by Noble Grand Robert Wood.

The services at the church included scripture reading by Rev. William Grainger, rector of the church, prayer and singing by the choir. The eulogy was read by Noble Grand of Geo. L. Gill Rebekah lodge read the eulogy address for the three members of the Rebekah lodge who have passed away during the year: Emma E. Marnock, died Aug. 8, 1914; Lydia Williams, who died April 10, 1915; William J. Williams, who died April 17, 1914.

An anthem by the choir of the church was followed by the eulogy address for members of Mt. Wollaston lodge and Manet Encampment which was read by Robert W. Wood, noble grand of Mt. Wollaston lodge. The brothers of these two lodges who have passed away during the year were: Thomas G. Clark, died Dec. 2, 1914; Charles H. Grindell, died Feb. 24, 1915; William J. Williams, P. G., died April 17, 1915; T. Walter Good, P. G., died May 19, 1915.

MANET ENCAMPMENT
William J. Williams, P. C. P., died April 17, 1915.
T. Walter Good died May 19, 1915.
Floral wreaths in memory of these brothers and sisters were placed in front of the chancel rail and after the services they were taken to the cemeteries and placed on the graves of the departed brothers and sisters.

Following the address of Noble Grand Wood a memorial address was given by Rev. William Grainger, rector of Christ church, his theme being "Influence of Brotherhood." The service closed with the singing of the memorial hymn, "Asleep in Jesus Blessed Sleep." After the service the bodies formed in a group on the lawn in front of the church and were photographed.

BETHANY CHILDREN'S SUNDAY.

The annual Children's Sunday exercises of the Sunday school of the Bethany church were held Sunday morning at which time a most interesting program was carried out. At the conclusion of the exercises the members of the school were addressed briefly by Rev. Dr. H. H. French. The baptismal service, during which twenty-five children were baptized, was conducted by Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus. The program was as follows:

Processional	Junior Choir singing
Innovation <td>By the Pastor</td>	By the Pastor
Bible Reading, Psalm 96 <td>Primary Department Song</td>	Primary Department Song
Kindergarten Anthem Frank Irwin <td>Cordelia Quartet</td>	Cordelia Quartet
Exhortation by Kindergarten Children <td>Vivian Pratt and Adelaide Taylor</td>	Vivian Pratt and Adelaide Taylor
Penny Williams, Betty Sargent, Ethel Fitzpatrick, Priscilla Green, Marjorie Milne, Helen Haldane, Solo. <td>Esther Bishop</td>	Esther Bishop
Baptism <td>By Pastor</td>	By Pastor
Hymn by Congregation <td>"A Mighty Army Gathers"</td>	"A Mighty Army Gathers"
Marmock, Rowland Hughes, David Sharp, Junior Smith, Norman Bianchi, Paul Littlefield. <td>Six Boes, Isabelle Crane, Mabel Hill, Emma Arbuckle, Catherine Roberts, Irma Larson, Judith Carlsberg, Song, "Fair Are The Roses," Stella Gullicksen, Margaret Arbuckle, Marjorie Sidelinger, Eleanor Hill, Edna Acker, Signe Anderson, Marjorie England, Ethel Pendergace, Ethel Acker, Mildred Abbott, Beatrice Esterbrook, Ethel Diack, Doris Threlk, Anna Hetherton, Eva Mattson, Bessie Cantley, Doris Prout, Beatrice Sherman.</td>	Six Boes, Isabelle Crane, Mabel Hill, Emma Arbuckle, Catherine Roberts, Irma Larson, Judith Carlsberg, Song, "Fair Are The Roses," Stella Gullicksen, Margaret Arbuckle, Marjorie Sidelinger, Eleanor Hill, Edna Acker, Signe Anderson, Marjorie England, Ethel Pendergace, Ethel Acker, Mildred Abbott, Beatrice Esterbrook, Ethel Diack, Doris Threlk, Anna Hetherton, Eva Mattson, Bessie Cantley, Doris Prout, Beatrice Sherman.
Recitation <td>Everett Richards</td>	Everett Richards
Duet, "Mrs. Moore and Mr. Hayden" <td>"There Is Good News To Tell."</td>	"There Is Good News To Tell."
Ermano Bassilio, Wendell Bishop, Peter Hattinson, Robert Smith. <td>Harold Wilson</td>	Harold Wilson
Offering <td>"Our Father Knows"</td>	"Our Father Knows"
Elmer Horton, Winifred McQuinn, Helen Pierce, Charlotte Nowell and Margaret Walker. <td>Address by pastor</td>	Address by pastor
Closing Hymn <td></td>

NAME CHANGED.

The name of the parish of St. Frances-by-the-Sea has been changed to the Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament, in accordance with a recent order by Cardinal O'Connell. The announcement was made by Father Madden, the new pastor, at the mass Sunday and is in recognition of the Feast of the Blessed Sacrament, on which day it was set apart from St. John's parish.

The church was given the name of St. Frances in recognition of Mrs. Frances Tracy whose efforts were a big factor in making its construction possible. Father Madden announced masses on Sundays would be at 7, 8, 9, and 10 o'clock and that repairs to the edifice would be made shortly.

ST. JEAN DE BAPTISTE.

The St. Jean de Baptiste Society of West Quincy have elected the following officers, for the ensuing term. President, Joseph Brunet. First Vice President, Edward Jolicoeur. Second Vice President, Napoleon Martel. Recording Sec., Joseph Landry. Asst. Rec. Sec., Eugene Amet. Fin. and Corr. Sec., Emile Badot. Treasurer, Charles D. LeClair. Trustees, Louis Bernier, George Herbert and Isaac Rogers. The society will install these officers at their next meeting.

GEORGE H. KENDRICK.

George H. Kendrick, a well known resident of Quincy and Wollaston, was one of the two persons killed on the steamship Bunker Hill of the Eastern Steamship outside line between New York and Boston when the steamer was rammed by the steam yacht Vanadis, owned by C. K. G. Gillings, which was headed toward Boston. The accident took place about 25 miles outside of New York, just after a heavy fog set in.

Mr. Kendrick was in his stateroom just over the dining room when the crash came. He was thrown some distance. When picked up he was dead, probably having been instantly killed.

Besides the two men killed three others were injured. The bowsprit of the "Vanadis" entered the port side of the Bunker Hill wrecking the dining room and carrying away sections of three decks. The yacht then rebounded and again smashed into the Bunker Hill. Neither boat was damaged below the water line and both were able to proceed back to New York.

George H. Kendrick, one of the two men killed, was well known in Quincy where he was born and where he has resided for the greater part of his life. His parents were one of the prominent South Quincy families. Kendrick avenue being named for the family.

He received his education in the Adams school and later entered the employ of the Boston & Maine railroad. He was employed in the offices of the railroad in Boston for many years. Later he entered for the home business and was employed as a traveling salesman for a Boston firm.

Recently he was one of those interested in the formation of the Massachusetts Packing and Belling Company with offices at 141 Milk street, of which he was president. Recently he went to New York on a business trip and had been attending a convention at Atlantic City, from which he was returning to his home.

Two years ago he removed to Wollaston, since which time he has resided at 18 Beach street. He was about 45 years of age and leaves a widow and one child.

He was a member of Quincy Lodge of Elks and was an enthusiastic yachtsman.

Invitations have been issued for a recital at Colonial hall, today, given by the junior pupils of Louise Lathrop Melow, pianist, assisted by the violin pupils of Frances Appleton.

Mrs. Mellows and Mrs. Appleton have recently moved to Quincy. They have studied under some of the most eminent masters in America. Mrs. Mellows having supplemented her training by study in Europe.

THE FOLLOWING FIGURES ARE GIVEN BY A WRITER IN ECONOMICS: In 355 days there are (24 hours to the day) 8,760 hours. The church is open on an average of 1,900 hours, the average factory about 2,400 hours, and the average business concern about 2,800 hours, while the saloon and other like resorts are open about 4,725 hours.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

By Q. W. C. T. U.

OUR PLEDGE
I hereby promise, God helping me, to abstain from all distilled, fermented and malt liquors, including wine, beer, and cider as a beverage and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic of the same.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.
The following figures are given by a writer in economics: In 355 days there are (24 hours to the day) 8,760 hours. The church is open on an average of 1,900 hours, the average factory about 2,400 hours, and the average business concern about 2,800 hours, while the saloon and other like resorts are open about 4,725 hours.

SALOON THE PAUPER-MAKER.
One out of every ten people a pauper. This statement is made concerning Cook county, Illinois, of which county the city of Chicago constitutes the chief part and is given in the annual report of the president of the board of county commissioners. During last year the number helped was 200,000, the chief cause of need in some of these cases being reported as unemployment. The close connection between the 7,000 saloons of Chicago and the burden of pauperism is easily seen. Any business man accustomed to employ labor could make a tolerably accurate conjecture that fully one-third of the men who cannot in ordinary times secure employment are unreliable and undesirable as workmen because of their indulgence in liquor.

And the men and women who each year dig deep into their pockets for the taxes necessary to care for these 250,000 paupers and other dependent citizens are in a majority of cases the same men and women who license the institution that produces them.

HARVARD SENIOR SPREAD.
The Harvard senior spread, one of the most attractive features of Class Day, will be held in Memorial hall Delta Monday evening, June 21. There will be dancing in the hall from eight o'clock till one in the morning, and supper will be served in the Delta. Among the patronesses for the spread will be Mrs. C. F. Adams, 2d Mrs. R. L. Agassiz, Mrs. Oliver Ames, Mrs. W. C. Baylies, Mrs. F. J. Bradley, Mrs. R. S. Codman, Mrs. T. J. Coolidge, Mrs. C. B. Cottrell, Mrs. Kuno Francke, Mrs. J. J. Greenough, Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick, Mrs. Augustus Hemenway, Mrs. W. S. H. Lathrop, Mrs. A. L. Lowell, Mrs.

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY PATRIOT ESTABLISHED 1837

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 26.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 121 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Quincy 1910.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made on a year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
a year is paid in advance.
ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LAND FOR SALE
AT MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Westmont Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. 847-W
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1880 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe banks and mutual offices.
By W. PORTER & CO.
41 So. 3d Kelly Street, Boston.
Hawthorne, Hancock Street, Quincy.
ETNA INSURANCE CO.
HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1849. Charter Perpetual.
Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.
Cash Capital	$5,000,000.00
Net Surplus	6,899,289.83
Surplus for Policy Holders	$1,500,000.00
Reserve for Re-Insurance	9,856,227.72
Reserve for Unpaid Losses	222,289.94
Reserve for Other Claims	298,852.34
Total Assets	$22,481,259.83

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1847
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915

Amount at Risk	$9,599,723.18
Cash Assets	$10,600.00
Total Assets (including re-insurance)	$10,609.00
Amount of Cash Surplus	$101,946.98
Unpaid Losses	$41,813.31
Total Available Assets	$143,760.29
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 50 per cent; on three-year policies, 40 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MAISH

Secretary and Treasurer
DIRECTORS:—Samuel H. Mansfield, Daniel
H. Mansfield, R. E. Ely, (Dedham); Samuel
Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Fanning, Boston;
James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan,
Dedham; Samuel H. Ely, Dedham; Andrew H.
Hobbs, Dedham; George L. Ely, Dedham;
Wm. H. Field, Agent for Quincy

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $28,653,917.72
Cash Assets, $45,226.62
Total Assets, including re-insurance, $28,699,144.34
Amount of Cash Surplus, $438,654.06
Unpaid Losses, $28,400.22
Total Available Assets, $467,054.28
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 50 per cent; on three-year policies, 40 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MAISH, Secretary
DIRECTORS:—Samuel H. Mansfield, Milton;
Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas C.
Bryant, Canton; William E. Janney, Boston;
James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan,
Dedham; Samuel H. Ely, Dedham; Andrew H.
Hobbs, Dedham; George L. Ely, Dedham;
Wm. H. Field, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855.
HOME OFFICE, 15 CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.
William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer
DIRECTORS:
Paul R. Blackburn, Attorney
Clarence Burgin, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
J. F. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Wicks
Louis K. Lippett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McLaughlin, Vice-Pres. Thomas
& G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and So-
licitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. P. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Banking Co., Pres. Wellington
Wm. C. F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wm. C. F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Saml. J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-
Fifth.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA
Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Dr. J. C. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.
488 Neponset Avenue, Telephone 1500
Neponset, 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

A New Floor "Adds A Lot" to The Home
Lay out 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:
Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

HESS LOCKER

The Best Yet!
Enameled Steel Medicine Cabinets With Beveled Plate Mirror and Plate Glass or Enameled Steel Shelves
A Real Necessity Can Be Attached By Anyone
To Recess into Wall With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50
With Enameled Shelves $8.00
To Screw onto Wall With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50
With Enameled Shelves $8.00

A NECESSARY LUXURY

Built To Fit the Poor Man's Pocketbook

These Cabinets are made in the most substantial manner, the corners of the doors and frames being solidly welded. They are perfectly sanitary, easy to keep clean, and will last a lifetime.

We will gladly deliver one of these cabinets at your residence for inspection. If not entirely satisfactory we will cheerfully call and collect same without any expense to you.

FOR SALE BY

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing STEAM AND HOT WATER Heating GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

THE MOCKING BIRD.

Frank Libby Stanton

He didn't know much music
When first he came along;
An' all the birds went wonderin'
Why he didn't sing a song.
They primed their feathers in the sun
An' sang their sweetest notes;
An' music just came on the run
From all their pretty throats!
But still that bird was silent
In summer time an' fall;
He just set still an' listened,
An' he wouldn't sing at all!
But one night when their songsters
Were tired out an' still,
An' the wind sighed down the valley,
An' went creepin' up the hill,
When the stars was all a-tremble
In the dreamin' fields o' blue,
An' the daisy in the darkness
Felt the fallin' o' the dew,
There came a sound o' melody
No mortal ever heard,
An' all the birds sweetly singin'
From the throat o' one sweet bird!
Then the other birds went sayin'
"Is a land too far to call;
Per there war'n't no use in stayin'
When one bird could sing for all."

MY UNCLE'S HELMET.

"But, uncle—I love my cousin!"
"Give her to me!"
"Don't bother me!"
"It will be my death!"
"Nonsense! you'll console yourself with some other girl."
"Pray—"
My uncle, whose back had been to-wards me, whirled round, his face red to burning, and brought his fist down upon the counter with a heavy thump.
"Never!" he cried; "never! Do you hear what I say?"
And as I looked at him beseechingly and with joined hands, he went on:
"A pretty husband you look like!—without a son, and dreaming of going to housekeeping. A nice mess I should make of it, by giving you my daughter! It's no use your insisting. You know that when I have said 'No,' nothing under the sun can make me say 'Yes!'"
I ceased to make any further appeal. I knew my uncle—about as headstrong in the old fellow as could be found in a day's search. I contented myself with giving vent to a deep sigh, and then went on with the furnishing of a big double-handed sword, rusty from point to hilt.
"This memorable conversation took place, in fact, in the shop of my maternal uncle, a well-known dealer in antiquities and objects d'art. No. 52, Rue des Clapettes, at the sign of the "Maltese Cross"—a perfect museum of curiosities.
The walls were hung with old china, ancient cuirasses, sabres, and muskets and picture-frames; below these were ranged old cabinets, coffers of all sorts, and statues of saints, one-armed or one-legged for the most part, and dilapidated as to their gilding, then here and there, in glass cases, hermetically closed and locked, there were knick-knacks in infinite variety.
Time out of mind the shop had belonged to the Cornuets. It passed regularly from father to son, and my uncle's neighbors said—could not but be the possessor of a nice little fortune. Held in esteem by all, a Municipal Councillor, impressed by the importance and gravity of his office, short, fat, highly choleric and headstrong, but at bottom not in the least degree an unkind sort of man—such was my uncle Cornuet, my only living male relative, who, as soon as I left school, had elevated me to the dignity of chief and only clerk and shopman of the "Maltese Cross."
But my uncle was not only a dealer in antiquities and a Municipal Councillor, he was yet more and above all, the father of my cousin Rose, with whom I was naturally in love.
"To come back to the point at which I digressed.
Without paying any attention to my sighs, my uncle, magnifying glass in hand, was engaged in the examination of a lot of medals which he had purchased that morning. Suddenly he raised his head; five o'clock was striking.
"The Council!" he cried.
When my uncle pronounced that august word, it made a mouthful; for a pin, he would have saluted it bareheaded. But, this time, after a moment's consideration, he tapped his forehead and added, in a tone of supreme relief—
"No, the sitting does not take place before tomorrow—and I am forgetting that I have to go to the railway station to get the consignment of which I was advised this morning."
Rising from his seat, and laying down his glass, he called out:
"Rose, give me my cane and hat!"
Then turning towards me, he added, in a lowered tone and speaking very quickly:
"As to you—don't forget our conversation. If you think you can make me say 'yes,' try!—but I don't think you'll succeed. Meanwhile, not a word to Rose, or, by Saint Barthelmy, my patron of happy memory, I'll instantly kick you out of doors!"
At that moment, a noise appeared with my uncle's cane and hat which she handed to him. He kissed her on the forehead; then, giving me a last but eloquent look, hurried from the shop.
I went on scouring my double-handed sword Rose came quietly towards me.
"What is the matter with my father?" she asked; "he seems to be angry with you."
I looked at her—her eyes were so black, her look so kind, her mouth so rosy, and her teeth so white that I told her all—my love, my suit to her father, and his rough refusal. I could not help it—after all, it was his fault! He was not there! I determined to brave his anger. Besides, there is nobody like timid persons for displaying courage under certain circumstances. My cousin said nothing, she only held down her eyes—while her cheeks were as red as those of cherries in May.
I checked myself.
"Are you angry with me?" I asked, tremblingly. "Are you angry with me, Rose?"
She held out to me her hand. On that, my heart seething with audacity, my head on fire, I cried:
"Rose—I swear it! I will be your husband!" And as she shook her head and looked at me sadly, I added: "Oh! I will know that my uncle is self-willed, but I will be more self-willed still; and since he must be forced to say 'yes,' I will force him to say it!"
"But how?" asked Rose.
"That was exactly the difficulty. But, no matter; I would find a way to surmount it!"
At that moment a heavy step resounded in the street. Instinctively we moved away from each other; I returned to my double-handed sword, and Rose to keep herself in countenance, set to dusting, with a corner of her apron, a little statuette in its faded velvet case.
My uncle entered. Surprised at finding us together, he stopped short and looked sharply at us, from one to the other.
We each of us went on rubbing without raising our heads.
"Here, take this," said my uncle, handing me a bulky parcel from under his arm. "A splendid purchase, you'll see."
The subject did not interest me in the least.
I opened the parcel, and from the enveloping paper emerged a steel helmet—but not an ordinary helmet, oh, no!—a superb, a monumental morion with gorget and pointed visor of strange form. The visor was raised and I tried to discover what prevented it from being lowered.
"It will not go down—the hinges have got out of order," said my uncle; "but it's a superb piece, and when it has been thoroughly cleaned and touched up, will look well—that shall be your to-morrow's job."
"Very good, uncle," I murmured, not daring to raise my eyes to his.
"That night, on reaching my room, I at once went to bed. I was eager to be alone and able to think in my ease. Night brings counsel, it is said; and I had great need that the proverb should prove true. But, after lying awake for an hour without receiving any assistance, I fell off to sleep, and till next morning, did nothing but dream.
The next day—ah, the next day—I was no nearer. In vain, with clenched teeth, I scoured the immense helmet brought by my uncle the previous evening—scoured it with such fury as almost to break the iron; not an idea came to me. The helmet shone like a sun; my uncle sat smoking his pipe and watching me; but I could think of no way of forcing him to give me his daughter.
At three o'clock Rose went into the country, whence she was not to return until dinner-time, in the evening. On the threshold she could only make a sign to me with her hand; my uncle had not left us alone for a single instant. He was not easy in his mind; I could see that by his face. No doubt he had not forgotten our conversation of the previous evening.
I went on rubbing at my helmet.
"You have made it quite bright enough—put it down," said my uncle. I put it down. The storm was gathering; I could not do better than to allow it to blow over.
But suddenly as if overtaken by a strange fancy, my uncle took up the enormous morion and turned and examined it on all sides.
"A handsome piece of armor, there is no doubt about it; but it must have weighed pretty heavily on its wearers' shoulders," he muttered; and, argued by I know not what demon, he clapped it on his head and latched the gorget-piece at his neck.
Struck almost speechless, I watched what he was doing—thinking only how ugly he looked.
Suddenly there was a sharp sound—as if a spring had snapped—and crack! down fell the visor; and there was my uncle, with his head in an iron cage, gesticulating and swearing like a pagan!
I could contain myself no longer, and burst into a roar of laughter; for my uncle, muffled in the armor, presented an irresistibly comic appearance.
Threateningly, he came towards me. "The hinges!—the hinges, fool!" he yelled.
I could not see his face, but I felt that it was red to bursting.
"When you have done laughing, idiot!" he cried.
But the helmet swayed so oddly on his shoulders, his voice came from out it in such strange tones, that the more he gesticulated, the more he yelled and threatened me, the louder I laughed.
At that moment the clock of the Hotel-de-Ville, striking five, was heard.
"The Municipal Council!" murmured my uncle, in a stifled voice. "Quick! help me off with this beast of a machine! We'll settle our business afterwards!"
But, suddenly likewise, an idea—a wild, extraordinary idea—came into my head; but then, whoever is madder than a lover? Besides, I had no choice of means.
"No!" I replied.
My uncle felt back two paces in terror—and again the enormous helmet wobbled on his shoulders.
"No," I repeated, firmly. "I'll not help you out, unless you give me the hand of my cousin Rose!"
From the depths of the strangely elongated visor came, not an angry exclamation, but a veritable roar. I had "done it!"—I had burned my ships! "If you do not consent to do what I ask of you," I added, "not only will I not help you out with your helmet, but I will call in all your neighbors, and then go and find the Municipal Council!"
"You'll end your days on the scaffold," cried my uncle.
"The hand of Rose!" I repeated.

Q. H. S. SENIOR RECEPTION.

Over 400 people attended the annual senior reception held by the graduating class of Quincy High School in Music hall June 25th. One hundred and thirty were members of the class while the rest were invited guests, parents, post graduates and pupils at the school. The party was one of the most enjoyable of the season.
Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. A. L. Barbour and Headmaster and Mrs. E. L. Collins were the patrons and patronesses of the affair. They received in a corner, heavily banked with potted plants and palms, around which were twined streamers of green and gold, the class colors.
The decorations were simple but effective and consisted of streamers of class colors which draped the walls between the windows, the front of the balcony and the large chandelier in the centre of the hall. Relieving the streamers were garlands of flowers, from which hung the loose ends of pretty bowed ribbons. A large American flag, illuminated with a string of paper lanterns, hung across the stage while over the front of the platform was a banner bearing the class motto in Latin, "Yield Not To Temptation." The Roman numerals of '15 were suspended from the streamers in various parts of the hall.
The special guests of the evening were the teachers at the school, nearly all of whom were present. They were tendered a warm reception by the "grads."
Mr. and Mrs. Barbour and Mr. and Mrs. Collins received until nine o'clock and as each guest was presented they passed the dance order of the evening to them. The order called for but three varieties of dancing, waltzes, fox trots and one steps.
A few minutes after nine o'clock the grand march was formed, headed by Miss Florence Crowell, a post graduate of the school, and Donald Crocker, president of the class. In the line were over 150 couples. After the dancing was on, "Cut ins" were allowed after the first encore and all took advantage of the privilege.
The different classes represented were loudly cheered during the evening. The cheering was started now and then by four or five boys and by the time the yell was repeated all of the boys of the class had joined the happy party. The roughest cheer was that given the graduating class between the "special" dedicated to them. The classes of 1916, '11 and '10 came in for their share.
When the festivities commenced at nine o'clock fully 400 people were in the hall, the younger folks on the floor, while the older ones thronged the balcony. Formalities were soon set aside and all entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion.
The music of the evening was furnished by Winthrop's orchestra of Somerville and the frappe was served during the evening by Melrose of Norfolk Downs from a prettily decorated booth.
The evening was in charge of the executive committee, Reginald Gay, Miss Louise Churchill, vice president of the class, Miss Marion Wilson, Miss Margaret Park, Robert Davis and Lincoln Cresscup. Assisting them were the class officers Donald Crocker, president, Miss Dorothy Brown, secretary and Frederick Roache, treasurer.
The party continued until midnight.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

A service in memory of Richard R. Freeman, Jr., of Wollaston, one of those lost on the steamship Lusitania when she was torpedoed and sunk off the Irish coast, was held Sunday afternoon at the home of his parents, Grand View avenue, Wollaston.
Mr. Freeman was a son of ex-Congressman Richard R. Freeman, and was known Boston ship broker and was on his way to Siberia, where he had accepted an important position as a mining engineer. The last seen of him was on the deck of the Lusitania, after she had been struck by the torpedo, and his body has never been recovered.
The services were impressive and were attended by many of the young men's friends as well as by many friends of the family. They were conducted by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson of the First Parish church, who read selections from the scriptures and selections from poems closing with prayer.
The girls' vested evening choir of Bethany church held its last business meeting of the season Friday June 18 at the church. It was also the occasion of the choir saying good-bye to Mrs. F. J. Moore, for several years the leader of the choir. At the business session the following officers were elected:
President, Miss Marjorie Welch.
Vice President, Miss Esther Beckford.
Secretary, Miss Helen Mitchell.
Treasurer, Miss Alice Parker.
After the business session Mrs. Moore was presented with a silver engraving, sugar bowl and tray, by the choir as a slight token of appreciation for her work as leader. The presentation speech was made by Miss Helen Mitchell, past president of the choir.
Mrs. Moore was much surprised and affected by the unexpected gift. She said that she should always consider the girls as her choir and would always remember the many pleasant hours spent with them. If at any time they needed her help they had only to call upon her.
This afternoon the choir is holding its annual outing with Miss Florence Sabban at Adams shore.

PICNIC AT GLEN ECHO.

The annual Sunday school picnic of the Wollaston Baptist church was held Saturday at Glen Echo park. Three special cars were required to take the party from Wollaston in the morning and in addition to this quite a few went to the park in private automobiles so that there were about 225 in the party.
The lunches were carried and as the day was a pleasant one all had a good time. There were some sports in the afternoon the chief of which was a game of ball between two teams of youngsters. It was a spirited game and some close decisions were made by the umpire Frank Burgess. The game resulted for a victory for the team captained by Howard Walther by a score of 10 to 7.

OBSERVE CHILDREN'S DAY

Sunday was observed as Children's Day in the Hall Place M. E. church. At the morning service the pastor baptized the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller of Dorchester and also the small son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cnylo of West Quincy.
The pastor took for the subject of his sermon, those words of Vanderbilt's at the sinking of the Lusitania, "Come and let's save the kiddies." Music was furnished by a male quartette.
It was a banner day in the Sunday school. Some time ago an effort was made to increase the attendance of the Sunday school and a high water mark was set. Teachers, officers and scholars worked faithfully but always with the same result, while the attendance was gradually increasing, it failed to reach the high water mark Sunday June 13, the attendance fell just one short of the aim.
But, on Sunday, June 26, joy reigned supreme in the heart of the faithful superintendent, Alexander D. Crocker, for the high water mark was not only reached but passed beyond the expectations of all. The mark will probably be raised at the next Board meeting and the work will go on as before. On Sunday, June 27th, the first year in the "Cross and Crown Pin" system will end and twenty persons will receive a gold pin for perfect attendance for 52 consecutive Sundays. Sunday, June 27th, will be promotion day in the Sunday school and it will be necessary to form some new classes.
At seven o'clock the entire Sunday school marched into the church and took their places and gave a most pleasing and entertaining concert in honor of Children's Day. Each class wore some distinctive decoration, and had some part in the program.
The church was beautifully decorated with flowers of all kinds and colors, the work of the young women of the class of the service. Those were sent to the sick and shut-in members of the community by the third vice president of the Epworth league.
The Sunday school is indebted to the faithful and conscientious labors of Mrs. F. L. Badger and Mrs. Charles Wentzel for the success of the concert.

WM. WESTON TO LEAVE.

William Ellis Weston on Sunday concluded five years service as organist of the First Parish church. During the summer he will play at the Nahant church, his second year in that position.
About the first of September Mr. Weston will join Havah Hubbard, who is noted for his opera talks with musical interpretation. Mr. Weston will perform the latter function.
Mr. Weston will be the guest of Mr. Hubbard at "Ledgemoor," California, his summer home, where they will remain until the middle of October. Then they take a short tour through California and east as far as Iowa, stopping to New York city for the first week in November. During the remainder of the month they will take in Chicago and surrounding cities, New York and neighboring cities will be their field in December, arriving in Quincy for the Christmas holidays.
The High school will hold graduation exercises in the assembly hall on the evening of Wednesday, June 30.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher

HALF AS MUCH FUEL

HALF AS MUCH TIME

THE NEW PERFECTION

fireless cooking oven does half of its cooking with the burners turned out.

Give the roast 30 minutes of quick heat, then pull the damper that seals the oven and turn out the burners. Dinner cooks itself, without watching. When not in use, either for fireless cooking or for ordinary baking and roasting, the door may be opened and the oven burners used just like the grate burners.

To 2,000,000 housewives, the NEW PERFECTION means "gas stove comfort with kerosene oil." It does away with coal-hods and ash-pans and keeps your kitchen clean and cool during hot summer months. It is easy to operate, easy to clean, and easy to rewick. Sold in 1, 2, 3, and 4 burner sizes by dealers everywhere; also a complete line of accessories—oven, toaster, broiler and griddle.

For best results use SOCONY brands of kerosene oil.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK

Principal Stations

New York Albany Buffalo Boston

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1915

AN APPEAL

Editor of the Patriot:

More men out of work this past winter than ever before have found many families in need of food, clothing, etc. Consequently the number of people known to the Associated Charities is almost double what it was a year ago.

As one result of the hard winter many sick people have suffered, especially those children who are in danger of becoming tubercular and mothers who are overworked and undernourished. These especially, benefit by rest and change in the summer time. Already many applications have been made for vacations for sick and delicate children and mothers. Last year $90.00 was contributed by churches, Sunday schools and private individuals for this purpose and used in the following ways:—A convalescent man and his wife were sent to the country for four weeks and he returned able to work. Four mothers and children were given money to pay expenses for a day at Nantasket Beach. A delicate mother and child were sent away to relatives in Maine for three months. An overworked mother and children were sent away for two weeks and a crippled tubercular boy was assisted to go away for two months, to the country. These people were all benefited immensely by the rest and change of air.

This year with increased need we hope for more money to use and will be grateful for any contributions for this purpose. Remember $25.00 provides a day at the beach for a family, $30.00 will provide a vacation in the country of two weeks for a tired mother and two children, $10.00 will pay board for a tired working girl or $5.00 will pay board for a child for two weeks (railway fares extra).

We are grateful for assistance in other ways. This year with more demands we hope for more money to work with.

JENNY M. PURCHASE,
General Secretary,
Associated Charities of Quincy.

PARK AND DOWNS

Sunday morning at the Park and Downs Congregational church, the 10:30 morning service, to which will observe children's day. The exercises will be out of the ordinary and of a most interesting nature. The primary department will be the leading feature, some fifty little tots representing flowers taking part, the whole making up an unique attraction that will bring out a large attendance.

Mrs. Kate Tryon of Arlington Heights, a well known artist and bird lecturer, spent Saturday at Wollaston Beach making sketches and viewing the hills surrounding Quincy. Mrs. Tryon, who is usually in England at this time of year, will remain at home this season on account of the war, and is preparing a book of paintings that will consist of views taken from hill tops of Greater Boston. Mrs. Tryon plans to include Third Hill in the collection.

Henry Barham of Edwin street is making an extended trip to Norfolk, Virginia.

Mrs. Robert Taylor of Henry street has been visiting friends at Meriden, Connecticut.

Ten young people of the Henry street section have formed a tennis club, the courts of which will be at the foot of Edin street.

Wollaston Knapp of Henry street is on a seven hundred mile automobile trip through New Hampshire and New York.

Since the Squantum Yacht club has discontinued its Saturday evening dances the Wollaston Yacht club proves the necessity of this dancing.

There was enough sunshine and warm temperature Saturday afternoon to bring the bathers out en masse at Wollaston beach. Five hundred or more went in the water, and twice as many without the courage looked on. Mrs. Hackings of Brooklyn, New York, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert Dresser of Kemper street.

Next Sunday at the Park and Downs church will be observed as Children's Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Dresser of Kemper street entertained informally Tuesday afternoon in her home. Mrs. J. G. Wilson of New York. Mrs. Wilson was formerly of Wollaston has been making an extended visit here.

Mrs. Harry D. King and children of Thornton street have returned from a week's visit in Stoneham, where they were the guests of Mrs. King's sister, Mrs. George B. Raymond of Raritan road will be hostess to her Sewing club Thursday afternoon, at her summer home at North Weymouth.

Mrs. William J. Colby of Marlboro street, entertained informally Wednesday afternoon, the guest of honor being Mrs. James D. Wilson of New York.

Mrs. E. B. Bird and Miss Rebecca Bird of Beach street have returned from a trip to Uncanoonah, White Mountains. The family will open their summer home at Uncanoonah for the season July first.

MRS. HAROLD C. MCKAY

Beatrice Church McKay, wife of Harold C. McKay of 108 Phillips street Wollaston and daughter of John G. Church, New England Agent of New York Central Lines, after an illness lasting since October, 1914, passed away Wednesday evening. Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church, Wollaston, Thursday afternoon at three o'clock, and the body was interred at Bellows Falls, Ct.

Mrs. McKay's illness has been watched by a host of friends who have hoped she might recover, but complications ensued, and finally the rheumatism from which she suffered during her entire illness reached her heart and the end came. She will be mourned by a host of friends among the younger set in Wollaston with whom she was extremely popular, and who will miss the sunny disposition which was her chief asset. She leaves one son, a boy about five years. The sympathies of the people in her district go out to her husband and her immediate relatives.

AN APPEAL

Will some one give or sell cheaply a baby carriage to a deserving poor Italian mother whose baby used to be out doors and whose husband is handicapped with doctor's bill and other necessary expenses. Both are workers. Address or telephone Mrs. Robert E. Park, Wollaston.

BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heffernan of Elm place are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Wednesday.

After the service of Sunday morning the First Parish church will close for the summer.

The Joseph A. Dashes of Adams street are at their summer cottage at Kennerly, Hull, for the season, going down this week.

Joseph Curry of Brackett street has returned from a two weeks' fishing trip to Monponset. He reports having unusual good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Paxon of Adams street are entertaining Mr. Lemuel Bannister's mother, Mrs. Mason of New York.

Miss Fanny Ellsworth of Bronx, N. Y., has arrived in Quincy for the wedding of her cousin, Miss Mary Paxon.

Mrs. D. M. McCall, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. H. W. Sprague of Abundance, has returned to her home on Edgemore road.

Miss Mary Munroe Faxon of Adams street who is to be married Monday evening was at home to her friends Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hanford of 15 Pierce street, have the sympathy of their friends in the death of their son, Albert L. Hanford who died Monday aged eleven months.

Brook Adams is to give an address before the Hingham Historical society at Hingham Wednesday evening, subject "The evolution of past to modern democracy."

Jesse I. Litchfield and daughter Sylvia of Arlington street, Wollaston, are to be guests for the summer of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lawton of Presidents hill.

Several members of Dorothy Q. Jones of Old Ladies accepted an invitation from Sister Jane Cook of North Scituate to spend the day at her home.

Joseph A. Sedgewick of Coffe street and Harry Brown of Wollaston who recently bought land on Monroe road, Presidents hill, are planning to build this season.

The cellar for a house for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sampson is staked out on Avon way Presidents hill and building will soon be underway. They hope to occupy early in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Slade of Edgemore road who have been enjoying the many gaities of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. Slade's class at Harvard this week, left Friday for the boat races at New London.

Miss Florence Faxon is planning to move to Wollaston to make her home having bought land on Presidents hill upon which to erect a bungalow for a permanent home. She will receive a cordial welcome from many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Slade of Edgemore road have been enjoying the festivities of Harvard Commencement week, together with the celebration of the 25th anniversary of Mr. Slade's class, Harvard 1890.

Monday morning at 9 o'clock the Swedish summer school will open. The school will be held this year in a former years in the Cranich school. A very small fee is asked and an opportunity is given all the Swedish people of Quincy to send their children to this school.

The Quincy lodge of Elks at its meeting Tuesday evening held a Lodge of Sorrows for two departed members—Robert T. Johnson, who was one of the best known local business men of the city, and George R. Kendrick, who was killed on the steamer Bunker Hill when that ship, en route to New York, was rammed by the steam yacht "Yankee" in Long Island sound.

Mrs. Maurice P. Spillane and Mrs. Herbert D. Cole were hostesses at an auction bridge party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Spillane on Elm street. The party was given under the auspices of the educational committee of the Quincy Women's club for the benefit of the summer gardens. Souvenirs for the afternoon were awarded Mrs. Edward E. Miller and Mrs. George T. Magee.

Miss Marion Harley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Harley of Pawtucket, R. I., was among those graduated this month from the woman's college of Brown University, after mother was Miss Nellie Coolidge before her marriage made her home in Quincy where she is a frequent visitor. It is also Miss Harley who has made many friends here who are congratulating her on completing her college course with honors.

Supporters of Senator Langelier, a candidate for re-election, are said to be casting eyes toward Braintree where it is strongly rumored that William P. Kelley, an attorney with offices in that town and also in Quincy and Boston, is to go into the primaries this year as an aspirant for the Republican nomination. It is said the Kelley papers are being circulated and will be filed at the proper time.

Children's Day will be observed next Sunday evening in the Swedish M. E. church. The superintendent of the Sunday school, David Wollander, and the organist of the church, Miss Walborg Peterson, have been working faithfully during the last week rehearsing with the children, and a very interesting program will be rendered. Parents and the many friends of the children will kindly remember that the program will begin at 7 P. M.

The graduation of the Clark Shorthand Institute took place Thursday among the graduates are several young women from Quincy: Rosabelle Kelley, Jessie Pratt, Pearl Hayer, Mildred Stoddard and Margaret McGurn. Miss Kelley receives the highest honors of her class in stenography and spelling and has made a record by completing the entire secretarial course in less than six months. Miss Peterson is a graduate of the Woodward Institute and also has a college education.

The waitresses at the cabaret show next Wednesday evening at the Quincy Yacht club house in aid of the Quincy Day Nursery will be Miss Gertrude Lacey, Miss Dorothy Brokaw, Miss Helen Seavey, Miss Carolyn Lewis, Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Constance Sears, Miss Barbara Johnson, Miss Peggy Johnson, Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Eleanor Whittemore, Miss Marie Schenkelberger, Miss Norma Johnson, Miss Lillian Schenkelberger, Miss Roxanna Schenkelberger, Miss Natalie Saville and Miss Florence Meade.

BRIEFS

Miss Isabella McBride of Newcomb place left Tuesday for a two weeks visit with friends in Vermont.

W. R. Thomas and family have gone down to their summer home at Sagamore Hill, Nantasket, for the season, parish.

Mrs. B. Porterfield of Hancock street left Monday for Cliff Island, Mass. for a five weeks stay.

Joseph J. Purpura of 56 Summer street and Rosina V. Murphy of Hancock street were married June 16, by Fr. John J. Casey of St. John's parish.

J. F. Merrill was one of the guests at the reunion of old time acquaintances which Colonel Charles F. Woodard of Wakefield held Saturday at his beautiful home in the Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kerr of Carruth street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a boy last week. "Pete" is the well known conductor on the Bay State and runs on the East Milton line.

The Harvard class of 1900, some two hundred strong, passed through Quincy Monday in automobiles on their annual reunion which was held at Plymouth.

The Picnic of Maple Lodge K and L of H. to have been held at Nantasket Point on Friday has been postponed to Tuesday, June 29. The party will leave City square at 11 A. M.

Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick was one of the matrons at the senior dance of the class of Harvard 1915, given Monday evening. Her son, Huntington R. Hardwick is a member of the graduating class.

Mrs. Sarah J. McDonald, Revere road, Mrs. Ernest Kelly, son and daughter of Spear street, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth and Edith Chick, left last week for three weeks visit in Nova Scotia.

Miss Georgiana C. Lane's horse, "Denmark" is to be the show horse at the Hingham Society circus this afternoon, exhibited by E. J. Foster of Brookline, one of Roosevelt's rough riders.

Short back riding has received a slight revival this spring, and there are few more ardent of the sport in the vicinity of Quincy and Wollaston than Miss May Knapp and Malcolm Stuart, who are frequently seen out for exercise and pleasure.

Seven of the past presidents of the Women's Relief corps met at the home of Mrs. Agnes G. Fletcher, Granite street, a member of the association, Tuesday afternoon. Vice President Mrs. Isabella A. Souther presided. A buffet luncheon was served.

Hyder Gay, Reginald Gay Robert Knapp, Ralph Knapp and Arthur Curtis are getting in trim for the 100 yard water dash which takes place July fourth. Russell Arthur, a former swimming champion who is now on a business trip to San Juan, Porto Rico, is greatly missed.

Practical jokes had their inning on Hancock street Tuesday evening when they unchained a horse from a wagon and the driver and tied the animal to a tree, 100 feet away. They then awakened the driver and in search that followed the man was joined by over 100 people.

Grand Director George P. Pettengill of Holbrook accompanied by Fred Williams, past commander of Dorchester, visited Quincy commandery, Gold Star, in Electric hall Monday evening. Mrs. Mary Cook, commander, and the records of the recent grand session. A social followed.

John C. Campbell, father of George M. Campbell, Quincy, was killed at Wakefield Monday by being struck by a Boston-Haverhill bound express train. Mr. Campbell, who is 83 years of age, had been on an errand and started to cross the tracks near the railroad station.

The Pyramid club of Dorchester will entertain their friends today and Sunday at their cottage at the Willows, Hyde Neck. Those who will contribute in roses, and who since he has left City Hall has not forgotten the young women clerks.

Mrs. Winslow B. Lincoln of Worcester announced the engagement of her daughter, Penelope Winslow Lincoln, to Richard Stanton Pattee of this city, at an engagement party at her home Sunday. Mr. Pattee is the son of Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee of Hyde Neck. He is a graduate of Harvard, 1911, and graduates this month from the Harvard Law school. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robertson, and daughter Miss Mary, and son John W. of Portland, Ore., are guests of Mrs. Robertson's mother, Mrs. John A. Wood of School street. They reached Quincy last week after an extended tour of the country. During last week they attended the graduation of their son, John, at Lawrenceville Academy, New Jersey.

The School Committee received three sets of plans for school houses from Mayor Campbell Monday morning to which they will give their consideration as soon as possible. Owing to this being graduation week in the public schools it is not expected that the committee will commence their study of the plans until the regular meeting of the committee Tuesday, June 29.

Norbert A. McNamery, who is home from school for the summer season, celebrated his eighteenth birthday yesterday evening by entertaining fifteen of the members of the class of 1914 of the high school of which he was member, at his home on Thayer street. During the evening there were games and music but not until the time came for serving refreshments was it broken by the guests that it was their host's birthday anniversary.

Rev. J. Levinson of Albany, N. Y., of the Congregation Temple Beth Jacob where he has been for five years, is visiting his brothers Max and Harry Levinson of Quincy. He is at present stopping with Max Levinson of 60 Massachusetts avenue. He is here on a vacation and as a delegate to the convention of the Order of Zion to be held in Boston June 27, 28 and 29. He will be here until after the convention, and then will go to N. Y. where he will spend the remainder of his vacation in the Catskills.

BRIEFS

City Clerk Emory L. Crane returned from New York Wednesday where he had been to attend the commencement exercises of Colgate college, from which his son Donald graduated this year.

A large number of pupils of the Sunday school of the Swedish Lutheran church attended the annual picnic at Merrymount park, Saturday afternoon. The affair was scheduled for the holiday, but was held only in part because of the wet grounds.

Mrs. John Emery and Mrs. Myron B. Turner are to entertain the Women's Guild of Christ church next Thursday afternoon at the Quincy Yacht club house. Members will go down on the 1.40 car from City square. The Guild is to meet through the summer.

The Quincy Loyal Orange lodge in Protection hall Tuesday evening made plans to join in observance of the 12th of July. The exercises will take place in Glen Echo park, Stoughton. All of the lodges of the state will participate.

The white series of the Ladies' society of St. John's parish closed Tuesday evening with the third party in the hall of the parish school. The series winners were Miss Katherine Gorman and John Queen. Among the individual winners were John Kenley and Mrs. John Mitchell.

Mrs. Lyman Morrison entertained the members of the Oniate club at her home on Harvard street, Dorchester, Monday. Mrs. Moses, Missie Hargis, was an active member of the club. Those present were the Misses Eleanor Whittemore, Juanita Metherell, Florence Barker, Helen Sturgis, Grace and Edna Thomas.

The funeral of George H. Hersey, Jr., whose death at Squantum Friday evening took place 10 minutes after he had been dashed to earth in an aeroplane crash, was held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hersey, of Wauwabeek street.

Sunday and Friday evening services at Christ church are to be discontinued through July and August. There will be holy communion at eight o'clock and prayer and sermon at quarter of eleven o'clock every morning. The rector, Rev. William G. Barrett, is planning to remain in Quincy through the summer.

The funeral of George P. McCausland, a former sergeant of the Boston Police Department, whose death occurred at Grant Rock, June 17, was held Monday afternoon from the undertaking rooms of Ed. D. Barrett. The body was taken to the crematory at Forest Hills. The deceased was retired last January on half pay.

The threatening weather Tuesday evening did not prevent a large number from participating in the weekly hop of the Quincy Yacht club at the club house. Though the weather was upwards of forty couples present, music for the dancing being furnished by a Hingham orchestra. Modern dances prevailed as a rule.

Some thirty members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Swedish M. E. church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. Susanna Johnson of 2 Goshland street. After the business meeting a general good time was enjoyed and refreshments served.

A dispatch from New Canaan, Ct., announces the death of William H. Rand, for many years of the printing house of Rand, McNally & Co., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry W. Chappell. Mr. Rand had been ill for some time. He was born in Quincy in 1828 but has not resided here for many years, and was well known among the present generation.

The Ruth and Lydia class, at its last meeting of the season Tuesday evening elected Miss Margaret Abernethy president. The meeting is a social organization of young ladies of the First Presbyterian church and was held at the home of Mrs. James R. Preston at North Weymouth. An impromptu entertainment was carried out by the members and refreshments were served.

Granite Lodge I. O. O. F. observed Memorial Sunday and decorated the graves of their departed members. In the morning a delegation of the members left the lodge rooms at West Quincy in full regalia and went to the Mt. Wollaston cemetery and decorated the graves there. In the afternoon about fifty members marched to the West Quincy cemetery and placed bouquets on the graves of departed members.

Doris Crapon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crapon, celebrated her ninth birthday anniversary June 18, entertaining a number of her young girl friends at her home, 10 Albany terrace. The afternoon was passed in a pleasant manner with games, etc., not forgetting the cutting of a birthday cake when refreshments were served. Miss Doris received a number of birthday remembrances from her friends.

Mrs. Alice Estes of 42 Upland road was tendered a surprise party in the form of a handkerchief shower by members of the Glad club. The members of the Glad club, who were played and a merry time enjoyed by all. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Mae Lockwood of Somerville and vocal solos by Miss Lillian Lockman. Games were served and the Glad members were glad for the good time of the evening.

The final meeting of the year of the Saturday Auction Bridge club was held June 18 at the Miller Hotel. The hostesses being Miss Ethel Roach, Miss Madeline McCrory and Miss Beatrice Morrison. The night was a most successful one. The affair was held in the rooms of Mrs. Wilson Tisdale, who kindly offered them for the occasion. Souvenirs were awarded Miss Madeline McCrory and William Edwards for having the highest score. Refreshments were served and the evening closed with dancing.

A most enjoyable piano and violin recital was given at Colonial hall Saturday afternoon by the pupils of the Boston Conservatory of Music. The program was one of fourteen numbers, all of the pupils taking part. It would hardly be fair to say that this or that one excelled for the work all was most excellent, showing careful training on the part of the instructors. The pupils were taken part were Madeline Coulson, Eleanor Phillips, Mildred Bean, Beatrice Foley, Helen Walker, Theodore Pearson, Marion Spear, Evelyn Belcher and Janet Sallenger.

WEST QUINCY

Eleven days' service as physician at $100 a day is one of the items contained in a suit filed by Dr. Daniel B. Reardon of Quincy, against the estate of the will of the late John Cashman of Quincy. The papers have been filed in the office of the clerk of the Norfolk Superior Court at Dedham.

Arthur Leary, the genial caretaker of the Furnace Brook parkway, Friday night the man he trusted to drive the car, which he had loaned to him, was found dead on the road. The car was found on the road, and the driver was found dead on the road. The car was found on the road, and the driver was found dead on the road.

Mrs. Chester Troxel and Miss Anna Marie Troxel of Philadelphia are guests for three weeks of Mrs. Joseph S. Thomas of Warren avenue who is Mrs. Troxel's sister-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bovingdon have come from Cambridge to spend the summer with Mrs. Bovingdon's mother, Mrs. Edgar A. King of Clay street. Mr. Bovingdon was graduated from Harvard Wednesday and received the distinguished honor of being elected to the Harvard Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa.

Miss Miriam A. Rhodes has come down from Lyndonville, Vermont, to spend the summer with her people, the Albert A. Rhodes of North Central avenue. Miss Rhodes has finished her second year as instructor at the Lyndonville Institute and will return in the fall.

Mrs. Chester William Nimitz and young children, Kate and Catherine, have returned to Brookline, New York. They have been with their parents the Richard R. Freemans for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Smith of Brook street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a second daughter born June 21.

The Misses Gorman of Beale street are week end guests of Mrs. Charles Pierce and Mrs. Freeman Woodbury of Peabody.

Mrs. Benjamin Glidden of South Framingham is the guest for two weeks at the home of Mr. Albert W. Fay of Newport avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Davidson and children Eleanor and Edward Booth have gone to Lyndonville to spend the rest of the summer at their new bungalow.

Mrs. Mary B. Bain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bain, of Prospect avenue was graduated from Wellesley college last week. Miss Bain will pursue post-graduate studies.

A largely attended and enjoyable dancing party was held Saturday evening at the Girls Friendly society in the parish hall of St. Christopher's church from 8 to 11 o'clock. The matrons were Mrs. Steenstra and Mrs. Fowler. Tees were served during the evening.

Miss Edith Hilday of Grand View avenue is taking a week's vacation from her duties at the Public Library, at Lake Arbor, Weymouth.

Although it is not an uncommon sight to see young girls playing the national game there are few young women who indulge in the sport. Some of the girls employed by the Tabular River Co. W. Davidson, of Wollaston, Wollaston Garage and enjoy a game of baseball. They use the regulation bat and ball and circle the bases like regular players.

The Sacrament Campfire girls held their first monthly Council Fire Tuesday afternoon at the home of the guardian, Mrs. James Christie of Broadfield street. The pleasant meeting closed with refreshments.

Miss Ruth H. Stopp, sixth grade teacher of the Wollaston school, Quincy, has accepted the position to teach the seventh grade of the Center school, Everett.

St. Christopher's Sunday school picnic is to be held today at Nantasket beach. Special cars are to leave the church grounds on Hancock street at 9 o'clock.

Robert Commins, a Wollaston contractor, started his auto in front of City hall Wednesday to investigate a mysterious smoke issuing from his machine. A close search uncovered matches on fire in the pocket of a coat under the cushion of the seat.

Miriam S. Priest of Old Colony street, who graduated from Woodward's high school on Wednesday, has honor of completing her four years at the school without missing one session and never having a tardy mark.

James Moddie, long a well known resident of South Quincy, passed away at his home, 233 Liberty street Monday morning, aged 57 years. Mr. Moddie was a stone cutter by trade but during the last few years owing to failing health he has not followed this profession. He was a native of Ireland and had been in this country for many years. He was survived by a widow, and three daughters, Lillian, Irma and Beatrice.

The last child call from Box 321 at 3.45 Tuesday afternoon was to summon assistance to search for Umberto Giardini, a 4 year old boy, who had been missing from his home on Nightingale avenue since 9 o'clock in the morning. The boy was found in a nearby house shortly after the call had been made.

George Forsyth of Rodman street, attached to the U. S. S. "North Carolina," which has arrived home from Australia, is at his home in Quincy for a few days. The North Carolina was one of the two battleships that were sent to Europe during the war. The last child call from Box 321 at 3.45 Tuesday afternoon was to summon assistance to search for Umberto Giardini, a 4 year old boy, who had been missing from his home on Nightingale avenue since 9 o'clock in the morning. The boy was found in a nearby house shortly after the call had been made.

Rev. Francis J. Hovley, O. P. S. of Mr. and Mrs. John Howley of Hall place received the degree of deacon at the College of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D. C., Wednesday from Cardinal Bonzano the apostolic delegate. Fr. Hovley has a host of friends in this city. He attended the Grady Bryant school and Adams Academy, later spending one year at Boston college where he joined the Dominicans. He will be ordained to the priesthood next June.

Miss Lita Bizzozzo of Quincy has been appointed teacher of stenography at the Stetson High school of Randolph.

Rev. James O'Neill, high chaplain of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, was in Quincy Wednesday. He was the chaplain of St. Mary's to be the chaplain of St. Ambros court No. 172 of West Quincy.

WOLLASTON

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham of Grand View avenue are leaving next Thursday on an extended trip west to the Panama-Pacific Exposition and other points en route.

Mrs. Clarence Troxel and Miss Anna Marie Troxel of Philadelphia are guests for three weeks of Mrs. Joseph S. Thomas of Warren avenue who is Mrs. Troxel's sister-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bovingdon have come from Cambridge to spend the summer with Mrs. Bovingdon's mother, Mrs. Edgar A. King of Clay street. Mr. Bovingdon was graduated from Harvard Wednesday and received the distinguished honor of being elected to the Harvard Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa.

Miss Miriam A. Rhodes has come down from Lyndonville, Vermont, to spend the summer with her people, the Albert A. Rhodes of North Central avenue. Miss Rhodes has finished her second year as instructor at the Lyndonville Institute and will return in the fall.

Mrs. Chester William Nimitz and young children, Kate and Catherine, have returned to Brookline, New York. They have been with their parents the Richard R. Freemans for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Smith of Brook street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a second daughter born June 21.

The Misses Gorman of Beale street are week end guests of Mrs. Charles Pierce and Mrs. Freeman Woodbury of Peabody.

Mrs. Benjamin Glidden of South Framingham is the guest for two weeks at the home of Mr. Albert W. Fay of Newport avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Davidson and children Eleanor and Edward Booth have gone to Lyndonville to spend the rest of the summer at their new bungalow.

Mrs. Mary B. Bain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bain, of Prospect avenue was graduated from Wellesley college last week. Miss Bain will pursue post-graduate studies.

A largely attended and enjoyable dancing party was held Saturday evening at the Girls Friendly society in the parish hall of St. Christopher's church from 8 to 11 o'clock. The matrons were Mrs. Steenstra and Mrs. Fowler. Tees were served during the evening.

Miss Edith Hilday of Grand View avenue is taking a week's vacation from her duties at the Public Library, at Lake Arbor, Weymouth.

Although it is not an uncommon sight to see young girls playing the national game there are few young women who indulge in the sport. Some of the girls employed by the Tabular River Co. W. Davidson, of Wollaston, Wollaston Garage and enjoy a game of baseball. They use the regulation bat and ball and circle the bases like regular players.

The Sacrament Campfire girls held their first monthly Council Fire Tuesday afternoon at the home of the guardian, Mrs. James Christie of Broadfield street. The pleasant meeting closed with refreshments.

Miss Ruth H. Stopp, sixth grade teacher of the Wollaston school, Quincy, has accepted the position to teach the seventh grade of the Center school, Everett.

St. Christopher's Sunday school picnic is to be held today at Nantasket beach. Special cars are to leave the church grounds on Hancock street at 9 o'clock.

Robert Commins, a Wollaston contractor, started his auto in front of City hall Wednesday to investigate a mysterious smoke issuing from his machine. A close search uncovered matches on fire in the pocket of a coat under the cushion of the seat.

Miriam S. Priest of Old Colony street, who graduated from Woodward's high school on Wednesday, has honor of completing her four years at the school without missing one session and never having a tardy mark.

James Moddie, long a well known resident of South Quincy, passed away at his home, 233 Liberty street Monday morning, aged 57 years. Mr. Moddie was a stone cutter by trade but during the last few years owing to failing health he has not followed this profession. He was a native of Ireland and had been in this country for many years. He was survived by a widow, and three daughters, Lillian, Irma and Beatrice.

The last child call from Box 321 at 3.45 Tuesday afternoon was to summon assistance to search for Umberto Giardini, a 4 year old boy, who had been missing from his home on Nightingale avenue since 9 o'clock in the morning. The boy was found in a nearby house shortly after the call had been made.

George Forsyth of Rodman street, attached to the U. S. S. "North Carolina," which has arrived home from Australia, is at his home in Quincy for a few days. The North Carolina was one of the two battleships that were sent to Europe during the war. The last child call from Box 321 at 3.45 Tuesday afternoon was to summon assistance to search for Umberto Giardini, a 4 year old boy, who had been missing from his home on Nightingale avenue since 9 o'clock in the morning. The boy was found in a nearby house shortly after the call had been made.

Rev. Francis J. Hovley, O. P. S. of Mr. and Mrs. John Howley of Hall place received the degree of deacon at the College of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D. C., Wednesday from Cardinal Bonzano the apostolic delegate. Fr. Hovley has a host of friends in this city. He attended the Grady Bryant school and Adams Academy, later spending one year at Boston college where he joined the Dominicans. He will be ordained to the priesthood next June.

Miss Lita Bizzozzo of Quincy has been appointed teacher of stenography at the Stetson High school of Randolph.

Rev. James O'Neill, high chaplain of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, was in Quincy Wednesday. He was the chaplain of St. Mary's to be the chaplain of St. Ambros court No. 172 of West Quincy.

ATLANTIC

Ben Stocker formerly of Atlantic is pleasantly located at Victoria, B. C., where his Quincy friends hear from him occasionally. He is connected with the Reliable Messenger Service of Victoria which conducts a bicycle, team and motor delivery.

Alexander McCleod and family have moved from Atlantic to Quincy.

Mrs. Thomas O'Connor of Billings street is spending a week with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. C. A. Stearns of Glover avenue has been entertaining her brother from the west.

Mrs. C. Laurence French and daughter of Billings street have gone to Maine for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton and son Murray of Faxon road are spending two weeks in Kingston.

Hope Duesch and her people, R. L. is the guest of her cousins Miss Olive and John Fuller of Bolton street.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gifford and sons, Clinton and Carl, and niece, Miss Bessie Whiting, a well known dramatic reader of Springfield, Somerville, are occupying Mrs. Chase's house on Appleton street for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Wagner and sons, Ralph, Walter and David Jr., of Detroit, Michigan, are occupying for the summer the house owned by the Misses Vogler of Bolton street.

Mrs. Lulu Pendleton of Lakewood, R. I., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. F. Davidson of Newbury avenue.

The Central Station and Atlantic Station Atlantic residents responded to a still alarm at 7.55 A. M. Monday for fire on the roof of a shed in the rear of the house of Daniel O'Mara at 10 Atlantic street near the railroad tracks, which had taken fire from sparks of a passing locomotive. There was no loss.

Jack Richardson a former Atlantic boy who is now in the Canadian army, recently fighting in France has written home that he has been confined in the hospital for several days for the result of poisonous gases.

Percival V. Cooney, a police officer of South Framingham, at Atlantic Sunday evening, took Miss Ellen G. Roberts of Moscow street as his bride. The ceremony was performed by Fr. J. C. Puffe, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart, at the parish house. Mr. and Mrs. Cooney are now on a honeymoon trip to the Adirondacks. They will make their home in South Framingham.

Frank Palmer of Faxon road is visiting in Philadelphia.

Eugene Nye, brother of Alfred Nye of this city, died of pneumonia at Worcester Monday and was buried from his brother's house on Webster street, Wednesday afternoon. Rev. C. W. Davidson officiated at the funeral. Miss Margaret Dugan has decided on a teacher's course at Chandler Normal school and Miss Dorothy Lawton and Miss Catherine Dugan will take up a course at Framingham Normal. Miss Josephine Rice will be a student at Bridge water Normal.

Miss Ella G. Smith, Miss McDonald, and Mrs. Orin A. Andrews, Mrs. Hollis, Miss Hazel Patterson, Miss Francis Phillips and Miss Edith C. Johnson, all of this town, attended the 75th anniversary of the Bridge water Normal school, held Saturday at Bridgewater, of which school they are all graduates.

Miss Iva MacFarland of Haverhill spent the week end with Miss Edith C. Johnson of Washington street.

Miss Orissa Baxter of Adams street is to leave town the first of next month for the Panama Exposition.

Paul Butler, who died at his late home 111 Atlantic street last Saturday evening, was buried at Nottingham, N. H. on Tuesday. Rev. T. W. Davidson of Memorial church went to Nottingham with the family and conducted the service in the village cemetery. Mr. Butler had been treasurer of Memorial church for eight years until last March when he declined to serve on account of poor health.

Miss George F. Rich of Reading, Mass., who graduated from Atlantic is one of the substitute nurses serving at the Quincy Hospital during the absence of those who left for the war zone.

Charles H. Newcomb of Webster street has been confined to the house for a fortnight with rheumatism.

The three children of Dr. and Mrs. Crawford of Bolton street who have been seriously sick with scarlet fever are now convalescing.

INCORPORATED 1869

The New England Trust Company

BOSTON, MASS.

Capital $1,000,000

Surplus and Profits over $3,000,000

ACTS AS EXECUTOR, ADMINISTRATOR

TRUSTEE, GUARDIAN, ATTORNEY OR AGENT

Write for our Booklet:

"THE MANAGEMENT OF TRUST PROPERTY"

Issues Letters of Credit and Travelers' Cheques.

The only safe way to carry money while traveling. Instantly available when needed in the United States and abroad. Consult us before starting on your next trip.

JAMES R. HOOPER, President

ARTHUR ADAMS, Vice-President

HENRY N. MARR, Secretary

FREDERICK W. ALLEN, Treasurer

THOMAS E. EATON, Asst. Treasurer

EDWARD B. LADD, Asst. Treasurer

ALEXANDER COCHRANE, Vice-Pres.

HENRY N. MARR, Secretary

FRANCIS R. JEWETT, Trust Officer

ORRIN C. HART, Asst. Trust Officer

JAS. H. SAWYER, Man-Sale Dept. Vacilla

THE OLDEST TRUST COMPANY IN BOSTON

MILTON

Q. H. S. ALUMNI

Malcom Carder has returned from Worcester Academy to the home of his parents on Granite avenue for the summer. He is to enter Brown University next fall.

Various schools and colleges will receive members of the graduating class of the High school next year. Miss Alice Damon, who has the distinction of attaining the highest scholarship is to enter Boston University. Miss Bena Erhard has chosen the profession of a farmer and will receive a diploma from the M. I. T. will take Hugh Robertson, the all around athlete, who has received his letter in football, hockey and baseball. The Misses Janet Johnston and Irene Maxwell are planning to attend Miss Wheelocks kindergarten school in Cambridge. Milton Tucker will pursue his higher studies at Dartmouth and Kenneth D. Johnson the class president, will enter Brown, Harvard will be the abode of Parker B. Field, Jr., and Waldo F. Reiser, captain of the recent football and base ball teams, will probably go to Dartmouth. Miss Margaret Dugan has decided on a teacher's course at Chandler Normal school and Miss Dorothy Lawton and Miss Catherine Dugan will take up a course at Framingham Normal. Miss Josephine Rice will be a student at Bridge water Normal.

Miss Ella G. Smith, Miss McDonald, and Mrs. Orin A. Andrews, Mrs. Hollis, Miss Hazel Patterson, Miss Francis Phillips and Miss Edith C. Johnson, all of this town, attended the 75th anniversary of the Bridge water Normal school, held Saturday at Bridgewater, of which school they are all graduates.

Miss Iva MacFarland of Haverhill spent the week end with Miss Edith C. Johnson of Washington street.

Miss Orissa Baxter of Adams street is to leave town the first of next month for the Panama Exposition.

Paul Butler, who died at his late home 111 Atlantic street last Saturday evening, was buried at Nottingham, N. H. on Tuesday. Rev. T. W. Davidson of Memorial church went to Nottingham with the family and conducted the service in the village cemetery. Mr. Butler had been treasurer of Memorial church for eight years until last March when he declined to serve on account of poor health.

Miss George F. Rich of Reading, Mass., who graduated from Atlantic is one of the substitute nurses serving at the Quincy Hospital during the absence of those who left for the war zone.

Charles H. Newcomb of Webster street has been confined to the house for a fortnight with rheumatism.

The three children of Dr. and Mrs. Crawford of Bolton street who have been seriously sick with scarlet fever are now convalescing.

QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Quincy High School Alumni association elected officers at its annual meeting in the assembly hall of the school Wednesday evening and brought its program to a close with an enjoyable social in the gymnasium. A great many of the members attended and enthusiastically discussed the welfare of the association.

Charles J. McGilvray, '01 of Willard street one of the best known attorneys of the city, was selected as president for the ensuing year, to succeed Francis H. Hill, first president of the organization. Both men were roundly applauded just before the adjournment of the meeting. The officers chosen:

PRESIDENT

Charles J. McGilvray, Class of 1901.

VICE PRESIDENTS

Miss Marie Bass, Class of 1902.

J. Harry Hooper, Class of 1906.

Miss Dorothy Fay, Class of 1906.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Paul Blackburn, Class of 1911.

Charles H. Hall, Class of 1885.

Mrs. Carrie F. Packard, Class of 1886.

TREASURER

J. Brooks Keyes, Class of 1900.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

Mrs. Minnie M. Birtin, Class of 1886.

RECORDING SECRETARY

Frederick M. Atwood, Class of 1914.

ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

Miss Dorothy Packard, 1899, Chairman.

Charles S. Armstrong, Class of 1914.

Charles S. Giddens, Class of 1914.

Miss Juanita F. McFarrell, Class of 1912.

Miss Beatrice Morrison, Class of 1908.

Max O. Pinkham, Class of 1907.

J. Eleanor Whittemore, Class of 1912.

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

William C. Crocker, Class of 1915.

Harold S. Hill, Class of 1915.

Fred H. Kingsbury, Class of 1913.

Richard J. Larkin, Class of 1912.

Lucien H. Thayer, Class of 1906.

The founding of a fund to establish a scholarship as proposed at the first meeting was briefly discussed. The money is hardly available as yet to assure its continuance, according to Pres. Thayer. He strongly favored still more attention to it. President-elect McGilvray and others spoke in the same view.

The speakers of the evening were Henry L. Crane, city clerk; and William F. Crocker, captain of the tennis team, which defeated all of the best school teams in the state and is in line for the state championship. He mentioned the fact that the only defeat registered against his combination was that given by the alumni team last week. He said "I don't want another crack at them." He also thanked the association for the support given.

Two presentations were made to the school, a framed picture of the tennis team and a handsomely bound set of the school year book. The presentation was made by Vice President Frank F. Prescott and the acceptance was made by William McManis, high honor pupil of the graduating class, who said he thought the stories would be more interesting than some of the books in the library.

Treasurer Joseph H. McPherson reported an income of $158 and an expenditure of $104.76, a balance on hand of $66.10. The entertainment committee report showed $57 had been cleared on the recent theatricals given by the school. A part of which was given to the tennis team.

The executive committee in its report incorporated a resolution of thanks to the school committee and faculty of High school for the cooperation extended the association since its organization.

Harold Hill read the recommendations of the athletic committee, in the absence of Russell Bates, its chairman. Several bright suggestions were offered—the playing of Saturday afternoon games and the publishing of a statement of the financial income and expenditures of the team, with a view of interesting the city in what was being done in athletics.

President-elect McGilvray, when presented by President Thayer, made a speech of acceptance. He said he hoped the association this year would be as successful as it has been, mentioned the sterling results attained by 1906 members

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	Rises 6:08	Falls 10:15	10:20	10:25	10:30	10:35	10:40
Sat June 26	4:08	7:08	7:15	7:20	7:25	7:30	7:35
Sunday	7:40	7:45	7:50	7:55	8:00	8:05	8:10
Monday	7:15	7:20	7:25	7:30	7:35	7:40	7:45
Tuesday	7:20	7:25	7:30	7:35	7:40	7:45	7:50
Wednesday	7:25	7:30	7:35	7:40	7:45	7:50	7:55
Thursday	7:30	7:35	7:40	7:45	7:50	7:55	8:00
Friday	7:35	7:40	7:45	7:50	7:55	8:00	8:05

Last Quarter, July 4th, 6:54 A.M.

Some city people still laugh at the poor farmer, but as they tramp along the dusty road they would better look out that the poor farmer does not run them down in his new six cylinder automobile.

For some purposes it is claimed that Quincy Granite is too hard. This should not apply to the use of granite as missiles in warfare because even civilized (?) nations are accustomed to use implements of war which will prove as effective as possible. They would not consider, for example, using a nice soft block of Westerly lest their enemy when struck imagine that they were being bombarded, after the manner of the ancient Romans, by leaves of bread.

That agents of the British and French governments have been in Barre, Vt., seeking contracts for granite shrapnel. Quincy granite shrapnel would be unequalled and perhaps local dealers will defeat the Barre manufacturers and secure the contracts. Any agent if contacted should be warned for immediate delivery the United States government will be the first government in modern history to have the duty of forbidding the exportation of granite munitions of war from a neutral nation to the combatants.

TWENTY-FIVE GRADUATE.

Twenty-five graduates of the St. Mary's Sunday school received their diplomas Sunday at the nine o'clock mass at St. Mary's church. The mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Mooney. Rev. Fr. Mooney read the responses after which he gave a short sermon on the significance of the graduation and the pride the graduates should have in receiving the diplomas. He then read the names of the graduates and as their names were read they went to the altar and received their diplomas.

After awarding the diplomas Father Mooney announced the prize winners for the year. The prizes were given for excellence in recitation throughout the year, attendance, conduct and upon the final examination. The first prize, a gold medal, was awarded to Mary O'Leary, Francis J. O'Connell, James P. Mullarky, Patrick J. Carney, Albert Desmond, George L. McKenna, John J. Bennett, Thomas F. McDonald, Edmund McLaughlin, Daniel E. Bryan, Roger Saville, Arthur J. Buckley and Martin Golder.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

After the diplomas were read, a few words to the graduates congratulating them on the completion of their studies and warning them that although they had received their diplomas there was still a lot about their religion they could learn.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

After the diplomas were read, a few words to the graduates congratulating them on the completion of their studies and warning them that although they had received their diplomas there was still a lot about their religion they could learn.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

After the diplomas were read, a few words to the graduates congratulating them on the completion of their studies and warning them that although they had received their diplomas there was still a lot about their religion they could learn.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

After the diplomas were read, a few words to the graduates congratulating them on the completion of their studies and warning them that although they had received their diplomas there was still a lot about their religion they could learn.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

After the diplomas were read, a few words to the graduates congratulating them on the completion of their studies and warning them that although they had received their diplomas there was still a lot about their religion they could learn.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

After the diplomas were read, a few words to the graduates congratulating them on the completion of their studies and warning them that although they had received their diplomas there was still a lot about their religion they could learn.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

After the diplomas were read, a few words to the graduates congratulating them on the completion of their studies and warning them that although they had received their diplomas there was still a lot about their religion they could learn.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

After the diplomas were read, a few words to the graduates congratulating them on the completion of their studies and warning them that although they had received their diplomas there was still a lot about their religion they could learn.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

After the diplomas were read, a few words to the graduates congratulating them on the completion of their studies and warning them that although they had received their diplomas there was still a lot about their religion they could learn.

Those who received diplomas were Misses Alice M. Simpson, Margaret C. McDonald, Margaret E. Byron, Julia G. Daley, Lillian Martel, Mary C. Burkhard, Matthew J. McNamara, Edward J. Lamb, George A. Reinhalter and Arthur J. DeCoste and each was presented with a handsome book.

WOODWARD GRADUATION.

The annual graduation exercises of the class of 1915 of Woodward Institute were held Wednesday and as usual the attendance was limited only by the capacity of the hall. The exercises were of the usual interesting nature. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Franklin Hamilton, chancellor of the American University at Washington, D. C.

The decorations were simple in the extreme. Across the front of the platform there was one bank of green with no contrasting color. With Miss Burgess at the piano the school marched in from the class rooms and took seats apart for them at the front of the platform. Then followed music by the school under the direction of John D. Buckingham, the selections rendered being "The Maid and the Violin," "Madrigal," "A Southern Hush Song," violin solo, "Berceuse from Jodelyn" by Miss Helen M. Hush, piano accompaniment, and "Excelsior."

Dr. Hamilton was introduced by Dr. Rice, principal of the school. Dr. Hamilton spoke for an even half hour. At the conclusion of the address Rev. Adolph Lathrop Hudson, chairman of the Board of Managers in presenting the diplomas, departed southward from his usual custom and used the occasion to make a general statement concerning the aims and ideals of the school. He said:

"Under the will of the founder," he said, "Woodward Institute can never become a department of the public school system of Quincy. It is a separate and independent educational institution with its own traditions and ideals to maintain."

"Its paramount purpose is to help Quincy born girls to fit themselves for life, whether they wish to equip themselves for earning a living, to prepare for college, or to gain proficiency in those things which will make them useful in the home. In fulfilling this purpose it will, to the extent of its financial ability offer such general and special courses of instruction as may be required. It is greatly to be desired that the school may deserve and gain the confidence of the community to such an extent that through its graduates and friends, it may receive such additional endowment as shall enable it to increase, from time to time its capacity."

It is evident that in devoting to the activities of this school the results of a lifetime of earning and saving, the founder fully realized this religious need when he placed the control of instruction in the school in the hands of the settled ministers of Quincy, of all denominations. It is obvious that he relied upon them both for that devotion to duty and that broad catholicity of spirit which should enable them to lay aside sectarian differences and to maintain, as a background to the instruction of the school, those fundamental principles which are the basis of all education. This is a field in which, of necessity, no particular rules can be established and no definite tests can be applied. But none the less it is highly important that every one connected with this school shall realize the need of positive religious convictions and thorough going consecration in our work.

The most dangerous tendency of our time, which threatens to undermine the sanctity of the home and the progress of civilization, is the growing dominance of selfish individualism in our social relations—a disposition to disregard public duty in the pursuit of private pleasure. Any sympathy with this spirit on the part of any of us, either expressed in our words or implied in our actions, weakens the power of our school to fulfill its highest duty, viz., the duty to surround the lives of these girls, committed to our care, with an atmosphere of vital and vitalizing religious faith.

As chairman of the board, and expressing its undivided thought and united action, we solemnly declare the welfare of this school, that while we go to country, lake or forest to mountains or to seashore, to enjoy a summer's rest and to recuperate our forces for another year of work, we take this opportunity to look through nature up to nature's goal, to renew our spiritual life, and to gain profounder convictions of the eternal verities of life."

Mr. Hudson then turned to the graduating class and conveyed to them in a few words the thought that upon them rested the greatest responsibility, all through their lives, the noble ideals of the institution of which they were now to become alumnae.

Of the graduates five are to enter college in September, Miss Kathryn Adams is to enter Radcliffe, Miss Ethel G. Beal, Boston University, Miss Helen M. Bishop, Wellesley, Miss Mary E. Emery, Holyoke and Miss Helen M. Vassar.

Six are to enter Bridgewater Normal school, viz: Misses Julia F. Coyle, Edith I. Gibson, Katherine F. Horgan, Mary A. McDonald, Gertrude A. O'Brien and Georgianna C. Stewart.

Anna W. Weston is to enter Miss Wheelock's Kindergarten school.

Four members of this year's graduating class are to return to the school for postgraduate work.

The members of the graduating class are Misses: Signe Elvira Backman, Gertrude Elvira Bullock, Gertrude Frances Callahan, Lettie Dean Coombs, Julia Frances Coyle, Anna Stella Dinegan, Mabel Eleanor Doring, Doris Elizabeth Frazier, Ruth Catherine Galvin, Edith Ingeborg Gibson, Katherine Frances Horgan, Margaret Katherine Hunter, Emma Mabel Keller, Mary Agnes Keobane, Mary Frances Mahoney, Mary Ellen Maloney, Mary Gertrude Martin, Mary Alice McDonald, Helen Fessenden Miller, Helen Mottley, Marion Stewart Nicol, Gertrude Agnes O'Brien, Josephine Frances O'Connell, Miriam Steadman Priest, Marianne Harper Raleigh, Hannah Margaret Sandberg, Georgianna Katherine Stewart, Margaret Catherine Sugrue, Margaret Copeland Taylor, Anna Weston, Beatrice Winifred Silver.

At the conclusion of the exercises an invitation was extended to those unable to attend to visit the upper rooms and inspect some of the work done by the school, an invitation which many accepted.

STITT—ABBOTT.

Miss Edith Lucia Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Abbott of Ocean street, Atlantic, was married Wednesday night at the home of her parents to Henry Jenkinson Blakely Stitt of Pawtucket, R. I., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stitt of New York. The Rev. T. W. Davison of the Memorial church officiated the double ring service being used.

The decorations were simple but notably artistic. The ceremony was performed in an embankment of palms, ferns and pink cut flowers. The walls of the room were almost obscured by laurels while here and there were large clusters of pink roses and carnations.

Miss Elvira Eldredge of Wareham and Miss Dorothy Freeman of Sandwich, acted as ribbon bearers and made an aisle for the bride party to the improvised altar from the stairway which was made beautiful by a profusion of greenery and pink roses. The groom, who was given in marriage by her father, was a very attractive bride, her gown was of white crepe meteor with an over jacket of real lace, trimmed with pearls. The bodice, which was pinned with a V shaped neck, was cut with a pearl brooch, the gift of the groom. A tulle veil was arranged with a wreath of lilies of the valley over the coiffure from which it fell to the edge of her dress. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses.

Miss Hazel Davison of Atlantic, who owned in shell pink crepe meteor with an over-jacket of real lace trimmed with pearls. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift of the bride. She carried a huge bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Stitt had for his best man himself, a former classmate at Brown University. The ushers were Calvin B. Stitt of Providence, a brother of the groom, and Henry D. Corkum of Leominster, Mass., Arvid Alm of Peabody and Edgar Allan of Edgewood, R. I., all students of Brown University.

The couple were assisted in receiving by the best man, the maid of honor and the parents of the bride. The bride's mother wore an exquisite gown of wisteria crepe meteor trimmed with silver point lace. The music for the bride procession was furnished by the White trio which played "The Wedding March."

Shortly before ten o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Stitt left amid a shower of rice and good wishes for their honeymoon, the first two weeks of which will be spent traveling and the remainder at Block Island, R. I. After September they will reside in Pawtucket where Mr. Stitt will resume his duties as teacher of mathematics and football coach of Pawtucket High school.

The bride is a graduate of the Dorchester High school and Boston Normal college. For the last four years she has been one of the most popular teachers in the Quincy High school. Previous to teaching in Quincy she taught in Wareham.

Mr. Stitt graduated from Brown University in 1909. During his four years at college his work on the gridiron put him among the famous athletes.

Among the guests at the wedding were about twenty-five school teachers from Quincy High school and Pawtucket High school, including Head Master and Mrs. Collins of Quincy.

The bride is a graduate of the Dorchester High school and Boston Normal college. For the last four years she has been one of the most popular teachers in the Quincy High school. Previous to teaching in Quincy she taught in Wareham.

Mr. Stitt graduated from Brown University in 1909. During his four years at college his work on the gridiron put him among the famous athletes.

Among the guests at the wedding were about twenty-five school teachers from Quincy High school and Pawtucket High school, including Head Master and Mrs. Collins of Quincy.

The bride is a graduate of the Dorchester High school and Boston Normal college. For the last four years she has been one of the most popular teachers in the Quincy High school. Previous to teaching in Quincy she taught in Wareham.

Mr. Stitt graduated from Brown University in 1909. During his four years at college his work on the gridiron put him among the famous athletes.

Among the guests at the wedding were about twenty-five school teachers from Quincy High school and Pawtucket High school, including Head Master and Mrs. Collins of Quincy.

The bride is a graduate of the Dorchester High school and Boston Normal college. For the last four years she has been one of the most popular teachers in the Quincy High school. Previous to teaching in Quincy she taught in Wareham.

Mr. Stitt graduated from Brown University in 1909. During his four years at college his work on the gridiron put him among the famous athletes.

Among the guests at the wedding were about twenty-five school teachers from Quincy High school and Pawtucket High school, including Head Master and Mrs. Collins of Quincy.

The bride is a graduate of the Dorchester High school and Boston Normal college. For the last four years she has been one of the most popular teachers in the Quincy High school. Previous to teaching in Quincy she taught in Wareham.

Mr. Stitt graduated from Brown University in 1909. During his four years at college his work on the gridiron put him among the famous athletes.

Among the guests at the wedding were about twenty-five school teachers from Quincy High school and Pawtucket High school, including Head Master and Mrs. Collins of Quincy.

The bride is a graduate of the Dorchester High school and Boston Normal college. For the last four years she has been one of the most popular teachers in the Quincy High school. Previous to teaching in Quincy she taught in Wareham.

Mr. Stitt graduated from Brown University in 1909. During his four years at college his work on the gridiron put him among the famous athletes.

Among the guests at the wedding were about twenty-five school teachers from Quincy High school and Pawtucket High school, including Head Master and Mrs. Collins of Quincy.

OBSERVE ST. JOHN'S DAY.

Nearly every commandery of Knights Templars throughout the state observed St. John's Day Thursday in some form, most of them by an excursion. Quincy commandery, in keeping with the general custom, held its celebration at King Philip's Tavern, Middleboro, and a day of rare pleasure was enjoyed by the 125 Sir Knights and ladies who participated in the outing.

The trip from Quincy and return was made by automobiles. The party left Quincy shortly before 9 o'clock, each automobile flying pennants which served to inform the natives along the line that something was doing. Not only were the automobiles tagged but each of the Sir Knights and ladies wore a properly labeled blue ribbon badge.

King Philip's Tavern was reached after an hour and a half ride through the delightful country, over a street nearly the whole distance, nicely decorated and therefore free from dust. A few minutes after arrival George Cole and John Whitehead, the committee on sports, were busy measuring off distances in the field and making ready for the various events. The referee was Mayor Campbell and Em. Sir Walter E. Piper.

The first event was a fifty yard dash, run in two heats. Moses Brown was an easy winner in the first heat and Jake Peterson carried off the honors for the second heat.

Then there was a spoon and peanut race for the women and Mrs. George Cole won by a good margin. She was awarded a silver cup and a diploma.

Simultaneously, the orchestra will start its all night concert in the rooms of the Town River Yacht club, under the auspices of the celebration is to be held, all of the residents will keep open house and are prepared to entertain friends from all parts of the city.

The out of door events start at 8.30 A. M. on the Ward two playground with a base ball game between the married and single men. At 10.15 the Wagon and Riders will clash in their annual contest.

At 1.30 a series of races will be held for girls up to 17 years. The events will be a pie eating contest for boys, a potato race for girls, three-legged race and half mile races for boys and a 220 yard dash for the girls. The entries can be made with William H. Flynn of Edison street.

Yacht races will take place off the club house at three o'clock. The program will be canoe races and rowing races for boys and girls. The swimming races will include 100 yard dashes for men, ten, three, half-mile swims for men, boys races and a tiling contest. The motor boat classes will have a "bang-and-go-back" event, open races and a special race for speed boats.

W. C. Luther is receiving entries for this part of the program.

A greased pole will also be set up near the club house and a substantial prize will be given the winning boy or girl. James Brooks will be in charge of the water sports.

During the evening a magnificent display of fireworks will be set off from a raft anchored in the river. The first rocket is scheduled for a flight at 8.30. The display will last about two hours.

OFF FOR EUROPE.

The two Quincy physicians and corps of nurses who are to accompany the Harvard Unit to England for service in the military hospitals left Boston Thursday by the Fall River line for New York, from which port they sailed Friday on the Holland-American Liner Noordam for Falmouth, England. The complete list of Quincy people in the party are:

Dr. Nathaniel S. Hunting, who will be absent six weeks. Dr. Daniel B. Beardon, who expects to be absent six months. Miss Margaret Carey of 62 Upland road, a graduate of the Quincy City Hospital.

Miss Margaret Fowler of 113 Standish avenue, a graduate of the Newburyport Hospital.

Miss Christine Holmes, Quincy City Hospital, a graduate of the Rhode Island Hospital.

Miss Susan Marshall of 24 Saville avenue, a graduate of the Quincy City Hospital.

Miss Maude S. Smart, of 561 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, a graduate of the Quincy City Hospital.

Miss Flora M. Wilson of 40 Church-lane, Milton, a graduate of the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Hospital, is also in the party.

Both the physicians and nurses have been vaccinated for smallpox and inoculated with typhoid fever serum.

The alarm from Box 81 at 9.45 A. M. Monday called the department to what gave promise of being a fire of the old Guild house. It is a two and a half story house now owned and occupied by J. H. Loughnan. The only one at home at the time was Mr. Loughnan's mother, a woman 80 years of age.

The fire was discovered by George C. Stenel, a grocery clerk who was passing the house at the time, and he gave the alarm. The house is situated on Bellevue road and as there was a strong breeze blowing it required quick work on the part of the fire department to prevent a bad fire. The fire evidently started from a defective chimney and the firemen worked it to the attic with a loss estimated at $500.

There were few people in Squantum at the time as a good part of the residents were attending the funeral of George H. Hersey, Jr., at the Sacred Heart church Atlantic. Mrs. Loughnan however, was assisted from the house to the home of a neighbor.

Several Quincy girls received diplomas at the commencement exercises of the Bridgewater Normal school Tuesday. Miss Mary F. O'Brien of Westport received a diploma for a three year course in the Kindergarten primary class. Diplomas for the two years primary kindergarten course were given to Misses Lillian M. DeYoung, Helen A. Johnson, Marion P. Keast, Mary P. Kennedy, Mary G. Morrison and Margaret A. Shortall, all of Quincy.

The Commencement exercises of Radcliffe College were held Wednesday at half past eleven o'clock in Sanders Theatre, Cambridge. The Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge delivered the address to the graduates. Among those who went up for degrees were two Quincy young women, Miss Marie Bass, who received the degree of A. M. in English, and Miss Sybil Marsh who received her degree of B. S. magna cum laude, with distinction in philosophy and psychology.

STARR—ELOCK.

A very pretty June wedding was held Wednesday evening when Miss Theresa J. Elock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Elock of 332 Copeland street, became the bride of Henry G. Starr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Starr of Holbrook.

The couple were married at St. Mary's rectory by Rev. Thomas R. McCoy, the pastor. The bride was attired in an old rose taffeta gown with a tulle skirt with three large plumes. She was attended by her sister, Miss Helen B. Elock, who was attired in a pretty white marquisette gown with a white picture hat. The groom was attended by Andrew Mack of Holbrook.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Copeland street from eight to ten thirty. The happy couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Elock and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Starr. The hosts and veranda were richly decorated with potted plants, palms and Japanese peonies. The ushers at the reception were Ambrose G. Elock and Alphonse B. Elock of Quincy and William J. Starr of Beverly. Guests were present from the houses of Brockton, Weymouth, Milton and Boston.

The couple left about ten o'clock on their wedding trip to Atlantic City and on their return will be at home to their friends in their recently completed home on Division Street in Holbrook.

Simultaneously, the orchestra will start its all night concert in the rooms of the Town River Yacht club, under the auspices of the celebration is to be held, all of the residents will keep open house and are prepared to entertain friends from all parts of the city.

FOURTH AT THE POINT

An immense bon fire will usher in Quincy City's observance of Independence Day and daylight will see the opening of an enjoyable program. The celebration is to be held on Pin Cushion Island in Town river and the match will be applied five minutes after midnight Sunday by Joseph Philip.

Simultaneously, the orchestra will start its all night concert in the rooms of the Town River Yacht club, under the auspices of the celebration is to be held, all of the residents will keep open house and are prepared to entertain friends from all parts of the city.

The out of door events start at 8.30 A. M. on the Ward two playground with a base ball game between the married and single men. At 10.15 the Wagon and Riders will clash in their annual contest.

At 1.30 a series of races will be held for girls up to 17 years. The events will be a pie eating contest for boys, a potato race for girls, three-legged race and half mile races for boys and a 220 yard dash for the girls. The entries can be made with William H. Flynn of Edison street.

Yacht races will take place off the club house at three o'clock. The program will be canoe races and rowing races for boys and girls. The swimming races will include 100 yard dashes for men, ten, three, half-mile swims for men, boys races and a tiling contest. The motor boat classes will have a "bang-and-go-back" event, open races and a special race for speed boats.

W. C. Luther is receiving entries for this part of the program.

A greased pole will also be set up near the club house and a substantial prize will be given the winning boy or girl. James Brooks will be in charge of the water sports.

During the evening a magnificent display of fireworks will be set off from a raft anchored in the river. The first rocket is scheduled for a flight at 8.30. The display will last about two hours.

OFF FOR EUROPE.

The two Quincy physicians and corps of nurses who are to accompany the Harvard Unit to England for service in the military hospitals left Boston Thursday by the Fall River line for New York, from which port they sailed Friday on the Holland-American Liner Noordam for Falmouth, England. The complete list of Quincy people in the party are:

Dr. Nathaniel S. Hunting, who will be absent six weeks. Dr. Daniel B. Beardon, who expects to be absent six months. Miss Margaret Carey of 62 Upland road, a graduate of the Quincy City Hospital.

Miss Margaret Fowler of 113 Standish avenue, a graduate of the Newburyport Hospital.

Miss Christine Holmes, Quincy City Hospital, a graduate of the Rhode Island Hospital.

Miss Susan Marshall of 24 Saville avenue, a graduate of the Quincy City Hospital.

Miss Maude S. Smart, of 561 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, a graduate of the Quincy City Hospital.

Miss Flora M. Wilson of 40 Church-lane, Milton, a graduate of the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Hospital, is also in the party.

Both the physicians and nurses have been vaccinated for smallpox and inoculated with typhoid fever serum.

The alarm from Box 81 at 9.45 A. M. Monday called the department to what gave promise of being a fire of the old Guild house. It is a two and a half story house now owned and occupied by J. H. Loughnan. The only one at home at the time was Mr. Loughnan's mother, a woman 80 years of age.

The fire was discovered by George C. Stenel, a grocery clerk who was passing the house at the time, and he gave the alarm. The house is situated on Bellevue road and as there was a strong breeze blowing it required quick work on the part of the fire department to prevent a bad fire. The fire evidently started from a defective chimney and the firemen worked it to the attic with a loss estimated at $500.

There were few people in Squantum at the time as a good part of the residents were attending the funeral of George H. Hersey, Jr., at the Sacred Heart church Atlantic. Mrs. Loughnan however, was assisted from the house to the home of a neighbor.

Several Quincy girls received diplomas at the commencement exercises of the Bridgewater Normal school Tuesday. Miss Mary F. O'Brien of Westport received a diploma for a three year course in the Kindergarten primary class. Diplomas for the two years primary kindergarten course were given to Misses Lillian M. DeYoung, Helen A. Johnson, Marion P. Keast, Mary P. Kennedy, Mary G. Morrison and Margaret A. Shortall, all of Quincy.

The Commencement exercises of Radcliffe College were held Wednesday at half past eleven o'clock in Sanders Theatre, Cambridge. The Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge delivered the address to the graduates. Among those who went up for degrees were two Quincy young women, Miss Marie Bass, who received the degree of A. M. in English, and Miss Sybil Marsh who received her degree of B. S. magna cum laude, with distinction in philosophy and psychology.

ENTERTAINS MINISTERS.

Monday was a red-letter day for the members of the Ministers' association of Quincy who were able to accept the invitation of Frank Burgess of the Wollaston Yacht club, and enjoy a day's sail with him on his handsome cruising yacht, "The Katharina."

It was the first trip of this yacht for this season and a most perfect day could not have been wished for. The start was made a little after nine o'clock with a clear sky and a good strong breeze. This lessened somewhat and became quite light at times; but the auxiliary engine, capable of 9 or 10 miles an hour furnished all necessary speed so that the slackening of the wind was not noticed.

Capt. Burgess cruised around for a while in Quincy bay giving his delighted guests an opportunity to form an impromptu geography class, with maps and charts, to study the names of the various islands and points of the bay and to enjoy a kaleidoscopic view of Quincy and its environs from the water side.

Some questions arose as to the identity of certain well known

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.

For Sale at
The Patriot Office, Quincy,
Brown & Co., Quincy,
H. P. Kirtland, Quincy,
J. H. O'Brien, 25 Hancock St.,
J. C. Carlson, near Quincy Depot,
L. A. Cook, Quincy Point,
H. H. I. Smith, Quincy Point,
Sprague & Hobar, Quincy Point,
Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston,
Thomas Gurney, Atlantic,
Bransfield & Martens, Wollaston,
Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy Adams,
R. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy,
Edward F. Drohan, West Quincy,
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner,
J. J. Hammers, East Milton,
South Terminal Station, Boston.

JUNE FESTIVAL.

The seventh annual June Festival held by the Wollaston Unitarian church opened auspiciously June 25, with a fine display of flowers, Charles T. Baker, Spafford street, Wollaston.

As in previous years nothing was left undone to appeal to the visitor. Gaily decked with bunting and brilliantly illuminated with hundreds of electric lights the scene was an attractive one.

Here and there on the smooth cut lawns under long hanging trees were tables, presided over by pretty young women, where a variety of things might be purchased.

The main attraction was the "gay light" way, so called, where about every activity associated with the summer amusement park was in active operation. Accompanied by the amusing cries of the barkers, the booths attracted large crowds.

There were the knockdown football, the daily darts, the spot, the hoop, the crockery shower, peanut grab, fish pond and dozens of other coin catchers.

Professor Green's hot dogs were sizzling on the gridiron and refreshment booths, the candy table and ice cream parlor completed the list. At stated intervals the Quincy National band rendered pleasing selections.

On Saturday there were special events for the children and a special department devoted to the sale of homemade food.

The second day was attended by a much larger crowd than on the previous day.

All of the attractions were running full blast, surrounded by a crowd of interested observers. A special attraction of interest was the bowling alley where many tried to pile up a large score. This was in charge of Charles E. Barker, George E. Brown and James B. Collier.

In the afternoon a series of sports for the children was run off which included a dash and potato race for girls and a shoe race and potato race for boys.

The prize winners were as follows: Shoe race for boys, Bradford Thompson, first; Roy Bateson second. Shoe race for girls, Verna Carr, first; Sydney Simmons, second.

Potato race for boys, Carl Horst, first; Earle Brett, second. Potato race for girls, Dorothy Smith, first; Bessie Thurber, second.

The ice cream parlor in charge of a committee from the Young Peoples Religious Union did a rushing business. Composing the committee were Misses Priscilla Robinson, Catherine Reed, Martha Robinson assisted by Edna Sanborn, Ruth Sanborn, Albert Taylor, Thelma Hall, Elizabeth Reed, Marcia Adams, Anna Weston, Helen Thompson and Baxter Baron and Everett Stuenkel.

Asel Nelson and Ronald Shaw presided at the tonic booth, while hot dogs were sold by Harold Green, Miss Irene Seeds and Richard Moulton.

A box of beauty products in the candy table which was in charge of the following: Mrs. H. C. Green, Mrs. James B. Goldes, Mrs. E. Tyler Brigham, Mrs. G. Ernest Carr, Mrs. Axel Nelson, Mrs. Charles E. Barker, Mrs. Clifton H. Baker, Mrs. Arthur Lund, Mrs. Joseph Crossley and Mrs. Howard Penman.

The "daffy draws" were in charge of G. Ernest Carr and Horton Page. "Ringing the bells" in charge of Herbert Perival and Gordon Rowe; the "ball in the bucket" by Walter Baker, "Aunt Jenny" by G. A. Holmes and Philip Baron, "Inchall diamond" by Arvin Page and George Simmons, "Fish pond" by N. Corhan Nicholas, E. Tyler Brigham, Wilbur Rhodes and Clifford Boshan, peanut grab by S. J. Ripley and Horace Ripley, "knockdown balls" by Percy Hall and G. F. Rollin, "lucky ball" by Ralph W. Oldham, Clifton H. Baker and L. C. Seymour, "hoola" by Joseph Crossley and Fred Rollins.

Presiding at the cake table were: Mrs. A. W. P. Barber, Mrs. Samuel Chapman, Mrs. H. C. Seymour, and Mrs. Marden.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

The following letters remain un-called for at the Quincy post office for the week ending June 19, 1915:—Le-on Ames, Jeremiah Brownell, Mr. Carmelo, Vincenzo Cipolla, Miss Lena DeCosta, Mrs. Emily Diehl, Mrs. L. P. Dilliba, Mrs. Wallace J. Pitts, Frank P. Fischer, North Boston, James Haley, Mrs. L. W. Irwin, Edward McDermat, John Murphy, Stanley Panck James V. Ryan, John Shevchuk, Mrs. Elizabeth Staples, Mrs. Alice St. Clair, Mrs. P. Studener, Miss Nellie C. Sullivan, Mrs. Ada Towns.

ELECT OFFICERS.

At the regular meeting of Societe St. Jean de Baptiste the following members were elected for the term ending—

CITY COUNCIL.

Passing by a majority vote the nine orders appropriating $33,700 for rebuilding of streets after a lively debate the City Council by vote of 12 yeas and 9 no failed to pass the loan order providing the money for the streets, which had been recalled from the finance committee. An effort was made to suspend Rule 28, as far as it concerned the loan order but this was denied, a three-fourths vote being necessary to suspend this particular rule.

An effort was then made to pass the order, which called out some lively debate on financial matters and when finally put to a vote the order was rejected. A reconsideration was voted however, and the order was laid on the table. It can be taken up at any time, but it will be necessary to secure a three-fourths vote in order to pass the order.

The three-fourths vote is made necessary by a provision in Rule 28 which provides that no money for street rebuilding or construction work shall be passed after July 1.

There was a large attendance of citizens, many evidently coming to see what report the special committee appointed to investigate the fire department would make, but here they were disappointed for the special committee after reporting progress asked for further time, which was granted.

The supplementary budget for $138,000 was passed as was also the order authorizing the city treasurer to borrow $100,000 on a temporary loan. The matter of providing suitable quarters for the Grand Army was also reported favorably.

Under the calendar the nine orders for street rebuilding came up for their final passage. The first of these taken up was that calling for $3,500 for Independence avenue.

Councilman Richards moved that the order be laid on the table until the loan order was reported.

Councilman Smith opposed. Nothing was to be gained by laying on the table. He did not believe it fair to the Mayor that this should be made a budget matter. "As the budget is now it is from $50,000 to $60,000 larger than last year. I do not believe the increase in valuation this year will be sufficient to cover this increase."

Councilman Griffin favored the motion. "We are getting near the limit of what shall be appropriated." Councilman McDonald "The street committee has given these matters careful attention and has passed them down. It is all right to talk about a canvas but in proper condition, but the loan order is pending. The amount, $32,700, is too large to bond the city in view of so many important matters that have already been passed and are now pending."

GETTING NEAR LIMIT.

Councilman Beaman favored the motion. "We are getting near the limit of what shall be appropriated." Councilman McDonald "The street committee has given these matters careful attention and has passed them down. It is all right to talk about a canvas but in proper condition, but the loan order is pending. The amount, $32,700, is too large to bond the city in view of so many important matters that have already been passed and are now pending."

Councilman McGrath: "We seem to be getting away from the fundamental principal. This $23,000 is but a drop in the bucket. We should make a canvas early in the year so that we can have a definite basis to work on and we will know just where we stand. These matters are propositions that can just as well wait. We want to get out of some of our big debt."

CALIS IT FRIEZED FINANCE.

Councilman Rens was called to the chair and President Whitely taking the floor said: "I hope the Council will kill the whole business. There are lots of things we would like but we can not afford them. This is nothing more or less than resurfacing and is therefore a current expense and should go into the budget. I will not say that these streets are in proper condition, but they are better than the average. Here we are asked to pass another temporary loan simply because the taxes of last year have not been collected as they should. Do you think the people want a 24 tax rate? If you are going to borrow money for current expenses it will go up. If we can not pass these matters in the budget we can not afford them. You can pass these orders by a majority vote but it will be sixteen votes to pass the loan. There is now outstanding of last year's taxes $978,501.28. Let us kill every dollar of finance we can."

Councilman Barnicot argued in favor of the order. "The committee looked these matters over carefully and they are certainly needed. I hope that they will all pass."

Councilman Nelson favored laying on the table until the loan order was disposed of.

Councilman O'Dowd, chairman of the street committee, said: "The street committee did the best it could. The legislature in its wisdom provided that we could borrow money for this work. It is in the nature of a permanent improvement. They are all intersecting streets and should be taken up largely by people from out of town. In West Quincy the streets called for in this order have not had a cent laid out on them for 25 years. I can see no reason why we should put these in the budget and pay for what the people of years to come will benefit by. To me it looks as though the President of the Council was giving the committee a slap in the face after all the work it had done. It is not fair to the committee."

Councilman Whiton: "If his skin is this I am sorry. It is poor financing to borrow money for current expenses. If there is anyone who should receive a slap it is the finance committee. If the council wanted to pass all of the matters I could stand it but it will only drive people out of Quincy. When it gets too bad, I too, can quit my states and get out."

Later President Whitely qualified his remark about getting this skinned saying that when he was in the minority in the finance committee he reported the orders two weeks ago.

Councilman Thompson favored the motion to lay on the table. "I believe in good streets but it is a question how we are to get them. Last year the Council made a start on the right track by putting these matters in the budget. Our whole trouble in Quincy is our bonded indebtedness. It is an easy matter to make a paper thing for this year."

Councilman Craig said: "We should think this thing one way or the other. There are no temporary repairs but permanent. If we put them over it will be the same thing again next year."

Councilman Slade spoke in favor of the orders, particularly that for Rock Island road. "These improvements will last for five or ten years and people of these years should help pay for them."

After some further argument the motion to lay on the table was lost 18 yeas and 12 nays.

The order was then passed by a vote of 13 yeas and 10 no.

In turn the following orders were passed:—

$2,000 for Liberty street.
$3,000 for Atlantic street.
$3,500 for Rock Island road.
$1,000 for Hall place.
$1,000 for Common street.
$5,000 for Willard street.
$400 for Badgers lane.
$5,000 for Beale street.

On motion of Councilman Smith the loan order providing funds for the above was recalled from the finance committee.

A motion of Councilman Smith to suspend Rule 28 that action on the order might be taken at a later date was rejected.

After some further discussion along the same line the loan order was put to a vote and was rejected by a roll call vote of 13 yeas and 9 no as follows:—

Yes:—Barnicot, Barry, Bolster, Craig, Ferguson, Kessler, McDonald, Nelson, O'Dowd, Slade, Smith, Williams, Yule.—13.

No:—Beaman, Fuller, Gallagher, Griffin, McGrath, Prescott, Richards, Thompson, Whiton.—9.

Not voting:—Acting President Ross.

On motion of Councilman Smith the vote was reconsidered and the order laid on the table.

CITY SQUARE FOUNTAIN.

A communication was received from the Montclair Improvement Association asking the council to be its guests at a community picnic to be held July 4th.

The Planning Board in a communication recommended that the big fountain in City square be removed and stored at the city stables pending a rearrangement of City square. Later in the evening Councilman O'Dowd offered an order appropriating $200 for the removal of the fountain which was referred to the finance committee.

A communication was received from the New Haven railroad relative to its land at South Quincy upon which a permit to keep gasoline was asked which was placed on file.

Petitions to oil a part of Phillips street and to change a light on Rogers street were referred to the telephone while a petition of the Telephone company for attachments was granted.

The license committee reported orders granting a number of minor licenses which were adopted.

The street committee reported an amendment to the order for a granite sidewalk on the west side of Hancock street between Granite street and Threlkott street, transferring the sum of $1200 for the same from the appropriation for rebuilding Hancock street. To finance committee.

The committee on streets reported an order for a public hearing July 19, at 8 o'clock on establishing a building line on West Squantum street between Farrington street and Newport avenue.

The same committee also reported orders granting the Electric Light Co. a relocation for poles which was ordered to a second reading and orders granting pole companies relocations for poles which were granted.

The committee asked for suspension of Rule 28 on street matters pending before it but not yet reported was granted.

A public hearing was held at 8 o'clock on gasoline permits and later most of them were granted.

The committee on public buildings reported ought not to pass on the order for $500 for grading the Lincoln street school lot. Councilman Craig objected and had the report laid on the table.

SUPPLEMENTARY BUDGET.

The finance committee reported ought to pass on the supplementary budget for $19,800 in which were the following items:

New fire apparatus $11,000
Street lighting $5,000
Equipping and maintaining dispensary $800
Equipping and maintaining playground in Ward Six $500 Expenses of Machine Gun squad $500

$19,800

Order passed under suspension of the rules.

The same committee reported ought to pass on the temporary loan order for $100,000. Order passed under suspension of the rules.

Ought to pass on the order for the purchase of 30,000 square feet of land for the new addition to the Houghs school lot. Order ordered to a second reading.

Ought to pass on the order for $3,000 for building a sea wall at Houghs Neck. Ordered to a second reading.

$6,000 FOR G. A. R.

That the order for $6,000 to purchase land and erect permanent quarters for the Grand Army of the Republic be referred to the Mayor with the request that he provide for the same a supplementary budget. Ordered to a second reading.

Under motions, orders, etc., William T. Donovan was granted an auctioneer's license.

Councilman Smith offered an order revoking the junk license of Jacob Goldner which was adopted.

Councilman Craig offered an order charging the several departments of the city for water used, the total amount being $13,420, the same to be charged to the amounts appropriated for the several departments in the annual appropriation order and transferred to the credit of the water revenue. Referred to the finance committee.

Councilman Nelson offered an amendment to Rule 28, which provided that all petitions and orders received for street work after April 15 shall be referred to the next City Council. The rule at present provides that all such orders received after May 15, shall be so referred. To ordinance committee.

On motion of Councilman Griffin Rule 1 was suspended and it was voted when the council adjourned it be until Tuesday, July 6.

The following orders in the calendar received their second reading and were passed under suspension of the rules.

$6,000 for surface drainage.
$1,500 for granite sidewalk along the First Church.
$2,000 to complete work on Winthrop street, Houghs Neck.
$2,500 for permanent sidewalks.
Adjournment was taken at 10:26 P. M.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

The hopes of the Catholics of Quincy Point were sadly Sunday school more than $80 of their attended the first mass in the new St. Joseph's church at Washington and Pray streets. The mass was at nine o'clock and the edifice was crowded to the doors. On the floor of the auditorium were seated 605 people while another hundred stood in the balcony.

Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor of St. John's parish, of which the new church is a mission station, was celebrant of the mass. John Costello and John Mitchell of Quincy Point were the altar boys who served the first mass.

The altar was banked with flowers the offering of the members of the Sanctuary choir.

Father Owens congratulated the people on the realization of their hopes and anticipations and said he was glad that the church had been prompted the people of the Point to attend St. John's church at so great inconvenience to themselves would be much in evidence in the upbuilding of the church.

He thanked the men of the parish for their work on the grounds and for the women who had worked in the interest of the church, particularly the members of the Sanctuary choir. He said he hoped for a continuance of this co-operation and said the priests of St. John's parish willingly would do their part toward the same end.

The pastor, impressed with the large attendance, said that next Sunday there would be two masses, 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

The church was started by the late Fr. John J. Coan, last July, and he hoped to celebrate the first mass in it on Christmas Day. It is a frame building with a concrete exterior and is constructed by a lower 60 feet in height to the peak and 50 feet to the top of the cross.

The side walls are 14 feet in height and the distance to the top of the roof in the auditorium is 45 feet.

Three entrances open directly into the church, the right of which is the sexton's office and on the left the steps to the choir gallery.

The church has three aisles, one in the center and two along the sides, and along the latter, near the front of the church there are two confessionals, set in recesses.

The choir gallery extending the entire breadth of the church encloses the main altar and two side altars.

INSPECT LIGHTING EFFECTS.

Through the courtesy of E. W. Campbell, architect of the new Masonic Temple now nearing completion in Beale street Wollaston for Wollaston on Masonic lodge, a number of brethren were given an opportunity of his working of the electric light effects.

Without question it can safely be said that there are few, if any, Masonic Temples in this state which have a more elaborate system of lighting effects than will Wollaston lodge.

The lodge room is located on the top floor of the building, the ceiling being dome shaped and the plastering being painted to represent a sky. The lighting is what is known as the indirect lighting, the electric bulbs being concealed behind the mouldings on the sides of the hall in such a manner that their rays are thrown to the ceiling and then reflected to the hall.

There are three sets of globes on each side. There is a set showing a yellow light, another a red light and the third a blue light. These are operated by a rheostat, by the manipulation of which it is possible to blend them in such a manner as to produce almost any color desired.

The exhibition shown on the occasion of this visit was that of twilight with the setting of the sun, and the rising of the moon. First the sky assumes a bluish tint and gradually the yellow and red is worked in until all the glory of a beautiful sunset is shown, the effect being most natural and beautiful. Gradually this also passes until the supreme darkness of midnight is reached.

The next exhibition shown was the dawn of a new day. Gradually the darkness of the night disappears and in the horizon the sky can be seen growing lighter and lighter, until at last the brightness of day bursts upon the scene and the bright, warm sun appears in all its glory and beauty.

The switchboard where are located the switches and rheostats which operate the lights, is a mammoth affair set into one side of the building protected by a strong metal door. On the side of stage platform of the public hall on the street floor, there is also another switch board for operating colored lights on the stage.

The temple is now practically completed and it is expected that two weeks more will see the building ready to receive the furnishings. Just when it will be dedicated is not yet known but it will probably be early in the fall.

FIRST ANNUAL OUTING.

The South Shore Master Plumbers association, with which the master plumbers of Quincy are affiliated, held its first annual outing Saturday at Abington, where they were the guests of George Gomeley. The party, some thirty in number, made the trip by automobile and the outing was one of pleasure for all. During the day there was a series of field sports, including a game of ball between teams made up of members of the association.

At noon the party was served with a most appetizing dinner by Mrs. Gomeley and her daughters, the menu including baked beans, coffee and rolls with native strawberries and ice cream as a windup.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. McCullough of 20 Euclid avenue are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter on June 18th.

Mrs. McCullough was formerly Miss Helen E. Goodhue of South Quincy, a young woman of wide acquaintance in Quincy and a graduate of Woodward Institute.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

The Children's Day Exercises of the United Presbyterian Sunday school were most enjoyed by a large number of parents and friends of the children. The church was filled, and was very prettily decorated with ivy and roses.

The exercises were under the direction of the officers and teachers of the school, the rehearsals being in charge of Miss Marion Russell and Mr. Angus McLeod.

The program was as follows: Processional, Onward Christian Soldiers. Prayer. Rev. D. B. McLeod. Recitation. Edward Brown. Primary Department. Under direction of Miss Elsie McKenzie.

Song, We Will Follow Jesus, School Exercise, Living our Best. Miss McKinnon's Class. Exercise, Let Us Be Men. Mrs. McNeil's class.

Song, The Lord is My Shepherd. Grace Magura. Baptism of Children. Exercise, A Daisy Lesson. Mrs. McLeod's class.

Solo, Brighten The Corner Where You Are. Elizabeth Kerr. Exercise, The Little Garden. The Whole Corner. Mrs. Stewart's class.

Pontamine, Let The Lower Lights Be Burning. Jeannie Russell. Soloist. Goddess of Liberty. Annie Bonham. Lower Lights. Miss Russell's class. Recitation, The Baby's Story. Bertha McLeod.

Exercise, The Rose Girls. Miss Russell's class. Recitation. Mr. Daniel McLeod's class. Song. Mrs. Stewart's class. Remarks and Announcements by Pastor. Benediction.

CHILDREN'S SUNDAY.

The Sunday morning service at the Wollaston Unitarian church was given over to the religious education department of the parish, which celebrated its annual Children's Sunday. The church decorations were most attractive, the color scheme being green and white with touches of mountain laurel, several canaries, as usual, lent their voices in praising God.

The service opened with the Processional hymn "Hail the Cross of Jesus," in which the children of the parish, dressed in white, took part. After the opening service two infants were baptized and each was given a beautiful white rosary, a symbol of the unfolding of a beautiful life.

The children were John Carlin Miller, born Feb. 15, 1915, in Wollaston, son of Philip Edward and Mabel Harrington Miller of 176 Marlboro street and Kenneth Edward Burnham, born in Wollaston, Jan. 20, 1915, son of Edward Melcher and Ida Wells Burnham of 20 Park street.

A copy of the Bible suitably inscribed was presented by the pastor in behalf of the church to Caroline Sidney Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Simmons, Jr., of 12 Newport terrace in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of her baptism in the church.

Mrs. H. C. Needham, the Sunday school superintendent, presented gold medals to the children in recognition of faithful attendance upon the sessions of the Sunday school for one year to Herbert Baker, Bernard Barker, Arlene Holmes, Stanwood Sweetser, Arlene Thomas, Geraldine Olive; gold wreaths for perfect attendance for two years to Virginia Bishop, Madeline Child, Dorothy Holmes, Edward Sweetser; gold bars for perfect attendance for four years to Clarence Cath, Earle Cath, Carl G. Horst, Jr., Gretchen Horst, Judith Page.

The appeal from Fred M. Rollins, for funds to aid weary and careworn workers and restore to health sickly and convalescent children resulted in a generous offering which was received by four young misses:—Frances Adams, Frances Pratt, Verna Carr, Caroline Sidney Simmons. The pastor's address dealt with golden opportunities, which comes to old and young daily, inviting us to make our best of the present, just before the recessionary hymn the entire school joined in reciting "I will be true for there are those who trust me."

The decorations were in charge of Frederick H. Bishop, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rowe. The minister was assisted in the service by Mrs. H. C. Needham, superintendent of the Sunday school, Fred M. Rollins, chairman of the executive committee of the Sunday school, Sunday was the last session of the season for the Sunday school. The school reopens Sunday, Sept. 12.

The entertainment committee of the parish have arranged for the evening at 7:30 on Wednesday and Saturday evenings at 8 and Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the Unitarian parish hall. Members and friends of the church and the people are cordially invited.

Rev. Carl G. Horst Sunday afternoon Memorial service of the Rising Star Lodge of Odd Fellows and Golden Star Lodge of Rebekahs of Randolph in the Church of the Unity Randolph.

A Massachusetts state inspector speaking of the Wollaston Unitarian parish hall says "This is one of the safest and best equipped halls I have ever inspected."

Any family in need of kindling wood may have such free of charge by applying to G. Ernest Carr, 311 Spafford street Tuesday.

Unitarians this season have an unusual large number of summer meetings to take place, including a day of national reputation will be held at Andover, N. H., in Proctor Academy and the Unitarian church, June 27 and July 3. An Institute for Religious Education and Social Service will be held at Medford, Mass., July 12 to August 13. The Isles of Shoals summer meetings will be held July 11 to 25. The biennial meeting of the General Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches is held in San Francisco, August 23 to 27.

Next Sunday's service will be the last of the season. The church will be closed as usual during July and August.

Rev. Carl G. Horst and family will spend their vacation at their summer home "The Nestledown," Ossipee, N. H. Mr. Horst will gladly respond to all calls where his services are needed, but requests that he be notified by telegram.

CRISP FABRICS.

Class. Sewing Checks—Tussors, Shantung and Pongee Costumes in Fashionable Favor—Patches.

The smartest New York fashions, that one sees these days, come into town from the suburban colonies, at Tuxedo, Cedarhurst, the Jersey Coast resorts, or up Westchester way where a lot of well known people locate as soon as buds and blossoms make their summer homes enticing. This year especially are all these places full to overflowing, since no one has the slightest inclination to risk a trip across the ocean with the deadly submarine in wait.

JUNE WEDDINGS.

June is, as is recalled, the bride's month and lovely indeed have been months of the lovely celebrations, in the various out-of-town settings. Brides' gowns grow more and more filmy and fascinating. Though there is usually an underdress of satin, and a court train of this stately fabric, it is by several years.

McCall Design

is so subdued by dainty tulle and cobwebby lace, that it ceases to be obtrusively and unbecoming, as only an old-time satin gown of this type could be.

VEIL ARRANGEMENTS.

Another trend notices is the fact that it has become popular to show the coiffure more than formerly in the adjustment of the veil. Advantage is taken of the liking for the head bands to hold the veil from the back of the head in decidedly picturesque fashion. The flit bands are so made for style and ornament, as they are often set with pearls or diamonds or may be the simplest of ribbon bands if one prefers.

THE SILK SUIT.

For the silk suit that is often the choice for the going-away gown, and quite generally worn by guests who arrive by train or motor, tulle has the leading place, but a whole host of other silk weaves are used with the finest effect. Tussors, Shantung and the rest of the Oriental weaves make cool, pretty costumes that are of the fashionable hues, in gray blues, brilliant pinks, and in oyster white, that turn out ravishing toilettes, and stand considerable wear and endure cleaning successfully.

EFFECTIVENESS.